By Betty Joan Moore

Virginia Tech Extension Service agents provide continuing education — programs, information, services — for everyone. Miss Moore is with the Lee County office at 346-7401.

Ever wondered what the difference was between cream, sour cream, and half and half? Here are the standards.

Cream is a milk product which contains at least 18 percent milkfat. Light cream, also called coffee or table cream, contains 18 to 30 percent milkfat. Light whipping cream contains 30 to 36 percent milkfat while heavy cream and heavy whipping cream contains 36 percent more.

Dairy sour cream is a velvety, firm, tangy-flavored product made by adding a bacterial culture to cream which contains 18 percent or more milk fat.

Half and half, as the term implies, is a mixture of half milk and half cream. Most states have adopted a standard of not less than 11½ percent milkfat. However, some states have a minimum milkfat level of 10 percent while other require at least 12 percent.

Virginia's Agricultural Future

A conference addressing some of the most pressing concerns on the state agricultural scene will be held Wednesday and Thursday, June 24-25, at the Richmond Holiday Inn, Airport.

Sponsored by the Virginia Cooperative Extension Service, Virginia Tech and Virginia State University, the event will feature a number of national and state leaders in agriculture, said Paxton Marshall, Extension public policy specialist at Tech.

Extension Dean William R. Van Dresser will open the meeting at 1:05 p.m. June 24.

Dale L. Stansbury, director, Office of Governmental Relations for Food and Agriculture, National Association of State University and Land Grant Colleges, will discuss the political landscape. It is this environment in which farmers, agribusinesses and allied interests must work to obtain their objectives.

Stansbury was, until September 1980 chief economist for the U.S. Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry.

Also on Wednesday afternoon, James G. Vertrees, principal analyst, Natural Resources and Commerce Section, Congressional Budget Office, will speak on changing agriculture and food policy to accommodate scarcity as well as abundance.

His remarks are intended to enable farmers, agribusinesses and consumers understand policy issues that must be resolved if agriculture is to supply an increasing demand.

J. Carlton Butler and Richard L. Turner, peanut producers from Isle of Wight County, will speak on progress in contracting prices and controlling supply of peanuts produced in Virginia and North Carolina.

Elmer L. Menzie, director, School of Agricultural Economics and Extension Education, University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario, Canada, will evaluate the marketing board as a farmer-organized and direct marketing system.

Stephen B. Harsh, director of the computer information network and management information systems, department of agricultural economics at Michigan State University, will talk on on-farm computer and information systems and give an overview of opportunities and challenges in this field.

On Thursday, June 25, S. Mason Carbaugh, commissioner, Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, will review the role state governments exercise in agriculture policy.

Three sessions on agricultural credit decisions and policy in 1980, state water resources policy and state research policy will be conducted concurrently. They will be led by H. Earl Longest, general manager of the Farm Credit Association; William E. Cox, Tech assistant professor of civil engineering; and George W. Norton, Tech assistant professor of agricultural economics, respectively.

Also on Thursday, Wayne A. Boutwell, assistant to U.S. Sen. Thad Cochran of Mississippi, will give an overview of problems Congress faces in enacting a farm bill to satisfy farmers' demands, consumers' desires and the government's budget.

A $25 registration fee includes educational materials, coffee and milk breaks, lunch and related items. Those attending should make their own lodging reservations.

Additional information on registration can be obtained through the Adult Registrar, Donaldson Brown Center for Continuing Education, Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, Va. 24061 or by calling (703) 961-5182. Refer to 1981 Forum on the Future of Virginia Agriculture

CVC Announces Second Summer Term

Students who enroll in the second term of the 1981 summer session at Clinch Valley College may choose from 32 courses being offered. Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, July 10 and the term will end on August 12.

Science and mathematics requirements may be pursued through summer courses in Introduction to Biology, which has a laboratory component; Finite Mathematics, and Pre Calculus. Another mathematics course, Math for Elementary Teachers, may be used as a mathematics requirement and it is a required course for Elementary Education majors. Also, several Computer Science courses will be offered including Introduction to Computers and a Special Topics course in Advanced Cobol. Computer Science courses also may be used to satisfy math science basic requirements.

English courses include the second semester (English 102) of English Composition, another basic required course. Also offered are English 212/312, Topics in World Literature: Human Sexuality in Literature, which may be taken for either upper or lower-division credit, Literature for Adolescents, and An Introduction to the Study of the English Language, which is another requirement for elementary education majors.

Courses available under the Division of Professional and Social Sciences include Elementary Accounting and Human Relations in Business, both Business and Public Administration courses. Also offered are Principles of Economics and a special topic course in economics entitled Consumer Economics. One political science class is scheduled: Introduction to Politics and Political Institutions, and four social welfare courses including Field Instruction I, Field Instruction II, Field Instruction III, and Senior Seminar.

Humanities courses in the second summer term, in addition to English, are a French Studies course offered under Special Topics in the Humanities, which may be taken for either upper- or lower-division credit; and Music for the Elementary Teacher.

Both General Psychology (Psyc 102) and Early Childhood Development will be offered, as will Education courses of Children's Literature, Diagnostic Teaching of Reading, Fundamentals of Curriculum, Teaching Science and Social Studies in Elementary School, and a problems course, Rehabilitation Techniques.

Two physical education courses, Intermediate Tennis and Intermediate Swimming, will be offered from 5:30 to 7:00 to accomodate persons who work. Tennis will meet Wednesdays and Swimming on Tuesdays.

Schedules of the 1981 Summer Session at Clinch Valley College may be picked up at the Office of the Registrar, Administration Building.

Vacation Bible School A Success

A group of Missionaries from the First Baptist Church of Paducah, Ky., conducted a Vacation Bible School the past week at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church in Keokee, and a revival from Sunday night through Wednesday night. Many people attended. The enrollment at the Bible School averaged 125 students each day. Singing and guitar music were enjoyed, also arts and crafts.

Rev. Ray Woody, pastor of the Rawhide Missionary Baptist Church at Keokee, sang on Tuesday night with Mrs. Woody as pianist.

The group of Missionaries arrived in Keokee on Saturday night which included Larry York, director of the Vacation Bible School; Sarah Hall, Ernie Romero, Kent Price, Kevin Ezell, Mandy Tabor, Lisa Lackman, Tommy Farmer, Charles Joiner, Judy Joiner, Barry Henson, Tim Carner, and Becky Smith. They are to be commended for their interesting work here with the young folks in our community.

Commencement exercises were held on Friday morning where their handicrafts were displayed for viewing. A picnic lunch was served in the afternoon with everyone having a delightful time.

Rev. James Rogers is pastor of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church.

Another group of Missionaries from Paducah, Ky., held a Vacation Bible School at the Huff Settlement near Holmes Mill, Ky., last week which was also a success with a large attendance.

The director of the Bible School there was Maralyn Pugh; other members of the group were Sparky Adkinson, Charles Henn, Dorthy Lee Henn, David Guess, Lee Ann Lackman, Lorri Ann Prow, Sharon Erhart, Terri BoBo, Mary Lou Snow, Mike Barker, Debbie Barker, David Gunn, Mike Howell, Deborah Johnson, and Jennifer Beasley.

For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this newspaper.

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent -- and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the promise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1210.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

Notice To Classified Advertisers

All advertising for the Classified section should be in this office, with payment, not later than Monday noon for publication.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
VIRGINIA:
In The Circuit Court Of Lee County

IN RE: Election on the Question of Changing from the County Board Form of County Organization and Government to the Traditional Form of County Government Prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of Virginia, and the General Law of the State.

AMENDED ORDER
A Petition having been filed in the Lee County Circuit Court Clerk's Office on March 26, 1981, containing more than fifteen (15%) percent of the qualified voters of Lee County, Virginia, styled Ezra F. Cooper, et als, Citizens and qualified voters for Lee County, Virginia, asking for a referendum be held on the question of changing from the County Board Form of County Organization and Government as provided for in Sections 15.1-699 et. seq., of the Code of Virginia, to the traditional form of organization and government which existed in Lee County prior to January 1, 1969, as prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Virginia and the general law of the State, it is hereby Ordered that the regular election official at a special election to be held on the 18th day of August, 1981, take the sense of the qualified voters of the County on said question.

It is further Ordered that the regular election officials of the County, at the time designated in this Order, shall open the polls at the various voting places in the County and conduct the election in such manner as provided by law for other elections insofar as the same is applicable

The question shall read as follows

Do you approve changing the organization and government of the County from the County Board Form to the traditional form of County Government and Organization prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of Virginia, and the general law of the State?

YES
NO

The squares to be on all printed ballots used shall not be less than one-quarter nor more than one half inch in size Any person voting by ballot at such election shall place a check (✓) or a (x) or a (+) mark or a line ( ) in the square before the appropriate word indicating how he desires to vote on the question submitted

In the use of voting machines, the question shall read as follows aforesaid and the voter shall properly indicate their "yes" or "no" vote by the proper facilities of the voting machine

The vote on the question shall be counted, returns made and canvassed as in other elections, and the results certified by the Electoral Board for Lee County to the Circuit Court, or the Judge thereof in vacation

It is further Ordered that the Clerk of the Court shall cause a notice of such election to be published in some newspaper published in or having general circulation in Lee County once a week for three consecutive weeks, and shall post a copy of such notice at the door of the Courthouse of the County

It is further Ordered that a copy of this Amended Order be certified to the State Board of Education of the State of Virginia and to the Electoral Board of Lee County, Virginia

4-H Is Cost Effective

Virginia 4-H is a big operation which is cost-effective.

Kenneth E. Dawson, director of 4-H in the state, reported that 8,136 adult 4-H volunteer leaders worked in the program last year, expending an average of 381 hours, or 47-½ days.

"At $5 per hour, volunteer adults contributed a total of $15,463,080 in time to Virginia 4-H," Dawson said. "In addition, Virginia had 2,786 teen 4-H volunteer leaders who contributed an average of 23-½ days per year."

This volunteer activity provided a match for the federal dollars in the program.

In Virginia, 25 percent of the federal Extension funds were expended for 4-H, totaling $1,624,500 State funds expended for 4-H in the commonwealth totaled $3,758,200. Counties and cities provided $650,800 for the activities.

Volunteer time is by far the largest support for national 4-H. According to nationwide statistics compiled by the National 4 H Council 565,000 volunteers spend an average of 20 eight hour days in support of 4 H annually.

At a minimum value volunteers contribute $600 million worth of time, primarily to local club efforts. These statistics prove the cost effectiveness of 4-H, Dawson said.

The national 4-H program is big business. It is the 319th largest enterprise in the United States when compared with "Fortune" Magazine's top 500 industrial corporations.

In 1980, public and private funding of 4 H totaled an estimated $828 million. Twenty-seven percent of federal Extension funds are used for 4-H work, said Ray Crabbs, vice president of the National 4-H Council.

State funds for 4 H work go through land grant universities such as Virginia Tech. They totaled $82,400,000 for the year. County and city funds totaled $36,900,000 for the nation.

MECC Announces Scholarship Winners

Barbara Bowman

Donna Ellis

Tracy Rasnic

Three Lee County Students have been awarded full-tuition scholarships for their first year of studies at Mountain Empire Community College. This is the first year that the Presidential Honor Scholarships have been available for presentation. The scholarships cover the cost of tuition for three quarters, equivalent to two semesters of study at the college.

A total of eight awards were made by the Local Community College Board during Awards Day ceremonies at the respective high schools with Lee County students receiving three scholarships and the remainder going to students in Wise and Scott Counties.

The Lee County recipients are:

Barbara Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowman of Jonesville. Barbara is the 1981 Jonesville High Salutatorian. During high school, Barbara's activities included the Beta and Literary Clubs and DECA. She plans to major in Business Administration.

Donna Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ellis of Keokee. Donna is the 1981 Keokee High School Salutatorian. Her high school activities included membership in the cheerleading and basketball teams and she also won a DAR scholarship award. Donna plans to major in Accounting.

Tracy Rasnic, the daughter of Jack Rasnic, assistant principal and head football coach of Pennington High, and Brenda Burton of New Carlyle, Ohio. She was an active member of the cheerleading team, co-editor of the annual and president of the Beta Club. She is the 1981 Pennington High Valedictorian. She plans to major in Education.

The Director of Admissions and Records, Mr. Perry Carroll, stated that the purpose of the scholastic awards is to recognize the accomplishments of Southwest Virginia High School students and also encourage the enrollment of Valedictorian and Salutatorians in Mountain Empire Community College.

Medicaid Implements Cost Containment Measures

Effective July 1, 1981, the State Department of Health will implement a number of cost containment measures in the Virginia Medicaid Program resulting from legislative actions by the 1981 General Assembly in an attempt to control continually rising Program costs.

Measures to be implemented involve recipient eligibility, reductions in covered services, and changes in provider reimbursement.

"Because the costs of operating the Medicaid Program have steadily risen in recent years, Medicaid is experiencing some serious financial problems," explained Robert J. Treibley, Acting Director. "In order to meet current needs and to hold down Program costs, the 1981 General Assembly directed that certain changes must be made."

Recipient eligibility regulations will be tightened to lengthen the current one-year period of ineligibility for recipients who give away real or personal property or who sell it for less than it's worth in order to become eligible for Medicaid. Under the new regulations, a recipient may be ineligible for two years or longer from the date of the transfer depending upon the difference between the equity value of the property transferred and the amount received from it.

In addition, any recipient convicted of fraud will be ineligible for Medicaid for 12 months following the date of conviction.

Reductions in service will occur in the areas of dental care for recipients under age 21 and in the provision of psychiatric care.

Cavity detecting dental x-rays will be limited to only once a year, and dental education will be covered only once per patient. Psychiatric sessions will be limited to 26 visits per person unless additional sessions are approved by the Program's Psychiatric Review Board, and no more than three sessions will be covered during a week.

Changes will also occur in the payment arrangements for dentists, pharmacies, physicians, hospitals, nursing homes, and transportation providers. As a part of the changes for nursing homes, the Program will no longer pay for nursing home care when the physician does not renew the certification of the continued need for such care every 60 days. The Program will not pay for more than 10 days of care to arrange for an adequate discharge plan when the patient's physician determines that the condition of the patient indicates that he/she can be moved to a less intense level of care or can return home.

Other Program changes effective July 1 will be an increase from $25 to $30 per month in the personal needs allowance for Medicaid nursing home patient not receiving financial assistance through Supplemental Security Income (SSI); an increase in the amount of earnings which may be retained by intermediate care nursing home patients working in sheltered workshops, and a change in the method of determining the amount the spouse at home can pay toward the support of a spouse in a nursing home so that more income may be kept by the spouse at home.

"We regret it is necessary to make any reductions in Medicaid services or reimbursement arrangements," said Treibley. "However, by this tightening of the use of available funds, and with the cooperation of both Program recipients and providers, we hope that Virginia Medicaid will be able to continue to provide high caliber services and care to the state's needy citizens."

Currently, approximately 290,000 individuals throughout the state are eligible for the services covered by the Program

Veterans Administration

Q--I plan to enroll in college under the GI Bill, and the college requires that I undergo a physical examination. Can I go to a Veterans Administration hospital for this exam?

A No. VA hospitals are not permitted to perform routine physical examinations. You may be given a physical examination only to determine need for treatment or hospitalization.

Q--As an eligible veteran, I am planning to be buried in a national cemetery. I also wish to have my family buried there. What must I do?

A If you are eligible for burial, your spouse and minor children may also be buried in a national cemetery. If they predecease you, they may be buried if you intend to be interred in the same grave. You must sign an agreement to that effect.

Q--Do I have to make a down payment on a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?

A Generally speaking, if the loan amount requested does not exceed the appraised value of the home and the veteran meets the loan qualifying conditions, the lender may not impose a down payment on a VA guaranteed loan.

Q--I am considering taking a loan on my National Service Life insurance policy. Will I receive a smaller dividend if I obtain a loan?

A [illegible] dends earned will not be affected by the loan.

Q--I am a World War I veteran and am having problems hearing. Will the Veterans Administration examine me and provide a hearing aid if I need one, since I cannot afford one?

A Yes. Under a law that went into effect in December 1979, the VA can provide any medical need for a World War I veteran in a VA facility.

Q--My husband's death was service connected. Am I eligible for a Veterans Administration burial allowance?

A Yes. Payment up to $1,100 is allowed if the veteran's death was service connected. This payment is in lieu of the $300 basic burial allowance and the $150 plot allowance.

Q -- What is the maximum amount I can borrow on a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?

A There is no legal maximum. The VA will guarantee 60 percent of the loan or $27,500, whichever is less. The total amount of the loan is determined by the policy of your lending institution and by your ability to repay the loan.

Q -- My husband died in 1975. At the time of his death I did not want the headstone or marker provided by the Veterans Administration, but I heard recently that the VA pays an amount toward the purchase of a headstone. Am I entitled to this benefit?

A No. The law providing for this benefit was not passed until late 1978. The deceased must have been buried after the law took effect in order for the survivor to be eligible for reimbursement.

Q -- Can a veteran get an extension of his 10-year delimiting date for education benefits from the Veterans Administration?

A If a veteran was physically or mentally disabled during the period of his eligibility, he may apply for an extension by submitting medical evidence for consideration.

Q - When are dividends paid on participating National Service Life Insurance policies?

A Dividends are normally paid on the anniversary date of the insurance policy.

Q - I receive compensation from the Veterans Administration for a 10 percent service connected disability and have just been informed I am eligible for a non-service connected disability pension. Will I receive two checks?

A No. A veteran cannot receive both compensation and pension benefits based on his own service. The VA will pay you the greater benefit unless you elect in writing to receive the lesser benefit.

Disaster Program Available

In addition to price support benefits and deficiency payments, the 1981 farm program offers farmers crop protection against severe weather conditions.

Clay Jones, member of the Lee County ASCS Committee says weather conditions here in Lee County could affect crop yields. Farmers who accurately reported crop acreages and signed an application for payment under the farm program, will be eligible to receive disaster benefits. "June 30 was the final date for filing acreage reports on corn," said Jones.

The program covers both low yield and prevented planting provisions, and offers protection against drought, flood, hail, and other disaster conditions.

Jones says farmers should notify the county ASCS office before harvesting or destroying crops or replanting to other crops when a disaster strikes.

"Those persons who did not timely report their grain acreage may still get into the program by paying a nominal fee to have an ASCS representative measure their crop," he noted.

"Trail Of The Lonesome Pine" Begins 18th Season, July 2

The 18th season of the outdoor drama "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" will begin Thursday, July 2 at 8:00 p.m. at the June Tolliver Playhouse in Big Stone Gap.

The beloved novel by John Fox Jr. and scripted by Earl Hobson Smith has been brought to life once more by an all volunteer cast a crew sponsored by the Lonesome Pine Arts and Crafts Association. Performances are given each Thursday, Friday and Saturday night through August.

The story blends mountain folklore with fact to produce a delightful story of the coal boom in Southwest Virginia. It brings substance and being to the treasured folk tunes and stories which are woven by Jack Hale, June Tolliver and her father Devil Judd Tolliver.

The playhouse is located on Clinton Avenue in Big Stone Gap and is a beautiful historic setting where some of the drama actually took place.

Music plays a big part in the production with bluegrass abounding and square dancing the rage of all the "friends and neighbors" of the feuding Tollivers and Falins.

Admission to the drama is $4.00 for adults, $2.00 for children under 12 and $3.50 for senior citizens.

The drama is a wonderful change of pace and offers an evening of entertainment for the whole famuly under the stars "...in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia, on the trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc. Celebrates Seventh Anniversary

Close to 450 area senior citizens gathered in Big Stone Gap at the National Guard Armory on May 30, 1981, to celebrate the seventh year anniversary of Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc. The anniversary gathering was part of local events planned during May by Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc. to celebrate Older Americans Month

The crowd was treated to a fun filled day of music, clogging, bingo, craft displays, and speaking with a noon time meal of fried chicken prepared by the Bread and Chicken House of Big Stone Gap. The crowd began gathering at 9:00 a.m. and played bingo from 9:15 until 10:00 a.m Bingo prizes were fruit baskets donated by area grocers. At 10:00 a.m local musician John McCutcheon of Midway entertained with a program of mountain favorites. Fiddle player Tom Countiss of Wise joined John on stage for several songs John's playing of the hammer dulcimer was a high point for the audience.

Following a short break, the crowd reassembled for several short speeches and a round of introductions Carter McKinney of Appalachia delivered the invocation followed by an official welcome extended by George Polly, mayor of Big Stone Gap. Marilyn Pace, executive director of Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc moderated the proceedings and introduced the podium guests. They were Rosemary Mercure of Wise, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc , Mary Emily McKinney of Appalachia, President of the Advisory Council of Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc , Edgar Mullins, member of the Wise County Board of Supervisors, Wilda Ferguson, director of the Virginia Office on Aging, and William C Wampler, member of Congress

Ms Ferguson spoke of Virginia s plans for participating in the 1981 White House Conference on Aging Staff members from her office were present to meet with interested older people as part of their Speak Out Older Virginians Program. Congressman Wampler stressed his opposition to President Reagan's proposed cuts in the Social Security and Black Lung Programs and pledged continuing support of Older Americans Act programs such as Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc

Following lunch, the crowd was entertained by the Harmonettes, a ladies barbershop quartet from Coeburn The members of the quartet are Jan Gilpin, Georgia Nickels, Pat Sanders, and June Horne assisted by Margaret Bright. Peg Scott of Big Stone Gap led the audience in singing several old time favorites including Down By the Old Mill Stream, Amazing Grace, and My Country 'Tis Of Thee

The entertainment concluded with a stirring demonstration by the Rye Cove Cloggers under the direction of Mountain Empire Older Citizens board member F P. Sloan. The crowd clapped along as these always popular youngsters performed.

As the crowd prepared to leave, door prizes were given to many lucky seniors in attendance. Local florists donated table arrangements which were given away as door prizes at the close of the program. Cakes were given to the oldest people in attendance. The oldest woman was Mrs Georgia Peters, 91, of Appalachia. A three way tie among the men resulted in cakes for all three 87 year olds They were: Ballard Ely, Pennington Gap, Carter McKinney, Appalachia, and John Peters of Pennington Gap

Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc. nutrition sites attending the celebration were Norton, Big Stone Gap, Appalachia, Coeburn, Gate City, Ewing, Pennington Gap, and St. Charles. Area senior citizens clubs represented were: Pound, Wise, Coeburn, Appalachia, Jonesville, Weber City and Duffield. Other special guests were the Scott County R.S.V.P. program, Heritage Hall Nursing Home, Gilliam Court rest

Sheila would like to say thank you to her sponsors in this pageant

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Rev. William Boyd was the guest minister at the Senior Center June 15. He is pastor of the churches in Powell Valley Methodist Circuit. Mrs. Boyd and their two children accompanied him and all joined in the activities and the covered dish luncheon.

—Mrs. Zelma Aichel, Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Wise, came to the Senior Center Monday, and showed the film, "Because Somebody Cares." This film shows people, in all age groups, giving their time to care for elderly persons, to talk to them, listen to them, and help in so many different ways. Even the elderly visit each other and show that they are not so old after all. It makes one wonder about how little we are doing. We should all try to do more.

—Hattie and Hayden Johnson were in Keenesville, N.C., last week end, visiting their daughter and granddaughter, Betty Rasnic and Regina

—Mrs. C.C. Burton, Dryden, and Mrs. Ella Fitts, Jonesville, were guests of Mrs. Sallie Woliver one day last week.

-WMU Day Organization held their regular meeting at Jonesville First Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon. The study, taken from the Royal Service, was, "Listening Is Witnessing." These ladies joined in the study: Ella Bailey, Nell Grabeel, Ethel Chadwell, Mary Speak, Laraine Russell, Nell Bush, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Golden Sanders, Ora Grabeel, Sybil Collins, and Lizzie Minor. Following the study, Sybil Collins, president, called the meeting to order for the business session.

Mr and Mrs Carl Baumgardner were in Big Stone Gap Thursday

-Mr and Mrs Jimmie Napier and children, Johnson City, were visiting his parents, June and Joe Napier, and his grandmother, Mrs. Cora Howard, Sunday. Other visitors were Lillie Carroll, Ida Carroll, and Lorene Terry

Sunday guests of Mrs Sallie Woliver were her nephews, Henry Quinley, San Francisco, Calif., and W J Quinley, Jonesville, two nieces, Mrs. Marie Lyttle and friend, and Mr. and Mrs Glen Snodgrass.

—Vacation Bible School was held at Jonesville First Baptist Church last week with an average nightly attendance of 80. Sunday night was "Family Night" with the children giving the program of music, singing, recitations, and testimonies. Crafts that were made during the week were on display for the parents and friends to see. Refreshments of cakes, cookies, and punch was served in the Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Sandy Hensley was in charge of VBS.

—Monday guests of Mrs. Sallie Woliver were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mink of Bristol, Mrs. Martha Mink, Jonesville. Tuesday guests were Mrs. Delia Stapleton and Mrs Annette Tomlinson.

—Tuesday afternoon was a happy time for a group of Jonesville senior citizens. They went bowling and played Putt-Putt. They would like to make this a weekly outing, so if any senior citizen is interested in these sports, meet at the Center, Cumberland Bowl Park, each Tuesday at 1:30 P.M.

—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schindel and son Larry of Eastlake, Ohio, were guests of Florence and Marvin James last week

—Mrs. Willie Young is a patient in Lee County Community Hospital. Visiting with her were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Young of St. Louis, Mo. They also visited their aunts, Hattie Ross, Myrtle Barton and Leona Russell

—The I.D. Discount Card Staff from Mountain Empire Older Citizens was at the Senior Center, Wednesday, and made pictures of 23 new senior citizens. Julia Trivett and Margaret Mullins have been making these trips to Jonesville every two months for the pictures. If you missed yours this time, they will be back sometime in August

—The senior citizens have been busy this week. They took a shopping trip to Pennington, Thursday, in the Mountain Empire Older Citizens van, driven by Peggy Sue Garrett.

—Mrs Hazel Edens was the guest speaker at the Center on Monday. She read the 11th Chapter of Hebrews and spoke on faith.

—Larry, Garry, and Linda Gail Burchett, Corbin, Ky., spent last week with their father, Buddy Burchett, their grandmother, Jerushia Burchett, and Mary Lou Martin

—Jerushia Burchett, daughter Linda Fee, and grandson Chris visited daughter, Georgia Roy and family Wednesday in Rose Hill

—Mary Lou Martin, Jerushia Burchett and Buddy were visiting in Corbin Sunday with Buddy's children.

—Mr. Bruce Conn has returned home from Lonesome Pine Hospital, Big Stone Gap.

—Mr. Curtis Flanary underwent heart surgery in a Knoxville hospital and remains a patient there.

—Our prayers are with all that are in hospitals. Some in Lee County Community Hospital we want to remember are: Henry Kelly, Willie Young, Nannie B. Pennington, John Oaks, Hattie Bales, Emmitt Hines, Virginia Frye, Virgie Hartley, and Sally Mullins.

—Mrs. Carrie Newman was discharged from the local hospital Saturday. Her son, Jerry Gates, was enroute from Bloomington, Ind., Saturday when he was involved in an automobile accident at the intersection at Flatwoods Road and Route 58, near Willis' Store. Occupants of the other car were Mrs. Mae Davis and Mrs. Ora Grabeel of Jonesville, and Mrs. Kathleen Carter of Flatwoods. All were brought to Lee County Hospital and treated for injuries Mrs. Ora Grabeel was admitted to the hospital due to knee injuries. All others were released.

Directories Being Delivered

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia is delivering some 7,650 new Lee County directories, according to Roy Roberts, local C&P manager.

Delivery is expected to be completed by July 2.

"This year's directory cover features a color photograph of gulls flying over the ocean at Back Bay National Wildlife Refuge in Virginia Beach," Roberts said

The beach scene was captured on film by Virginia photographer David Alan Harvey.

The directory again contains Consumer Guide Pages in the front of the book, designed to help explain various service offerings and provide pertinent information about the company.

"And the directory will mark the return of the personal number list on the inside back cover," Roberts said. "This is a handy place to jot down frequently called numbers, and avoid charges for directory assistance."

Roberts urged customers to call the telephone business office if they do not receive a directory by July 2

Linda McMurray
Employee of the Month

Chosen as employee of the month at Green Hill was Linda McMurray. Linda lives in Jonesville, and is the wife of Bill McMurray. Linda has worked at Green Hill for about two years. She is the head housekeeper and an excellent worker. She is always willing to take on any kind of task, and she loves the residents very much. We at Green Hill would like to say keep up the good work Linda.

Oma Shanahan
Resident of the Month

Chosen as resident of the month was Oma Shanahan. Oma is 50 years old and has been at Green Hill several years. Her hobbies are gardening and yard work. Oma always keeps the litter picked up off the grounds at the home, and is always willing to help with other tasks. We at Green Hill felt that Oma deserved resident of the month due to her willingness to help others. From the staff and residents of Green Hill we love you Oma.

Civil War Cannon Again Firing At Cumberland Gap

Visitors to Cumberland Gap National Historial Park during Fourth of July weekend will have an opportunity for a once in a lifetime experience. A Civil War cannon that has been quiet over 100 years will again be thundering as they did during the War Between the States. All day Saturday July 4 cannoneers in reproductions of Civil War uniforms will be conducting authentic artillery drills on the visitor center lawn using an original cannon tube from the park museum collection. On Sunday July 5 the drill will include firing black powder charges to show the smoke, sound, and actions of Civil War artillery crews. Historians will explain the history of the Three-State area during the war, the role of artillery in Cumberland Gap military actions, and the life of common soldiers stationed at the Gap.

Also included in the weekend activities will be "Songs and Stories of the Civil War." Concerts will be presented at the park's Wilderness Road Campground Amphitheater at 8 p.m. July 4 and at the Visitor Center at 2 p.m. July 5. All activites are free.

Pesticides are intended to kill living organisms. Careless use can result in poisoning of humans, warned Glen H. Hetzel, Extension farm safety specialist at Virginia Tech.

Read the label carefully and follow the directions for safe use. Use personal protective equipment and wash thoroughly after using pesticides.

Mr. Lee County Winners

The Olympic Health Center of Dryden, Va. held the 'Mr. Lee County Contest' 1981 on June 13th.

This picture just proves what a well-balanced diet, weightlifting, exercise and lots of determination can accomplish.

Lee Martin (center) owner of The Olympic Health Center, well deserved the beautiful trophy he received as 1st place. He also managed to receive medallions for 'Best Arms, Best Back, Best Chest, Most Muscular, and Best Poser. He spent lots of time and energy to accomplish these.

Other competitors were Ernest West and Tom Mooney. The center was very proud to have Mr. Tim Underwood of Brute's Gym in Wise, M.C. the contest. A special 'Thank you' to Tim, Jim Willis, and Joe Kavikosky for their difficult task of judging. A job well done!

SHOW YOUR COLORS
☆ JULY 4th

★ "And the Star Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave." On the Fourth of July, it's heartening to see our flag flying proudly before home after home. Show your colors . . . On Independence Day, display the Red, White and Blue symbol of our nation's heritage.

★ Most of all, that heritage is freedom. Through the days and the years since July 4, 1776, there have been times of struggle and sorrow, of danger and difficulty, but through even the darkest hours the bright light of freedom . . . symbolized by our flag . . . has sustained us and led us onward to rich and abundant blessings.

★ This Fourth of July, say a prayer of thanks for priceless freedom . . . honor the flag and all it stands for . . . Show Your Colors.

We Will Be Closed Friday & Saturday, July 3rd And 4th

Open Late Thursday, July 2nd For Your Convenience

Keep The Fun In Fireworks!

The Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (VDACS), is encouraging consumers to determine which fireworks are permitted by their State and local governments prior to purchase

In Virginia, Class C fireworks as specified in law are allowable. Class C fireworks are small fireworks permitted for family use, and are not dangerous when used with common sense. Most injuries caused by such fireworks are the result of flagrant misuse, not malfunction of these legally permitted fireworks

The most serious injuries usually result from the illegal type, i.e., the Class B explosives which are larger, such as cherry bombs and the M-80

The following are safety tips offered by VDACS

1. Buy from a reliable fireworks stand, and always read directions and precautionary statements on the label.
2. Have an adult present at all times.
3. Make sure the fuse is securely attached and not leaking powder.
4. Ignite outdoors only and keep a safe distance away.
5. Never ignite a firework in your hand and throw it. Always light in on the ground
6 Have water handy.
7 Never reignite a malfunctioning firework

VDACS recommends choosing safe fireworks, using them safely with adult supervision and keeping the fun in fireworks this Fourth of July

Record Drought Continues Despite May Rainfall

Despite near normal rainfall during May, the past 12 months were the driest on record for the Tennessee Valley with only 36.7 inches of precipitation recorded since last June, according to TVA rainfall records.

Average rainfall of about 3.8 inches during May left the Valley 15.3 inches below normal. The previous low for the 12 months was in 1940-41 when an average of 36.8 inches of rain was recorded.

May rainfall was about one-half inch below normal. Rainfall across the eastern portion of the Valley averaged 4.7 inches, while the western portion received an average of about 2.7 inches.

Since the first of the year, rainfall across the Valley has averaged 16.8 inches, more than 7 inches below normal for calendar 1981.

There has been a slight improvement in tributary reservoir levels during the past two months, but most remain well below normal levels for this time of year.

As of June 1, Douglas Reservoir was within 4 feet of normal for this time of year at elevation 989. By contrast, Fontana was at elevation 1660, 38 feet below normal.

Other representative reservoir levels showed Cherokee at elevation 1052 compared to a normal of 1057, Norris at 1000 compared to a normal of 1014, Watauga at 1946 compared to a normal of 1953, and Normandy at 862 compared to a normal summer pool of 875.

TVA reported energy in storage in its reservoir system at 5.65 billion kilowatthours compared to a normal for the end of May of 6.2 billion kilowatthours.

The dry weather has cut sharply into hydroelectric power generation during the past 12 months. For the period, June 1980 through May, 12.1 billion kilowatthours of electricity was produced by TVA hydro facilities compared to a normal production of 17.5 billion kilowatthours.

For calendar 1981 hydro production has totaled 3.9 billion kilowatthours, 53 percent of normal production of 7.3 billion kilowatthours.

Hazardous Waste Meeting Scheduled

A public hearing on Virginia's Interim Authorization Plan for hazardous waste management will be held Thursday, July 30, 1981 in the Highway Department Building's Main Auditorium at 1221 East Broad Street in Richmond, Va. According to the Environmental Protection Agency, "Hazardous wastes are substances that can cause, or contribute to, serious illness or pose a potential threat to human health or the environment when handled improperly..."

Copies of the Interim Authorization Plan, Phase I, are available for inspection or copying at the James Madison Building, 109 Governor Street, Richmond, Va. 23219.

You Can Help Save A Life — Your Own!

By Cy Brickfield

Do you have a heart condition? Arthritis? Glaucoma? Are you allergic to certain drugs? Do you have a medical condition that is not easily seen or recognized?

If you are one of the more than 40 million Americans who have problems like these, you should consider joining "Medic Alert," the Emergency Medical Identification System—it could save your life!

More than a million people worldwide have joined Medic Alert since the non-profit organization was founded in 1956 by Dr. Marion Collins. When you become a member of Medic Alert, you wear either a Medic Alert bracelet or necklace, carry a wallet card with your personal medical information on it, and have access to a 24-hour emergency answering service.

The Medic Alert emblem, worn as a bracelet or necklace, is an eye-catching device on the front of which is the insignia of the medical profession and the words "Medic Alert." The reverse side is engraved with the hidden medical problem or problems of the wearer, his or her membership number, and the telephone number of the Medic Alert emergency answering service.

The information you provide on your application form is fed into a computer at Medic Alert's main office. Doctors or other emergency medical personnel can call Medic Alert collect from any place in the world to obtain vital medical information about you.

Lifetime membership costs a one-time fee of $10 which is waived for those who cannot afford to pay it. The wallet card is updated and reissued each year; if the information on the card needs to be changed, there is a $3 charge.

There are more than 200 common reasons for needing Medic Alert; the most frequent include allergic reaction to penicillin, sulfa or insect stings, diabetes; heart condition; use of anticoagulants or cortisone, epilepsy; asthma; glaucoma; hypoglycemia, and implanted pacemakers. Individuals who are organ donors, contact lens wearers, possessors of a rare blood type, or scuba divers (who sometimes suffer delayed air pressure reactions) should also consider joining Medic Alert.

One of my friends, a diabetic who wears a Medic Alert bracelet, began to go into insulin shock one day while he was shopping. Another shopper noticed his distress, saw his Medic Alert bracelet and called a doctor who advised him to give my friend some candy and fruit juice. He soon returned to normal. Similar success stories are too numerous to count, but the people at Medic Alert estimate that their service has been instrumental in saving more than 2,000 lives a year.

Another program that attempts to save lives is called Vial of Life. The program began in 1976 in Michigan, and has spread to 34 states. Participants fill out a medical information form that lists health problems, doctors' names, medications and other important information; the form may include a photograph to enable emergency medical personnel to identify a person unable to communicate with them because of injury or illness. It is then put into a plastic vial—usually a syringe tube or 35 mm film cannister—which is taped to the right-hand side of the top refrigerator shelf.

Why the refrigerator? There are three good reasons: every home has one, it is easily located by medics, and it is fireproof.

Hospitals, police departments, county governments, and local AARP chapters and retired teacher groups have implemented Vial of Life programs across the country, there may already be one in your community. If you would like to find out more about VL—or if you would like to start a program—write to Vial of Life, NRTA-AARP, 1909 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C 20049 You may never have to use the vial, but it is a comfort to know help is as near as your refrigerator!

Memories From Out Of The Past

By Minnie Dean,
St. Petersburg, Fla.

In memory of Mrs. Cecil, a slave owner of Lee County.

Mrs. Cecil as I remember had lived in a huge log house on the bank of the Powell River opposite of Green Hill Church. I have been told that Mr. Cecil gave the land and built the log Church where Green Hill Church now stands, the log building was later burned down

As I remember her most when my mother took me to visit with her. Mrs Cecil's home was a short distance from our home It was then about four years old and she asked me "If I would crawl under the floor and get the eggs where her hens were laying and she would roast me an egg?" I, being eager to get a roasted egg crawled under the floor and brought out the booty for her. I remember so well seeing her rake out the hot ashes in the fireplace and roll the egg in to roast That roasted egg made such an impression on my mind at that tender age of four I have never forgotten it. I had never heard of a roasted egg then or at the present time.

As time went by I still remembered her big log house, a huge fireplace and chimney made from bricks that her slaves made from clay soil on the farm. There were also eight or ten little shacks up the river from her house where the slaves lived

Mrs. Cecil was a widow when I knew her. All the slaves left her when they gained their freedom with the exception of one. His name was Harve. He stayed with Mrs. Cecil and cared for her until she died. She gave him a house and a good sized farm where he lived.

I recall Harve coming to our house and he would tell us, he was auctioned off a big block by Mr. Cecil. He would say, he had no mother and tears would flow down his face.

He was buried by Mrs. Cecil in the Cecil Cemetery on the farm. I have visited the graves.

Their homeplace is now owned by the heirs of Nemrod Ely.

The Cecils were the great great- grandparents of Lucille, Berneice, and Clyde Orr of Dryden, Va.

If anyone reading this article ever come in contact with a slave owner or a slave I would be delighted to hear from you.

I am,
Minnie Gilbert Dean of

All Join Hands!

Have you watched a baby absorbed in exploring his own hands?

He's learning to separate himself from the world around him.

Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, reports that at first, a baby will spend long periods of time simply looking at his outstretched hands. Why? It's the "eight inch connection."

A month-old baby is very near-sighted. Like a camera which is focused only for close-ups, the baby's eyes see clearly only those things about eight inches from his nose.

Faces, when they get into the eight-inch range, fascinate him. So do mobiles and bright, shiny, colorful things.

But there's one thing that is always eight inches from a baby. It's always available. It's under the baby's control. That eight inch connection is the baby's own outstretched hand!

The baby's hand provides a stable and dependable object to look at. It is exactly the distance away that he can see. By studying it, he learns to focus first one eye and then both eyes on a point or object. Later he learns eye movement, two-eyed vision, and depth perception.

At first, a baby will spend considerable time just looking at the outstretched hand. He will also grasp small objects that you give him.

At about four months old, he will succeed in bringing his own hands together. Then he will begin exploring the fingers of one hand with those of the other.

The joining of hands is an important milestone in an infant's development. As he grasps one hand with the other, he feels the squeezing. This sensation tells him that what he has seen and grasped is part of him.

Discovering himself as something distinct from other objects around him is very interesting and exciting to a baby, and he will spend hours exploring his two hands and finding out what they can do.

This begins the process of finding out what is self and what is not self. The baby will pay careful attention to everything he touches to see if feelings come from the touched object as well as the hand that does the touching. It is in this way that he begins to distinguish fully where his own body stops and the outside world begins.

At this point, give the baby objects to hold. Vary sizes, shapes, textures, weights. Household objects are the best: the variety is endless.

More information on this subject and about the physical and social development of children up to six years old can be gotten by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P.O. Box 620 N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. When writing, include child's birthdate.

Creative Writing Class Planned

Mountain Empire Community College will again offer its popular course in Creative Writing during summer quarter. The class will meet Monday through Friday from 10:30 to 12:30 during the three weeks of July 8 through July 27.

The class is designed for the beginning student in creative writing. However, it will also benefit any writer who wishes to sharpen his writing skills and receive constructive criticism. The class will study the fundamentals of writing in the students' choice of poetry, essays, and short stories. Students will be encouraged to use their imaginations toward producing works of fiction and non fiction.

Students who successfully complete the course will receive three credits which may be transferred to four-year institutions. Tuition will be $32.25, plus a $5.00 application fee for first time students.

For more information, contact the MECC Office of Continuing Education 523-2400, ex. 204, or instructor Mr. Van Rose, ex. 220.

Data Processing Offered At CVC

A new program in Business Data Processing will begin at Clinch Valley College this fall. The program was developed by the College in response to the many persons who have expressed interest in pursuing a career in Data Processing.

Students who select this program will include in their studies not only courses in computer science and data processing, but courses in accounting, management, marketing, finance and professional writing.

The program is particularly appropriate for persons who want careers in data processing in the banking industry, coal-mining enterprises, local, state, and federal governmental agencies, and in the teaching of data processing in the public schools.

Persons interested in the new Data Processing program may obtain further information by calling Dr. Peter Yun, Chairman, Division of Professional and Social Sciences, Clinch Valley College, Wise, Virginia, at 703 328-2431, extension 221.

Legal Education Programs Scheduled For Senior Citizens

Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc., the area agency on aging for Lee, Wise, and Scott counties, has contracted with Hugh O'Donnell, Executive Director of Client Centered Legal Services, to present a legal education program on Insurance and the Elderly at seven locations during the month of July. The same program will be presented at additional locations, to be announced at a later date, in August.

The presentation is open to all people sixty years of age and older. Following the presentation, Mr. O'Donnell, a lawyer with a special interest in legal needs of the elderly, will be available to meet individually with senior citizens with a legal question or problem. The presentation and individual consultations are free of charge to senior citizens.

$3,000 Winner

Hazel Marcum of Pennington Gap happily accepts a $3,000 check from Middlesboro Coca Cola Bottling Company president Neal Barry. Ms. Marcum discovered Wednesday that she was a $1,000 winner when she found the word "Real" in a Coca Cola bottle cap to fill out the phrase, "Coke The Real Thing." Before she could get to Middlesboro to collect the prize money though, Ms. Marcum found another triple crown bottle cap with the numeral 3 in it which allowed her to triple her winnings. According to Barry, Ms. Marcum is the first triple crown winner in the eight county trading area served by the Middlesboro Bottling Company.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Former Keokee High School graduates will be coming to this area for their class reunion this week end. The high school classes of 1959 through 1965. They will celebrate the event on Saturday, July 4, and many who live in other states plan to return home for the reunion.

—Harley Joe Kennedy and son, Matt flew in from Denver, Colorado on a surprise visit to see Joe's mother, Mrs. Clercie Kennedy and visit other relatives. They plan to spend a week. She was pleased to have them visit at this time.

—Mrs. Renee Booth of Cookville, Tn., graduated with honors from Tennessee Tech, on June 6. She was the former Renee Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Henry of Cookville. Renee is the granddaughter of Mrs. Echel Edens of Keokee.

—Mr. and Mrs. Troy Boggs of Indiana were recent dinner guests at the home of Mary Boggs, and enjoyed visiting with her.

—Congragulations to Rev. Larry A. Wells and wife, Ettis of Montgomery, Ala., who celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary on June 22 We wish for them many more happy years together.

Rev. Wells is the son of Monette Wells of Keavy, Ky., and the late Lige Wells. They formerly resided in Keokee.

—The family of the late Pina and Sam Lawson, Sr., of Keokee, held a family reunion at the home of Junior Lawson and wife, Bill in Exeter, Va., on Sunday, June 14.

Those present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mullins of Fairborn, Ohio; Mrs. Lisa Morris of Morristown, Tn.; Paul Warren and wife, Jeanette and daughter, Sharon of Mt. Morris, Mich.; Lester Hensley and wife, Jewell, also Lester's two daughters, Regina and Pat, and son-in-law, Bill of Norwood, Ohio, also friends, Mary and Otis of Norwood; Don Lawson and wife, Lola Mae of Fairborn, Ohio; Marcelene and Charlie Bush, their son and daughter-in-law, Russell Bush and wife, Georgia of Fort Wayne, Ind., Jack Lawson and wife, Rona, their son, David and daughter, Vonna of Keokee.

It was a happy family gathering with everyone enjoying a bountiful picnic dinner. They also attended the Tri-State Singing Convention at Bullitt Park in Big Stone Gap.

—Mrs. Clercie Kennedy spent last Sunday afternoon visiting at the home of Mrs. Ordie Morris.

—Mrs. Dorthy Arnette is reported to be on the sick list. We hope she will be feeling better soon.

—Iva Clarkston joined her brother and sister-in-law, Marion and Hortese Clarkston near Dryden, last Tuesday morning and they went to Keavy, Ky., to visit their sister, Monette Wells.

Enroute to Kentucky they stopped in Rose Hill. It was a happy surprise when Iva recognized her former school teacher, Fitsue Grabeel who was principal at Keokee High School in the year of 1926. Mr. Grabeel also remembered Iva and they were pleased to see each other again after all these many years. He taught school here when the school building was located on "Super Hill", and there were no school buses and everyone walked to school Mr Grabeel and Iva enjoyed reminiscing about the "Good Old Days", for a short while and the changes in the present time. It was good to see a friend of the yester-years, and the time passed quickly. The Clarkstons then bid him good-bye and continued their trip to Kentucky.

They spent a delightful day with their sister, Monette then returned home in the evening.

—Floyd Cornett who has been a patient in a hospital in German Town, Ohio is reported to be doing fine at this time. He joined his wife, Mary at their home in Exeter, Va., last Thursday. He was accompanied from Ohio by his son, Sam Cornett.

He arrived just in time to celebrate his 83rd birthday on June 18, with his wife, Mary who was happy to have him home again on this special occasion. Also present were Mrs. Cornett's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Fox of Jackson, Ohio. Her daughter, Polly Deaton of Keokee was present and Beatrice Bigley who all enjoyed dinner and birthday cake.

—Wilmore Deaton and sons, Jack and Joe of Wayne, W. Va., arrived Saturday and spent a few days visiting with his mother and step-father, Mary and Floyd Cornett at Exeter, Va.

Another son, Isaac Deaton and grandson, Scott also arrived Friday and spent the week end.

Isaac Deaton and his grandson, Scott accompanied his sister, Mrs. Polly Deaton to visit their sister and brother-in-law, Paul Deaton and Maudie at Keokee, last Monday.

—I received a nice letter from a friend, Elzie Payne of Upper Nyack, N.Y., who wrote about her recent trip back to Virginia during Memorial Day week end She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Lee Bess, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logotto of New York They visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bobrosky in Keokee one day.

During their stay here they were guests at the home of her brother and sister in-law, Mr and Mrs. Odie Duff in Big Stone Gap. Elzie and her friends were accompanied to Sigma, by her brother, Odie Duff where they spent most of one day.

The highlight of her trip was to meet and see Talmadge and Ruth Flanary of Loveland, Ohio who were also in the area at that time Ruth and Elzie attended school together and graduated from Calvin High School in 1933. It had been many years since they had seen each other They had spent much time together in their younger years along with Lois Duncan and the Sorah sisters. Talmadge and Ruth were happy to meet Elzie again and talk of the yester years. Elzie had treasured Ruth's friendship for 48 years.

—Verda Thompson and grandson, Alan Collier were happy to have as visitors at their home last Sunday, Ray and Freda Snodgrass of Dayton, Ohio, Audrey Baker, Jay and Juanita Thompson all of Big Stone Gap. They enjoyed dinner while there.

Visitors From California

It was a wonderful surprise Friday evening when our friends, Hank and Edna Mullins of Fullerton, Ca., stopped by our home for a short visit with Iva Clarkston and me.

Edna and Hank also visited Edna's aunt, Mrs. Arkie Perry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maggard. They also planned to visit her uncle, Dee Flanary at Clover Fork, Ky.

Mrs. Mullins was formerly Edna Johnson and she spent her childhood days in Keokee. Hank was formerly from Big Stone Gap. They went to California to reside in 1942.

Edna and Hank plan to be in this area and Big Stone Gap this week as they have many relatives in Big Stone Gap, Pennington Gap, and Jonesville, they went to visit

They plan to attend a family reunion on the 4th of July at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Gilley in Big Stone Gap.

—Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Barker and family returned to their home in Roanoke, Thursday after enjoying several days visiting with A.L.'s mother, Mrs. Virginia Barker and other relatives.

—Mrs. Verda Thompson and Alan Collier joined Mr. and Mrs. Ray Snodgrass of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Audrey Baker, Mr. and Mrs. McLynn Sharpe all of Big Stone Gap, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Thompson, Jr., where they enjoyed a cook-out last Monday evening.

Aloha, Good Buddy

It is not unusual to see vehicles in Lee County with out-of-state tags, such as: Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Tennessee or Kentucky. Nearly every state of the union has a transplanted Lee Countian. Hawaii is not an exception. If you happen to drive up behind a blue car bearing Hawaii license plates, don't be surprised. Just honk your horn and shout, "Aloha, Good Buddy!"

The driver of the blue car will probably be William Orr, the son of Bob Orr, a native of Ben Hur, and Marjorie Orr, who make their home in Honolulu. William has visited Lee County many times during his life. This year he decided to return and work for his uncle, Ralph Orr, in the Real Estate and construction business.

William says he likes the mountains and people of Virginia, but he does miss the surf and sand of Honolulu.

Hopefully, William's first experience on the mainland this year will not be a lasting impression. Having shipped his car by boat to Los Angeles, William flew to Los Angeles to claim the car and start the long drive across the continental United States. But when he inspected his car on the pier, he discovered that his stereo speakers had been stolen. Fortunately, his car insurance will cover the loss of his speakers.

If you have the opportunity to talk with William about his tropical island home, remember that the correct pronunciation, according to William, of Hawaii is "H-A-V-V-I-I."

American Tree Farm System Is 40 Years Old

The American Tree Farm System, which encourages private landowners to manage their forest land for timber harvest while protecting environmental, recreational and wildlife values, is 40 years old this summer.

The anniversary was celebrated with a ceremony June 12 on the Tree Farm of Thomas O. Perry, near Durham, N.C., in one of the country's most active Tree Farm regions.

Participants included actor Andy Griffith, a North Carolina Tree Farmer himself; North Carolina Gov. James Hunt, who comes from a Tree Farming family; and George Weyerhaeuser, president of the company that owns the first certified Tree Farm.

While the Tree Farm program was developed originally to demonstrate that industrial forest lands were being managed with concern, the focus now is on privately-owned non-industrial lands.

More than 41,000 private landowners manage 82 million acres under the Tree Farm System and the numbers are increasing steadily, according to the American Forest Institute (AFI), which conducts the program. AFI is the Washington-based information and education arm of the forest products industry.

Most Tree Farmers are individual landowners in a variety of occupations who have committed themselves to management of their forest property as an investment, or for the pleasure of forestry. However, they are also contributing to the nation's supply of timber for the wood and paper products people need as consumers.

There are currently over 1,200 certified Tree Farmers in Virginia who manage 1.6 million acres. The program is sponsored by the Virginia Forestry Association in cooperation with the Virginia Division of Forestry.

The honor of being the first certified Tree Farm in Lee county belongs to E.K. Geisler of Pennington Gap. It was certified in 1965 and is one of four Tree Farms in the county.

For information on Tree Farming and forest management, contact your local county forester or the Virginia Forestry Association, One North Fifth Street, Richmond, VA 23219. 804/644-8462.

Ely, Warren Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Warren

Maria Jane Ely and Brian Kevin Warren were married recently in an outdoor wedding in the east gazebo at Crown Colony, Kingsport, Tn. The Rev. David Ensminger officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr and Mrs. Norris Dean Embree, Kingsport and the late Dr. Thomas Southgate Ely, Jonesville, Va.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy L. Warren of Marion, Va.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Dr. Thomas H. Ely, Reynoldsburg, Ohio and was given in marriage by her family. She chose a gown of white silesta featuring a sleeveless fitted bodice overlaid with silk venise lace and pearls. A Queen Anne neckline outlined in lace and an empire waist line encircled with matching lace also adorned the gown. The A line skirt extended into a chapel length train and was bordered with lace. Her fingertip-length mantilla was edged with venise lace and accented with pearls. She carried a colonial-style nosegay of talisman roses, daisies, babys breath and ivy. The streamers were of peach and white ribbon tied in loveknots.

Serving the bride as matron-of-honor was Mrs. Teresa Clark, of Houston, Texas. Bridesmaids were Ms. Cheryl Warren, Marion, Va., sister of the groom, and Ms. Elizabeth Ely, Reynoldsburg, O., niece of the bride. The attendants were attired in floor length gowns of marigot blue. Their sleeveless bodices were designed with a criss-cross effect and spaghetti straps. Sunburst pleated skirts fell from high waistlines and matching chiffon capelets completed their costumes. They carried colonial style nosegays of mixed summer flowers.

Jimmy Warren served his son as best man. Ushers were Mark Warren, Marion, Va., brother of the groom, and Mike Lawrence, U.S. Navy.

The wedding reception was held following the ceremony at The Ridgefields Country Club.

The bride is a graduate of Jonesville High School and Emory and Henry College. She is employed by the Smyth County Board of Educaton.

The groom graduated from Marion High School and is attending East Tennessee State University.

Following a honeymoon cruise in the Hawaiian Islands, the couple will reside in Piney Flats, Tn.

Cherie W. Rogers

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Rogers of Covington, LA. announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Cherie W. of Baton Rouge to Mr. William H. Bernard, of Baton Rouge, LA.

The couple plan a six o'clock wedding at the home of the bride's parents on July 18. The Reverend Edwin Barksdale will be performing the ceremony.

Miss Rogers attended Covington High School and Louisiana State University. Her fiance attended Carona Del Mar High School and the University of Southern California at San Diego.

The bride-to-be is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Williams of Pennington Gap.

Debbie Wade Attends FHA Leadership Camp

Debbie Wade from Dryden Combined School attended the State FHA/HERO Leadership Camp at Smithfield, June 16-19. Debbie worked with other state officers, advisors, chapter officers, and members of the Future Homemakers of America from across Virginia.

During the week, members studied Parliamentary Procedure, Public Speaking, Program Planning, Officer Duties and Fundamentals of Successful FHA/HERO Chapter Operation. Nine workshop sessions were conducted which were designed to promote activities at the chapter and state levels.

Chapter participants said, "The whole week really gave us a chance to learn about FHA/HERO and Leadership training. These experiences will help us do a better job in leading our chapter."

The Leadership Camp is held at the FFA FHA HERO Camp, located at Mogart's Beach near Smithfield. The jointly owned camp is a recreational and educational facility operated to provide opportunities for members of both organizations to work and learn together. The camp is open to any member of FFA or FHA HERO.

Future Homemakers of America is a State and National Organization of students studying vocational home economics education in high schools or area vocational schools. Consumers and Homemaking students are members of FHA chapters; Occupational Home Economics students are members of HERO chapters. These organizations are educational in nature and are an integral part of instruction in home economics education.

Debbie is the State Secretary and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wade, Dryden. She attended the leadership camp with Mrs. Shirley Slemp, her advisor.

Troubled Waters In The Park

Drought conditions from May 1980 through February 1981 have been identified as the primary reason for the marked decline in the numbers of legal-sized trout in Cumberland Gap National Historical Park streams. This widespread, sustained drought caused the underground acquifers (or water tables) to become extremely low, and this in turn caused very low stream water levels. Because this flow of warm weather from the underground acquifers which normally provide most of the water in Appalachian streams was diminished, circumstances were favorable for the development of dangerous ice conditions. The first, free floating ice, has a sandpaper effect on the larger fish in the small mountain streams, while the second, "anchor ice" on the stream bottoms, acts to severely limit the fishes' movements and results in overcrowding and diminished food supplies.

Due to these overall unfavorable weather-related conditions, most of the larger fish have disappeared from park streams.

Spring stream surveys indicate that enough small trout have survived the drought to re-establish a sports fishery within a few years if favorable weather conditions continue. Until numbers and size of fish are large enough to warrant a trout season, park streams will remain closed to fishing.

Fighting fish are bred in Japan and Thailand for the purpose of competitive combat.

Trade Policy Shift Announced

U.S. Ariculture Secretary John R. Block said in Europe recently that the United States will no longer tolerate protectionist trade policies by other exporting nations. He also said the United States does not expect to continue shouldering the responsibility of maintaining a reserve for the world.

Speaking before the World Food Council in Yugoslavia, Block emphasized the need for developed and developing countries to begin creating their own food reserves. He said the United States has taken the lead on a reserve policy, but it cannot continue to carry the burden alone. However, he stressed the United States is not in favor of any form of international coordination or control of such a reserve.

In Brussels and London, Block warned of U. S. determination to resist earlier agreements. He specifically mentioned the European Community's export subsidies on wheat and other products, plus the community's effort to tax vegetable oils or restrict imports of non-grain feed ingredients (corn gluten).

"My message to these nations was firm, but not unreasonable," Block said after arriving in Paris. "It was a signal to the world that under this administration, the United States is shifting toward greater reliance on the market and on individual responsibility among nations."

Wire rope used to raise or lower silo unloaders may become weakened from exposure to acid conditions in the silo, warned Glen H. Hetzel, Extension farm safety specialist at Virginia Tech.

Inspect it yearly and replace it before raising the unloader at silo filling time. Replace wire rope should have a safety factor of 5:1.

Wheat Crop Larger This Year

Winter wheat production in Virginia is forecast at 13.2 million bushels up from 1980's 10.5 million bushel crop. In 1979, Virginia farmers produced 6.3 million bushels of winter wheat, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's May Crop production report.

Winter wheat producers in the State expect to harvest 370 thousand acres this year compared to 286 thousand acres last year and 180 thousand acres in 1979. Crop yields are expected to avearge 36 bushels per acre in 1981, compared to 37 bushels in 1980 and 35 bushels in 1979.

The national winter wheat crop is forecast at a record 2.08 billion bushels -- 10 percent more than last year's production. This total includes about 1.2 million bushels of Hard Red, 575 million bushels of Soft Red and 261 million bushel of White winter.

As harvest of 1981 winter wheat begins and the marketing year winds down, the estimate of season average wheat prices remains at about $4.00 a bushel, USDA officials said.

Langley Family Reunion

The family of the late Steve and Laura Langley held a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jerrell, Jr. recently.

Those attending from Jonesville were Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Wolfe and daughter, Lisa, Bobby Jerrell, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Depew, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Langley and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Wilson and Jared.

Family members from Rose Hill were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jerrell, Scottie and Mark, Mrs. Grace Langley and son, Tommy, and grandson, Tommy Joe.

Others attending were Mrs. Aston Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Langley, Renee and Matthew of Willoughby, Ohio. Atha Summer of Richmond was unable to attend.

Everyone enjoyed a delicious meal.

Trailer Boating

Tips For Safe Boating

Trailers broaden horizons for outboard boaters. Weekend trips to many different waters, and combined land-water vacations, increase the variety of boating fun.

Trailers are rated according to the load they can carry. In figuring weight, total the motor and equipment you will carry in your boat while on the road. Don't "economize" by buying too small a trailer for the load.

Have your hitch welded or bolted to the frame of your car, not just to the bumper. Use a safety chain as well this is the law in many states.

To solve traction problems on an overly steep or sandy incline, some boaters attach an additional hitch to the front of their car. The trailer is nosed to the water's edge, and the car's drive wheels kept on higher, drier ground.

For permanent lighting, tap your car's wiring system with a plug in socket, to which you can attach your trailer lighting set-up when towing. Replace the regular flasher units in the car's directional signals with "heavy duty" flashers. Your trailers' wheels turn very fast; be conscientous about bearing lubrication and tire pressure.

Check your outfit often during a trip. See that the hitch is secure, tie-downs are tight. If you load sways when underway, it is probably tail heavy, or tire pressure is too low. Move the boat forward on the trailer, or shift gear forward in the boat. Most trailers should be somewhat tongue heavy for smoothest riding; experts suggest having about one third the load resting on the car

Driving your rig calls for no special knowledge, but allow more time for braking, accelerate more slowly, swing wider on corners, think twice before passing. Backing up requires practice. The prime rule to remember is that you must turn the wheel of your car to the left to make the trailer move to the right, and vice versa.

Nothing can be burned again that has already been burned once.

Bids Will Be Received

Bids for 25 highway construction, repair, and maintenance improvement projects will be received July 21 by the Virginia Department of Highways and Transportation in Richmond.

Included among the projects is construction of the four lane approaches to the James River Bridge between Newport News and Isle of Wight County. The bridge is expected to be opened early next year.

Area projects are as follows:

Lee County - Secondary 606 and 628. - Construction of three two-lane bridges 30, 34, and 39 feet in length and replacement of a bridge with a box culvert over Reed Creek near Purcell. About 0.4-of-a-mile of Secondary 606 at the intersection with Secondary 628 will be rebuilt. The bridges are being built as part of the special rehabilitation program to repair or strengthen inadequate bridges on coal-hauling roads in Southwest Virginia.

Jim Matlock Wins 4-H Award

A 16 year old Lee County youth has been named winner of the 1981 State 4-H Electric Energy Award in the illustrated talk and method demonstration category

Jimmy Matlock of Route 2, Rose Hill, was recognized during the 59th annual Virginia State 4-H Congress, June 22-26, held at Virginia Tech. 4-H is part of Virginia Extension.

Matlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Matlock, will receive a bond, donated by Cooperative Electric Power Suppliers.

During the Congress, over 1,400 4-H'ers, volunteer leaders, Extension staff members and friends of 4-H were on the University's campus to participate in demonstrations, judging contests, recreation, career workshops, an information fair and the All Star tapping ceremony

Mt. Carmel W.O.C. Bible Study

The Mt. Carmel Presbyterian Women of the Church held their June meeting at the church last Tuesday with Mrs. Charles Emmett, president, leading devotional thoughts from Isaiah 40. "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

The group read in unison the hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee", and engaged in a circle of Prayer, closed by Mrs. Maud Bales.

Bible Study entitled "To the End of the Earth" centered on the Christian's true mission of sharing the good news of Christ's Salvation with all humanity. Mrs. Maud Bales explained how God chose the Jews, while Miss Florence Bayless spoke of the servant's task in God's purpose.

Mrs. Ralph Campbell also contributed thoughts on the Universal Task of a Servant.

Reflecting on the third world perspective, Mrs. Emmett summarized the Christian's Mission as being a light to the nations, with humility and openness.

"We are humble and open", she stated, "so that through our listening, understanding, and acceptance we may possibly witness the reality of Christ's Salvation which may be able to bring true liberation to the end of the earth."

With the reading of Psalms 96:1-7, in unison the meeting adjourned.

Camp Out for Troop 306 and Cub Scout Pack

The Boy Scouts of the area, Troop #306, with Scout Master, Mr. Wade Wilson, enjoyed two days of Camp Out on Friday and Saturday. They were joined on Saturday by the Cub Scout Pack 306, Den #1, under direction of leaders, Mrs. Andrea Harris and Mrs. Linda Lawson.

Each Cub Scout was also accompanied by his father or an adult on the Camp Out.

The month of June is Annual Camp Out for all Boy Scouts, and this week the Cub Scout Pack, Den #1 is joining other Scouts in a Day Camping Program in the Jonesville area.

Chucky Emmett Wins Honors in Boy Scouts

Chucky Emmett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Emmett, Ewing, has returned from VPI at Blacksburg, where he and David Yeary represented Thomas Walker High School for the State Judging Livestock Contest. They left Tuesday and returned on Friday.

Chucky spent the week end at Norton for the Tap-Out of the Order of the Arrow which is a high honor in Boy Scouts.

He also recently spent a week end at Camp David Crockett in Rogersville, TN., for the ordeal of the Order of the Arrow.

Chucky's Scout Master is Mr. Wade Wilson, Principal of Rose Hill Elementary School.

Attend Fiftieth Anniversary At Flatwoods Church

Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Oscar W. Smith, and Mrs. Charles Emmett visited on Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Kathleen Carter at her home, and with Mrs. Carter's guests from Kentucky. They were Mrs. Minnie Greggs of Lexington, Mrs. Ethel Wyatt of Berea, and Mrs. Linda Jackson of Evarts.

On Sunday morning, Mrs. Carter's guests accompanied her to the services at Flatwoods United Methodist Church for the special services commemorating fifty years as a Church in the Flatwoods area, a brief history of which was contained in the Church Bulletin with a picture of the present church.

A challenging sermon was brought by the Rev. Harold Buck, Supt. of Big Stone Gap United Methodist Churches in Holston Conference, the service being led by Pastor William F. Boyd, with music by the Flatwoods Church Choir.

A bountiful picnic lunch was served to the members and many guests.

Morgan Memorial Church Has Guest Singers

The Congregation at Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church met Sunday evening for a festival of singing. They were joined by members of the Ingles Chapel United Methodist Church and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dan (Judy) Manning, their daughter, Tammy and son Benji of Arthur, Tennessee.

Rev. James Wright, who begins his eighth year as Pastor of Morgan and Ingles Churches, was in charge of the service. In addition to congregational singing and songs by the host church choir, there were also renditions of solos, duets, and trios by various people including the guests from Arthur - young Tammy and Benji Manning who sang joyously and harmoniously.

Some of the children of Morgan Memorial who had just completed a week of Bible School, also shared some of the songs learned in Bible School under the direction of Mrs. Claude Glass, music director.

It was a joyful and worshipful experience of Christian fellowship and singing melody and harmony unto the Lord.

Before the services, the Manning family also enjoyed a cookout supper with the Glass family.

The Pastor, Rev. Wright, reported a successful Bible School with an average attendance of 61, including students, teachers, and assistants who cooperated together beautifully.

Director of the school was Mrs. Nancy Gibson.

—While the Rev. James M. Wright was attending the annual conference at Lake Junaluska last week, guests of Mrs. Wright and Jeff were Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, Jr. and daughter Missy, of Virginia Beach, who remained through Sunday. Also visiting was Mrs. Enoch Frye of Saltville, mother of Mrs. James Wright, Sr.

—Mr and Mrs. Snyder Harris have returned home after spending a few days attending the annual meeting of Holston Conference United Methodist Churches at Lake Junaluska, N.C.

—Miss Florence Bayless and Mrs. Charles Emmett were visiting in Middlesboro recently with Mr. and Mrs. Natt G. Fugate, Mrs. Annie Kincaid, and Mrs. Ida Huff.

On Saturday they attended in Appalachia, a President's Planning Meeting of the Women of the Church at the Appalachian Presbyterian Church. Plans were made for an Annual Meeting of the W.O.C. at Gate City on September 27..

—Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pillion and daughter, Elwanda Pillion, Ewing, were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest (Isabella Pillion) Flanigan of Columbus, Ohio, and their niece, Dana Jo Pillion of Anderson, Ind.

This week, Elwanda and Dana Jo Pillion accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Flannigan, were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spiers and children and Mr. Spier's mother of Florida, and all spent a week's vacation at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jim Haley have returned from a vacation in Western United States.

—Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Nolan accompanied Mr. Arnold Hensley and his mother, Mrs. Grace Scott Hensley recently to Kentucky for memorial services at the Hensley Cemetery and continued on to the Martin's Fork Dam at Smith, Ky.

—Guest of Mrs. Walter Smith for a few days last week was her son, Mr. Kyle Smith of Swayzee, Ind. They attended Morgan Memorial Church on Sunday morning and were dinner guests of the Clause Glass family. Kyle also visited other relatives of the area.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Poulston have returned from a visit with their daughter, Pauletta and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Yates and Mitzi of Cleveland, Va.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Hounshell, Jr., were in Bristol recently because of the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. Wilbur Collins. They were overnight guests at his sister's home and attended the funeral.

Others from Rose Hill visiting with the family of Mr Wilbur Collins at a funeral home in Bristol were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Seale, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs James Gibson. They also visited at the home of their relatives, Mrs. Mae Phipps and Mrs. Thelma Rosenbaum, who are sisters of Mrs. Henry Campbell.

—Recent out of-town visitors of Mrs. Georgia Gibson were her sister, Mrs. Julia Brogan of Maryville, Mr. Reed Tyler of Crittenden, Ky., (her nephew), and her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs Robert Gibson of Cedar Town, Ga They were in the area due to the death of Mrs. Mossie Graham Tyler, Ewing.

—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Smith enjoyed a visit from their 16-month-old great-grandson, Ryan Berry of Charlottesville, on last Thursday. Accompanying him. was his mother, Mrs. Edward (Cynthia) Berry, and her mother, Mrs. Ray Gibson.

They continued on their way to the Gibson home in Versailes, Ky. Cynthia's father, the Rev. Ray Gibson, pastor of the United Methodist Church at Versalies, and Mrs. Gibson are leaving for Wales within the next two weeks in a program of Pulpit Exchange to be away for ten weeks.

The Minister from Wales is to arrive at Versailes one day before the Gibsons start on their journey to Wales.

—Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Van B. Grabeel on Father's Day were their four children and several of their family members: Mr. and Mrs. D.T. Normand, Robert and Missy Normand and friends Alison Argo and Ronnie Hutchinson, all of Oak Ridge, Tn., Mrs. Conard Ritter, of Bean Station, and Mrs. Donald May of Morristown, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip O'Dell and Van O'Dell, of Ewing, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grabeel of Rose Hill.

—Mr. Joes Owens has returned home from visits made to his nieces in Somerset and Mill Springs, Ky. They are Mrs. Katie Dorsey and family, and Mrs. Sarah Lou Roberts and family. Mr. Owens also visited friends in Louisville, and attended the drama given annually at Bardstown, Ky. on the Life of Stephen Foster.

—Dr. and Mrs. Beryl H. Owens and son Whitney are visiting Mrs. Owen's mother and other relatives in Provo, Utah.

The expression "pulling the wool over his eyes" goes back , it is said, to the days when gentlemen wore powdered wigs. If you pulled a man's wig (wool) over his eyes, he would be unable to see what was going on.

"In the Heart of the Beautiful Cumberlands — Where Virginia Begins"

61 Years * No. 27 — Pennington Gap, Lee County, Virginia Wednesday, July 8, 1981 — Three Sections * Twenty-five Cents

Lee County Produces Virginia's Oil

On Wednesday, July 1, the largest oil drilling rig ever in Lee County was erected to begin operation. The "winding stairs", as a short distance of highway on route 58A is known, has in the past few years seen the Seventh Day Adventist Church build a school and recently a beautiful, modern building to serve as a place of worship. Now a 155 foot high oil rig built at an estimated cost of over $6 million is located on the Slemp farm, to your right just before you enter the first curve of the Winding Stairs as you travel from Lee County to Big Stone Gap.

This massive drill erected by Atlantic Richfield Co., can dig more than 15,000 feet below the surface of the ground in search of oil. This rig contains a rotary-type drill that is scheduled to operate 24 hours each day and is manned by a crew of eighteen.

There have been other oil wells in Lee County and now as one travels the Miller's Chapel road they can hear the pumps operating from two oil wells, one on the right and to the left. The tanks are ready to be filled as pumping continues. Other producing oil wells have been drilled in Rose Hill, but the most interesting bit of information is the fact that Lee County is the only Virginia county with producing oil wells.

If this latest, largest and perhaps the most efficient oil drilling equipment ever to locate in Lee County strikes oil, to add to our coal production, this would greatly add to the economy of Southwest Virginia, and really put the "Winding Stairs" on all our road maps.

"Little Miss Cumberland Bowl"

The winner of the "Little Miss Cumberland Bowl" held in Jonesville during their Fourth of July celebration was Sheri Elliot, age 8, center, daughter of Albert and Geneva Elliot of Big Stone Gap. First runner-up was Vanessa Cooney, age 6, left, daughter of Ruddy and June Cooney of Jonesville. Raquel Marcum, age 8, right, daughter of Steve and Emma Marcum of Jonesville was second runner-up. There was over 25 contestants ranging in age from two to eight and was sponsored by the Jonesville Junior Women's Club. Pictured standing in back is Mayor M. D. Couk, who was the emcee of the pageant.

We Need Our Library

Status With Regional Library Uncertain

The regular Lee County Board of Supervisors meeting for July will be held beginning at 10:00 a.m., today (Wednesday), at this meeting the library and it's status with the Lonesome Pine Regional Library system is an almost certain issue.

The Board of Supervisors included in the budget $50,000 for the Lee County Public Library, they were asked by the Regional Library System for an appropriation of $120,543.00 for the fiscal year 1981-1982, this is an annual increase of $30,543.00 over the amount the system asked for in 1980-81 fiscal year of $90,000, which was appropriated, for the year 1979 1980 the amount the system asked for and received was $50,000. So, the question before the Board of Supervisors is why an increase each year in the amount of between thirty and forty thousand dollars, they expect to "carry their own weight," but just how much is enough to do this, one board member said.

Lee County's representative of the Lonesome Pine Library system is expected to be present to explain the situation, to the Board, answering the unanswered questions so a decision can be made as to Lee County's duties to the library system, the state matching funds can be received and Lee County Public Library can remain a part of the system.

Several other issues of much importance to the county will be brought up and discussed. Be present, state your opinions, Wednesday, July 8.

Ground Breaking

Sunday afternoon, July 5, 1981, the First Baptist Church of Pennington Gap, Va. had a "ground breaking" service for a new educational building. The new building will be located directly behind the present Church building at the corner of Morgan and Anderson. Construction will begin immediately on a 36x80 feet, two story structure consisting of 20 rooms, costing approximately $175,000. Ground breaking was performed by Rev. Douglas Clem, pastor of the church, as the Board of Deacons watched.

Rabies Clinics Scheduled

Rabies clinics will be held throughout the month of July in Lee County.

Virginia law requires all dogs over four-months-old to be vaccinated at least every three years by an accredited veterinarian. It is also highly recommended that cats over four-years-old be vaccinated at least every year by an accredited veterinarian.

Rabies certificates will be provided at the clinics establishing eligibility to purchase county dog tags at the Lee County Courthouse.

A $5 charge will be made for each rabies vaccination, also yearly distemper, hepatitis, and Lepto Booster available for $6.00 and yearly cat distemper, rhino, and calici booster available for $7.00.

Following is a schedule of the rabies clinics.

Virginia's 1980 Tobacco Crop Valued $155 Million

Virginia farmers produced 106,791,000 pounds of tobacco in 1980, 2,812,000 pounds less than in 1979, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's May crop production report

Valued at $155 million, the 1980 tobacco crop was harvested from 72,800 acres with an average yield of 1,636 pounds per acre.

The 1980 tobacco production brought farmers an average price of $145.80 per hundred for their crop, compared with $139.60 per hundred for the 67,350 acre 1979 crop.

According to the report, last year's farm quotas were down 6 percent for flue-cured and up 11 per cent for burley. The quotas imply that tobacco growers may keep this year's plantings about the same as the 915,000 acres harvested last year. Roy J. Myers Chairperson of the Lee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said that price support for eligible tobacco will be about 12 percent higher than last year because of the formula that reflects changes in prices farmers pay Price support will be available to eligible growers through nonrecourse loans to producers associations.

U.S. tobacco exports were valued at a record $2.43 billion in calendar year 1980, 13 percent above the 1978's previous high. This figure includes unmanufactured tobacco worth $1.3 billion and tobacco products valued at $1.1 billion. Tobacco imports totaled $487 million, leaving a record trade balance of $1.9 billion.

Early Diagnosis, Prevents Cancer Call For Appointment

Cancer is the second leading cause of death among women and cancer of the female genital organs is one of the top four cancer killers, according to Dr. G.C. Honeycutt, Jr., director of the Lee County Health Department.

The American Cancer Society predicts approximately 16,000 new cases of cervical cancer in the United States during 1981 and Dr. Honeycutt states that 1,100 of these cases will be identified in Virginia. "Of that number, it can be expected that 225 women will die," he said.

Most medical experts agree that because of the ease of early diagnosis through pap tests and pelvic examinations, no women should die from cervical cancer. The pap test is a simple, painless screening procedure for all sexually active women that can detect cervical cancer while it is still highly curable. By examining cells from the cervix under a microscope, trained personnel can detect pre-cancerous conditions, called dysplasias, in mild to moderate to severe states The earlier they are detected, the simpler the treatment.

"Every woman is at-risk for developing cervical cancer," says Dr. Honeycutt, "but there are some who are at more risk. It has been found that virgins have an almost negligible rate of cervical cancer, but women who began sexual activity in their teen years, have had multiple sexual partners, and come from a low socio-economic status are at higher risk."

However, he warned that a disturbing trend is beginning to appear of severe dysplasias among women at very young ages, even in their early teens. "This, perhaps, may be related to an early beginning of sexual activity among today's population," he said.

The State Health Department provides pap testing service to all women who attend local health department clinics for family planning, maternity and general medical services. In some health departments pap testing is provided as a separate service to women who may not attend other health department clinics.

Dr. Honeycutt urges women not to take chances with their health. "Call your family doctor or local health department for an examination. Lee County Health Department's number is 346-2011.

Sheriff's Report

It was very quiet Fourth of July for the Lee County Sheriff's Department. There were no arrests made on felony warrants and only a few misdemeanors.

Proposed Housing Project Hearing Held In St. Charles

A "demonstration housing project" was the subject of a public meeting last Tuesday night in St. Charles. This was the second in a series of meetings to inform local residents of progress made in establishing housing on a partially reclaimed 9.5 acre strip mine bench in the Wagnertown area.

The Tennessee Valley Authority, the Appalachian Regional Commission, St. Charles Development Authority and the Farmers Home Administration are jointly working on the demonstration project in using strip mined areas to meet area housing needs.

Planning officials gave a progress report on the project Tuesday and asked for public input into the process of designing the project.

Steve Frary, Director of the Southwest Virginia Housing Coalition, reported on the results of a survey conducted in conjunction with the St. Charles Development Authority. The majority interviewed said, they would move to a home on a strip mine bench site if it was properly developed for housing. Those interested in relocating wished to own their own home, preferably a single family unit and would be able to make payments of up to $145 per month. But, Del Willink, representing the St. Charles Development Authority said, "compromises are going to have to be made at every turn in this ballgame."

Only a handful of residents were on hand to hear the reports and ask questions. According to Willink, local participation is very important in the process of deciding the direction of the housing project. Community participation could very well make a "big" difference in the type and cost of housing built should this project become a reality.

A third public meeting on further progress of the housing project will be held soon.

Morgan Memorial Women Explore Problems Of Homeless Children

The first program in the unit, "Love Made Visible .. in People in Mission," was conducted by Mrs. Robert Charles Smith at the church on July 2. This program, "Problems of Children without Homes," helped members to understand some of the things that happen to children in foster care, what foster care means to a child, and what public policies and practices need to be changed.

Those assisting Mrs. Smith in bringing out these thoughts were: Mrs. Henry Campbell, Mrs. John Seale, Mrs. Van Grabeel, Mrs. James Wright, Mrs. Oscar Smith and Mrs. Snyder Harris.

It was disclosed that there aren't any good statistics on these children who are without homes, but apparently there are at least one half million. There are 68 in Lee County and 8283 in Virginia.

Mrs. Smith stated that we need children advocates to speak out and that sharing and caring is the answer. Mrs. Oscar Smith's prayer closed the program.

Mrs. John Hounshell, president, conducted the business session in which it was decided to send a love offering in memory of Mrs. Velma Stout, President of Holston Conference United Methodist Women who died on June 4 after a short illness. Mrs. Stout had served in the United Methodist Church at many levels. Lillian Bondurant of Radford, Virginia was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Stout.

—Members attention was called to the following meetings: Conference Weekend School of Christian Mission to be held at Tennessee Wesylan July 24-26, Conference Week School of Christian Mission to be held at Tennessee Wesylan July 27-29; Fall Conference Annual Meeting to be held at Fountain City United Methodist Church, Knoxville, Tn., on September 11-12.

"Gallows Humor" Opens Barter Playhouse

A trip to the gallows is an unusual basis for a comedy; nevertheless, Jack Richardson's clever and incisive play, Gallows Humor, is guaranteed to provide an evening of unique amusement for Barter Playhouse audiences.

Gallows Humor, opening on July 1 for four weeks, is in two interrelated parts, offering two points of view on an execution, the prisoner's and the executioner's.

Part one is set in a prison cell where the unfortunate, but incredibly tidy prisoner is visited by an almost irrestistible "lady of the-evening" provided to give him one last fling along with his last meal.

Gallows Humor will play from Wednesday, July 1 through Sunday, July 26 with eight performances weekly. Evening shows are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:00 p.m., Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., and Sunday at 7:00 p.m. with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday at 2:00 p.m.

For ticket information on Gallows Humor and the other productions of Barter's 1981 season, call (703) 628-3991.

IN MEMORIAM

Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
If so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say;
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

Thomas Walker Unit Rescue Squad Reports Progress

Thomas Walker Unit of the Lee County Rescue Squad was started, with the help and encouragement of the Pennington Unit, at the beginning of this year by a group concerned with the lack of emergency service in the lower end of Lee County. Training was one of the first steps. To date, the T.W. Unit has 28 members trained and certified in advanced First Aid, 25 members trained and certified in CPR, four certified CPR instructors and 20 members who have completed a course in vehicle extrication. An EMT course is now being taught through MECC and 15 members are enrolled.

The T.W. Unit is a 24-hour volunteer organization dedicated to helping the community and depending solely on donations and fund raising activities for the money necessary to operate and maintain the equipment. The many hours which are necessary for training, responding to calls, working to raise funds or scrubbing ambulances are donated by the men, women and junior members of the squad.

Simple arithmetic and the following statistics will show the need for support for each and every member of the community. The T.W. Unit has, through the end of June, answered 130 calls, traveled 6,337 miles and been in service 292 hours. The calls are dispatched by the Sheriff's Department. Should you need emergency assistance, call 346-1131.

The Squad would like to express appreciation and thanks to the many people who have supported our efforts so far, and ask for your continued cooperation.

How think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

Jeremy Pass Visited Grandparents Over Holidays

Many holiday visitors came to Pennington Gap this year, but the "guest of honor" was little Jeremy Pass visiting his grandparents, Buck and Reba Pass.

Jeremy, his brother Jason, along with his parents, Jerry and Joy Pass live in Greeneville, Tennessee, but Jeremy is "special" because he has spent most of his young life in a hospital suffering from Malabsorption Syndrome. Home, for him has been Greeneville's Laughlin Hospital, U.T. Hospital, Vanderbilt or Children's Hospital in Atlanta, making him a very expensive, but precious little boy.

Jeremy attracts attention wherever he goes, most of us remember when he and his parents boarded a plane last November for a trip to still another hospital UCLA Medical Center in California, the plane developed landing gear problems, so Jeremy was delayed for several hours arriving in California much later than scheduled. He has been up to now a favorite subject for reporters and TV cameramen, most news papers have published information about his illness, hoping in some small way they could contribute something, so Jeremy could digest and enjoy the same kind of food we all eat each day.

At Christmas last year Jeremy received the best present that any little boy or girl with Malabsorption Syndrome could ever write and ask Santa for, a corn dog and french fries, solid food. The parents, Jerry and Joy, remembers Christmas 1980 as the one their little son began his recovery, the experience of seeing Jeremy eat was not only a great gift, but now they could see possible recovery for perhaps the first time.

"He's been well ever since" his parents say and the tube stayed in place only three weeks, at UCLA.

Because Jeremy had experienced other short-lived attemps at eating solid food his doctors kept him for two months, six weeks of that time he was able to eat normal food.

Jeremy's medical expenses have been partially covered by insurance but because he spent so much time in hospitals, the amount not covered continued to grow reaching more than $30,000.

A "Jeremy Pass Fund" was set up at the Greene County Bank, Greeneville, Tenn., and to date the total collected is approximately $17,000.

A Greeneville Restaurant made available 9,000 dolls which were sold, each sale meant 65 cents for the fund, a Greeneville radio station sponsored a radio-thon that raised $8,000 in pledges.

Southwest Virginians contributed more than $3,000, including about $2,500 from the First Christian Church, and $1000 from the VFW Post 10298 in Pennington Gap.

The grandparents, Buck and Reba Pass have expressed so much pleasure, in being a part of a town that "cares so much" when help is needed, and as for Jerry, Joy, Jason and Jeremy they are a family again and "living up" every minute of it. Jason loves having "Mommy" home again.

Mrs. Richard Hernandez

Granddaughter Of The Late Mr. & Mrs. Worley Dean Weds

Sharon Lee Thompson of Culver City, California and Richard Hernandez of Temple City, California were united in Holy Matrimony at Culver-Palms United Methodist Church of Culver City, Saturday, June 6th at one p.m. Sharon is the daughter of Jeri Lee Harrell and stepdaughter of Dr. Douglas A. Harrell, pastor of Culver Palms United Methodist Church. Jeri Lee Harrell is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Worley Dean of Stone Creek. She is granddaughter of the late "Dad" Scarborough, well known cab driver of the St. Charles area. She graduated from St. Charles High School

Rick is the son of Mr and Mrs. Harry Hernandez of Temple City. Rick is an electrician, employed by Best Flourescent Company.

The bride was given away on behalf of the family by the Reverend Doctor Harrell who joined the Superintendent of the Los Angeles District of the United Methodist Church, Doctor Ignacio Castuera in solemnizing the Ceremony.

Maids of Honor were Tricia Wood, the bride's best friend of Santa Monica College days and the bride's sister, Patti Sue Thompson who graduated from Palisades High School the following Friday. Also attending the bride were Diane Brown of Pacific Palisades, the bride's best friend during her studies at Palisades High School, and Melissa Sue Norris of Pacific Palisades. Luci Lynn Norris, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Alan Norris was the flower girl.

Attending the groom were: Rick Blackatear, of Ontario, brothers, Larry and John Hernandez, of Temple City and David Thompson the bride's brother of Culver City. The candlelighter was Craig Hernandez, youngest brother of the groom. Guest book attendant was Katrina Lynn Owens of Helendale, California, granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs Harrell

The wedding was a traditional ceremony. Organist was Clare Burr of Culver Palms Church. Soloists were Jed Beebe and Bill Leigon of Culver City. Mr. Beebe sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mr. Leigon sang "If We Only Have Love." The first act following marriage proclamation for the couple was Holy Communion at the Altar of the Church. The party recessed to the Congregation singing of the Hymn, "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee." The veil was designed and made by the bride's mother. Her attendant's dresses were the same design. Colors were dusty rose and lavender They carried French Bouquets of Pink and Lavender mums. All wore cameos The bride wore her mother's cameo and carried white roses and stephonotis covering a mother of pearl New Testament given to her by Fred Canavati of Bethlehem on a recent trip to Israel. Suspended from the bouquet was a crocheted cross made by the bride's grandmother, Jeanette Dean, deceased The flower girl's dress was of quiana to match the bride's The lavender lace collar was from the wedding of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Gay Coppedge of Stayton, Oregon, June, 1957.

The six tier wedding cake was surrounded by five heart cakes. It was a modified copy of the bride's mother and step father's wedding cake. The Fellowship Hall was decorated with pictures of both bride and groom from early childhood. Serving at the Punch bowl was Hazel Love, chairperson of Pastor Parish Relations Committee. Ruth Golby, Communion Steward cut the cake. Long time friend of the bride's mother, Louise Felt from Las Vegas poured tea and cake. The Vietnamese sponsored family of the Church served delicious Vietnamese egg rolls. It was a gala social event.

The couple is at home in San Gabriel. They returned recently from a honey moon, Caribbean Cruise.

Rasnic Vocational Speaker

Attorney Tom Rasnic spoke to a group of students at the Lee County Vocational and Technical School Monday morning, June 29. His primary theme consisted of the Art of Communication. He included jury selection and duties along with court procedures, using particular cases to emphasize a point. Allowed to ask questions, students signified an intense interest in divorce laws in the state of Virginia. Interweaving his original topic, Attorney Rasnic noted that it was his opinion that most divorces resulted from a lack of communication between couples.

Miss Perry invited Attorney Rasnic to be with the group as part of her class project in English 12, taught by Ms. Wandaleen Adams. The morning Government class was also invited to the presentation.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are our best sources for Vitamins A, C, and some of the B vitamins. Many of these vitamins are lost when these foods are cooked. You can prevent this loss by doing the following:

As much as possible, eat fruits and vegetables with the skin on. Trim the least amount that you can from foods like lettuce heads, carrots, and citrus fruits.

Cook fruits and vegetables as little as possible. Don't overcook. Whenever you can, eat the fruits and vegetables raw.

Don't soak most fruits and vegetables. For those items that must be soaked, use the soaking water to cook them. Cook in as little water as possible and cover tightly to decrease cooking time.

Avoid using baking soda when cooking vegetables. Virginia Cooperative Extension Service programs, activities, and employment opportunities are available to all people regardless of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin handicap, or political affiliation. Consumer Economics Offered At CVC

Teachers - housewives - businessmen; many Americans are becoming more and more aware of the decreasing purchasing power of their dollars. In the economy of today everyone must learn how to stretch a salary to cover both necessities and wants.

Consumer Economics, a three - semester - hour course, will be offered in the second term of Clinch Valley College's 1981 Summer Session. Course topics will include the purchase of home, automobiles, and insurance, and it will explore the ways in which to obtain loans. In the class, each student will be assigned to his or her own project with minimal class instruction. Since there is no prerequisite for this course, anyone may participate and become better informed about basic consumer economics.

Other business courses to be offered in the second summer term, which has registration on Friday, July 10, beginning at 9:00 a.m., are Elementary Accounting, Human Relations in Business, Principles of Economics, and Introduction of Politics and Political Institutions.

Schedules of summer courses are available in the Office of the Registrar, which is accepting preregistrations for all courses listed.

VIRGINIA:
In The Circuit Court Of Lee County

IN RE: Election on the Question of Changing from the County Board Form of County Organization and Government to the Traditional Form of County Government Prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of Virginia, and the General Law of the State.

ABRIDGED ORDER

A Petition having been filed in the Lee County Circuit Court Clerk's Office on March 26, 1981, containing more than fifteen (15%) percent of the qualified voters of Lee County, Virginia, styled Ezra F. Cooper, et als, Citizens and qualified voters for Lee County, Virginia, asking for a referendum be held on the question of changing from the County Board Form of County Organization and Government as provided for in Sections 15.1-699 et. seq., of the Code of Virginia, to the traditional form of organization and government which existed in Lee County prior to January 1, 1969, as prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Virginia and the general law of the State, it is hereby Ordered that the regular election official at a special election to be held on the 18th day of August, 1981, take the sense of the qualified voters of the County on said question.

It is further Ordered that the regular election officials of the County, at the time designated in this Order, shall open the polls at the various voting places in the County and conduct the election in such manner as provided by law for other elections insofar as the same is applicable.

The question shall read as follows:

Do you approve changing the organization and government of the County from the County Board Form to the traditional form of County Government and Organization prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of Virginia, and the general law of the State?

☐ YES
☐ NO

The squares to be on all printed ballots used shall not be less than one-quarter nor more than one-half inch in size Any person voting by ballot at such election shall place a check (✓) or a (x) or a (+) mark or a line (-) in the square before the appropriate word indicating how he desires to vote on the question submitted.

In the use of voting machines, the question shall read as follows aforesaid and the voter shall properly indicate their "yes" or "no" vote by the proper facilities of the voting machine

The vote on the question shall be counted, returns made and canvassed as in other elections, and the results certified by the Electoral Board for Lee County to the Circuit Court, or the Judge thereof in vacation.

It is further Ordered that the Clerk of the Court shall cause a notice of such election to be published in some newspaper published in or having general circulation in Lee County once a week for three consecutive weeks, and shall post a copy of such notice at the door of the Courthouse of the County.

It is further Ordered that a copy of this Amended Order be certified to the State Board of Education of the State of Virginia and to the Electoral Board of Lee County, Virginia.

Morgan Memorial Church Activities

Bridal Shower For Donna and Doug

On Friday evening, June 26, a bridal shower was held in the fellowship hall of Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church in Rose Hill honoring Miss Donna Ayers, bride elect of Mr Doug Long.

The Hall was decorated in the honoree's favorite colors of yellow and green, and included an array of attractively wrapped gifts, and serving table also attractively arranged with delectable food.

Before the serving of refreshments, fun and games were enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. Wilma Martin, Mrs. Brenda Hendricks, and Mrs Judy Hounshell.

Donna then opened many useful gifts for which she expressed appreciation to her former school class mates, family members, and friends.

Donna is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Willard Ayers, Ewing, and Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long, Rose Hill

Baptismal Service

On Sunday afternoon, June 28th, quite a large group of relatives and church friends from Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church assembled at the First Baptist, Rose Hill, for a Baptismal Service for Scotty Scott, son of Mrs. Mary Lou Dean.

Rev. James Wright, Pastor of Morgan Memorial, conducted a short service of worship and Scotty received the Baptismal Rites, followed by the Baptism in the Church Baptistry.

Scotty is the great-grandson of two Ministers (deceased) the Rev. John W Ely, Methodist and the Rev. George M. Vanhuss, Baptist. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell, Rose Hill, and Mrs. Ocie McMellan, Ewing.

Scotty will receive his Church Vows at Morgan Memorial Church, July 5, at the 11 o'clock Worship Service.

—Mrs. Edith Daniels of Rockford, Ill., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Fletcher and Mr. Fletcher.

—Mrs. Ada Fletcher is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Annie Harris in Pasadena, Md

Mr and Mrs. Homer Bryan and children of Rogersville, Tn., attended the wedding of Miss Michelle Spurlock and Mr. Jack McKeen which was held at the Morgan Memorial Methodist Church in Rose Hill at 6 p.m. Sunday, June 28.

—Misses Mary Edds and Tina Wilder visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder Harris on Friday evening.

Miss Vanessa Shackleford And William Haight, Jr. Wed

Mr. and Mrs. William Haight, Jr.

Miss Vanessa Shackleford and William M. Haight Jr., were married May 30 in the First Baptist Church of Loyall. The Rev. Nashy Mills performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gail Shackleford and the late Ray Shackleford of Neff. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Haight Sr., Pennington Gap, formerly of Loyall.

A prelude of wedding music was presented by Miss Vickie Estep, pianist and Mrs. Tilda Pope, organist. Miss Robin Qualls was soloist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Jerry Skelton. She was dressed in a full length gown of white organza with re-embroidered Alencon lace with pearl accents. Lace framed the Queen Anne neckline and the bodice.

Lace motifs trimmed the sheer bishop sleeves creating the fitted cuffs with tiny crystal pleats forming bell cuffs. The skirt featured accordian pleats and attached chapel train. The hemline was created by a lace edged flounce of smaller crystal pleats.

Her walking length veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of Alencon lace. Matching lace bordered the veil. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Attendants were Miss Lisa Mills, Mrs. Joan Lewis, Miss Tina Shackleford, Miss Angie Minor, Miss Monica Barrett, and Miss Susie Lewis. They wore matching dresses of pale blue and yellow organza and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

William M. Haight Sr. was his son's best man. Ushers were Fred Ellis, Donnie McLain, Robert Shuler, Norman Williams and Sam Howard. Ginger Dawn Lewis was flower girl and Kelly Lobrey was ring bearer.

The couple is living in Pennington Gap, Va.

"Buy American"

American automobile manufacturers make the finest production cars in the world. These cars are made by Americans and American jobs are at stake. All of us must do everything possible to assure the future of the American automobile industry. Many, many businesses and jobs also depend on the production and sale of American cars.

Beginning July 4th, Farmers & Miners Bank of Lee County will kick off a "Buy American" sales campaign which will continue through August 31st. We will offer a incentive to any purchaser of a new 1981 American made car or truck that is financed with us and purchased in Lee County. The amount financed must be at least $3,000 and for a period of two or more years. The financing transaction must be concluded with us not later than August 31, 1981 to be eligible.

Now is the best time ever to make that new car deal. "BUY AMERICAN!"

By Eula Clarkston

—Ray Smith and wife, Dorthy of Dayton, Ohio visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dinsmore last Monday. They also visited with Ray's aunt, Mrs. Echel Edens in the afternoon then they went to Cumberland, Ky., to visit other relatives.

—Glen and Alice Flanary of Loveland, Ohio and Ruby Ely from Pennington Gap, visited Glen's sister, Lelia Barker two weeks ago Wednesday. While in Keokee they also visited Shirley and Joe Rogers, Norma and Jimmy Fleenor and their families. Then in the evening they were dinner guests at the home of Glen's brother and sister-in-law, Elder Roy Flanary and wife, Billie Jean.

They also went to Closplint, Ky., and visited with Glen's sisters, Lois Short and Goldie Stanton.

—A household shower was given for Sherri Lynn Hafemeister at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Partin on Saturday afternoon. Games and contests were the diversion of the hour. Refreshments consisting of cake, ice cream, potato chips, and coke were enjoyed by the guests.

A Daughter Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hamm of Keokee, Va., are the proud parents of a daughter born Thursday, June 25th at 4:06 p.m., at the Lonesome Pine Hospital.

The new arrival weighed 7 lb. 10½ ozs. The lovely little miss has been named Joey Leigh.

Congratulations to Randy and Tammy Jo on the birth of their daughter.

The maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rogers of Keokee, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Linsey Hamm of Big Stone Gap.

The maternal great grandparents are Lelia Barker and the late Jim Barker of Keokee, and Mrs. E.D. Rogers of Appalachia, Va., and the late Mr. Rogers.

Best wishes to the happy family.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward King of Loveland, Ohio recently visited relatives in this area.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lawerence Snodgrass were happy to have as visitors at their home for two weeks Sgt. and Mrs. Pat Conant and daughters, Jackie and Amanda, and sons, Justin and Patrick, Jr. (Mrs. Conant is their granddaughter, Sgt. Conant is serving in the U. S. Marines and at present is stationed at Guantiamo Bay).

Mrs. Bill (Janice) Russell of Lavaca, Arkansas flew in to Tennessee and her sister, Alice Maples accompanied her on to Keokee where they joined the family group at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawerence Snodgrass. They spent two nights then all the family went to Morristown, where they enjoyed a delightful picnic at Cherokee Park. They also visited the Maples family at Bean Station, Tn.

Jackie and Amanda Conant remained at the home of their great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawerence Snodgrass and plan to spend the summer there.

—Cordie Flanary of Big Stone Gap, and Hortense Clarkston of Dryden, also Mildred D. Dinsmore and daughter, Devonna Dinsmore of Keokee spent several days visiting relatives in Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Dinsmore and Devonna visited Mr. and Mrs. Randy Spears and family.

Hortense and Cordie visited their sister, Edith Flanary who is reported to be very ill in a Dayton, Ohio hospital. We wish for Edith a speedy recovery and hope she will be improving soon.

—Mrs. Wayne (Flo) Neely and Mrs. Roy (Billy June) Mosley of Dayton, Ohio came to attend the funeral services of their nephew, Steve Riddle held on Sunday afternoon.

They were Saturday overnight guests of their sister, Mary Riddle Rivers in Appalachia.

Their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Riddle resided at Calvin, Va., near Keokee in the 1930.

—Paul Kennedy of Dayton, Ohio and grandson and two granddaughters have enjoyed the past week visiting with his mother, Mrs. Clercie Kennedy and other relatives.

—Happy birthday to Lisa Anne Fortner who celebrated her birthday on July 4th. She is the daughter of 1st Sgt. Lonnie Fortner and wife, Terri.

Sgt. Fortner is serving in the U.S. Army and is now stationed in Germany. The Fortner family hopes to return to the United States in a few more months.

When Lisa Anne was born in 1968, her father was stationed in Fort Knox, Ky. At that time they called their baby daughter, "Little Fire Cracker", because she arrived on the 4th of July.

Now Lisa Anne is a lovely young girl and we hope she had a wonderful birthday. Happy birthday wishes to her.

—Thanks to Ora Asbury of Blackwater, and also to Mrs. Wayne Noel of Kingsport, for their nice letters recently received. Both Mr. Asbury, and Mrs. Noel are compiling information on the Asbury family history. Mrs. Noel is helping her cousin, Carl Asbury in Florida who plans to publish a book on the Asbury Family of this area.

1 Cup Mazola Oil
2½ Cups Flour
1 Tsp. Baking Powder
3 Tsp. Cinnamon
2 Cups Sugar
2 Cups Grated Zucchini
1 Tsp. Salt
1 Tsp. Soda

Beat eggs until foamy and add other ingredients. Put in greased and floured loaf pans. Bake at 350° for 40 minutes. Makes 2 Loaves.

Sunday School Lesson

GOD'S WORDS IN OUR HEARTS
Deuteronomy 6: 4-15

Of the Israelites God demanded honesty and sincerity in all of their spiritual activities. He forbade their indulgence in hypocrisy of any form. His requirements of His children today are the same.

Declaration -- Deuteronomy 6: 4-5

Before entering the Promised Land, the children of Israel were given specific and clear instructions as to what their manner of life within it should be. Inasmuch as they had a unique God, they were challenged to be a peculiar people. Their God, Johavah, the true and living God, was unlike and far superior to any or all of the gods made by men.

As the great declaration concerning the person of God is "The Lord our God is one Lord," it is to be understood that He is to be loved supremely. His supremacy must be acknowledged by all. God is entitled to our undivided allegiance, and our complete and constant devotion. He must be loved "with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." Of course, it is to be remembered that what is in the heart will be expressed through the lips and will be demonstrated in the life. All of our capacities for thought, feeling, devotion, and energy must be centered on God.

Diligence -- Deuteronomy 6: 6-9

Knowing the numerous and great temptations to which the children of Israel would be exposed when they ceased their wanderings and settled in villages, such as being tempted to worship other gods, God instructed Moses to remind them of their glorious heritage, to tell them how He expected them to live, and to challenge them to faithfulness in the performance of their duties to God, to their children, and to others. God commanded Moses to warn the people of the grave consequences which would be inevitable in the event that they should turn to and serve other gods. God wanted them to know in advance that defiance of His will on their part would result in the withholding of His favor and blessings from them.

God rightfully expected the Israelites to perpetuate with all diligence the marvelous story of His goodness and grace by relating to their children how He in mercy and love and blessed them. Upon hearing what God had done for their parents, they would be inclined to be grateful to and glorify Him.

Likewise, Christian parents have a God-given responsibility to their children, which nobody else can bear for them. Parents are called upon to study and obey the scriptures, and then to teach them diligently to their children. Properly instructing children during the tender years of childhood requires study, thought, time, and energy. Faithfully instructing children in the things of the Lord is one method of laying for them the proper foundation for the highest and best in life. Instruction in God's Word in the home and in the church has a great bearing upon every phase of the lives of those who receive it physical, intellectual, moral, social, and spiritual Even though such instruction requires thought, effort, time, and energy, it always pays good dividends to those who are diligent in rendering this important service. All parents should remember that children more readily accept their instruction when they see them practicing what they are telling them to do.

Determination -- Deuteronomy 6: 10-15

In order to prevent His people from making the terrible mistake of forgetting God, after He had brought them into the Promised Land and made abundant provision for all of their needs. God had Moses to urge them to revere Him in the manner which He deserved, to serve Him faithfully, and to refrain from turning from Him and worshipping any other god. They were warned that disloyalty and disobedience on their part would certainly result in punishment and regret. The determination of whether their future would be enjoyable and blessed or one of chastisement and remorse would be in their own choice as to their manner of life

Medicare Medical Insurance Premium Now $11

The monthly premium for the medical insurance part of Medicare increases to $11 for the 12-month period starting this month (July), R.L. Kelly, social security manager in Norton, said recently.

In spite of this increase, people should know that they are paying less than a third of the cost of this insurance. More than two-thirds is paid by the U.S. Government from general revenues, not from social security taxes.

Medical insurance helps pay for doctor's service, no matter where they are received in the United States, in an office, home, hospital, or elsewhere; for outpatient hospital services; for home health care in a person's home; and for other medical services and supplies not covered by Medicare hospital insurance.

For most covered services, medical insurance pays 80 percent of the approved charges after the patient has incurred $60 in approved charges -- the annual deductible -- for the year. Because of the way approved charges are figures and because of the rates of inflation in medical care prices, however, approved charges are often less than doctors' or suppliers' actual charges.

People who are not otherwise eligible for hospital insurance at 65 can buy this protection. The premium is $89 a month for the 12-month period starting this month. A person buying hospital insurance must also have medical insurance coverage.

More information about Medicare can be obtained at the Norton Social Security Office.

Lee County ACP Signup July 13-24

Roy J. Myers, Chairman of the Lee County ASCS Committee, has announced that the county office will conduct a sign-up for the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) July 13-24. "The sign-up will be for lime and fertilizer conservation practices," said Myers. "I encourage all farmers who need to either establish or improve permanent vegetative cover on their farms to make application for cost share assistance."

Farmers will be required to submit a soil sample for the field they are enrolling on the day the application is filed. A representative field sample may be obtained by taking soil from five or more different areas in the field and mixing it together.

"The County Committee hopes to be able to act on all ACP applications at its August meeting," Myers added.

The ACP provides both financial and technical assistance to farmers whose land is affected by wind or water erosion, or pollution problems. ASCS encourages farmers to correct soil and water problems and where needed, shares the cost of installing these practices.

The Lee County ASCS Committee cost share rate on permanent vegetative cover Establishment and Improvement Conservation practices is 50 percent. A higher cost share rate is available for low income farmers.

Edds, Copeland United In Double Ring Ceremony

Rose Anna Edds and Ernest Lee Copeland exchanged vows in a candlelight double-ring ceremony at 3 p.m., June 6 at Hardy's Creek Baptist Church. The Rev. Darrell Marcum of Braudenburg, Ky., performed the ceremony, and the Rev. David Sheriff, pastor of the church assisted.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Edds of Jonesville and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Beaty of Jonesville and Mr. and Mrs. John Edds of Ewing The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Copeland, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Lynch and Mrs. Florence Copeland and the late Mr. Stanley Copeland, all of Lafollette, Tn.

A program of wedding music was presented by pianist Lisa Sanford of Middlesboro, and soloist, Eric Bryant of Greenville, S.C.

The bride given in marriage by her father, Franklin Edds, chose a floor length traditional gown of white organza and chantilly lace designed by Bianchi. The fitted bodice of white organza featured a high lace neckline with accented sections of beaded pearls and an empire waist of chantilly lace. Cluny lace trimmed her apron paneled full skirt and sweeping six-tiered chapel length train. The brides only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings given her by the groom's parents and an old silver ankle bracelet given by the bride's mother bearing her initials. Her bouquet was of white orchids and lilac accent flowers and ivy greenery. Around the bouquet the bride carried a lace handkerchief given to her by a bridesmaid, Cathy Hampton

The maid of honor was Mary Edds of Jonesville, sister of the bride. She carried a white bridal bible with a small bouquet of lilac pon poms, purple statice attached to the end of the bible cascading with white ribbon and lilac pon poms

The bridesmaids were Susan Chance of Rose Hill, and Linda Rutherford of Lafollette, cousin of the bride, Terri Geyer, Harrogate, Tn., Regina Sawyers, Harrogate; and Kathy Hampton, Pineville, Ky. They wore floor length gowns of lilac silesta with assymetrical draped bodices held by narrow straps; empire waistline and A line skirts A sheer chiffon cover up completed the look Bridesmaids carried bouquets of lilac pon poms purple statice and white carnations and baby's breath with white satin ribbons

The groomsmen were Jeffrey Edds, Johnny Edds, Jonesville, brothers of the bride, Johnny Tassinger, Cincinnati, Ohio, cousin of the bride, Jack Lynch, Lafollette, uncle of the groom; and Charlie Geyer, Harrogate, Tn. Their tuxedos were of Silver grey. The best man Michael Copeland, brother of the groom, wore a tuxedo identical to groomsmen.

The flower girl, Lynn Sheriff, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. David Sheriff, carried a white basket of fern greenery and lilac pon pom petals. She wore a floor length gown of white cotton and chantilly lace. Her's was also of paneled lace apron, as was the bride. The waist was accented with two sections of lilac ribbons with crocheted flowers cascading the aprons

The ring bearer, Michael Edds, brother of the bride, carried a pillow designed and made by the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length gown of sheer pleated organza which was a deep blue. A sheer chiffon cape covered top of the dress. The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of peach polyester knit, with draped bodice in front and back and long sleeves. They wore white orchid corsages

The reception was held following the ceremony in the reception hall of the Western Lee County Health Clinic, Ewing.

The five tiered cake was sided by two cake fountains. The cakes were iced white with a lace pattern.

Serving at the reception were Judy Hounshell, Rose Hill, Wendy Flynn, Princeton, W. Va., Diana O'Quinn, Hayse; and Mrs Helen Holt, Richmond

Keeping the bride's book at the church and reception were Cathy Hart of Corbin, Ky., and Kim Partin, Middlesboro, Ky

After a wedding trip to Dallas and Houston, Texas the couple will be temporarily residing in Lafollette The bride is a graduate of Thomas Walker High School, and a 1981 graduate of Lincoln Memorial University with a B.S. in Business Administration

The groom is a graduate of El Paso High School, El Paso, Texas, and a 1980 graduate of Lincoln Memorial with a B.S. in Business Administration.

Out of town guests were Mr and Mrs. Lowry C Holt of Richmond, Marie Holt, Maryville, Tn., Ina Thacker, Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr and Mrs John Tassinger, Cincinnati, Ohio; Elizabeth Gray and Helen Orts of Lafollette, Tn., Rev and Mrs Darrell Marcum, , Brandenburg, Yolanda Counts and Norma Ward, Knoxville, Tn., Celesta Tamer and Diana Beach Middlesboro Bedford Chapman, Knoxville, Tn Patti Paresi, Princeton, New Jersey, Cheryl Jackson, Kentucky; Mrs Robert Rosenbaum, Wytheville, Kelly Barker, Corbin, Birney Wood, Houston, Texas, David Holt, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Mr and Mrs John Copeland and family, Harrogate, Tn

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee Copeland (Rose Anna Edds)

Books At The Library

A PRESIDENT IN LOVE - Woodrow Wilson - The ardent courtship letters of the lonely widower president ("absolutely dependent upon intimate love") and comely Washington widow Edith Bolling Galb, the second Mrs. Wilson-to-be.

NUNS AND SOLDIERS - Iris Murdoch - Handsome widow Gertrude loves painter Tim, but he's got a secret mistress. Ex-nun yearns for "The Count", but he worships Gertrude. A romantic tangle expands into a web of intellect and passion.

PLAYGROUND FOR DEATH - John Buxton Hilton - The former mayor of a Lancashire town, arrested for his wife's murder, is then himself shot while in police custody! Politics, patronage, psychology: topnotch Scotland Yard detection.

EARLY AUTUMN - Robert B. Parker - Boston's Spenser gives how-to-be a man lessons to a zombie-like adolescent.

RHINE JOURNEY - Ann Schlee - Charlotte, a 40-ish English spinster, takes an 1850's trip with her brother's family, and finds just a little bit of precious independence.

A FORGOTTEN SEASON - Kathleen Conlon - Summer 1952, in a working-class resort village. A charming bounder wins the hearts of several love-hungry children - including Veronia, a wary 10-year-old with an equally love-hungry mother.

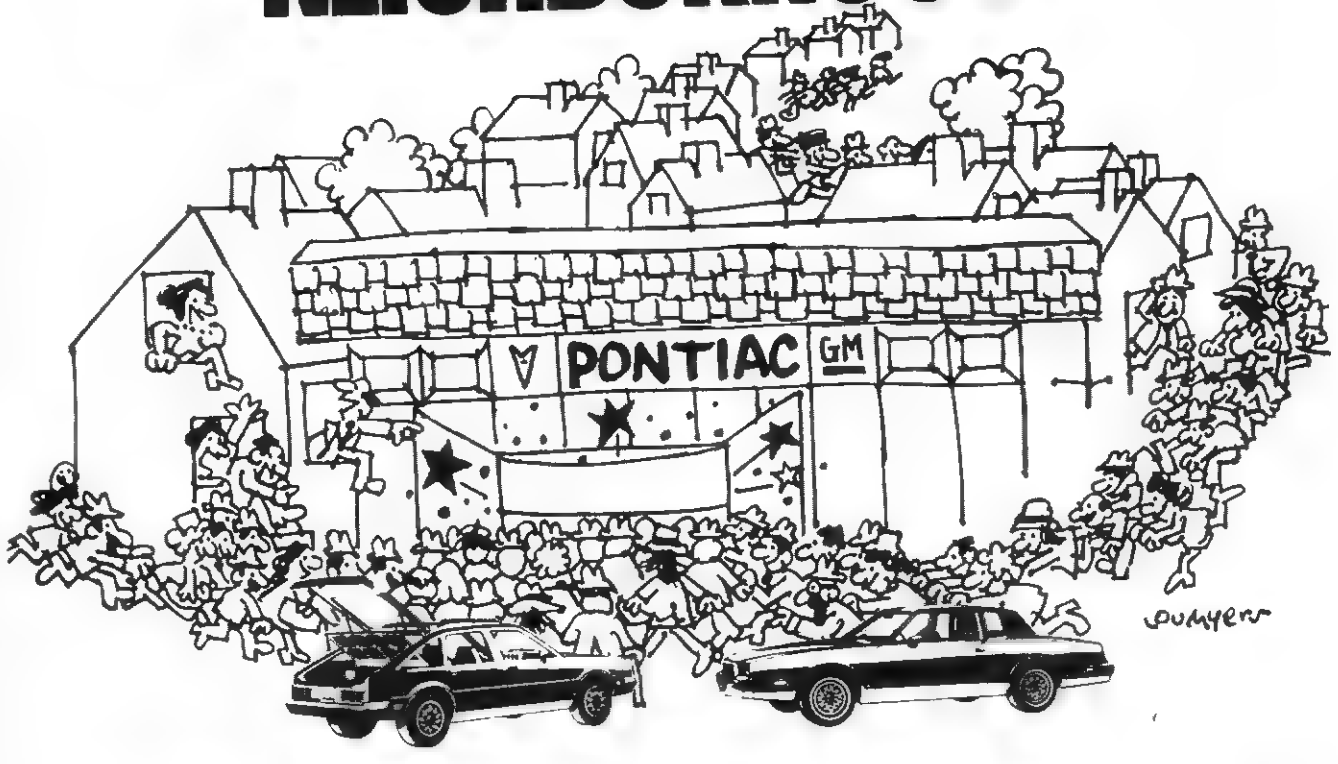
MORE PONTIAC KNOW-HOW COMES TO YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD.



MOUNTAIN MOTORS, INC.

KNOW-HOW IN OUR NEW PONTIACS. Our lives are filled with exciting new ideas from Research and Development Engineering and Design that combine to make our Pontiacs new Efficiency Systems. In our gas-saving powered models, this System includes CMA's Computer Command Control. A series of sensors on the engine monitors engine temperature, air and fuel throttle position, altitude, barometric pressure and oxygen content in the exhaust. Every split second the electronic control module analyzes this data, then regulates the carburetor to give precise air/fuel mixture. But that's just the beginning.

Pontiac knowhow shows up in many exciting ways. For example, Grand Prix glides into 1981 with dramatic new aerodynamic lines. LeMans and Grand LeMans 4-door sedans show the world a formal new roofline. And Phoenix. Pontiac's X car invites five people to enjoy the advantages of front-wheel drive.

Board Approves Extra Funds; Library Remains In Regional System

The Lee County Board of Supervisors budgeted an additional $40,000 for the Lonesome Pine Regional Library last Wednesday. This action ended speculation that Lee County might be forced to pull out of the library system.

Members of the four county system's board of directors had written a letter to the supervisors which said ... if the additional funding was not approved, Lee County would be dropped from the system as of Friday, July 10.

Library officials said, "State regulations do not permit a county to cut its funding of a regional library from the previous years level."

Lee County provided $90,000 in funding for the system last year, $50,000 in the general budget and $40,000 later from revenue-sharing funds.

This year, however, the supervisors appropriated only $50,000 in the county budget adopted [illegible] month.

After hearing the protests of library officials at a later meeting, the supervisors promised that additional funds would be appropriated if necessary, but several supervisors said they wished to investigate the fairness of each county's contribution into the system before granting an additional allocation.

County contributions into a regional library system are calculated on the basis of state guidelines.

Several supervisors indicated last month that they felt Scott County's $68,000 contribution should not be lower than Lee County's.

Library officials countered that Lee County had two libraries compared to Scott's one and that Scott county pays for utilities and maintenance for its library in addition to the regional allocation.

The increase in the library budget was passed unanimously with no discussion.

The supervisors "absolutely" will continue their investigation of whether $90,000 seems to them to be Lee County's fair share of the regional library appropriation, county administrator Odell Wilson said after the meeting.

The board also, accepted the resignation of Larry Hobbs and appointed Herman Grigsbyb to the Regional Library Board.

In other action, the supervisors passed 5-1 a county vehicle noise ordinance in response to citizen petitions and over the protests of some representatives for area truckers.

Complaints were made that refrigerated vehicles of the type designed to carry produce often were left running near citizens' houses 24 hours a day, with the noise from the compressors making it impossible to sleep.

The ordinance calls for vehicles of that type parked along county roads to turn off their compressors

Donations To Stay In County

Baby Needs Your Help!

Dallas Joseph Ketron is the second child in Lee County to be born this year with S.I.D. (Sudden Infant Death) Syndrome.

Mrs. Reba Haynes and Mrs. Barbara Ashburn say that all donations to the Ketron Baby Fund will be used in Lee County. Initially this money will purchase a monitor for Dallas Joseph Ketron, the two-month old baby of Dallas and Sue Ketron of Dryden. The monitor will be available to other Lee County children when Dallas Joseph no longer needs it according to Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Ashburn who are spearheading this drive.

As of Monday afternoon, $476 had been raised to pay for this $800 monitor which will allow the parents to bring their baby home from the University of Tennessee Hospital in Knoxville. A Saturday morning appeal through WSWV Radio during the Ty Harber Show netted $328 and other contributions totaled $148 with at least another $324 needed to purchase the monitor.

What Is S.I.D.?

S.I.D. is the failure of the central nervous system to consistently stimulate the lungs while sleeping. It occurs most often in premature babies. The medical term for this malfunction is apnea

S.I.D. children need constant, continuous attention. In the event that the child's lungs should fail while asleep, their heart and eventually the brain also will fail and death will occur. The monitor is used when the child sleeps. It will automatically alarm in the event of a breathing cessation. If this happens, the parents will be able to either gently shake the baby awake or, if necessary, begin mouth to-mouth resuscitation (CPR) until breathing returns.

How To Help

Tax deductible donations for this cause should be made out to THE MARCH OF DIMES and mailed to: Barbara Ashburn, P.O. Box 132, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277 The March of Dimes is donating their time and administration facilities. They are not, at this time, seeking funds for their national efforts on behalf of crippled children. Any funds in excess of that needed for the monitor will stay in the local chapter of the March of Dimes for use by other

Heart Association Program "A Time To Remember"

Although our lives seem routine and dull, there are many special times that we all hold dear to our hearts. Even more so when we consider the lives of those who are close to us -- family members, friends, fellow employees, and other people whom each of us consider special.

A grandson's first birthday, a daughter's wedding, a close friends promotion, and even the death of a loved one. In one way or another, these special occasions - even marked by the sorrow are "times to remember."

Therefore, it is fitting that the American Heart Association has a special program to commemorate such occasions known as "A Time to Remember."

If you would like to make a contribution that would serve as a tribute to those loved ones who have died, to family, neighbors, and friends who are ill, and to all of those you love who celebrate a special occasion send your contribution to Mrs. Tilda Pope "Times To Remember" chairman, P.O. Box 250, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277, or Mrs Ann Seabolt, county chairman, Jonesville, Va.

An acknowledgement card will be sent to the person or family the donor wishes to honor. All gifts are tax-deductible and the amount will be kept confidential.

Twelve Days Left To Purchase Vehicle Decals

Twelve days left to purchase that vehicle decal required by all residents of Lee County. The corporate towns Pennington Gap, Jonesville and St. Charles have sold decals for several years, but you do not need to purchase both the county and the corporation decal, just take your receipt for your corporation decal to Jonesville and you will receive a county decal at no extra cost. Everyone either corporate or county residents need to take with you the registration or identification number of each car, truck, motorcycle or trailer you need to purchase a decal for, the cost is $5.00 per decal. If two or more vehicles are registered in the same name the cost of each additional decal is only $1.00 each.

There are 13,390 cars, trucks, motorcycles and trailers registered in Lee County, as of ten o'clock Tuesday morning only 3343 car and truck, 31 motorcycle and 64 trailer decals had been purchased a total of 3438, leaving 9952 to be purchased in the next twelve days before, Friday, July 31.

Don't stand in line, go by the treasurers office before the end of this month, remember your personal property taxes must be paid before you can obtain your vehicle decal.

Sheriff's Report

According to Investigator, M.O. Radcliff of the Lee County Sheriff's Department, a burglary of the Appalachian Mental Retardation Center in Dryden resulted in the loss of approximately $195. Stolen were an AM/FM radio and a cassette recorder. Also a drink machine was forced open and the money taken. Entry was made into the center by forcing open a side window. The crime is still under investigation.

A 3 a.m. fire destroyed the home of Echol Gilliam on Monday morning while the Gilliam family was away in Ohio. According to neighbors, the house, located about four miles east of the Stickleyville School, was totally engulfed by flames and therefore the fire department was not called.

A Cool Place

Shooting Victim Improves

Sherman "Junior" Minton, 20, is listed in "fair" condition after a single gunshot wound to the stomach in the Lee County Community Hospital. The shooting occurred around 9 p.m. Sunday in the Ward Hill Section of Pennington Gap. The weapon used is thought to be a .357 caliber magnum pistol An arrest is expected to be made soon. Minton was removed from the intensive care section on Tuesday afternoon according to Assistant Administrator Sam Hall

MECC Holds Advising Session In Lee County

Representatives from Mountain Empire Community College will be in Lee County to hold advising sessions for prospective students. They will offer information on financial aid opportunities and programs and courses available at the college. Interested persons will also have an opportunity to discuss courses that they would like for MECC to offer in the Lee County area.

There will be two advising sessions held at two locations. The first one, on Tuesday, July 21, will be held at the Western Lee County Health Clinic. The second one, on Thursday, July 23, is scheduled at the United Mine Workers Building in St. Charles. Both sessions will run from 4:00 to 7:00.

Fall Quarter classes begins September 28, 1981, so interested students should begin plans now, particularly those seeking financial aid.

For more information, contact the MECC Office of Continuing Education, 523-2400, ext. 204.

LCCH Radiology Department Authorized X-Ray Facility

The radiology department of Lee County Community Hospital recently became an authorized x-ray facility under the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act 1978.

An examination consists of a completed, signed miner identification document, the PA chest roentgenogram, and NIOSH interpretation document completed by a certified physician.

Our certification number may be used by a coal mine operator in filing a plan.

We are using a low dose radiation technique. This reduces the radiation to the patient.

Large Leaf

Castle Daugherty of Long Hollow brought this large leaf, 38" diameter to our attention. It is a leaf from a Royal Paul-a-wina. It could provide shade during mid 90's temperatures.

Supervisors

from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Conflict over the membership of the Woodway Water Authority seemed to be settled after a two-month dispute.

Last May, Board Vice-Chairman D.J. Barker moved for the appointment of a slate of new authority members since all but one of the incumbents' terms had expired. Those nominated were approved unanimously by the supervisors.

Authority chairman Fred Cox then refused to turn over the authority's books to the new members at the first meeting in June, saying that authority by-laws called for the authority to recommend replacement members to the supervisors.

Cox added that a number of the appointees were distant relatives of Barker.

Barker cited authority by laws that had never been followed before, including the one on recommending new members.

The supervisors then agreed to suspend appointment of the new members until a mass meeting was held by the authority

Although those attending that June 15 meeting indicated their support of the previous authority members, the supervisors approved a slate of candidates June 29 which did not include either Barker's prior nominations or any of the previous members of the board

Cox protested that move at Wednesday's meeting, but Barker said that "the supervisors are not trying to take over the board, but as elected officials it is our responsibility to appoint them"

The new authority members will be Hershel Woodard, Mark Edens, R.B. Pennington and Jim Hopkins.

Baby

Can't Someone Else Help?

No. There is no other way to obtain this machine. Hospitals, the March of Dimes Organization, the Social Services Department do not allocate funds toward the purchasing of a respiratory monitor to be used in the home. The Ketrons, who have a four-year-old, Amy, at home, lost a child last year to S.I.D. and need your help in providing the special equipment required to bring Dallas Joseph home. Without this machine, the baby may have to stay in a hospital for as long as twenty-four months.

The Other S.I.D. Child

Just four months ago, William and Janie Wilder of Pennington Gap found that Lee Countians truly care for children with special problems. Their child, William Shadrick Wilder, was barely three-months-old when he experienced S.I.D. Fortunately, Janie noticed her child's cessation of breath and was able to wake him and his breathing returned. Following the diagnosis of S.I.D. by a physician, the Wilders found that they needed a monitor. The funds were raised and Shadrick came home.

An Appreciative Family

Janie Wilder said "I feel for any person who has to go through this. I hope God will be with them (the Ketrons)." The Wilders were one of the first contributors to the Ketron Fund Drive.

Shadrick has been on a monitor since March and has experienced one monitor alarm. "I went to him and picked him up and shook him. He started breathing, I didn't have to do CPR", Janie said. Shadrick will be kept on the monitor for at least a year.

The Wilders are thankful for those who donated the money toward buying the first monitor now being used by their son. "We really appreciate all the help we've received. I know that I'd go crazy without the monitor," Mrs. Wilder says. The Wilders have another child, three-year-old Ada Marie.

One More Time!

The opportunity to help another S.I.D. baby has arrived. Without your help, Dallas Joseph Ketron could spent his first two years in a hospital. With our help, he can come home and enjoy the love and comfort that only parents can provide. We were able to obtain the money for one S.I.D. child and we can, by everyone participating, provide for another. Hopefully, we shall not need to buy another, since the two monitors will be available to any future S.I.D. baby in the county.

DEAD END LOVE

The love of the road is the love of fools,
Following the highways, making their own rules.
The white lines are like pretty blue eyes.
Not like a womans, they never tell him lies.

The blacktop is like long beautiful hair,
What else could he ask it is all there.
The rest areas are like a big feather bed.
The road is beside him like a needle and thread.

Long stretches remind him of eternal love,
Curvey roads are like a body of an angel above,
The bumpy roads are like the hard times they had,
Just like real people sometimes they are sad.

It stays up with him all day and all night,
He tries to stick with it, things will be alright.
The road cut out, to a dead end his life he gave.
The bumpy road, now leads him to a grave.

Larry Spangler, son of Mrs. Walter Spangler and the late Walter Spangler has been awarded a United States Department of Energy grant to study energy useage and conservation at Radford University.

The project is designed for secondary science teachers to study energy in an interdisciplinary approach, using topics from earth science, physics and chemistry.

They will learn effective teaching of how energy related topics can be achieved by utilizing a combination readily available materials for experiments, classroom discussions and field trips.

Larry is one of 31 science teachers from throughout the state of Virginia as well as ports of North Carolina that will participate in the three week study of energy useage.

Larry is presently a teacher and coach at Galax High School, Galax, Virginia.

Battista Reappointed

M Roy Battista, President of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Southwestern Virginia, has been reappointed by Governor John M. Dalton to serve on the Virginia Health Services Cost Review Commission

The commission monitors the collection of hospital cost and charge information and studies hospital financial reports to determine the reasonableness of charges to costs

Battista has served on the commission since its establishment by the Virginia General Assembly in 1978.

He has served on numerous state and national boards and committees concerned with health care and health care financing, and is currently a District Director from District V on the Blue Cross Association Board of Directors.

He also served on the board of directors of the Virginia Hospital Rate Review Program, a voluntary non profit organization that conducted management and rate review analyses from 66 of the state's 120 hospitals.

He has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Southwest Virginia Health Systems Agency, the region's health planning agency, and is a member of the State Health Coordinating Council board of directors

Baled Burley Price Support Extension Proposed By USDA

Producers of burley tobacco will be eligible for government grading and price supports on unlimited marketings of baled tobacco up to their marketing quotas under a proposal announced recently by Under Secretary of Agriculture Seeley Lodwick

Limited amounts of baled burley have been eligible for government grading and price supports since the 1978 79 season. Lodwick said. The proposal would mean all quantities of burley packed in bales would be eligible for price supports and for official grading by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, beginning with the 1981 82 season

Lodwick said producers will not be required to file an application to market baled burley, as was required in the past.

He said the proposed action will help reduce marketing costs for burley tobacco producers

The proposed price support and grading changes were to be published in the June 24 Federal Register; the deadline for receiving comments is July 24.

Comments regarding price supports should be mailed to the Director, Price Support and Loan Division, Room 2741 S, ASCS USDA, P.O Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013

Comments concerning grade standards should be sent to the Director, Tobacco Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Room 502, Annex Building, Washington, D.C 20250

All comments will be available for inspection at the appropriate office.

Junior Woman's Club Visits Camp Easter Seal

The women from Southwestern District of the Junior Woman's Club recently visited Camp Easter Seal West. The camp located in New Castle, serves handicapped children throughout Virginia. It is co sponsored by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs and the Easter Seal Society.

While visiting the camp, club members dressed as pirates presented a melodrama entitled "The Pirates of Camp Easter Seal." As a treat for the children, the treasure chest found at the end of the play contained sword-shaped balloons made by the Jonesville Junior Woman's Club. The play was written and directed by Angela Turley, Southwestern District Junior Director and a member of the Jonesville Juniors.

The Jonesville members provided hats for the campers, name tags for campers, visitors and staff, cupcakes served on pirate ships and cakes.

During the afternoon they assisted counselors and campers with a treasure hunt. Each cabin received a treasure chest filled by club women in Southwestern District.

Members from Jonesville taking part in this unique experience were Debbie Harris, president and Angela Turley, Southwestern District Junior Director.

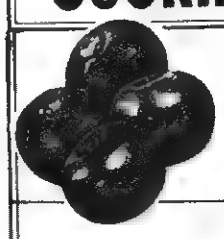
Powell Valley News

Cookin' Corner



Apple bread from a former Lee Countian and Peach Jam are featured this week, since apples and peaches are plentiful. Send your recipe to: Powell Valley News, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277.

Apple Bread

¾ Cup Shortening
1½ Cup Sugar
3 Eggs
1½ Tsp. Baking Soda
3 Tbsp. Buttermilk
3 Cups Flour
¾ Tsp. Salt
1½ Tsp. Vanilla
3 Cups Chopped Apples

Topping

4 Tbsp. Margarine
4 Tbsp. Brown Sugar
4 Tbsp. Flour
1½ Tsp. Cinnamon

Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs one at a time. Add soda dissolved in buttermilk. Mix well, add flour, salt and vanilla. Mix in apples. Fill 2 loaf pans with batter. Combine ingredients for topping and sprinkle evenly on batter. Bake 1 hour at 350°.

Spiced Peach Jam

5 Cups Prepared Peaches (About 4 Lbs.)
1 Tbsp. Grated Lemon Peel
7 Cups Sugar
2 Tbsp. Lemon Juice
1 Large Cinnamon Stick
1 Pkg. fruit pectin

Wash and sterilize 8 oz. jelly jars; scald lids and rings. Wash and pit fully ripe peaches; peel, cut into pieces and grind. Measure fruit into 6 to 8-quart saucepan; if necessary add water to make 5 cups. Add lemon juice, peel and cinnamon stick. Measure sugar into large bowl; set aside.

Combine pectin with fruit mixture. Cook over high heat until mixture comes to a hard boil, stirring constantly. Add sugar all at once. Cook and stir over high heat until mixture comes to a full rolling boil (one that cannot be stirred down). Boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from heat; skim and stir with metal spoon or skimmer for 5 minutes to remove foam. Remove cinnamon stick. Ladle into hot jars, leaving 1/8 inch rim at top*. Immediately wipe jar rim clean, place hot lid on jar and screw metal ring on firmly. Check for seal in 12 hours. 7 to 8 cups.

*To seal with paraffin: Ladle jam into hot jars, leaving ½ inch at top. Cover with thin layer of melted paraffin, about 1/8 inch thick.

Profile Of Humanitarian Award Recipient

On Monday, July 6, Charlie Province was presented the "Humanitarian Award" from VFW Post 10296, this was the first such award ever presented by the post, this brings to mind some of Charlies many activities, beginning from birth until this year.

Word quickly spread thru the mining camp at Briar Ridge, (Route 1, St. Charles, Va.) a few years ago, Rose Province had just given birth to a boy. What was so unusual about that? Eight of her children were girls. His only brother was 14-years-old.

So started the life of Charles Edward Province. When he was about five his family moved to Kemmer Gem.

His mother used to laugh when she told of his first day of school. She walked him to the school house in Kemmer Gem and stopped at the store and bought some groceries on the way home. She no sooner got home and he came running in the house to use the bathroom, anything to get out of school.

Soon afterwards his brother James Ray joined the army and gave his life for his country.

Life with eight sisters was not all fun and games. He was forever more having to go to the store, and deliver messages for them, after all eight sisters could really keep you busy

His father, Bill Province was the foreman of the mines and he had to get someone to take care of the ponies This soon became one of Charlies jobs. He also cut kindling, sold apples, walnuts and hickory nuts to get money. Even when he was a young boy, he became chairman of the money raising campaign to buy a basketball for Kemmer Gem School.

When his family moved to Pennington Gap, Charlie was 14. He tried out for the basketball team and made it. He also played football and lost several teeth, a broken nose and several other injuries. None of which stopped his great love of playing ball. He won several honors.

The funeral home was just across the street from his family home on East Morgan Avenue, so pretty soon he started mowing their lawn and setting tents. He soon worked his way up to being assistant ambulance helper. Then driver and eventually helping with funerals.

It was at this time in his life he decided, since he had graduated from high school to go of to the ship yard and get rich. He went. He didn't get rich, he just got homesick, so he came back to work at the funeral home. He served his apprenticeship for funeral director. Clyde Copeland, then he went to Richmond, to pass his state board.

When Clyde Copeland married Sue Willams and moved to the St Charles Funeral Home, Charlie moved into the Pennington Funeral Home Apartment.

When he was 22 he married Nancy Braun a student at Johnson Bible College, Kimberlin Hights, Tennessee. He had met her a couple years earlier, when the First Christian Church had her do chalk drawings for one of their revivals. Again, he decided if he and his wife would both work in the city they might get rich so he and Nancy moved to Natchez, Miss. They both worked but he was so homesick and worried about his widowed mother, that his great love for Lee County got the best of him, so when Clyde and Sue Copeland came to visit him in Natchez and asked him to come back to work he just couldn't stay away any longer..

Not long after he moved back to Pennington Gap he was blessed with a little son "Jimmy"

Because of working with the youth group at the Methodist Church he soon became a temporary "foster father!" One of the young teenagers who lived with his mother suddenly found himself alone when his mother had to go into the hospital, Charlie took care of him

Maybe that was the turning point in his life, when he realized how good it made you feel to help someone in need.

Soon along came a little daughter, (Sherri) and then lots of foster children. Because of his love for children and sports it was natural for him to become a basketball coach of different teams.

Seeing kids work and succeed in sports might have been the reason he felt the people of St. Charles could accomplish anything. One of the things was a Health Clinic, with the help and concern of a lot of good people this was accomplished.

Working with Hee Haw Shows, basketball teams, March of Dimes and various other activities sure keeps him busy, but when you see him busy helping others then you will know he has found the secret to riches.

One of Charlies favorite scriptures of the Bible is found in I Corinthians Chapter Thirteen although he applies a lot of this chapter to his life verse 4 sums it up" Charity suffereth long and is kind. Charity envieth not, charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up." Charity defined by some is the love of God for man or of man for his fellowman. Surely this sums up Charlie Province.

Lee Hospital Auxiliary Meets

The Lee Hospital Auxiliary met in Executive Session at Farmer's and Miner's Bank, Pennington Gap, June 30 at 6:30 p.m. Officers present were President, Pat Maggard; First Vice-President, Lucille Orr; Second Vice-President, Lillie Flanary; Recording Secretary, Gaynelle Baumgardner; Corresponding Secretary, Bee Carroll; and Treasurer, Louise Woodard.

The regular meeting of the Auxiliary met immediately following this session with twenty-two members present. Other than the above mentioned were: Florence James, Lorene Terry, Bernice Orr, Margaret Shanks, Alma Myers, Hazel Cress, Cuma Hays, Leonard Hays, Harry Carroll, Rita Graham, Jean Skidmore, Ernestine Rasnic, Norma Miles, Sandy Montgomery, Dimples Hartley, Mary Gillis.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Pat Maggard. The Auxiliary Prayer was given by the Chaplain, Jean Skidmore. All business was discharged and committees appointed.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Anne Laningham, an auxiliary member was introduced. She read a poem, "This Glorious Flag," and gave a brief history of the fifty-one years of the local hospital, from Lee General Hospital in 1930 to Lee County Community Hospital, as it is known today. Her talk was very interesting and enjoyed by everyone. Her sister, Mary Wynn, came as a guest.

Family Notes

Eggs are a good alternate for meat. Eggs furnish good quality protein, iron, and vitamins.

To retain flavor, tenderness, and attractiveness, cook eggs at low to moderate temperature. High temperature and overcooking toughens eggs and egg dishes. High temperature and overcooking also causes curdling in custards and sauces.

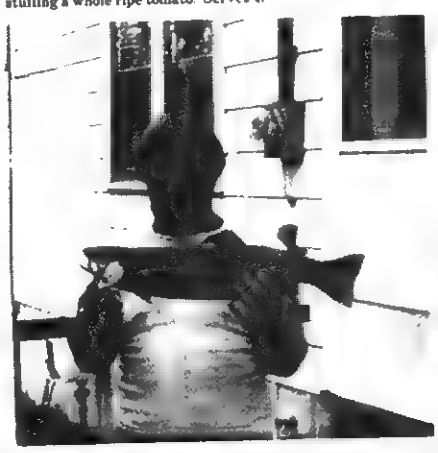
Soft Cooked Eggs. Follow same method as for hard cooked eggs, but let eggs stand in hot water only 2 to 5 minutes depending on the degree of cooking desired.

Hard Cooked Eggs. Put eggs in pan. Add water to at least 1 inch above eggs. Bring water rapidly to boil. Remove from burner, cover and let stand 15 minutes. Cool promptly and thoroughly in cold water. This helps to prevent yolks from turning dark.

EGG SALAD

6 hard cooked eggs, finely chopped
3 Tbs. chopped sweet pickle
½ cup finely diced celery
3 Tbs. chopped parsley
3 to 4 Tbs salad dressing
salt, pepper, and dry mustard to taste

Combine all ingredients. Use as sandwich filling or for stuffing a whole ripe tomato. Serves 4.



"This time the big one didn't get away," says Lester Hatfield, of Saginaw, Michigan. He, along with several other fellows, have made fishing a competitive hobby. They go fishing two or three times monthly, going far and near to creeks and lakes in Northern Michigan, to try and land the big ones.

Market Trends

At the Virginia auctions Veal prices were steady to $4.25 lower as estimated receipts were down 13 percent from the previous week. Choice and Prime veal $67-88.50; good $55-75, and standard $49.50-65. The wide range in prices is due to the wide range in weights and locations of markets throughout the State.

At the Virginia auctions lamb prices were $1.00-2.25 lower except Choice $1.75 higher as estimated receipts were down 16 percent from the previous week. Old Letters And Penmanship

The Major George Gibson Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met with Mrs. Natt G. Fugate at her home in Middlesboro, Ky., on Saturday, June 27.

After a brief meditation by Mrs. Charles Emmett stressing thankfulness for the freedoms we enjoy as a Nation Under God, Mrs. Jerry Hounshell, regent, welcomed guest, Florence Bayless of Rose Hill, and expressed delight to the hostess to be in her home again.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the United States flag and the singing of The Star Spangled Banner in unison was a part of the opening ritual.

Mrs. Ray P. Fugate presented an important message from Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby, President General of the National Society concerning the selection of a national project during her presidency of the NSDAR.

Her project was accepted by regents and delegates of more than 3000 chapters in the United States and overseas, who attended the recent National Congress in Washington, D.C., and is the repair and restoration of the magnificent but aging DAR buildings - the National Headquarters of this patriotic organization which gives service to the Nation in many ways.

They are Memorial Continental Hall, Constitution Hall, and Administration Building which fill an entire city block and are the largest group of buildings in the world owned and maintained exclusively by women.

Mrs. Hounshell, Regent of the Gibson Chapter, gave a few highlights of her service as a page at the recent Congress when she, Bashie Kincaid, and Kathleen Carter attended. Mrs. Hounshell (Judy) was on the committee that cared for the huge number of flags at the meeting, and carried the Virginia flag in the procession of opening night.

An excellent portrayal of child life in Colonial Days as gleaned from "Old Letters" was presented at Saturday's meeting by program leader, Mrs. William Munsey. She spoke of the pattern of good penmanship which was exemplified in letters that parents had written to their children, retaining characteristics of the Old English style.

In them, children were always instructed to write in a handsome and dignified manner, forming well each letter of a word, and with correct spelling. The paper also on which they wrote was firm and good, and the ink clear and black.

Mrs. William Munsey

Mrs. Munsey also observed that the letters showed kind regard to the receiver, such as to "My dear child", "My Indeared Son", or "To my dearly loved Friend and Child", which spoke of the beauty of the Puritan home life.

"Many children", stated Mrs. Munsey, "were taught to keep daily journals, and a child's letter to his father might be addressed as "Dear Sir", and ask for his instruction on his son's behavior."

Mrs. Munsey, who is a retired school teacher in Lee County, and who is often called to substitute, referred to several great pieces of literature and authors, both men and women. From one she gave this quote: "Letters are the idea and truest mirrors of the mind; they show the inside of a man ... The roll of the Centuries cannot dim the power of the written word."

For American Heritage, Mrs. Fugate, hostess, shared with the group an excellent example of the handsome penmanship of the 18th Century as shown by the handwriting of her great-grandfather in his family Bible records. She also shared a beautiful sampler which was made by her great-grandmother.

Dever Awarded Fellowship Grant

Dr. William Dever, son-in-law of Pet Spangler, Jonesville has received the John Simon Guggenheim Fellowship award for 1981.

Dr. Dever, a University of Arizona faculty member, was among 288 Academic scientists chosen from more than 3,000 applicants. Each fellowship averages about $1700. This project involves working the material excavated from the biblical site of Gezer from 1964-1977. He will also be working on excavations at Middle Bronze Age sites in the West Bank of the Jordan and the Negev Desert.

Dever will be a visiting archaeology professor at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem while on sabbatical.

Dr. and Mrs. Dever and son, Sean, left Monday after visiting her mother, Mrs. Walter Spangler, where they plan to tour Europe and several Islands arriving in Jerusalem October 1 to start his project which will continue to July, 1982.

Begins July 25

CVC Opens Tennis Tourney

Clinch Valley College will sponsor the Ninth Annual Clinch Valley College Open Tennis Tournament which begins Saturday, July 25, and runs through Sunday, August 2.

Approximately 300 entries from Southwest Virginia, Eastern Kentucky, and Upper East Tennessee are expected for competition in Southwest Virginia's largest tennis tournament. The tournament this year will feature competition in eleven divisions: Men's A, B, and 40's singles; Women's A and B singles; Boys and Girls 18 and under singles; Men's Women's, Women 40 and over, and Mixed Doubles.

Competition for this tournament is expected to be keen as Danny Wood of Wise tries for his fifth straight championship in the Men's A Division. Wood also will go after his seventh consecutive doubles title. Donna O'Dell of Coeburn is expected to defend her title in Women's A Singles.

USTA rules will govern play except for the use of the 9 point tie breaker. Each person or doubles team is required to bring to each match an unopened can of USTA-approved pressurized optic yellow tennis balls. Deadline for receipt of entries is Tuesday, July 21. Official rules and entry blanks are available at CVC or at Sportswise in Wise. For further information call 703-328-2431, extension 236.

It's Time To Get Firewood

With Winter a few months away, people with fireplaces and wood burning stoves should start planning to get their supply of Wood.

Information on firewood follows:

1. You can cut or remove standing dead or down dead wood anywhere on the Clinch Ranger District of the Jefferson National Forest except for around the recreation areas (Devil's Fork), and inside the boundaries of the Flatwoods Job Corps Center in Coeburn. If you obtain permission from the operator of a Timber Sale area to gather laps (scraps), then this is okay.

2. Cut dead trees no less than 12 inches from ground.

3. DO NOT SELL, TRADE OR GIVE AWAY firewood you have gathered. It is for your own personal use.

4 Know your physical limitations. This may be strenuous work.

5. If you are in doubt as to where to, ... office.

gather wood, contact the Forest Service office in Wise - 328-2931.

6. DO NOT CUT ANY GREEN TREES.

7. The Free Use Permit - Timber is a "FREE" permit. There is no charge for it.

8. During the Freeze/Thaw time of year (winter), the Forest Service will close certain roads in the Forest to prevent rutting and damage to forest roads.

9. Only one permit need be issued to a family. The permit must be carried with you when gathering the wood.

10. Be SAFETY CONSCIOUS! Operate chain saws carefully.

The free Use Permit-Timber may be obtained directly from the Forest Service Office in Wise, Va. (Across from Clinch Valley College). For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this [illegible]

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent -- and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the promise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1210.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

Notice To Classified Advertisers

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
VIRGINIA:
In The Circuit Court Of Lee County

IN RE: Election on the Question of Changing from the County Board Form of County Organization and Government to the Traditional Form of County Government Prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of Virginia, and the General Law of the State.

AMENDED ORDER

A Petition having been filed in the Lee County Circuit Court Clerk's Office on March 26, 1981, containing more than fifteen (15%) percent of the qualified voters of Lee County, Virginia, styled Ezra F. Cooper, et als, Citizens and qualified voters for Lee County, Virginia, asking for a referendum be held on the question of changing from the County Board Form of County Organization and Government as provided for in Sections 15.1-699 et. seq., of the Code of Virginia, to the traditional form of organization and government which existed in Lee County prior to January 1, 1969, as prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Virginia and the general law of the State, it is hereby Ordered that the regular election official at a special election to be held on the 18th day of August, 1981, take the sense of the qualified voters of the County on said question.

It is further Ordered that the regular election officials of the County, at the time designated in this Order, shall open the polls at the various voting places in the County and conduct the election in such manner as provided by law for other elections insofar as the same is applicable.

The question shall read as follows:

Do you approve changing the organization and government of the County from the County Board Form to the traditional form of County Government and Organization prescribed by Article VII of the Constitution of Virginia, and the general law of the State?

☐ YES
☐ NO

The squares to be on all printed ballots used shall not be less than one-quarter nor more than one-half inch in size. Any person voting by ballot at such election shall place a check (✓) or a (x) or a (+) mark or a line (-) in the square before the appropriate word indicating how he desires to vote on the question submitted

In the use of voting machines, the question shall read as follows aforesaid and the voter shall properly indicate their "yes" or "no" vote by the proper facilities of the voting machine.

The vote on the question shall be counted, returns made and canvassed as in other elections, and the results certified by the Electoral Board for Lee County to the Circuit Court, or the Judge thereof in vacation.

It is further Ordered that the Clerk of the Court shall cause a notice of such election to be published in some newspaper published in or having general circulation in Lee County once a week for three consecutive weeks, and shall post a copy of such notice at the door of the Courthouse of the County.

It is further Ordered that a copy of this Amended Order be certified to the State Board of Education of the State of Virginia and to the Electoral Board of Lee County, Virginia.

This the 18th day of June, 1981

Terry Smith Scholarship Recipient

Terry C. Smith, a native of Ewing, was the recipient of a full tuition plus cash award scholarship to the Funeral Service Management Training Course in Evanston, IL. This was the 34th annual session conducted by the National Foundation of Funeral Service, with special emphasis on funeral and grief counseling. He award winning essay on funeral management and innovation earned him this opportunity.

Smith graduated Summa Cum Laude from the Funeral Service curriculum of John Tyler Community College during commencement exercises June 12.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charles Smith of Ewing, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R.O. Smith of Rose Hill and Mrs. J.S. Collins of Cumberland Gap, Terry graduated from Thomas Walker High School in Ewing and attended Lincoln Memorial University prior to enrolling in John Tyler.

Wallens Creek EHC

Wallens Creek EHC met July 7, at the Stickleyville School.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Betty Young. The Homemakers' creed was repeated.

Devotions were by Margaret Sage and Bessie Hughes. Roll call was taken with each naming their favorite patriotic song.

Program was given by agent, Betty Jean Moore, on restoring leather. She gave an interesting demonstration.

The next meeting will be August 4, at the Stickleyville School. The demonstration will be on pine cone crafts and the leader will be Ann Redwine.

We invite anyone interested to come and be with us at our next meeting.

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

For many years, I have been very concerned about the solvency of the Social Security System. We have been warned repeatedly that a crisis in funding was approaching. It has not been confirmed that the continued stability of the trust funds is an immediate problem that needs to be addressed now.

Social Security trust funds, contrary to general assumptions, are not interchangeable with general revenues. Suggestions that reductions in benefits are being proposed in order to balance the Federal budget are erroneous. The trust funds derive their money from F.I.C.A. taxes paid by workers and their employers, and cannot be used for any other purpose. The shortage exists because of the continuing growth in both the total number of beneficiaries and the rising benefit amounts paid. Changes in the system are being proposed for one reason only – to keep the retirement and disability benefits flowing to those who need them most.

The Administration has submitted a number of proposals, including raising the retirement age, reducing early retirement benefits, and curbing cost-of living increases. All of these have been open to criticism. While I am not committed, at this time, to any particular solution, I am committed to the ultimate goal of insuring the liquidity of our Social Security System.

Some think general revenues should be used to supplement the social security trust funds. However, it is estimated that the cash shortages could amount to $1.5 trillion over the next 75 years – that is one and a half times the current national debt. In addition, if general revenues are used, then social security ceases to be an earned retirement program. That proposal should remain in the "last resort" category.

Congress began hearings last week in an effort to find the best solution. All reasonable proposals to rescue the Social Security System from bankruptcy must be carefully considered and acted upon. The consequences of inaction would be far worse for those dependent on continued benefits.

Growing Child

Accepting New Siblings

Bringing a new baby home is a big event for a family.

It can also be a trying time for siblings who may suddenly feel left out or unwanted.

Growing Child, a monthly child development newsletter, has this advice for making the arrival of a new baby a happy occasion for everyone.

When you arrive home, put the baby down and appear to ignore him while you greet the other children and make a big fuss over them. They will then discover the baby and quickly make him their own. Let them touch him, unwrap him, and hold him if they want to. That may take a little control on your part, but they won't hurt him.

Let the other children help take care of the baby as much as possible. There are many small chores they can do which will make them feel included and needed.

Don't be surprised if the youngest child in the family regresses to thumb sucking or wanting a bottle like the baby. Take a little time to spend along with the child to repair his ego.

He needs to know that you still love and want him, even though there's another person around who's getting the attention.

You can assure the older ones that you love them as much as before, but that while the baby is small he needs extra attention.

You can get more information on this subject and on the physical and social development of children up to six years old by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

President Reagan Proclaims Farm Safety Week

President Reagan has proclaimed the week of July 25 through 31 as National Farm Safety Week, reaffirming the need for continuing efforts to reduce accident losses that impair agricultural producers. The President urges all persons engaged in farming and ranching and all persons and organizations allied with agriculture to redouble their personal and group efforts for farm, home, recreation and highway safety

Co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Farm Safety Week is supported by many organizations serving agriculture.

The President said: "American farmers and ranchers are at the core of our Nation's economy, providing food not only for our own people, but for millions of others around the world. Yet we must not take the miracle of American agricultural abundance for granted. An unacceptable number of farm accidents cripples people and threatens production. Last year, nearly 400,000 farmers and ranchers were injured or killed in accidents at work, at home, during recreation or on roads. Powerful equipment chemicals and variable working conditions are potential agricultural hazards, but safe work practices, protective equipment and other measures can minimize the risks. Special vigilance by the agricultural community is also necessary to reduce the toll of off-the-job injuries."

Public Hearing To Be Held At CVC

The Honorable Orby L. Cantrell, Chairman of a House Mining and Mineral Resources Subcommittee, has announced that a public hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m., Friday, July 17, 1981. The public hearing will be held in the Lecture Hall of the Administration Building at the Clinch Valley College in Wise, Virginia.

The Subcommittee seeks public input in regard to former House Bills 1507 and 1508 which were introduced during the 1981 Session of the General Assembly. Former House Bill No. 1507 would require any person who made application for license to operate a commercial mine to provide a bond in accordance with guidelines established by the Division of Mines. In the event of bankruptcy or termination of such commercial mine operation, such bond would be forfeited and its proceeds payable to the earned compensation of its employees.

Former House Bill No. 1508 would prohibit non-supervisory employees of underground mine operations to work alone on days during which the primary mining operation is idle.

Public comment in these two matters would be greatly appreciated.

Serving with Delegate Cantrell on the Subcommittee to study these matters are Delegates Alson H. Smith, Jr. of Winchester, Ford C. Quillen of Gate City, Joseph A. Johnson of Abingdon, and Jerry H. Geisler of Hillsville.

Anyone who wishes to testify before the Subcommittee should contact the House of Delegates Deputy Clerk's Office at (804) 786 7681. If you desire additional information about these matters, please contact John W. Daniel, II or Bernard Caton, Division of Legislative Services, Richmond, telephone (804) 786 3591

The top five were: Sonny Johnson, 5 fish; Jim Cox, 3 fish; Allen Patrick, 1 fish; James Begley, 1 fish; Hershell Robbins, 1 fish. Wild Card was 5th place.

The next tournament will be on Douglas Lake July 18.

Health For All

If understanding the risk of dying within 10 years can help change habits, then tens of thousands of Americans have a chance to live longer, according to the American Lung Association.

Taking part in a nationwide Health Risk Appraisal program conducted by the U.S. government at health fairs sponsored last year in 300 locations, these citizens completed a questionnaire including personal characteristics such as age and weight, medical data including history of chronic bronchitis or emphysema, family history of diseases such as diabetes and lifestyle including smoking, drinking, exercise, etc. The collective data represents the largest body of such information yet available, says the U.S. Public Health Service. It may help health educators target high risk groups by pinpointing those at greatest risk from such correctable hazards as smoking, overweight and driving without a seat belt. The age, sex, and race groups with most potential for reducing their risk of dying over the next 10 years also may be determined.

The individuals who filled out the questionnaires received a two-page computer printout indicating personal risk of death within a decade, and recommendations for improving health habits. An estimated achievable age if recommendations are followed also was pro-

Risk appraisal has become a popular approach to help people identify those risks associated with personal health status and habits. Understandably there are known limitations to the data. Research to determine the worth of the appraisal as a health indicator, predictor and educational tool is underway by federal and private organizations. New Laws For Motorists, Uninsured Motorist Fee Increases

Effective July 1, the uninsured motor vehicle fee increased from $150 to $200, according to Donald E. Williams, commissioner of the Division of Motor Vehicles.

Williams said the fee is increased periodically by the General Assembly to keep pace with insurance rates and to encourage motorists to buy insurance. In 1958, the first year motorists could pay the fee, it was $15.

Payment of the uninsured motor vehicle fee provides absolutely no insurance coverage. Williams emphasized, and the owners or drivers of uninsured vehicles may be held personally liable for damages resulting from accidents in which they're at fault.

Under state law, motorists must have an automobile insurance policy with a company licensed to do business in Virginia, or pay the uninsured motor vehicle fee. Insurance policies must provide a minimum liability coverage of $25,000 for injury or death of one person, $50,000 for injury or death of two or more people and $10,000 for property damage.

During fiscal year 1979-80, Williams said fewer than 6 percent of Virginia's drivers were uninsured. About 20,000 people paid the fee, either voluntarily or as part of a penalty for failing to comply with insurance requirements.

"DMV has three ways to monitor compliance," Williams said, "cancellation notices from insurance companies if policies are terminated within six months after they're written, accident reports and random road checks."

He noted that vehicle owners who do not have insurance and have not paid the uninsured motorist fee will be suspended until they have paid the $200 uninsured motorist fee, and a $25 license reinstatement fee. Then, for the next three years, they must file proof of insurance coverage with DMV.

During fiscal year 1979-80, DMV collected about $3 million from payment of the Uninsured Motor Vehicle fee. Williams said administrative expenses are deducted from this revenue, and then the rest is disbursed among insurance companies that are licensed in Virginia. The amount each company receives is based on its volume of business. These payments help defray the expenses insurance companies incur when they pay claims involving uninsured vehicles.

For instance, Williams explained, "If you are involved in an accident with an uninsured motorist, your insurance company will pay for your damages up to the minimum limits of liability established by the state. This coverage is mandatory on all automobile liability policies written in Virginia."

Someone from another state who does not have uninsured motorist coverage, a pedestrian, or someone who does not have an automobile insurance policy would have to seek reimbursement for damages from the driver of the uninsured vehicle.

Even states that have compulsory insurance laws don't have 100 percent compliance, Williams said. He added that they don't have funds to defray the cost of accidents involving uninsured vehicles, and their insurance companies have more administrative expenses because they must monitor compliance with the regulations.

Other new laws effective July 1:

•It will be a felony to obtain a fictitious non driver identification card for the purpose of committing a felony, or to falsify information on a driver's license, non-driver identification card or other documents for the purpose of buying a firearm. It will also be a felony to obtain, possess, sell or transfer fraudulent driver's licenses and other documents with the intent to use them to buy firearms.

•Ride sharing license plates will be available for use on vehicles used in ride-sharing arrangements and which seat a maximum of 16 passengers. The plates will show PV followed by numbers beginning with 101, and the word ride-sharing will be embossed across the bottom. There is no additional cost for the plates.

Cumberland Chapter O.E.S. Holds Meeting

Cumberland Chapter #179 Order of the Eastern Star held its regular meeting on July 6, with Wanda Susong and Earl Hedrick preading in the East.

At the close of the meeting, all retired to the recreation hall where the tables, covered in white, were decorated in the Fourth of July colors, ribbons of red, white, and blue, red carnations, and flags of the United States.

Refreshing watermellon and a drink were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Jerry Hornshell, Mrs. C. M. Lawson, Mrs. Ewell Frye, and Mrs. Elizabeth Howard.

—Those enjoying a cook out and games at the home of Pearl Bales recently were Bill Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roller, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Williams, Terry and Jeff Williams, Denise Harber, Buddy Hensley, Lola Lee, and Annie Garrett —House guests of Mr. and Mrs Claude Glass during the 4th of July were his sisters, Neva Burchett and daughter Sandi of Cayuga, Ind., and Mrs. Georgia Stombaugh with her son, Kermit Stombaugh, his wife and three children, Timmy, Michelle, and Amanda, all of Taney Town, Md.

—The Fourth of July was a great day for picnics and Class and Family Reunions. For Mr. and Mrs. William Munsey, Route 1, Rose Hill, it was a Triple Reunion Day. They first attended the Smith Reunion in Ewing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, then the Class Reunion at Thomas Walker High School. Mr. Munsey was the last Principal at Rose Hill before the uniting of the Rose Hill and Ewing Schools into Thomas Walker.

Then he became Principal of Ewing, and later returned to TWHS as a Math teacher and Mrs. Munsey was Principal at Ewing. Later they both taught at Flatwoods, and the freshman class that they taught in 1943-44 always invites them to their reunions, and they attended that Class Reunion on the night of July 4th also. A busy day of fun and fellowship.

—House guests of Mrs. Georgia Gibson this week are her daughter, Roberta and family of Newport News. They are Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Ayscue and daughters Tara and Melanie.

—Lola Lee and Annie Garrett accompanied Pearl Bales to Kingsport on Wednesday for a medical appointment.

—The annual picnic of the Rose Hill Homemakers' Club which was scheduled to be held at the Civitan Park on July 10 has been postponed to July 17 at 6:00 o'clock.

—Annie Harris of Pasadena, Md., has been visiting her mother, Ada Fletcher and other relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Shackleford and daughters, Selma and Alma of Richmond, Va., have been house guests of Selma Shackleford and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davis. They also visited with Mrs. Shackleford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Cox in Keokee.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis, Donna, Kathy, and Steven of Petersburg, Va., have been guests of Mr. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs Don Davis. They also attended the reunion of the Thomas Walker graduating class of 1956 which was held in Middlesboro on July 4. After the reunion which was attended by twenty-two class members and their guests, all were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Joe Pace of Rose Hill where they continued their reminiscing.

—Mrs. Sam Beaty is a patient in Holston Valley Community Hospital in Kingsport.

—Zelma Johnson was a Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. Selma Shackleford.

—Holiday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chance were their three daughters: Jane Chance who is a medical technician at Roanoke Memorial Hospital; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Culberson (Alice) who is Librarian at New River Community College, Dublin, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crabtree (Phyllis) of Bristol. They were visited also by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delp of Elk Creek, Va., who had attended the reunion of Rose Hill and Ewing teachers and classmates of the 30's.

—Lorene Ingle, a patient in Holston Valley Community Hospital, Kingsport, is recovering satisfactorily from recent surgery.

—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hensley of Florida have been guests of relatives in Rose Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Hensley, who are semi-retired, plan to continue their vacation to Maryland, Virginia Beach, and then to California to visit a son.

—Mr. and Mrs. Larry Coppock (Barbara Poulston) and daughter, Vanessa of Pennsylvania attended worship services at Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church on Sunday.

—Rev. and Mrs. Harry Painter have as their house guest Mrs. Painter's sister, Katherine Chuyler of Sarasota, Fla.

—Fourth-of-July guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher were Mr. and Mrs. James Fletcher of Alabama and Mr. Dennis Fletcher of Michigan. Mr. James Fletcher, formerly of Rose Hill, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fletcher. Mr. Dennis Fletcher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Fletcher and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher who accompanied him on a trip to Rogersville and Knoxville. In Knoxville they visited with Edna Fletcher. Mr. and Mrs. James Fletcher contined their vacation to Pound.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Lexington, Ind., spent the weekend with Mr. Johnson's sister, Beulah Johnson, and attended the reunion at Thomas Walker on July 4.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Cole entertained family members on July 4. The guest list included his mother, Mrs. Maurine Cole; his grandmother, Mrs. Ada Fletcher, and an aunt, Mrs. Annie Harris of Maryland.

—Funeral services for Mrs. Josie Bellamy Collins of Gate City, Va., were held on Wednesday, July 8 at the Gene Falin Memorial Chapel of the Gate City Funeral Home.

Mrs. Collins, who was 91 years of age was the mother of Mrs. Paul Poulston (Belvia) and Mrs. Cornelia Barker, to whom we extend our sympathy.

—The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Poulston and their families were reunited for the first time in 13 years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Poulston during the weekend of July 4.

The twenty-one present for this very special reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller (Frankie), Alen and Paul of Columbia, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Coppock (Barbara), Vanessa and Lawrence of Westgrove, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Brooks (Julia) Amy and Brian of Carmel, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yates (Pauletta) and Mitzi of Cleveland, Va.; Mrs. Wanda Heyde and daughters, Andrea and Michelle of Rose Hill and Mrs. Cornelia Barker.

—Bob Bays who is in State-Police Training visited during July 4 weekend with his wife and daughters.

—Mrs. Billy Klopz (Lynn Wilder) and children, Mary Ann, Chris and Jimmie have been visiting her mother, Iva Jean Thomas Flowers of Tazewell and other relatives in Ewing. Mrs. Klopz and children are from Petrolia, Pa

—Mrs. Michael Day (Rebecca Bays) and son Matt of Richmond were weekend guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bays.

Ewing and Rose Hill Teachers and Classmates Hold Reunion

Classmates and teachers of Ewing and Rose Hill Schools with their guests met at Thomas Walker High School on July 4 for a reunion. Mr. Gaylord Lambdin and Beulah Johnson conducted the meeting for the 99 people who were present. Several who attended had been both student and teacher.

Those who enjoyed the bountiful meal and the reminiscing represented nine states: California, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Florida.

Much interest was shown in scheduling a similar event for 1982 and Miss Beulah Johnson was chosen for chairperson. This event will also be held at Thomas Walker High School and the date set is for June 26, the fourth Saturday in June. Every one is urged to remember this date and encourage others to do so.

—Beulah Johnson, Glessie Thomas, Althea Bussell and Viola Emmett attended a Head Start meeting in Jonesville and visited with Mrs. Will Rowlette who has just celebrated her 94th birthday. They also visited the Jeff Harber family to see the new son, A.J. (Avery Jeffrey).

Please tell the Store or Firm manager you saw his ad in the Powell Valley News.

"MY ENGINE RAN WHEN IT WAS OFF

I switch the ignition off but the engine would not stop. Instead it sputtered, rocked and coughed. Then I discovered WYNN'S SPIT-FIRE! Now, my troubles are over. Wrote a happy customer. Yes, engine after run-on, caused by heavy carbon build-up can be not only exasperating but downright dangerous mechanically. So be kind to your car and yourself. Add a can of WYNN'S SPIT FIRE to your gas tank today. Now available at MAGIC MART

They returned home Tuesday and enroute stopped in Lexington, Ky., where they visited Mrs. Dinsmore's brother, John Short who is a patient in the Veterans Hospital in Lexington. Get-well wishes to John.

—Mr and Mrs Alvin Barker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barker and son, Greg of Dayton, Ohio and Mrs. Ordie Morris of Keokee were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Wayne Morris and family at Exeter, Va., last Sunday.

—Peter Davis enjoyed visiting a few days with relatives in Akron, Ohio. A niece and two nephews accompanied him back to his home in Keokee on Tuesday and they returned to Akron on Wednesday.

—Dr. Roger Barker and wife, Naomi and son, Sam, and daughter, Amy of New York spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Barker in Keokee. They also attended the Keokee High School class reunion on Saturday.

—Donna, Sharon, and Jason Cox of Dayton, Ohio have been enjoying the past two weeks visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morris. Their parents are M/Sgt. Charles Cox and Betty Morris Cox. M/Sgt. Cox is serving with the U.S. Air Force and is stationed at Wright Patterson A.F. Base.

Others visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morris on Sunday were their son, Steve Morris and wife, Terri and children, Nikki, and the twins, Josh and Joe of Exeter, Va. Then on Saturday their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Parsons, Chris and Sharon of Dryden, visited with them.

—Mrs. Nancy (Nannie) Riddle of Kingsport, Tn., fell at her home recently and sustained a broken hip as reported. She is a patient in the Wilcox Hall at the Holston Valley Community Hospital in Kingsport. We wish for aunt Nannie a speedy recovery and hope she will be well and fine again soon.

She is the widow of J.S. (Bass) Riddle who resided in Appalachia, in the years of 1920 She has a number of relatives in this area.

—Visitors a few days last week at the home of Mr and Mrs. Coy Morris were their daughter and son in law, Elaine and Charles Baltimore and daughters, Pam and Melissa, also their son, Alex Morris and wife, Diana and their three children all of Dayton, Ohio

—Mrs. Ordie Morris has had many visitors at her home recently. Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barker, Jr., also a grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barker and son, Greg all from Dayton, Ohio spent several days. Joining the family group were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stalikas and daughters, Angela and Crissie of Arlington, Texas.

The Stalikas family visited relatives in New York before they arrived in Keokee. Mrs. Stalikas is Mrs. Morris' granddaughter.

On Thursday evening the group went to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barker, Sr., where they enjoyed a delightful time at a cookout. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones and family from Texas.

Letter To The Editor:

"For Concerned Citizens Only"

During July the Red Cross will begin an all out effort to make itself known and available to Lee County. Over the past few months, since I have been working with the Red Cross in this community I have heard the views of those who feel confident about what the Red Cross is trying to do. Then I have also heard the views of those who are very opposed to the Red Cross, perhaps feeling that they aren't doing enough.

On July 22nd, the Red Cross will present a very moving film which shows how, (with some Red Cross Safety Training), ordinary people can do remarkable things. "Their Finest Hour" is a 27-minute film which will be open for the public to view at 4:00 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. at the Lee County Public Library in Pennington Gap. There will be a Red Cross Representative on hand to answer any questions or to give out useful information.

Whatever your opinions are concerning the Red Cross, we want to hear them. We want to know also what you would like to see the Red Cross do in your community! If you wish to call or write us, our phone number is 546-4570 and our address is American Red Cross, 912 Duff Street, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277.

This is your Red Cross and with your help we're working to make it even better.

Letter To The Editor:

Three weeks ago, early in June, I asked a group of teen-age musicians, a group called "The Pack," to perform at the July 4th celebration at the park in Jonesville. They agreed to do it, and so I spoke with the mayor and with the entertainment committee head, and it was agreed that they would play for the dance contest and also play some additional songs.

They performed ---- at 11:00 p.m., to a scattered few, after the fireworks, without the honor of being announced, and as the program officials were on their way home, ignoring "The Pack's" part of the program.

Also, after one song, an older group of men, chose to dismantle the P.A. system.

Now, "The Pack" had their own P.A. system, but were led to think they were supposed to use what was on stage, which had been used by the other group.

Instead of announcing that the group would continue with their own things, no one cared, except for family and friends, that is.

One of the fathers of the boys had to get on stage and shout to the remaining audience, that the boys would play as soon as they could set up.

The boys played very well, despite all things against them. I wonder that they even tried, having been treated the way they were.

They are wonderful, decent boys and fine musicians, and they practiced hard for weeks, only to be treated as if they didn't matter. They weren't even introduced.

They are from Thomas Walker High School in Western Lee County.

I had spoken four times with program officials prior to the 4th.

I wished to show Lee Countians that there is a lot of talent in that part of our county, but certain people chose to ignore it.

It's small wonder that there are divisions within the county on other matters.

The boys performed, and handled themselves very well, considering.

They proved to every one what decent, well-behaved young men they are.

I believe young people should be given a chance to be heard, to be encouraged when they have talent, when what they do is clean and good.

I'm proud of "The Pack," the boys, their talent, and their ability to control their behavior in an intolerable situation.

Let us please encourage young people. Let's all support their efforts, and recognize their talent, and let it be seen and appreciated.

"The Pack" shall be heard, and hopefully so will all young or old people who deserve to be.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sirs;

I need your help. I am trying to find out the date of birth for John Burk and Mary Stevens Burk. John Burk died March 29, 1839 in Lee County. Mary Stevens Burk died October 30, 1846. John Burk was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. After he died, his wife applied for a pension for his service in the war. I would like a copy of this pension grant and I also want to have the date of death of each of their children.

The children were Lydia Burke born January 11, 1788; John Burk, Jr., born January 14, 1790; Catherine Phipps Burk born March 15, 1792, Thomas Burk born September 2, 1793; Robert Burk born September 28, 1797; Lucy Burk Anderson born August 9, 1800, David Burk born April 11, 1804.

Please help me find the information I am looking for

The Circuit Court Clerk in Jonesville told me Bashie Kincaid might be able to help me.

If you have any information on the Burk family would you please send it to me

Sunday School Lesson

[illegible] ISRAEL

Within sight of the Promised Land, Moses reviewed the years of God's leadership of His chosen people with the hope that these reminders might cause them to cherish and to obey the commands of God.

Deuteronomy 6: 20-25

Anticipating that the time would arrive when new generations of Israelites in Canaan would ask for an explanation as to why they were required to obey God's commandments, wisdom demanded that their elders prepare themselves to impart the proper teachings to their children. God is concerned that alert and inquiring youngsters receive the correct answers to their questions about His dealings with those who have lived previously.

1. The Request. Deuteronomy 6: 20

God expects His people to instruct their children concerning the meaning of the testimonies, statutes and judgments involved in their religious life. When the child asks, "What mean the testimonies?", he is entitled to a plain and pointed answer. When children ask a reason for the observance of the divine statutes, parents should give them an intelligent and correct answer.

2. The Response. Deuteronomy 6: 21-23

We have here an express injunction that in every generation the Israelites should carefully acquaint their children with the facts of their history and inform them as to why God commanded them to observe these statutes. Full explanation of the whys and wherefores requires thought, study and time on the part of parents who would impart the information correctly and effectively to their children.

3. The Reason. Deuteronomy 6: 24-25.

Accurate accounts of how God had dealt with them, as, for example, on the occasion of His deliverance of the children of Israel from their bondage in Egypt, and the appropriate recollection of such events, in a manner which gives the glory to God, where it rightly belongs, will strengthen faith and cause people to look to Him in time of need and to thank Him in every triumph. "Hitherto the Lord hath helped" means that henceforth we may count and depend on Him. Because of His faithfulness in the past, all of us should be encouraged to trust God in the future. Parents must not fail to instruct their children in the divine truths. If they do, it will not be done by others. Unless parents are concerned about the spiritual welfare of their children, they do their offspring an irreparable injury.

Deuteronomy 7: 6-11

From all the peoples of the earth God chose the Israelites, set them apart from others, and commanded them to live in compliance with His commandments. In His choice of the Israelites, as in His selection of you and me, God took the initiative. Christ expressed this idea in John 15: 16. "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you." God chose the Israelites to be a holy people, and set them apart for a particular purpose, but He did not select them in order that they might indulge in self-prise. Being holy in nature, character and practice, God required His people to be holy too. To this end God demanded that they refrain from all of the idolatrous practices of the heathen. He forbade their intermarriage with the heathen. In order to prevent them from worshipping the gods of the heathen, God commanded the Israelites to destroy the altars and idols of the heathen, and to remain loyal and faithful to Him. God wanted them to live by the requirements set forth in the covenant, and they were assured of wonderful blessings through doing so.

Lee County Library Hours, Firing To Be Questioned

Odell Wilson, County Administrator, will ask the Board of Supervisors to question the necessity of closing the Lee County Public Library on Sundays and Mondays and the firing of Ms. Gloria Dye, a part-time employee, during the next Board of Trustees meeting.

"What we are hoping for is to get the library open seven days a week and keep the people there," said Wilson. "I would hope things could be cut and not people. My recommendation is to cut back on other things, not hours and people. I'm hoping that when the Board of Trustees (of the Lonesome Pine Regional Library System) meets again, we can iron out the problems."

Wilson believes that Health Services and the Library are two of the most important services offered to the 26,000 citizens of Lee County. (An estimated 75% of the people, who use the library, use the Pennington Gap Branch with the remaining 25% using the Rose Hill Extension Library.)

"What I hope to see, once we review, is that we can point out savings and keep the people there," said Wilson In addition to possible savings, Wilson pointed out that overall funding is up in several ways. For example, this year's grant-in-aid by the state government now totals $180,369.

If the firing of Ms. Dye goes through, her dismissal will represent a cutback of 20% of the present work force. The work load will fall upon the shoulders of two full time employees and various CETA aids.

In addition to the many volumes of fiction and non-fiction, both adults and juvenile, the Pennington Gap Branch Library also provides the following services:

--A meeting room is offered for use free-of-charge to any nonprofit organization wishing to provide educational, cultural or civic events. It is equipped with a sink, stove, and cabinets. In the past, the meeting room has been used extensively by the Girl Scouts, Brownie Troops, and Radio Club, the AARP and the local Women's Clubs.

--The library not only has the standard reference books on many varied fields, but also may find just the book needed through the inter-library loan system. The library's extensive genealogy section is supplemented by the ability to order more information from the Federal Archives of Genealogy.

--During the school year, the library has a "Story-time" preschool program for three to five-year-olds which is offered two morn-

Handicaps Unlimited Open House At "The Junction" Very Successful

A steady flow of people visited the recreation center for the handicapped citizens of Southwest Virginia in Duffield last Sunday during "the Junction's" first open house

According to Charles Bledsoe, Coordinator of Handicaps Unlimited, the most impressed visitor of the day was the special guest, Orby Cantrell, member Virginia House of Delegates representing House Legislative District I, who spent several hours visiting with everyone at the center. Cantrell was quoted as saying that "The Junction was something the area really needed." He also assured those present that he would do everything in his power to help the handicapped citizens in his area.

"We wanted the public to know who we are and what we have done for the physically handicapped of Southwest Virginia," said Bledsoe. "This project has been lacking for a long time ... each person wants and needs to be creative and enjoy being productive. If we had funding, there would be no limit to what we could accomplish."

The open houes was highlighted by the Home Medical Supply Company of Bristol which presented a display of equipment for the handicapped and the

Judge Appoints Commissioners

Samuel E. Coleman, Circuit Court Judge, has appointed George L. Cridlin and Birg E. Sergent to act as commissioners of the court in determining the validity of a petition which is responsible for a county-wide referendum scheduled for August 18 in which Lee Countians would vote for changing its present County Board Form of government to the Traditional Board Form of Government.

The petition's approximate 2300 signatures are being questioned in three areas: 1. The qualification of each signee as a qualified voter in Lee County elections, 2. The "genuineness" of each signature and 3. The number of qualified voters signing The appointees are also assigned to determine any other related matter deemed pertinent by the court.

These appointments are a result of a counter-petition which was submitted by H. Ronnie Montgomery

Positive Response Brings Baby Home

Thanks to the positive response of those who care, Dallas Joseph Ketron has come home.

According to Mrs. Barbara Ashburn, enough money had been raised by Friday to pay for the $800 breathing monitor which was required before Dallas Joseph could come home.

Dallas, who was born May 7, weighing only 3 lbs. 2 ozs., now weighs 7 lbs. 1 oz. He has easily adjusted to his new environment where his parents' love and care will help him grow in many ways.

A special thanks to all who donated their time, effort and especially all who donated to the S.I.D. Baby fund.

Sheriff's Report

Lee County Sheriff's Department Investigator Charles Janeway reported the following arrests

Clinton Brooks, 40, of Church Ave., Pennington Gap, was arrested Sunday afternoon for allegedly breaking and entering the residence of George Davidson. Two guns, a high powered rifle and a shot gun, were recovered by the arresting officers, Charles Janeway and Deputy Dale Young A preliminary hearing is scheduled for July 29

Jay Brooks, 52, was arrested Sunday afternoon for allegedly being drunk in public. The arrest followed a report of someone shooting cattle on the farm of George Jones near Route 58, however, the two guns found in Brooks' possession showed no evidence of being recently fired. There was no evidence of any cattle being shot and no charges were filed for firing a gun at livestock

Jeffery Lynn Collins, 19, of Keokee was arrested Sunday night for the alleged statutory rape of a 14 year old girl. The incident reportedly occurred after both parties had been drinking beer supplied by Collins. An arraignment is scheduled for July 30.

Look Out Detroit ... Goatmobile Has Arrived

Experimental Model Gets 200 MPB

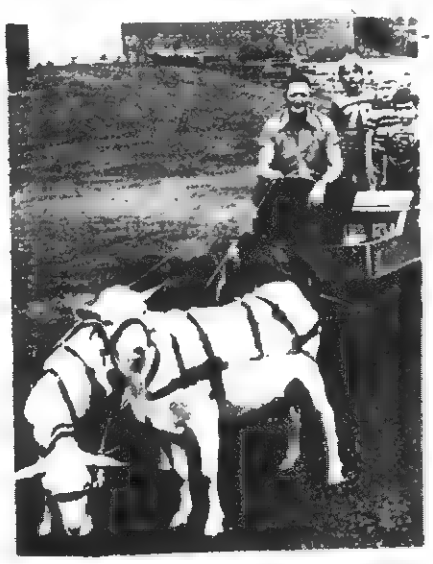
While American car makers are busily searching for ways to achieve better mileage from their internal combustion engine models, Jonesville's Ransom Fitts has come up with a mode of transportation which he claims will get about 200 MPB (Miles Per Bushel) of corn

Fitts has been secretly experimenting for five years with a model that features a convertible top, wheelbarrow type wheels, custom made frame and harness.

After many miles of test driving on the Town Branch Test Track, he says his model is durable, economical, and has received a highly favorable response from the younger drivers.

The secret to the model's high mileage is considered Top Secret information, however, we suspect that the engine's fuel source may be the key. It has been reported, but not confirmed, that the engine uses tin cans for fuel.

Ransom hopes to present his sport model to the public by giving Santa Claus a lift during Jonesville's next Christmas Parade.



Ransom Fitts gives a test ride to Robert Cody, Jason Cave, and Brandon Elkins.

ings each week. In the summer, these children may attend the Reading Club which includes a free movie shown on Thursdays from 2 till 4 p.m.

--The library is a regular subscriber to six local newspapers and two out-of-state newspapers. It also subscribes to nearly 70 magazines and periodicals.

--The Listening Room is equipped with audio and visual equipment and has a large selection of filmstrips, 8-tracks, cassettes, and albums. The microfilm reader may be used to view the last three decades of the national census and the last 61 years of the Powell Valley News.

--The most used section of the library is the Paperback Book Section where there is no limit on the number of books checked out.

--Additional reference material includes the Thomas Register (address of companies), phone books (for major cities in the East and Midwest), and Road Atlases (of the U.S. and some foreign countries.)

--The juvenile section has a variety of puzzles, games, and comics for all ages.

--The library's walls and other display areas are open to artists wishing to display their work. The library's art collection, excluding sculpture, is available for loan.

--In addition to answering reference questions over the phone, the library personnel give tours of the library to groups and show a movie on library use.

The library is presently open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12 noon until 8:30 p.m. and on Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. It is closed on Sundays and Mondays.

blind. They also presented a door prize which was won by Carol Hall of Duffield.

The Junction is located on Old U.S. Highway 23 in the former Bowens Cafe building. Local merchants, carpenters, and the Rye Cove High School Vocational Education classes worked together in providing the building with bathrooms, ramps, and an unloading dock to assist the handicapped in getting in or out of the building.

Since this project is not funded by any local, state, or federal agency, the money needed to provide rent and supplies, such as yarn, macrame, and other recreational needs, has been raised through yard sales, bake sales, and quilt raffles. The parents of the handicapped now provide the transportation to and from the center.

"Eventually, we hope to have a van on a five days-per-week system," said Bledsoe. The Junction is now open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The future plans of the center are offering more and finer details of the present services, opening five days per week, and individualized activities according to that person's needs.

The immediate need is for the handicapped people of Southwest Virginia to be counted. Anyone who is handicapped or knows of a handicapped person is urged to contact the Handicapped Unlimited Office in Jonesville by calling Charles or Pat Bledsoe at 346-1843 or 346-1232. This survey of handicapped people in Lee, Wise and Scott Counties, and the city of Norton, is part of the "Needs Assessment Survey" which will be used to tell the Federal Government exactly how many handicapped people live in the area.

"If we had funding, we would be better able to serve the needs of the community," said Bledsoe. "Someday, we hope to serve the residents in their home counties. For now, this one center must serve all three counties and one city."

There will be a Public Meeting to inform the general public of the goals, services, and the purpose of Handicaps Unlimited on July 28 at the Lee County Public Library at 7 p.m.

Pine" in Big Stone Gap.

This year the producers of the drama have instituted a policy of a reduced price admission to senior citizens with identification. Now senior citizens will be admitted to the drama on any night for only $3.50 which is a 12 percent savings over the regular $4.00 admission.

Many senior citizens enjoy the drama especially because it brings to mind fond childhood memories of life in the mountains during the boom days of the early 1900's.

More music has been added to the drama this year as it weaves the story of the feuding Tollivers and Falins each Thursday, Friday and Saturday through August at the playhouse located on Clinton Avenue.

The drama is sponsored by the non-profit Lonesome Pine Arts and Crafts, Inc., and is staged by an all-volunteer cast and [illegible]

July Picnic For Lovelady DAR

Lovelady Chapter DAR met on Saturday, July 18th, 12:00 noon in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church in Pennington Gap, Virginia for their annual picnic with Mrs. M.H. Robbins, Misses Jane Robbins and Ida Stacy as hostesses.

Mrs. Anne Lanningham offered the blessing; The Pledge of the Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America; the American Creed, and The Daughters Pledge to the Flag was given. Rebecca Robbins led the singing of the National Anthem, Mrs. Fannie Hatcher pianist.

After lunch the Regent Anna Ford Kelly declared the meeting open for business. The President General's message was read by Ruth Rhea, The National Defense report and minutes of the last meeting were read by Ida Stacy. One new member was accepted by the chapter pending acceptance by the NSDAR.

The program on DAR Schools was given by Ruth Carter. She presented slides on Hindman Settlement School in Knott County Kentucky and Tamassee school in Alabama, which was very interesting and informative.

The meeting place and hostesses for our next meeting was not given as the new program calendar had not been made up.

Quilt Festival At Cumberland Gap Park

The Fourth Annual Cumberland Gap Quilt Festival will be held at Cumberland Gap National Historical Park, on Sunday, August 2. Regional quilters may display their work between 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on the Visit or Center lawn. Everyone is welcome to visit or participate in this free exhibition of local talent.

The 1981 Festival hopes to revive and perpetuate traditional quilting in the mountains by allowing regional quilters the opportunity to display their artistic skills and to share ideas and techniques. Quilters are encouraged to demonstrate their work during the festival. A special antique display area will be available to show quilts produced before 1930. This will give all you ladies a chance to hunt up Grandma's beautiful old pattern that was pieced and quilted so lovingly long ago and show it to the hundreds of visitors we expect to visit our quilt show. A quilt competition will offer ribbons and cash prizes for First, Second, and Third place winners. Although several quilts may be displayed by each exhibitor, only two can be entered in competition. To qualify for competition, quilts must be completely handmade and must be made by the exhibitor. Quilters need to register their quilts for competition or display no later than 10:00 a.m. on the morning of the Festival.

Anyone interested in participating at the Festival should contact the Festival organizers for specific information on competition, exhibitions, and demonstrations. A brochure describing the event is available for quilters and the public at the Park Visitor Center, P.O. Box 840, Middlesboro, Kentucky, 40965, telephone (606) 248-2817.

COMMITMENT IN WORSHIP

Regardless of the place in which they may be residing, all of God's children should worship Him sincerely, faithfully and regularly. In so doing they please and honor God, wield a wholesome influence in the lives of others, and derive spiritual enrichment for themselves.

Deuteronomy 12: 5-12

Aware that the Isrealites would soon be entering the land of Canaan, and there dwell in safety, Moses proceeded to give them some much-needed instruction concerning the vital matter of their proper worship of the true and living God and their avoidance of the influence of the Canaanites who worshipped other gods. Moses stressed the importance of their compliance with God's will in establishing a central place of worship, and then of using it in the summer which would please and honor Him. They were encouraged to acknowledge God's goodness and graciousness in the bringing to that place of worship the offerings, sacrifices and tithes which were required of God's children. As God's spokesman, Moses did his best to persuade the Israelites to avert the strong temptation to worship improperly. Moses besought them to conform to the expressed will of God whom they worshipped. All of God's children should worship Him according to His directions.

The realization that their peaceful and delightful occupancy of Canaan was a gift of the gracious God which was intended to evoke a spirit of thanksgiving for which they would strive to express it in an acceptable manner. Genuine gratitude to God for blessings received is a great stimulus to worship of the Giver. God's children, who in recognition of His sovereignty and in acknowledgment of His goodness present their sacrifices, tithes and offerings to Him when they worship in His sanctuary, always derive great joy from so doing. Giving is a tangible expression of commitment to God and love for Him. Those who love God worship Him with their tithes and offerings, and consider it a joyous privilege to do so. Those who worship God and have intimate fellowship with Him are the recipients of great joy and numerous other blessings. God's Word repeatedly teaches us the value, importance and privilege of demonstrating our love for God through our faithfulness in using our substance in the support of His work.

Deuteronomy 14: 27-29

Having been reminded that God is the source and the sustainer of life, the Israelites were taught that a real consciousness of God in their lives should give them an accompanying sense of their stewardship. They were instructed that their faithfulness in stewardship would cause them to become the recipients of numerous blessings, but unfaithfulness on their part would deprive them of the blessings which they needed and wanted.

On the part of the Israelites there was to be a grateful recognition of God as the source of all their mercies, under whose care their land produced bountifully. Also, they were to recognize themselves as God's devoted servants who were obligated to worship Him faithfully, by bringing to Him the first tenth of their produce for use in His service.

Those who lived a considerable distance from Jerusalem were instructed to turn their produce into cash, which could easily be taken to the central place of worship and there be used appropriately in the light of the existing needs.

This second tithe was peculairly the Lord's. Its first use was to provide food for the offerers themselves. To this feast, in which the entire household shared, they were to invite the Levite, the stranger, the widow and the orphan, who were objects of charity. The tithe that was dedicated to the Lord as an act of worship was channeled to meet human need. Giving to share the gospel at home and abroad, and to care for people who have been less fortunate, brings joy to the hearts of those who truly love and serve God.

Cookin' Corner

Thanks, Judy for your zucchini recipes. Since this is the season to reap the harvest of your garden we hope you try these, they are delicious. Send your favorite recipe to Powell Valley News, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Virginia 24277.

Zucchini Milano

2 Tbsp. Butter or Margarine
1 Cup Canned Tomatoes or 1 Large Tomato
1 Cup Grated Cheddar Cheese
¼ Cup Chopped Pepper
½ Tsp. Oregano
¼ Cup Chopped Onions
3 Medium Zucchini, sliced

Melt butter in a large skillet. Add onions and green pepper, add oregano. Saute vegetables until tender. Add zucchini and cover. Cook over low heat until tender for about 15 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, then fold in cheese. Cook slowly until cheese melts. Serves 6.

Zucchini Chocolate Cake

½ Cup Soft Margarine
1¾ Cup Sugar
1 Tsp. Vanilla
2 Cups Chopped Zucchini
4 Tbsp. Cocoa
½ Tsp. Nutmeg
1 Tsp. Soda
½ Cup Vegetable Oil
2 Eggs
½ Cup Sour Cream
2½ Cups Flour
½ Tsp. Cinnamon
½ Tsp. Baking Soda

Mix margarine, vegetable oil and sugar. Add eggs, vanilla, sour cream and zucchini. Mix well. Add dry ingredients. Mix. Put in 8x11 inch loaf pan. Bake at 325° for 45 minutes or until cake is done in the middle.

When Your Child Begins School

You may not be thinking about school during the summer vacation, but probably your pre-schooler is. In fact pre-schoolers with older brothers and sisters may have been asking for a long time when they could go to school.

Other pre-schoolers, however, are a bit nervous about leaving their homes and parents. To them, it's no adventure. It's scary.

The National Institute of Mental Health notes that there are a number of things you can do to help your child through this transition. For a free fact-sheet called Plain Talk About When Your Child Begins School, send your name and address on a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept 519J, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

First, recognize that, while the day your child first goes off to school is an important event, it's not something you need to talk about all summer. If your child asks about school, answer the questions honestly and completely, but otherwise, don't bring it up.

The time to start explaining to your child what to expect is a week or two before school begins. Do this with enthusiasm. If you show positive feelings about school, your child will pick them up.

One of the things to talk about is how the child will get to school. If the school is within walking distance, walk the route a few days before school starts. And, if you can, go with the child the first few days of school, even if there are older children walking the same route. A parent's hand is almost as good as a security blanket.

If your child will be going by bus, wait with the child to help identify the right one. Once the bus arrives, be direct. Say goodbye and allow the child to board alone. If the child cries, try not to overreact. In most cases, your child's tears will soon disappear.

If you are working and your child will not be coming directly home after school, make sure your child understands the arrangements beforehand. If possible, both of you should go to see the place and meet the people with whom your child will be staying.

If your child should say, "I don't want to go to school," don't argue, but discuss the child's fears. Then tell the child that there is no choice, since going to school is a matter of law. If you are positive and straight-forward, you and your child should be able to get over this hump.

To learn more, send for a copy of Plain Talk About When Your Child Begins School (free), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by, the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Catalog lists over 200 selected free and low-cost federal consumer booklets.

LPH Has New Monitoring Equipment

New cardiac monitoring equipment has recently been installed in the Special Care Unit at Lonesome Pine Hospital. This new monitoring equipment enables three intensive care patients to have cardiac monitoring and also allows three other patients to be monitored in varied locations throughout the Hospital by means of a telemetry transmitter. Telemetry monitors aid in the observation of heart rhythm and rate without confining the patient to an intensive care setting. With both the intensive care monitors and telemetry monitors, an additional piece of special care equipment called "Cardio Memory" was added. Sixty seconds of memory or "instant replay" on each patient provided by the Cardio Memory will benefit the staff and physicians in alarm situations, such as cardiac arrest.

This new monitoring equipment and a defibrillator were manufactured and installed by the American Optical Corporation at the cost of $46,000.

Green, Moore Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jeffery Moore
(Anita Suzanne Green)

Anita Suzanne Green and Robert Jeffery Moore were united in marriage June 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Paul Methodist Church, Knoxville, Tenn. with the Reverend Randy Frye officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. James Frederick Green of Knoxville, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs. Harry M Fugate, Sr of Ewing, Virginia and the late James Bobby Moore.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown, made of white Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin. The gown featured a bateau neckline appliqued with flowers. The veil was of illusion trimmed with Chantilly lace and held by a Juliet cap. She carried a nosegay of silk flowers surrounding a gardenia.

Serving the bride as maid-of-honor was Carolyn Denise Green of Knoxville, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cynthia Green Hodges of Knoxville, sister of the bride; Kathy Diane Stone of Columbus, Ohio; and Connie Lynn O'Neal of Fayetteville, Tenn., cousins of the bride. The attendants were attired in silk gowns of pastel blue, peach, green, and yellow with matching chiffon capes. They carried nosegays of silk flowers. Sister of the groom, Denise Moore, kept the guest book.

The groom's uncle, Mark Lee Brooks of Pound, Virginia, served his nephew as best man. The groomsmen were Harry M. Fugate, Jr. of Ewing, step brother of the groom; Steve Travis of Harrogate, Tenn.; and Greg Mathews of Rutledge, Tenn. Head usher was Ralph Bandy, Jr. of Big Stone Gap, Va., and ushers were Gus Nennstiel of Walland, Tenn., and James Green, Jr. of Knoxville, brother of the bride.

The wedding reception, given by the bride's parents, followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the St. Paul Methodist Church.

The bride attended University of Tenn. and was employed by the St. Paul Methodist Church. The groom, a Petty Officer 2nd class in the Navy, graduated from Hiwassee College and attended Clinch Valley College.

Following a wedding trip to the east coast, the couple will reside in Pensacola, Florida where the groom is stationed at the U.S Naval Air Station.

Care Of House Plants During Vacation

A vacation for the indoor plant grower doesn't have to be a stressful period for the plants.

There are several actions that can be taken to insure healthy plants.

One method is to take the plants outside and sink the pots directly into the ground up to the rim of the pot in a shady or semi-shady area. Weekly waterings are usually sufficient except in the hot part of the summer.

Or, use a plastic bag as a greenhouse. Soak the pot thoroughly, allow it to drain, and then place the potted plant in a plastic bag. Tie the opening tightly.

House plants may be kept in good condition for up to five or six weeks this way.

Two or more sticks inserted in the soil before the bag is put into place will support the plastic like a tent and prevent it from resting on the plants.

Another method is to rely on old-fashioned neighborliness by arranging to swap plant-sitting responsibilities during vacations.

Southwest Virginia Museum Seeks Funds

For some time the Southwest Virginia Museum at Big Stone Gap has been facing some problems that often befall Old Age.

The structure was built as the home of Attorney General Rufus A. Ayers between 1888 and 1893. It was later purchased by Congressman C. Bascom Slemp, who served in this capacity during the period from 1907 to 1923.

The collection for a family museum was begun by Mrs. Janie Slemp Newman, the Congressman's sister. Those included books by local authors, portraits, original furnishings of the home, and costumes at the turn of the century.

The collection was further developed by Mr. Slemp to serve as a local museum. Upon his death in 1943 the structure and its contents were bequeathed to the Commonwealth of Virginia. For many years it was operated under the Historic Landmarks Department, but is now under the State Parks Commission, which -- like numerous other organizations is facing a financial deficit.

Sturdy as the old stone building is -- there is a great need for repairs. The roof is in poor condition, as well as the interior. For nearly half a century the Daughters of the American Revolution and the United Daughters of the Confederacy have maintained a room each in the historic building, where they have placed period furniture, chapter record, and memorabilia. These are also now badly in need of repairs, and restoration, particularly wall coverings, draperies, and carpet. The loyal members of the Wise and Lee County Chapters have responded with generous donations. So has the Historical Society of Southwest Virginia. Recently a nice donation was received from Mrs. W.E. Campbell of Richmond, Va., for the U.D.C. Room in memory of her father, Mr. Samuel H. Duff, a Confederate soldier. Mrs. Campbell (Elizabeth Anderson) will be remembered as a former Lee County teacher, a long-time school librarian in Tidewater Virginia, and author of juvenile books. Her husband, W.E. Campbell, also a native Lee Countian, served many years in Virginia School administration, finally ascending to the high office of State Superintendent of Public Schools, where he served until retirement. (He is now deceased).

Anyone wishing to send donations for the preservation of these two rooms in the Southwest Virginia Museum may mail them to: Mrs. Anna Barron Morris, 306 Pearl Avenue, Big Stone Gap, Va. 24219.

Five Generations At Smith Reunion

George Washington Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Smith hosted a Smith Reunion at their home in Ewing, on July 4. It was an attempt to get together once again the descendants of Robert's great-grandfather, George Washington Smith and wife Jerusha Unthank who moved to White Shoals District in Lee County, from Harlan County, a few years before the turn of the nineteenth century.

Descendants of seven of their twelve children attended the reunion, those seven being, Mrs. Rufus (Louise) King of the Pennington Gap area; Mrs. Steve (Laura) Cawood of the Harlan and Pineville, Ky. area; Mrs. Gip (Sarah Elizabeth) Carter, Mr. Henry M. Smith, and Mr. Creed F. Smith of the Flatwoods or Jonesville area; Mr. Marion Smith of the Harlan and Middlesboro, and Harrogate area; and Mr. Willie Smith of the Harlan Co. area, formerly a resident of Rose Hill

The other five children not represented were Noble and David Smith of Washington State, Mrs. Clint(Gertrude) McDowell of Baltimore, MD., Mr Finley Smith and Mrs Billy (Nancy) Rice of Harlan, Ky. One son, Ewell Smith, died in infancy.

A bountiful picnic was enjoyed by the sixty-seven direct descendants and related family members present, who also had a great time visiting, taking pictures, and looking at pictures of other reunions and early family pictures on display.

One was a picture of the first reunion of the Washington Smith family held on July 5, 1926, and included nine of the living children and their families, a total of ninety-nine present. At that time, one daughter was deceased, Mrs. Gip(Sarah Elizabeth) Carter, of the Jonesville area: David and Noble were living in Washington State, and Mrs. Clint (Gertrude) McDowell in Baltimore, MD.

The oldest member present was Mrs. Maud Bales, a niece of George Washington Smith, and daughter of his half brother Creed Fulton Smith who also came to Virginia from Kentucky in 1896 and reared twelve children to maturity

Mrs. Paul Spurlock, a descendant of George Washington Smith's sister Sally (Mrs. Peter Hedrick) was also in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. John Milton, Unthank, Jr., were also present, and he is a great nephew of the Washington Smiths, being a descendant of Mrs. Jerusha Unthank Smith's brother, Ewell Unthank.

The largest representation was from the Willie Smith family which numbered 28 with 16 of them being direct descendants of Willie and his wife Mary Bell Cawood, with three generations represented.

Twenty were present from the Creed F. Smith and wife Nannie Farmer family, including four generations. The fifth generation was Mrs. Maud Bales, niece of George Washington Smith, the only person living in her generation. She prayed a beautiful prayer in behalf of every family member

A beautiful table grace was also given by Francis Edwards of Columbia, Ohio, grandson of former Olin Smith and wife Gladys Robinson, formerly of Rose Hill

Assisting the Robert F. Smiths in planning and carrying out the reunion was his cousin Bill Smith and wife Heide of Princeton Ky. Bill is the son of the former Virgil Smith, and Robert F. is the son of the former Omar Smith.

George Washington Smith had two sisters, Sally (Mrs. Peter Hedrick) and Elizabeth, or Betsy Ann(Mrs. Edmund Howard); and three half brothers, and one half sister. They were Creed Fulton Smith, Rose Hill; David Smith and Henry Smith, Harlan, Ky., and Mary (Mrs. Van Carter) of Hopkinsville, Ky. Their father was Noble Smith, land owner in KY.

Plans are in the making to enlarge the family reunion, possibly in 1985 to include all the descendants of Noble Smith and his first wife, Nancy Ledford, and second wife, Mary Morgan; as well as descendants of Noble Smith's sisters.

Noble Smith lived most of his life in Harlan County, Ky., and was the only son of David Smith who came to the U.S. from Ireland around 1810. Noble had five sisters and their descendants include Burkharts and Halls in Lee County and Harlan County. Nothing is known of the ones who married a Sweeden, a Page, and a Thompson.

Eleven grandsons and granddaughters of George Washington Smith were present as follows: Mrs. Verda Miller and Mrs. Ada Rector of Middlesboro; Mrs. Eva King, Pennington Gap; Mr. Murrell Cawood, Pineville, Ky , Mr Cawood Smith, Mrs. Eva Parks, and Miss Jenny Smith, all of Harlan Co., Ky., Mr. Lewie Smith, Kingsport, Mr. Kermit Smith, and Mr. Oscar W. Smith of Rose Hill, and Mrs. Bess Livesay of Charleston, West Virginia

The great-grand sons and daughters of the Washington Smiths present were Dennis Smith, Middlesboro, Steve Cawood and Amanda Cawood Brookings, Pineville, Shirley King, Pennington Gap, Billie Mae Barker, Ormond Beach, Florida; Mary Edwards, and Janette Galloway, Chillicothe, Ohio; James David Smith, Cincinnati, Ohio; Jim Smith, Frankfort, Ky., Bill Smith, Princeton, Ky , Robert F Smith and Larry Smith, Ewing, Lisa Smith, Barboursville, Ky., Gregg Smith, Harlan, Georgia Stambaugh, Gettysbury, PA, Neva Burchett, Cayuga, Ind., Claude Glass and Janet Munsey, Rose Hill

The great-great-grandsons and daughters of the Washington Smiths present were Beth Cawood and Mandy Cawood of Pineville, Ky., Francis Edwards of Columbiana, Ohio; Melissa Smith, Cincinnati, Ohio; David Smith, Frankfort, Billy Smith, Keith Smith and Jeremy Smith, all of Ewing, Kermit Stambaugh, Taneytown, Md., Sandi Marie Burchett, Cayuga, Ind., and Sherri Pickard, Chillicothe, Ohio.

Three great-great-great grandchildren were present for the reunion. They were Timmy, Michelle, and Amanda Stambaugh of Taney Town, Md.

This names the 42 direct descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Washington Smith that attended the reunion. The remaining 25 attending were husbands, wives and other relatives, a very important, part of the Smith families.

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Last Sunday night was "Youth Night" at Jonesville First Baptist Church. Buddy Presley, Minister of Education and Youth, was in charge of the singing of the youth choir, and led a medley of songs with his guitar accompaniment. Carlotta Bush led the congregation singing. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kroeker and son Ken from the Covenant Mountain Mission, Wallens Creek, attended the services, and brought two nice young ladies with them. These talented ladies played the piano and sang. Pat Downs and Cheri Swan are here from North Park College, Chicago, to attend the Covenant Mountain Mission Camp and spend a part of their summer vacation in this area.

Pat and Cheri must be doing everything right from the testimonies they gave. Each told of how they enjoyed this part of Lee County, the mountains, valleys, people, etc., so different from what they have in Chicago. Cheri and Buddy performed a skit of, "The Lord's Prayer," with Cheri praying and being answered by the voice of God, off stage, in which she and Buddy carried on an interesting conversation. We know these girls will go far in their missionary work. Our prayers are with them

—Rev. Terry Williams, Friendship Baptist Church pastor, was the guest minister at the Senior Center Monday, and brought a message, "God Supplying Our Every Need," taken from Philippians 4:19, "But my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Mrs. Martha Mink played the piano for the singing. Rev. Williams stayed for the covered-dish luncheon which followed.

Also, at the Center Monday was a representative from the Client Centered Legal Services of Southwest Virginia, Inc., speaking about the different kinds of insurances and what a person should watch out for when approached by someone selling insurance.

—Florence and Marvin James spent last weekend in Chattanooga, Tn., with Marvin's sister and brother-in law, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Smith. Mr. Smith has been in the hospital suffering from a heart attack but is recuperating and doing well at home.

—Florence and Marvin James have enjoyed having their daughter, Mrs. Diane Jenks, Wickliffe, Ohio, spend the past week with them.

—Several senior citizens took time out from the activities at the Center to go bowling at Sunny Acres Tuesday.

—Mrs. Lillie Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumgardner were visitors in Big Stone Gap, Thursday.

—Lillie Carroll, Ida Carroll, and Gaynelle Baumgardner were visiting in Dryden, Friday.

—Mr. Frank Oxford, Jonesville, was admitted to Lonesome Pine Community Hospital, Big Stone Gap, Thursday. His niece, Mrs. Pattie Wallen, was visiting him.

—Some in Lee County Hospital are Reba Reasor, Ray Harris, Roscoe Reynolds, Mae Shackleford, and Audrey Dotson.

—Mr. Bruce Conn passed away in Lonsome Pine Hospital, Friday night, after a lengthy illness.

—Mrs. Joan Cox and Darla Millaway of Cleveland, Tn., are house guests of Joan's mother, Mrs. Ida Carroll, this week. They are visiting relatives and friends.

—Ida Carroll, Lillie Carroll, Joan Cox, Darla Millaway, and Lorene Terry were visiting in Dryden Sunday. They also, visited Mrs. Cora Howard, June and Joe Napier of Pennington.

ARMOUR VERIBEST PORK

The Armour Veribest Pork Story

The Veribest pork story starts with the live hog. The common ingredient in all Veribest products is the SELECT Meat-Type hog. Armour purchases Veribest pork from only those hogs designated by an experienced hog evaluator to be Meat-Type hogs. Each pork processing plant has one or more evaluators on the kill floor to grade each hog immediately after slaughtering. Only the SELECT yielding hogs will be designated for Veribest and the evaluator will make a blue mark on each qualifying primal cut. The evaluator assures you Armour value-added pork products come from SELECT Meat-Type hogs and are recently graded at time of cut and then trimmed to a specification. The foods are that with today's hogs, a large equal loin or four square loin loin eye is not uncommon but SELECT Meat-Type hog can assure you of four square inches or more of loin eye consistently and truly value-added pork products.

Special Sing At Leeman Field

The "Primitive Quartet" from Chandler, N.C., will be special guests of the Christianaire Quartet in celebration of their 10th anniversary. The special singing to be held at Leeman Field in Pennington Gap, on Saturday, August 1, beginning at seven-thirty in the evening.

Grand stand seating will be provided, or bring your own chair. An enjoyable evening for you and your family without admission charges, however, a love offering will be taken.

Food Price Outlook

According to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), food prices in 1981 are expected to average 9 to 11 percent higher than last year, with current indications pointing to an increase of about a tenth. For January March food prices rose at a yearly rate of 9.6 percent, the smallest rise in five years.

Food prices are projected by USDA to rise more rapidly during the summer months than in the first half of this year. The main cause will be reduced pork production leading to increases in the farm value of food. The price spread will widen as well, reflecting higher food marketing cost.

With lower red meat supplies retail beef and pork prices will climb during the next several months. Poultry production will increase but as consumers shift away from higher priced beef and pork, retail poultry prices will also move higher

Potato prices will remain high through the summer, reflecting small supplies. However, production of other fresh vegetables will increase seasonally, pushing prices down. Fresh fruit prices will continue to rise seasonally as citrus supplies decline and apples are drawn from cold storage

With smaller gains in peanut butter prices and large supplies of other fats and oils, the price rise for fats and oils is expected to be less than during the first half of the year Reduced export demand for oilseeds has led to large supplies of other fats and oils, keeping downward pressure on prices.

The forecast for dairy products has been revised downward. Commercial use of milk is down from last year, and production is up because of the larger dairy herd and higher average output per cow. In addition, elimination of the April 1 price - support increase has held down prices

Adventist Vacation Bible School To Start July 27

Children of the community ages 4 to 12 are invited to a two week vacation Bible School at Turner Memorial School, at Winding Stairs between Big Stone Gap and Pennington Gap from July 27 to August 8.

Enrollment will be at 6:15 p.m. on July 27. Classes will meet from 6:30 8:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and will include crafts, stories, and nature study as well as Bible study on the subject, God's Loyal Friends

Primary and junior students will have a special workbook made up of puzzles, completion tests, and other exercises.

Mrs. James Cox of Dryden will be director of the school and Ruth Wilson of East Stone Gap will be crafts director. Assisting in the direction of the program will be James Cox, pastor of the local Adventist church.

Special graduation exercises will be at the close of the two-week period on August 8 at 9:30 a.m. and will end with a fellowship lunch served by the ladies of the church.

Continuing Education Programs Presented

Two medical continuing education programs were recently presented at Lonesome Pine Hospital for the medical staff and for area physicians. Under the auspices of the Division of Medical Education at Roanoke Memorial Hospitals, presentations were made on the topics, "Alternatives to Pharmacological Treatment of Stress," and "Office Orthopedics."

The programs, two in a series designed to provide on-site continuing medical education for physicians, were attended by members of the Hospital Medical Staff and physicians from Wise and Lee Counties. On June 9, Isaac T. Van Patten, IV, a clinical psychologist and counselor, spoke to the doctors on alternatives to pharmacological treatment of stress situations. The second program on office orthopedics was presented by Dr. Robert Pruner, orthopedist. Both of the sessions were arranged by W.H. McAfee, Division of Medical Education, RMH, and the programs met the requirements set by the American Medical Association for continuing education credits for the attending physicians.

Doctors attending the sessions included Drs. Hansen, Sheshadri, Sarathy, Balu, Zahnke, Ford, F. Litton, D. Litton, Sapra, G. Vest, and S. Vest.

Junior Golfers Attend Academy

The Junior Golf Association has selected the following young men to represent the Cedar Hills Country Club at the Tennessee Golf Academy in Fall Creek Falls: Kenny Ingle, Steve Evans, Billy Henry, Dennis Wells, "Rat" Terry, Robert Coffee, Paul Carroll, Richard Sprinkle, and Lynn Livesay.

The Academy is a one week instructional period beginning Sunday, July 19th. Cedar Hill Club Pro Shannon Evans will be a member of that teaching staff. Shannon broke his own Golf-A-Thon record earlier this summer when he played 414 holes in one day and raised $2500 of the $2900 needed to send these ten youngsters to the Academy. The remaining money was raised by the members of the Jr. Golf Association. The Club hopes to be able to send twenty young men to the Academy next year.

C&P Telephone Pays Over $88 Million In Taxes

In 1980, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia paid over $88 million in taxes.

Of this amount, $41 million was paid to the federal government, over $20 million to the state of Virginia and nearly $27 million to local jurisdictions.

In addition, C&P customers paid over $38.7 million in taxes levied on telephone service by cities, towns and counties.

The total tax payment made by C&P and its customers came to $126.7 million.

In Lee County, C&P paid taxes amounting to over $105,000.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Iva Clarkston and I visited our brother, Marion Clarkston and daughter, Marilyn Gardner and her children, Eddie and Tammy near Dryden, last Sunday. Also visiting was a grandson, Craig Quillen of Gate City, who has spent the past week at the Clarkston home.

—Mrs. Chester (Betty) Abbney of Dayton, Ohio and Mrs. George Lakeman of Morristown, Tn., were visitors in Keokee last weekend. They also visited their sister, Florance Kilgore in Exeter, Va.

—Mrs. Irene Jones of Lafollette, Tn., and daughter, Mrs. Karen Winter and family of Tennessee, also a daughter and son-in-law, Judy and Jim Turpin and family of Orange, Texas were in Keokee to attend the high school reunion. While here they visited Mr. and Mrs. James E. McDaniel and other friends.

Attends 4-H Congress

David Hansel and Tim Carter members of the Lee County 4-H Club recently attended the Virginia 4-H Congress held at the Virginia Tech campus. Competitions were held in different areas

David competed in a "Fishing Demonstration". He made a talk on fishing safety. He won third place in the State.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hansel of Keokee. He is a tenth grade student at Keokee Combined School.

Tim Carter competed in the "Live Stock Contest." He was a Live Stock Judge. In his talk he told reasons for judging and the way live stock was judged. Tim also won an award.

Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carter, Jr., of Keokee, and he is a ninth grade student at Keokee Combined School.

—James E. McDaniel attended the funeral services of Mrs Mavis Cook in Bristol, last Wednesday.

Mrs. Cook was preceded in death by her husband, Paul Cook, about six months ago.

—Mr. and Mrs. Echel Edens, Jr., of Bristol, and their son, Eddie Edens of Chicago, Ill., enjoyed lunch and visiting in the after noon Saturday, with Junior's mother, Mrs. Echel Edens, Sr. While they were in Keokee they visited the Edens Cemetery at Keokee, and made pictures.

—Devonna Dinsmore, Lisa Snodgrass, and Rebecca Morris recently spent a day in Kingsport.

—A baby shower was given for Sharon Ellis Barnett on Thursday evening, at the Pleasant Hill fellowship hall. Games and contests were the diversion of the hour.

Sharon was pleased with many nice gifts.

At the conclusion of the party refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mary Ellis, Norma Ellis, Pam Ellis and Nancy Ellis.

—Tommy Parker and wife, Mary Parker have returned to California after spending several days visiting their son and daughter-in law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker and family in Big Stone Gap and also visiting relatives in Keokee. They were former Keokee residents.

—Roger Partin and wife, Judy and their children, Jeffery and Tracy of West Alice, Wisc., spent a week visiting Roger's mother, Mary Partin in Keokee and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Partin and family in Keokee, and his sisters and brothers in law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Stidham and family at Exeter, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker and family in Big Stone Gap.

After visiting here Roger and Judy have been vacationing while Jeffery and Tracy remain with their grandmother They spent a week in Atlanta, Ga., also visited in Baltimore, Md., New Jersey, Washington, D.C., Mexico, and New York They plan to return to Keokee the first of next week

—Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Robert Stidham, 68, of Exeter, who passed away recently

He was a former Keokee resident and had a large number of friends in this area

Birthday Dinner

R.P. Cooper, Jr., of Keokee celebrated his birthday on Saturday. All members of the Cooper family were home to enjoy his birthday dinner and visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cooper on that special day. Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Brown and children, Chris, Kevin and Erin came from Jefferson City, Tn., their daughter, Martha McDaniel and her husband, Bruce McDaniel of Wise, and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cooper and daughter, Rachael of Big Stone Gap.

—Sherri Lynn Hafemeister, daughter of Mrs. Carmelita Hafemeister of Keokee and Isom Caudill, Jr., of Evarts, Ky., were married on July 3, in Harlan County.

The couple is now residing in Evarts, Ky.

Family Reunion

Jimmy and Faye Rickman and sons, Walter and Rickey of Richmond, spent last week visiting with Faye's parents, Walter and Dorthy Smith in Keokee. On Tuesday evening the family met at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Don and Rosalee Adkins in Keokee where they enjoyed a cook-out. Others present for the occasion were Gerald Williams and wife, Darlene and children, Jamie, Laura, and Elizabeth of Dryden, also Tim Smith, Raymond "Bo" Smith and wife, Anne, and son, Alfred Raymond, also Saundra Arnette all of Keokee. Everyone enjoyed a delightful time.

Rickey Rickman graduated from Richmond High School on June 5th, and he will enter VPI at Blacksburg, Va., on September 20, where he will specialize in veterinarian training.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Rickman and sons, Walter and Rickey returned to their home in Richmond, Saturday after spending a wonderful week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith and other relatives in Keokee.

—Mr and Mrs. Gerald Rivers of Springboro, Ohio returned home last Friday after enjoying several days visiting with Gerald's mother, Mrs. Mary Rivers in Appalachia —Jana Short, a student at the University of Kentucky recently sustained a broken arm in an accident while visiting her parents, James and Gloria Short in Owensburg, Ky.

She is now getting along nicely and hopes to accompany her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Short and her brothers, Danny and Dean on a visit with relatives in Keokee this week —Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Arthur Robert Grimes, 76, of Keokee, who died Sunday, July 12, in Ashland, Va., after a short illness.

Mr Grimes resided in Keokee many years and had many friends here who will remember him

—Mary Rivers of Appalachia, enjoyed last week end visiting with her cousin, Josie Napier in Pennington Gap.

Cook eggs at low to moderate temperatures. Overcooking and high heat toughen eggs. To hardcook, place eggs in cold water, bring to boil, cover and turn off heat. Let stand 25 minutes, then plunge in cold water and remove shells.

For children, learning to use money is an important part of growing up. Giving your child an allowance is a good way to help him learn to live within limits and plan for the future. Here are five tips on how to help your child. First, don't tie the allowance to chores or good grades or discipline. That is, don't mix money with love. Chores can still be required as part of family responsibility. Secondly, adjust the allowance for rising prices. Today, a dollar isn't a fortune, even for a six year old. An allowance should be used to cover modest – though not all – expenses. Third, do not allow your child to borrow small amounts against his allowance. This can offer good lessons in savings and credit. Fourth, if financial problems force cutbacks in the family budget, include your child in on discussions about changes in the allowance. Finally don't criticise your child's spending decisions. Remember, "The only way to learn to manage money is to manage money."

Rose Hill Homemakers Club

The Mt. Carmel Presbyterian Women of the Church met in the home of Mrs. Maud Bales on Tuesday the 14th for the regular Bible Study from portions of the Scriptures found in Isaiah, Chapters 50-53, and entitled Exalted Through Suffering.

The opening worship began with the unison reading of hymn, When I Think of His Love For Me, followed by a circle of prayer, which was closed by Mrs. Bales.

Mrs. Charles Emmett, president, also brought a meditation based on St. Matthew 5:14, You are the Light of the World. "When I realize anew that I am a spiritual being", she stated, "I can let Christ's light radiate into my world, and it calms fears and tensions, not only in me, but in the world around me. This light, she concluded, "also brings peace to each of us, and radiates the spirit of Christ through us to others."

The Bible Study was discussed first by Mrs. Emma Campbell on "The Prelude of Suffering", followed by "The Suffering and Triumphant Servant" by Miss Florence Bayless.

Mrs. Janet Munsey shared thoughts on "God Speaks, and the Nation Speaks", concluded by Mrs. Bales that "God Speaks Again".

A summary of the Exaltation in Christ's suffering was explained by the president. First, she stated, "it is the Servant's abundant trust in God that gives him strength to endure suffering until death, and his complete faith that God is on his side, that enables him to face suffering, even though it cost him his life. Also, the servant is willing to suffer - even though he is innocent - because he understands that through his suffering many will find their salvation, and in the process of suffering, the servant is exalted."

At the conclusion of the study, Mrs. Bales, hostess, served refreshments to her guests.

—Mr. and Mrs. Glen Harber of Panama City, Fla., have been visiting relatives and friends in Rose Hill, making it their home base for the summer. After attending a class reunion at Thomas Walker High School on the Fourth, they made a tour of the North Eastern States, going into Canada, and will be visiting in North Carolina and other areas before Mr. Harber's brothers and sisters and their families all gather at Rose Hill for a family reunion on Labor Day.

Mr Harber has traveled in all 50 states of the U.S. but enjoys being in his home town of Rose Hill best of all

—Mrs Virginia Clarkson of Friendsville, Tn., accomanied by her grandson, Timmy Clarkson of Alabama, was guest of her sister, Mrs. Walter Smith for a few days recently, and last Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Max Clarkson of Florence, Ala., was luncheon guest of Mrs. Smith.

—Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Wilder, Lori and John, have returned home after spending a week in Florida at Orlando, Miami, and Disney World.

—Mr. Kyle Hounshell of St. Louis, Missouri, spent a two weeks vacation with his mother, Mrs. Virgie Hounshell, and visited other relatives and friends in the area.

—Miss Debbie Lawson has returned to Birmingham, Ala., after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Lawson. The Lawsons and Mrs. Jerry Hounshell and Jessica spent a few days with her after her return to Alabama.

—Friends are glad to know that Mr. Tommy Short with his family has returned to Rose Hill to make his home after living in Chicago and other cities for several years. Tommy, with other brothers and sisters and their mother, Mrs. Tamer Short were all residents of Rose Hill several years ago. On Wednesday, Mrs. Ada (Harber) Osborne, a former classmate, and Mrs. Eloise Thompson were calling on the Short family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker

40th Wedding Anniversary

Joe and Bertha Baker of route 2, Jonesville celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary July 12 at an open house in Cumberland Bowl Park. The open house was given by their children, Mr. and Mrs. James (Mary) Mahan, Ypsilanti, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs Marvin Baker, Jonesville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baker, Jonesville; and Mr. and Mrs. Neal (Shirley) Mullins, Abingdon

Flowers of red carnations were presented to them by their grandsons, Joe and Michael Baker Invocation was by the oldest grandson, Scott Mahan. A guest book kept by their granddaughter, Rebecca Mahan was later presented to them by their two year old grandson, Seth Mullins

A family barbecue was held at the Baker's home following the open house

Baker is a retired coal miner and his wife a housewife

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

One part of President Reagan's Economic Recovery Plan has yet to be passed by the Congress . . . an across-the-board tax cut in each of the next three years. The House Ways and Means Committee has voted an alternative measure that would reduce taxes fifteen percent over two years.

The Reagan proposal would allow the average American to stay even, and maybe pull a little bit ahead of inflation over the next three or four years. The Committee bill would not even come close to offsetting the expected tax increases due to inflation, bracket creep, and rising social security taxes.

Both sides recognize that a stagnant economy, with declining productivity, and a deteriorating capital investment rate, is detrimental to all economic classes - rich and poor alike. "A rising tide lifts all boats," commented John F. Kennedy nearly twenty years ago in an insight which recognized that a dynamic and innovative economy was the greatest benefactor of the poor.

There can be no "rising tide" of economic activity, however, unless the punitive taxes on initiative and saving are lifted. The devastating combination of high inflation and steeply progressive taxes has served to levy an effective tax rate on investment income of 75 percent ... leaving only 25 percent to the providers of capital. Few businessmen or women are willing to risk their capital and labor to open factories or stores or invest in stocks and bonds when for every one dollar return on their investment, they receive 25 percent after taxes.

Savers are in an even worse position. Alan S. Binder, of the National Bureau of Economic Research, testified recently that income from saving such as dividends or interest is subject to taxes greater than 100 percent when adjusted for inflation. America is one of the few industrial nations that taxes savings twice: first, the income saved is taxed at rates up to 50 percent when earned; and second, the interest or dividends arising from saving is taxed at rates up to 70 percent. Not surprisingly, the U.S. has one of the lowest saving rates in the Western world

In the current Congressional debate, all parties are convinced that a substantial tax cut is necessary. The controversy lies in the size and duration of the reductions. If business investment and personal savings are to be stimulated, the assurance of a tax reduction over a number of years is crucial. I believe it will take a three-year, sustained program to make the Economic Recovery Program work for all Americans.

Health For All

Communities planning observances for the International Year of Disabled Persons (IYDP) today were urged by the American Lung Association to remember those with breathing disabilities.

Chronic lung diseases are a major health problem, ranking second among causes of disability in this country, the voluntary health agency noted. But because victims of emphysema and chronic bronchitis often do not have visible handicaps their problems may be overlooked.

According to federal statistics, most of those disabled by lung diseases are men, half of them younger than 65. Thus, many are fathers, husbands and wage-earners. Since chronic obstructive lung diseases run a protracted course, not only the victims, but their families suffer incalculable misery.

Disability from crippled lungs ranges from shortness of breath serious enough to limit normal activity to damage so severe the victim requires continuous oxygen. For these individuals, even tying a shoelace can be a struggle.

The United Nations designates an "international year" on behalf of a particular group every two years. Previous observances have focused on women and children.

In this country, the US Council for the IYDP -- of which the American Lung Association is a national partner -- is working with the 50 state governors, more than 1,600 communities and nearly 300 organizations. Goals for the disabled include expanded opportunities in education and employment; greater social and recreational participation; access to housing, buildings and transportation; and accident and disease prevention. Flying The Ultralight ... Fantastic!

After the Wright Brothers flew their plane across the sands at Kitty Hawk, the aviation industry has continuously built bigger, more powerful planes. However, thanks to today's new materials and better engineering, a lone pilot may get airborne in a plane that weighs less than the pilot.

Pat Osborn of Dryden is the first ultralight aircraft pilot in this area. While he does not weigh more than the plane he pilots, he comes close.

His plane is a "Super Hummer" B-model manufactured by Franklin Manufacturing Co. of Glen Rock, Pa. It has a wing span of 34 feet and is 18 feet long. The power source is a 250cc, 2-cycle Zenoah 22 horsepower engine. The aircraft's maximum speed is approximately 60 mph and cruises at 45 to 50 mph. It uses regular automobile gasoline from a 5-gallon tank. With an estimated fuel consumption of 1-¾ gallons per hour of flying, the range is around 450 miles. (Since aviation fuel is almost $2.00 a gallon in some areas, its flying range of 450 miles is an economical 450 miles.) For an option, Pat equipped his plane with an engine reduction unit which provides more engine thrust (from 80 lbs. to 140 lbs.) and is therefore safer.

Structurally, the plane is covered with Dacron fabric stretched across the lift wing and the ruddervator. (The ruddervator is the V-shaped tail assembly which is the pilot's only means of control along with the engine thrust.) Rivets, and bolts hold the aircraft's aluminum and fabric parts together. The fuselage of the aircraft is the only non-aircraft part of the plane. It is an aluminum irrigation pipe.

The total weight of the aircraft is about 210 lbs. Since Pat weighs 145 lbs., he is not heavier than his aircraft. But Pat did not build the kit designed for pilots who weigh under 155 lbs., the "A" model, he built the "B" model for men over 155 lbs. He explained that by building the "B" model and then adding on a length of logging chain for a balast, he has increased his market if he wanted to sell his plane and he has also increased its safety. With the "B" model, he has also increased the number of fellow pilots who want to fly his plane.

There are nearly 197,000 conventional light airplanes registered in the U.S. However, there are 300,000 ultralights owned in the U.S. and Pat has the

Respiratory Disease Rehabilitation Clinic At Lee County Hospital

Mr. Bodary, Administrator, announced that a Respiratory Disease Rehabilitation Clinic will open on August 17, 1981 at Lee County Community Hospital, through a grant from the Black Lung Association This clinic was established through a cooperative agreement with Lonesome Pine Hospital.

Two Respiratory Therapy Technicians from Lee County Community Hospital, who have received additional training to conduct this program are Brenda Ewing, CRTT and Patricia Middleton. Mrs. Ewing will be responsible for the operation of the Better Breathing Clinic She has over three years experience as a Certified Therapy Technician

Anyone suffering from a chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) such as bronchial asthma, chronic bronchitis or emphysema, will be instructed how to control and alleviate, as much as possible, the symptoms of respiratory impairment and how to achieve optimal capability for carrying out his/her activities of daily living

Brenda Ewing

Achievements from the respiratory rehabilitation clinic are patient and family education on avoidance of inhaled irritants, avoidance of infections, a minimum stress environment, adequate fluid intake, proper nutrition, physical therapy with breathing techniques, controlled coughing, and exercise reconditioning, occupational therapy with emphasis on energy conservation in activities of daily living

According to objectives of the grant, the benefits that hope to be achieved from the clinic are a decrease in frequency and duration of hospital admissions, social gains, a reduction in anxiety, depression and shortness of breath, the return of some patients to position of employment, and the establishment of a better quality of life

Anyone wanting further information about the Respiratory Disease Rehabilitation Clinic should call Lee County Community Hospital's Respiratory Therapy Department at 546 1440, Extension 227.

F.H.A. Delegate Returns From San Francisco

Debbie Wade, right, a senior at Dryden High School, and Shirley Slemp her advisor, were two of the 12 delegates and advisors from Virginia and among the 1,200 teenagers and advisors selected from more than 400,000 home economic students nationally to attend Future Homemakers of America's Annual Leadership meeting July 10-17 in San Francisco, Calif.

The theme for the meeting "Youth Energy. Unlimited Potential," was designed to help young men and women top their personal energies for youth service projects.

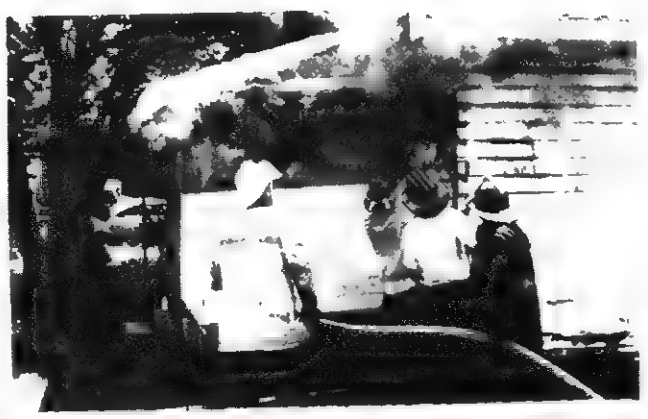
Students from all over the United States participated in a full week of leadership activities including general sessions, small group workshops, field trips, exhibits and election of national officers for 1981-82.

The workshops focused on family relations, career planning, stress, community service, and youth employment. There were special seminars on teen parenting, fitness and health, and legislative awareness

Debbie has been a member of Dryden FHA for four years, also president of the Lee Federation. As a result of her experience at national leadership meetings, she plans to work with her chapter, and other chapters in our county to develop awareness and getting involved through FHA activities.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wade, Dryden. Debbie and Mrs. Shirley Slemp, her advisor would like to thank everyone for helping support this educational trip. It has also been a great experience.

Three Fires Destroy Residences



The Pennington Gap Volunteer Fire Department responded to a house fire in Stone Creek last Wednesday afternoon. The house, belonging to Grant Sturgill, was unoccupied at the time. An electrical shortage is the suspected cause of the fire. No estimate of damage was available.

Also Friday at 11:55 p.m. the Pennington Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call in Woodway. The home of Gayle Parsons was completely destroyed . . . nothing saved.

A Friday night fire destroyed the mobile home of Oreda Ray of Jonesville. The Jonesville Volunteer Fire Department responded to the 10:00 p.m. call. About five years ago, Mrs. Ray's home at the same location was destroyed by fire

Animal Industry Day Tour

Sheriff's Department Gets New Cruiser

Lee County Sheriff R.V. Chadwell accepts a new police cruiser presented by Danny Dean, coordinator for the Virginia Department of Highway Safety. Looking on is Deputy John Martin.

Lee County Sheriff R. V. Chadwell announced the receipt of a grant from the Highway Safety Commission in the form of a new police cruiser to be used in alcohol related matters.

The cruiser was presented by Danny Dean, coordinator for the Virginia Department of Highway Safety. The vehicle is equipped with siren, warning lights, and radio. The value of the vehicle is listed at $8900 with an additional $14,400 for 1800 man hours of overtime pay. The total portion of the federal grant is $23,300.

The state portion of the grant paid $1500 for vehicle upkeep, $7600 for gas, and $500 for insurance.

Sheriff Chadwell initiated the request for the grant during 1980 under the Selective Enforcement Project

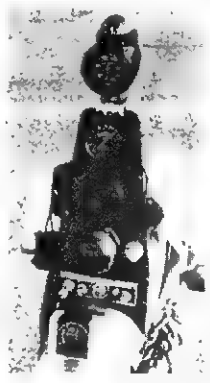
55th registered craft in the Ultralight Division of the Experimental Aircraft Association. The plane is a kit which Pat assembled in the basement of his home. Gary Giles, of Big Stone Gap, assisted Pat in balancing the plane and now assists in preflight checking and assembling The estimated assembly time is 85 150 hours, but Pat says he assembled his in about 60 hours. The cost of the kit, including the reduction unit, was less than the base sticker price of any current automobile.

Pat first became interested in building his own aircraft over 30 years ago when his father pointed to an ad in a magazine and said, "We're going to build that " The opportunity to start such a project had not presented itself until two years ago when the urge to build his own aircraft became intense. At first, he looked toward conventional aircraft assembly methods, but then Lee Boyd of Bristol got him interested in ultralight. Lee then introduced him to Robert Tapscott, also of Bristol, who is the area representative for Franklin Manufacturing

While Pat is the area's first ultralight owner, there are two other men who plan to buy and assemble their own aircraft soon. Pat believes that the homebuilt planes are safer and better built than assembly line produced aircraft. Pat says, "We're the builder and the inspector. Other aircraft get inspected once a year There are very few faults in an ultralight There's also more pride and more quality in a homebuilt and also more resale value in homebuilts than in mass produced aircraft."

Pat thinks that this is the "cheapest way to fly" and a whole lot of fun. The crowd that gathers around whenever Pat brings his "Hummer" out for a spin seem to enjoy his plane also

But, does Mrs Osborn think that his hobby is fun? "Yes!" Pat says, "She's all for it." Both Mrs. Osborn and their daughter, Karla, already have a student license so they can also go flying in the ultralight



The cockpit features direction, wind velocity, altimeter, engine r.p.m., and exhaust temperature gauges plus a C.B. radio and a level flight indicator

Flying above the mountains and valley of Lee County, Pat Osborne says, "It's the cheapest way to fly."

Livesay Historical Society Schedules Annual Meeting

Members of a family whose roots in this country go back to early Colonial days will meet in Salem, Virginia, Thursday through Saturday, August 6 8, according to an announcement made by Randall Livesay, of Rogersville, Tennessee, president of the organization.

The Livesay Historical Society has scheduled its annual meeting for the Holiday Inn in Salem, Va., where members of the national family association will be observing the twenty fifth anniversary of its founding. "We held our organizational meeting just next door in Roanoke in 1957, so it is most appropriate that we celebrate the Silver Anniversary of our founding in the same general area," Livesay said Last year the Society met in Effingham, Illinois, but meetings have traditionally alternated between Virginia and Tennessee.

According to officials, the Livesay Historical Society is a national, nonprofit organization dedicated to the recording, preservation and publishing of the history of the family in the United States and England. Membership is open to all descendants who trace their ancestry to England, regardless of the spelling of the name and all Livesays (and variant spellings) are invited to attend the annual meeting

Historians report that the Livesay family originated in Lancashire in Northwest England and the name is first found in a family setting in early 13th Century England

"We are expecting cousins from all parts of the nation," Lavesay said. "We do a lot of serious research but we have time for fun and fellowship, too. There's a wonderful spirit of family warmth and commitment at our meetings."

Aerial Photographs Available

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has utilized aerial photographs for many years in the measurement of crop acreages. Lee County ASCS Vice Chairperson, Max Graham, said that aerial photographs of the entire county are available Graham went on to say that anyone may purchase photographs from the Aerial Photography Field Office of ASCS

Graham said that many people have taken advantage of the service which ASCS provides in making these photographs available for nominal cost. He said that local government agencies, engineers, etc., as well as individual land owners, have found these photographs to be useful to them. He noted that persons interested in ordering photographs of their property should come to the ASCS office. The location of the property can be identified on the county map and determination made as to the identification number of the photograph which is needed.

The county office can also furnish a price list of photographs, order blanks, and the address of the Aerial Photography Field Office Graham added that anyone needing additional information relative to the availability of aerial photographs should call or come by the county office

Lonesome Pine Hospital Auxiliary Awards Scholarships

The Lonesome Pine Hospital Auxiliary recently awarded nursing scholarships to several Mountain Empire Community College students.

Patricia Van Hook and Tandy Kilgore, second year nursing students at MECC, received $500 scholarships. Carolyn Bishop, also a second year student, received $250. Prospective fall quarter nursing students Connie Jo Cantor and Debra Poteet received $500 and $250 respectively.

The Auxiliary considered applicants from Lee, Scott, and Wise Counties and the city of Norton Representatives from each of these locations, as well as the Auxiliary president, the scholarship chairman, and the hospital administrator, are involved in the selection process.

Applicants submit a written application form and appear before the committee for interviews. The committee then allocates scholarships to the most deserving applicants

Couple Tours Holy Land

Mary Stickley and Bashie Kincaid of Rose Hill were joined by Mrs. Will P. Fugate of Tazewell, Tn., for a delightful twelve day tour which included the Holy Land. To join the Tour Group, Misses Stickley, Kincaid, and Mrs. Fugate flew from Knoxville to Kennedy Airport in New York, and from there to Amsterdam, Holland.

But after crossing Jordan River on the Allenby Bridge into the State of Israel, and with the assistance of trained guides, many tours were taken by bus and some on foot to numerous spots in the Holy Land which is held most sacred by people of the world as being the land where Jesus was born and lived his earthly ministry.

Those on the tour lived again great moments of history which has changed the destiny of the world. They took a boat ride on the beautiful Sea of Galilee, drove through the Samaritan Mountain, saw Jacob's Well, King Solomon's stables, and the village of Cana.

They related to the town of Capernaum, where Jesus preached at the Synagogue; the Mountain of Beatitudes, where Jesus gave the Sermon on the Mount; and went across the desert to King Herod's pal[illegible]

They also drove along the shores of the Dead Sea to Jericho, and walked on its walls; and visited Bethany and Jerusalem. Continuing through the Valley of the Cross to the Israel Museum, they saw the Dead Sea Scrolls, the new Hebrew University, and the birth place of John the Baptist.

At Mount Zion they visited the traditional place of the Last Supper and King David's Tomb. After leaving Jerusalem, they visited Bethlehem and saw the Church of the Nativity, the Shepherd's Field, Rachel's Tomb, and the fields of Boaz and Ruth.

Walking through the narrow streets of the old City of Jerusalem, they visited the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, the Dome of the Rock Mosque, and the Wailing Wall; also, the Joppa Gate and David's Citadel; Golgotha and the Garden Tomb.

It was and is a land of contrasts and incredible variety for a country of its size. Visits were made to the newer parts of Israel and also to parts which seemed not to have changed greatly from the days of two thousand years ago.

The Tour Group crossed the border to Egypt and went by bus to the capitol of Sinai and across the Sinai Peninsula; across the Suez Canal, and along the Nile River with its mud villages to Cairo.

Of great interest was a tour of the Pyramids and the Sphinx which is made of 3½ million blocks of stone, and took over 30 years to be built and 100,000 men to build it.

Learning to ride a camel proved to be a difficult but pleasant experience, and was a reminder of the trip Mary made to Egypt when Herod was searching for the Young Child's life.

Of great interest was seeing the largest Chocolate Factory and the largest Cheese Factory in the world, and was climaxed by going up the Mountain by Cable Car to find snow, ice castles, and glaciers.

Many friendships were made among the tour members, and much information gained which may bridge the gap in years to come to better understanding.

Disability Case Review

A new law that goes into effect next January requires a review of all social security disability cases every 3 years, except where the disability is judged to be permanent in nature.

The law recognizes that advances in medical science and in rehabilitation techniques now make it possible for people who may once have been considered permanently disabled to return to work.

Moreover, legislative efforts, such as the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, have facilitated the return to gainful employment of disability beneficiaries by reducing physical and attitudinal barriers that had previously stood in their way.

At present, 2.9 million workers and 1.8 million of their dependents are receiving social security disability benefits; an additional 2.3 million persons are on the supplemental security income disability rolls.

Studies conducted by the Social Security Administration (SSA) indicate that a substantial number of disability insurance beneficiaries no longer satisfy all the criteria for receipt of benefits.

The new initiative, which seeks to eliminate erroneous payments, is in keeping with President Reagan's goal to cut costs while improving program administration.

Until recently, persons receiving disability benefits were reexamined only under certain circumstances--for example, if there were reported earnings for the beneficiary or if the person had a condition that was considered very likely to improve. Mostly, SSA depended on voluntary reporting by beneficiaries about any medical improvement in their condition or work activity. In many instances, reliance on voluntary reporting proved unsatisfactory. Now, however, unless the beneficiary has a medical impairment that is considered to be permanent, each case will be reviewed every 3 years.

Priority in regard to cases selected for review is being given to those which seem to show the greatest likelihood of recovery. About 350,000 cases will be reviewed in fiscal year 1981. More than 500,000 cases will be reviewed in fiscal year 1982.

We have set up Wednesday, August 5th as the first Farmers Produce Day. Come and see us, bring your surplus garden produce and sell to the people direct. We are having lots of calls at Graham Trading Park for farm fresh produce.

If you the farmer, and the citizens of the surrounding area support this concept, we will set aside Wednesdays until the end of the season. For this purpose.

All day parking will cost you a lot less than a tank of gasoline that you could burn up trying to sell from door to door.

If Wednesday should prove to be a bad day for some of you, we will still welcome anyone with produce at the regular Saturday and Sunday flea markets.

We'll bring the best sale in town right to your living room.

LMU Offers Secretarial Certficiate Program

This fall quarter Lincoln Memorial University will be adding a new program to their ever-expanding curriculum - an 8-Month Professional Secretarial Training Certificate Program.

According to Dr. David DuBose, Academic Vice-President, "through the offering of this type of program, recent high school graduates, currently employed office workers, and housewives who wish to update their skills, will be able to realize their goals in a short length of time, as well as to become better prepared for the ever changing job market." He also stated that all courses in the new secretarial certificate program can be applied toward associate or bachelor's degree's if the person decides to continue his/her education, although, the courses are structured especially for the new 8-Month Professional Certificate program.

The program consists of three courses in Typewriting and Shorthand (a person may test out of the first two quarters of those if previous training has been acquired), and courses in Office Management, Business Communications, Office Machines, Introduction to Computer Science, and Accounting Principles. A Seminar in Personal Development will be conducted during the Spring Quarter, completing the 45 hours certification of fullfillment of the requirements of the program. All courses are scheduled between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m., Monday thru Friday, and all certificate students will progress together from one class in sequence to the next, thus enabling enrolled students to continue to work at least part time as they study.

Additional information concerning the 8-Month Secretarial Certificate Program can be obtained by writing or calling the LMU

Rose Hill Picnic

The annual family picnic of the Rose Hill Homemakers Club was held July 16 at 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Glass. Mrs. Don Davis and Mrs. Glass were co-hostesses to club members, their families, and guests.

From the hill top home was a lovely view overlooking Rose Hill in three directions, and directly north of the home was the ridge, under the shadow of the Cumberland Mountains.

Preceding the meal, devotional thoughts and prayer appropriate to the outdoor setting of the hill top home and the cool breezes thereon, were given by Mrs. Charles Emmett. She based her thoughts on Psalm 46:10- Be still and know that I am God

"When we let go and let God, it does not mean that we do nothing, or that we don't take any responsibility for our lives," she stated. "It means, rather, that we let go of strain, stress, and anxiety and realize the presence of God is with us."

"The love and power of a God who really cares for us", she continued, "gives us peace of mind and body, and we are filled with faith and confidence, so that God can work through us in wondrous ways. Let us continually be aware of the wondrous power of God in the beauty and order of the world around us".

The group enjoyed singing several musical selections with auto harp accompaniment by Mrs. Oscar W. Smith. Special numbers were also rendered in harmony by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith, Mrs. Jewel Glass, and Mr. Oscar W. Smith.

Mrs. Emmett, program leader, expressed thanks to the hostesses, the musicians, and the guests including the Rev. and Mrs. David Sheriff, daughter Lynn and son David, Jr. She then called on Rev. Sheriff, pastor of Hardy's Creek Baptist Church, who gave a beautiful closing prayer

Others of the thirty in attendance not mentioned were Mrs. Selma Shackleford, Miss Florence Bayless, Mrs. Maud Bales, Mr. and Mrs. Van B. Grabeel, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Seale, Mrs. F.L. Grabeel, Mrs. Walter Smith, Keith and Jeremy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chance, Mr Claude Glass, and Johnny Glass.

Q. I realize that calories come from protein, carbohydrate and fat. I also realize that, of the three, fat contains the most calories. My question: can I lose weight if I eat only foods rich in protein?

A. First of all, by eating protein-rich foods -- foods from the meat and milk group -- you're also getting fat and carbohydrate. In some of these foods, you get more fat than carbohydrate. In others, more carbohydrate than fat. But in none of them will you get strictly protein.

Second, you can't look at protein, carbohydrate and fat merely as sources of calories. Your body needs all three of these vital nutrients for a wide variety of purposes.

A sensible approach to losing weight is eating low-calorie foods from each of the four basic food groups. That way, you can be sure of getting all the essential nutrients.

Q. I'm 27 years old. Since my bones have quit growing, do I still need as much calcium as I did 10 or 15 years ago?

A. You're bones haven't quit growing. Though they won't get any bigger, they will continuously reform and repair themselves for the rest of your life. And calcium is the mortar for this on-going construction job. In fact, your bones replace about 20 percent of their calcium content each year.

Calcium also helps your muscles -- including your heart -- properly contract and relax. And it plays a role in keeping your neuro muscular response (touch a hot iron if you want to find

The Tricycle As A Space-Time Machine

Consider the tricycle a marvelous machine that teaches concepts of time and space. A child should be ready for a first tricycle and the lessons it teaches at about the end of the second year

Growing Child, a monthly child development newsletter, reports that learning to ride a tricycle helps children get their eyes attached as with whats their bodies are doing. The first thing they learn is to push first with one foot and then with the other to shift from left to right. Doing this, they learn about having two different sides.

The concept of difference of sides is important in learning to read If a child has no concept of the left right difference, she may read "b" as "d" or "was" as "saw" Reversals like these are really reversals in space: the only difference between "b" and "d" is the difference between left and right

In order to organize directions in space outside her body, the child must first feel the difference between left and right, up and down, within her own body. Once she feels those differences inside herself, she has a starting point for organizing the space outside herself

Pushing the pedals first with the right foot and then with the left helps a child learn that right and left, inside and outside, are different.

A tricycle also teaches about time To make any progress at all, the child must shift from side to side, from left to right, at the proper time. She can not shift at any old time she must be precise

Time is very important in school learning To spell correctly, for example, a child must learn to get the letters in the proper time order. A child who has not learned about time might spell "girl" as "gril" or "first" as "frist". These errors are examples of general problems in organizing time Riding a trike smoothly, efficiently, and rhythmically helps the child organize movements in time

An old fashioned tricycle is probably best to buy one where the child sits straight up instead of leaning back This gives clear and unobstructed vision

A child will feel more comfortable if her feet reach the pedals without adding blocks of wood A good general guide is that if a child's inside leg measurement is between 17" and 20" her tricycle front wheel should have a diameter of 12" or 13" A shorter child may need a 10" front wheel

Choose a tricycle with a squat look, that is, a wide wheel base in proportion to the height. A wider wheel base will make tipping over on tight turns less likely

As for how to teach a child to ride, probably the best method is just to put her on it put her feet on the pedals, and let her go. If the child does not get the idea immediately, just give a gentle push, making sure she can feel her feet moving with the pedals as they go around

You can get more information on this subject and on the physical and social development of children up to six years old by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing

Cookin' Corner

Zucchini, Zucchini, bushels of zucchini, more recipes to try and two more new ones for next week. Thanks. Send one of your favorite recipes to: Powell Valley News, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Virginia 24277.

Zucchini Toss

1 head lettuce, washed and chilled
1 small head romaine, washed and chilled
2 medium Zucchini, thinly sliced
3 tbsp. crumbled blue cheese
2 tbsp. tarragon or wine vinegar
¼ cup olive oil or salad oil
1 cup sliced radishes
3 green onions, sliced
¾ tsp. clove garlic, crushed
Generous dash freshly ground pepper

Into large salad bowl, tear greens into bite-size pieces (about 10 cups). Toss with oil until leaves glisten. Add Zucchini, radishes, onions and cheese. Combine vinegar, salt, garlic and pepper; Pour over salad and toss.

Squash Sausage Casserole

1 small onion, chopped
1 medium green pepper, diced
2 4-oz. jars (or 1 7 oz.) pimientos, tear or slice in large pieces
1/8 tsp. seasoned pepper
8 to 10 tiny pork sausages
5 cups squash
2 teaspoons salt
¼ tsp. oregano
3 or 4 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 cup shredded or cubed cheddar cheese (Optional)

Saute onion, green pepper and pimiento in butter or margarine. Cook and stir a few minutes. Set aside. If you are using one of the tougher winter varieties of squash (Butternut, Hubbard or Acorn), dice and precook a few minutes. If you're using yellow or Zucchini squash, just slice. It's tender and there's no need to precook. Add squash to pimiento mixture, mix well and turn into a greased casserole. Cover and cook in a preheated oven, 400°, 15 minutes for summer squash, 25 for winter variety.

Prepare sausages by pricking them all over with a fork to allow steam to escape. Place in frying pan, add cold water to cover and bring to a slow boil. Simmer a few minutes, drain thoroughly and then brown lightly in same pan. Brown and serve - type sausages may be used instead. Just place them directly on casserole from refrigerator without precooking.

Remove cover from casserole, arrange sausages on top of squash and return to oven an additional 15-20 minutes. Cheese may be added about 5 minutes before removing casserole from oven. 4-5 servings.

National Farm Safety Week, 1981

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

American farmers and ranchers are at the core of our Nation's economy, providing food not only for our own people, but for millions of others around the world.

Yet we must not take the miracle of American agricultural abundance for granted. An unacceptable number of farm accidents cripples people and threatens production. Last year, nearly 400,000 farmers and ranchers were injured or killed in accidents at work, at home, during recreation, or on roads.

Powerful equipment, chemicals and variable working conditions are potential agricultural hazards, but safe work practices, protective equipment and other measures can minimize the risks. Special vigilance by the agricultural community is also necessary to reduce the toll of off-the-job injuries.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week of July 25 through July 31, 1981, as National Farm Safety Week. I urge all persons engaged in farming and ranching and all persons and organizations allied with agriculture to redouble their personal and group efforts for farm, home, recreation and highway safety.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 16th day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and fifth.

Ronald Reagan

What You Should Know About Stroke And Stroke Prevention

Stroke can be a crippling disease. But, sometimes the body sends out warning signals ahead of time that enable you to take preventive action. Weakness or numbness in an arm or leg, stuttering, stammering, or temporary blindness can all be pre-stroke symptoms -- even if they occur infrequently. Most doctors consider any of these warning signs to be a medical emergency, requiring immediate evaluation and treatment.

The National Institutes of Health of the Department of Health and Human Services has a booklet that explains the symptoms of stroke, and suggests health habits you can follow to help prevent stroke. For your copy of What You Should Know About Stroke and Stroke Prevention, send $1.25 to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 153J, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Unfortunately, some signs of a stroke are less specific, such as sudden, unexplained headache, unsteadiness or loss of equilibrium and drowsiness. However, these symptoms should also get prompt medical attention.

Basically, what happens in a stroke is a loss of blood to the brain that destroys brain tisaue and results in disability. Often this means the stroke victim can't move one side of the body as easily as the other side and may have difficulty in speaking. The sooner after a stroke therapy is started, the better the chances for recovery.

Hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure can make a stroke more likely. And stress may accelerate hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

To help prevent a stroke, follow these health habits:

*Have your blood pressure checked regularly. If it's high, follow your doctor's advice for lowering and controlling it, and faithfully take any medication prescribed.

*Follow a good diet, avoiding foods high in cholesterol, and saturated fats. You can eat wisely and well -- eating lean and thinking lean -- by keeping to a diet that relies on vegetables, fruit, chicken and turkey, fish, skimmed milk and skimmed milk cheeses.

*Stop smoking.

*Exercise regularly and moderately. Exercise is valuable in two ways -- it helps to control weight and helps you work off stress. However, irregular, intense exercise can be dangerous

*Decrease your salt intake, keeping in mind that practically all foods have their own natural salt content.

*Have regular checkups to detect, prevent, and adequately treat any ill-[illegible]

*Drink alcohol in moderation.

*Watch your weight and lose weight, if necessary.

*Avoid stress, relax and enjoy life.

Musical Revue At Barter

Two By Five, a "musical cabaret" featuring the songs of John Kander and Fred Ebb, opens at the cozy Barter Playhouse in Abingdon for a four-week run on Wednesday, July 29.

This dynamic show offers just the type of entertainment perfectly suited to the intimate Playhouse, with seating that puts the audience so close to the performers that they are almost a part of the production.

The "two" in Two By Five are the songwriters themselves, and the "five" are the five members of the company: four performers and the pianist on stage with them.

The thirty-one musical numbers that comprise the evening come from nine Kander and Ebb stage and film musicals, plus special material written for television and nightclubs. The numbers include "Cabaret," "New York, New York," "Maybe This Time," "Ring Them Bells" and "All That Jazz." The productions they are from include Chicago, The Happy Time, Cabaret and The Act, plus films such as New York, New York and television specials like Liza With A "Z".

Two By Five will keep Barter audiences humming and tapping their toes from July 29 through August 23 with eight performances weekly. Tuesday through Thursday evenings, performances begin at 8:00 p.m., Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:00 p.m., with matinees on Wednesday and Saturdays at 2:00 p.m.

Across the street at Barter Theatre is Arms And The Man through August 2, to be followed by Deathtrap through August 23

For Barter reservations, call (703) 628-3991

Science Museum Reports Close Encounter

The third of a rare triple conjunction between Jupiter and Saturn occurs on July 30 according to Dr. Paul H. Knappenberger, Jr., director of the Science Museum of Virginia.

Jupiter will pass within 1.2 degrees south of Saturn making the third and final encounter between the planets this year. Twice before, on January 14 and February 19, Jupiter passed within 1.1 degree south of Saturn as viewed from the earth

"A conjunction occurs when any two planets appear to align, or closely pass one another," Dr. Knappenberger explained The last triple conjunction between Jupiter and Saturn occurred in 1941 and it will be 2238, another 250 years, before this astronomical rarity occurs again.

Both Jupiter and Saturn can be seen low in the southwest, in the constellation of Virgo, through the end of August. Jupiter is the brighter of the planet pair.

The Science Museum is located at 2500 West Broad Street. The Museum's exhibit areas are open Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for those 6 through 17 and Museum members and children 5 and under are admitted without charge Parking is free

CPR Staff At LPH Has New Member

Cardio-pulmonary resusitation (CPR) training sessions at Lonesome Pine Hospital are an on-going program for the staff. All Hospital employees must be certified or recertified annually. During this past year, 188 employees received initial training or recertification. Since practice and training in this skill are important, the CPR instructors welcomed a new "Resusi-Annie" to the staff recently. "Resusi Annie" is the lifelike mannequin used to demonstrate and practice the CPR techniques.

Judy Anderson, R.N., B.C.L.S., coordinates as well as teaches CPR classes at LPH Other instructors are Elaine Hamilton, R.N., Director of Nursing; Martha Deaton, R.N., In service/Risk Management; Wilma Light, R.N., Head Nurse, Obstetrics; Emma Delph, R.N., Nursing Supervisor; Pat Scardo, Bobby Clark, and Bryan Jackson, Respiratory Therapists; and Pat Vanhook, L.P.N.

CPR sessions are scheduled monthly at LPH, and training procedures include one and two person CPR methods, Infant CPR, and obstructed airway maneuvers.

Elkins, fishing with Lloyd Allen, Demmer and Omer Elkins, caught a "Blue Cat" which weighed 34 pounds and was 42 inches long and in the stomach of the "big" catfish was a "small" 16 inch catfish. The fish were caught on Cherokee Lake.

Lee County ASCS Conducting Winter Cover Sign-Up

Roy J. Myers, Chairperson of the Lee County ASCS Committee, has announced that a sign up for winter cover crops under the Agricultural Conservation Program will be conducted August 3 31 The County Committee will pay 50 percent of the cost of the seed used in sowing the crop,' Myers added

One of the following crops must be seeded at the rate of 2 bushels per acre rye, barley, winter oats, wheat, small grain mixtures. A good stand and good growth must be obtained in sufficient time to protect the area in the fall and winter and must be maintained on the land at least 120 days. The seeding must be completed by November 15.

"This practice is an excellent conservation measure for protecting and enriching the soil behind a corn or tobacco crop," Myers noted

All interested persons are encouraged to file an application at the ASCS office in Jonesville

Public Invited To Huge Scout Jamboree Finale

Imagine, if you will, 30,000 candles flickering in total darkness, each held by a Boy Scout as the scouts rededicate themselves by receiving the Scouting Oath.

This is just part of the huge, three and a half-hour long, finale of the .1981 National Scout Jamboree at Fort A.P. Hill, near Bowling Green to be held starting at 7 p.m. on the night of August 4th, barring rain.

Band music will be provided by the 90 man Army Field Band and the 25 member Soldiers' Chorus, and the 120 piece Jamboree Band, consisting of Scouts representing 42 states.

Well-known folk singer and actor, Burl Ives, will sing his ballads and younger members of the audience will be treated to the singing and music of the famous Oak Ridge Boys, winners of the Vocal Group of the Year award by both the Country Music Association and the Academy of Country Music. The Oak Ridge Boys promise a one hour show. In addition, Zach Hirsch, producer of the show, promises a number of surprises in the program. "It could be country and western or a rock group," he says mysteriously. Other Scout musicians, both singers and instrumentalists, will also participate in the show.

Following the stage presentation there will be, a gigantic fireworks display that will run 20 minutes, featuring thousands of aerial rockets and bombs. Some of the rockets are a yard wide. The rockets' glare should be visible for at least 12 miles. The largest fireworks display to be held on the East Coast will come to an end with a 50-foot set piece of the Jamboree Emblem.

ACP Sign-Up In Progress

An Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) sign-up is in progress at the Lee County ASCS Office. According to County ASCS Director, Charles M. Ingram, the sign-up is for permanent Vegetative Cover Establishment and Improvement Conservation practices.

"I encourage all farmers who are in need of cost share assistance to perform this type of conservatin work on their farms to make application," said Ingram.

The County ASCS Committee cost shares at a rate of 50 percent for the practices. Higher cost share rates are available for farmers determined to be of low income.

Farmers must agree to leave the field in permanent Vegetative Cover for five years following the year the cost share assistance is received.

Ingram also added that a soil sample must be submitted on the day the application is filed. "A representative field sample may be obtained by taking soil from five or more different areas in the field and mixing it together," he noted.

The sign-up is scheduled to end on July 24.

Clinch Ranger District Requires Permits Of Ginseng Hunters

The Jefferson National Forest will be cooperating with Virginia officials by allowing the harvesting of ginseng on most of the Clinch Ranger District during the regular August 15 through December 31 collecting season.

A charge of $1.00 per dried pound, with a 5 pound minimum, will be in effect for the 1981 season. A maximum of 10 dried pounds will be allowed. The permits may be obtained from the Clinch Ranger District office in Wise, across from Clinch Valley College. The permit will be valid only on the Clinch Ranger District.

"Sangers" must furnish the Forest Service office with information as to the total number of air dried pounds gathered from National Forest lands.

The permit system is part of a research effort by State and Federal officials to determine how much ginseng is harvested and to evaluate more accurately the trend of the ginseng plant population.

Persons apprehended collecting ginseng on National Forest land without a valid permit are subject to a maximum fine of $500 and/or six months in jail.

TVA Fertilizer Technology Aids Industry

TVA found a way to replace messy, dusty clay solids with a fluid clay suspension and solved a problem for fertilizer manufacturers. Now, TVA's National Fertilizer Development Center is phasing out production of fluid clay because commercial producers can meet industry needs

It was TVA's job to demonstrate a liquid clay mixture that would work in making suspension fertilizers. That task accomplished, TVA is phasing out its production efforts as it does when its new products are adopted by industry in order to tackle new concerns from the fertilizer industry. These efforts are funded by Congressional appropriations

Small manufacturers found handling the clay and mixing it into their products a special headache

"The mixing procedure is not all that complicated," C.H. Davis, Director of Chemical Development, said, "but it's messy, dusty, timeconsuming and costly for small fluid fertilizer operations."

Responding to requests from the industry, TVA conducted experiments and began producing a new fluid clay mix in 1977. The TVA formula, a clay water urea solution, contains 25 percent clay and about 9 percent nitrogen

Fluid clay producers said the TVA-developed process is especially helpful during cold weather months since the addition of urea improves storage and handling properties under cold weather conditions. The urea also adds supplemental nitrogen to suspension fertilizer.

Water is one of the most critical substances on earth for human survival-more important for life than food. A person can exist for weeks without food, but only days without water.

Water is a part of every cell, even the solid tissues that form bone. It accounts for approximately 50 - 60 percent of adult body weight. It is needed for the various chemical reactions that occur in the body. Specifically, water is necessary for:

*Temperature control-cooling the body through perspiration, allowing heat to escape when water evaporates on the skin.

*Transport-moving nutrients and oxygen to cells, waste products out of the body, enzymes to reaction sites, and blood cells throughout the circulatory system

*Lubrication moistening tissues in the nose and mouth and facilitating the swallowing of food and the movement of joints and visceral muscles.

Adults require approximately two quarts of water daily. Actual amounts vary with body size, diet, the amount of physical activity, temperature, and humidity. For example, hot weather and strenuous activity increase an individual's need for water. High levels of protein or salt also increase water needs.

As a general rule, adults should drink six to eight glasses of liquid daily to assure enough water for bodily functions. Recommended liquids include water, milk, and fruit juices.

Diuretics, such as coffee, tea, caffeine - containing soft drinks, and alcohol may result in water loss rather than retention.

The human body obtains water not only from beverages but also from food and internal metabolic processes. Although beverages finish the greatest share of our water needs, solid and semi-solid foods provide a surprising amount of water.

The following foods contain 78 to 95 percent water.

Lettuce	Watermelon	Cabbage or Spinach
Green Beans	Yogurt	Carrot
Berries	Orange Juice	Milk
Peaches or Pineapple(fresh)		Apples or Pears (fresh)
Potatoes		Cottage Cheese

Remember The Flood Of '77

Flash Flood, Early Warning System

Spring and early summer are the seasons of increased flash flood potential. Flash floods have become this nations number one weather-related killer. More people are threatened with the fury of flash floods than ever before. Since 1968 the average annual death toll from flash floods has doubled that of the early 1960's and more than tripled the rate of the 1940's.

Intense thunderstorm rainfall concentrated over steep terrain often triggers flash floods before the rain stops. There is little time between the detection of flood conditions and the arrival of the flood crest. A sudden burst of rain can produce large flood crest which move rapidly downstream tearing out everything in their paths. Water levels may rise quickly in heavy rainstorms on small streams, especially near the head waters of river basins.

The catastrophic damage potential of flash flooding was demonstratd by the devastating effects of the April, 1977 flood in southwestern Virginia. This flood resulted in more than 240 million dollars damage to public and private property

Seeking a cost effective way to combat the devastation of flash floods, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, The National Weather Service, The Appalachian Regional Commission, and the State of Virginia agreed to develop, operate, and test the Integrated Flood Observing and Warning System. This system is a prototype system combining existing sensor, communication, and computer technology with advanced forecasting software techniques to provide timely guidance and advice to both state and local authorities responsible for the provision of emergency services to their citizens.

The goal of your national, state, and local government is to provide reliable warning of local flooding situations 30 minutes to 3 hours or longer in advance of high water. By combining this warning level with effective local action plans, it is expected that a substantial reduction in loss of life and property can be achieved.

In Lee County a network of volunteer observers have been recruited to help in determining flood potential. These volunteers are reliable, dedicated people who perform a valuable service in reporting rainfall and stream stage levels. The observations made by this group of volunteers combined with the radio reporting rain gauges that are to be installed in remote areas of Lee County by next summer will provide a much better way to protect the life and property of all Lee County Citizens

Selection Of Representative Payee

The Social Security Administration's policy is to appoint representative payees only when there is a clear indication that a beneficiary is unable to manage his or her own funds, R.L. Kelly social security manager in Norton, said recently

The Social Security Administration considers a decision to make payments to someone other than the beneficiary a serious matter, and tries to avoid doing so if it is at all possible If circumstances dictate that a representative payee be appointed, SSA gives preference to a wife or husband or other concerned adult relative in the hope that family relationships will be enhanced.

While a representative payee enjoys a certain amount of discretion in determining how a beneficiary's payments are to be used, it is expected that the individual's current maintenance will receive priority. However, the term "current maintenance" may include expenditures for personal items which it is believed will aid in the beneficiary's recovery or improve his or her living conditions.

Social security payments ordinarily are made directly to an adult beneficiary unless evidence of his or her inability to manage the payments is submitted to the Social Security Administration.

Even children under 18 years of age may receive benefit payments directly as long as there is no indication that the child is immature or unstable; it appears that making direct payments to the child would be in his or her best interests; or the child is self supporting and living away from home.

Mr. Donald R. Watson, Editor
Powell Valley News
Pennington Gap, Virginia 24277

Dear Mr. Watson:

I wish to express my views concerning the Wheel Tax of Lee County: the Lee County Library and the Lee County Sheriff's Department's new cars, as follows:

Wheel Tax:

It was implied that the County did not need the money which is collected on the Wheel Tax and that it should go to the Fire Departments and Rescue Squad.

Fire Department:

Why should the citizens of Lee County who reside outside the corporation limits of the various towns have to subsidize the fire departments (specifically Pennington Fire Department), when the fire departments can only adequately serve the towns. The fire departments would be unable to reach the surrounding areas before the buildings (whatever type) would be completely destroyed by fire.

Rescue Squad:

Why should we the citizens of Lee County, outside the corporation, have to pay the Wheel Tax for a Rescue Squad when the Rescue Squad would be unable to reach an ill or injured person before they were dead. If the Rescue Squad dropped the convalescent calls and did only the emergency calls, they would not be so overworked and it would not take so much to operate the squad. We need to support our "Good Neighbor Ambulance Service."

Library:

The County would not supply the money to support the Library but yet the County bought new cars for the Sheriff's Department when the County had just purchased new cars for the Sheriff's Department in 1980. Furthermore, the Sheriff's Department's automobiles are always parked in a "No Parking Zone" area and are always parked on a meter which deprives the Town of Jonesville of additional funds.

I write this letter to apprize the citizens of the situation of Lee County.

Yours truly,
H. Asbury Kinsler

July 23, 1981

Editor,
Powell Valley News
Pennington Gap, VA 24277

Dear Sir:

As a member of the HELP Committee, Inc., I would like to ask the people of Lee County to let their voices and their opinions regarding education be heard. The education of your child, and your participation in the educational process should be a vital concern.

Would you like to take a part in making decisions regarding your child's education, or would you prefer that a six-member school board and superintendent make all the decisions which affect your child's education and ultimately, his future? Do you actually have any influence as to how your school board member(s) vote on a particular issue? These people are supposed to represent you and the educational interests of your child; are they doing the job they were appointed to do?

In May, 1981, the HELP Committee formally requested that the Lee County School Board holds its meetings in the evening hours so that more interested citizens could attend and take an active part in meetings where decisions are made that will ultimately affect your child and mine. The LCEA (Lee County Education Association) has made this request more than once. These are the people who teach your children; they are interested in your child and would like to take an active part in the school board meetings, are you?

At the July 14, 1981 meeting of the school board, members voted to continue to hold their meetings in the afternoon the request of the HELP Committee and the Lee County Education Association was totally ignored. Is this the type of representation that you want from your school board? These are the people who are supposed to act on you and your child's behalf.

In all fairness to members of the school board, I must point out that there was a reason given for holding meetings in the afternoon as opposed to evenings. As stated by the Chairman, the reason for holding meetings in the afternoon rather than the evening was that school board members would have access to their records. This, I quite frankly do not understand! If the school board meetings are held in the school board office, why would they not have the same access to the records in the evening that they would in the afternoon? Do the staff and personnel employed in the school board office take the records home with them at night?

An agenda is prepared prior to each school board meeting; the records that they require should be available well in advance of the time of the meeting. If an issue should arise in the meeting that requires study or the review of any documents, it "will be taken under consideration," therefore, the school board will have at least a month to prepare their response.

In conclusion, I ask you as a citizen, a parent and/or interested party, does a child's education and future mean anything to you?

Sincerely yours,
Pat Fortner
HELP Committee Member

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

The House of Representatives has an opportunity to assist our nation's foreign policy while boosting American business - all at no cost to the American taxpayer.

It can do this by passing reauthorization legislation for the Overseas Private Investment Corporation. OPIC is a self financing government agency that encourages and aids the investment of private capital in friendly developing nations by providing protection to U.S. companies against political risks Costs are borne by participating firms. OPIC-encouraged projects create new jobs, teach new skills overseas, generate tax revenues, and have important job creation and export generating effects in the United States. During the past three years, OPIC projects purchased $3 billion in U.S. exports, and created a new gain of 9,800 jobs for American workers

The purpose of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, from a government standpoint, is to enlist private business in the foreign aid effort in order to reduce government spending and to reinforce private enterprise in the developing world. OPIC projects range from mining, agriculture and energy development to manufacturing, tourism and distributorships for American made equipment

Congress recognizes that investing in developing nations involves unusual political risks not normally faced in other countries. To overcome some of these problems, OPIC sells political risk insurance to protect American investors against loss of their investment due to expropriation, war or revolution, or civil strife In addition, OPIC provides limited amounts of loan guarantees and indirect loans to help finance U.S. sponsored projects when long term financing is not otherwise available

This is sensible, self help legislation that will greatly aid American foreign policy, help American business and the economy, and will cost the American taxpayer nothing In my opinion, cooperative ventures like this, with mutually beneficial goals for both business and government, is preferabe to the direct federal assistance for exports that is prevalent in some of the industrial countries

Nursing Homes Contribute $200 Million To Economy

Virginia's 176 nursing homes employed over 17,000 persons and contributed nearly $200 million to Virginia's economy, according to the latest figures released by the State Health Department.

This increased economic impact of nursing homes is a reflection of the growth of long-term care in Virginia and nationwide as more nursing homes are needed to care for a rapidly expanding elderly population.

The Health Department survey shows that on the last day of the report period Virginia's nursing homes were caring for over 19,000 residents. At the same time, these facilities employed more than 13,000 full-time and about 4,200 part-time employees in various job categories. The true nursing home impact is even greater since over 1,000 new nursing home beds have opened to the public since the survey was taken.

James T. Williams, president of Virginia Health Care Association, Virginia's largest nursing home group, said in releasing these figures that they demonstrate the significant role nursing homes play in Virginia's healthy economy.

"When you consider that the average dollar spent by a nursing home is turned over three times in the local community's economy, Virginias nursing home either directly or indirectly contribute well over half a billion dollars to the Old Dominion's economy," Williams said.

"I think it is accurate to estimate that nearly 100,000 Virginians are somehow connected with Virginia's nursing homes, either as residents, staff, family members or employees of support industries."

Williams noted that of the 17,000 people employed in nursing homes, over 2,000 are either Registered or Licensed Practical nurses.

"In a job market that finds a dire shortage of qualified nurses, it is often difficult to retain competent nurses," Williams stated. "But the large number of nurses employed in nursing homes reflects a long standing commitment by both the Health Department and long-term care providers that one of the best ways to ensure quality care is to have a high nurse/patient ratio. This commitment by nursing home professionals has helped to make Virginia's nursing homes some of the finest in the nation."

Veterans Administration

Q--Does the issuance of a Veterans Administration Certificate of Eligibility guarantee approval of a GI home loan?

A--No. In addition to being declared eligible for a GI home loan based on his period of service, the veteran must apply for a loan from a bank or other lender and meet the qualifications of that lender.

Q--I keep hearing about a special National Service Life Insurance dividend payable to veterans whether or not they kept their insurance in force. Am I entitled to this dividend?

A--No. The story is a hoax that keeps appearing periodically. There are no dividends available on policies that have lapsed

Q--I was previously granted a Veterans Administration education loan. Can I apply for another loan, since I am still in pursuit of a standard college degree?

A Yes. You may apply for another VA education loan based on your current enrollment, provided you have not defaulted on a prior loan that remains outstanding and you do not have an education over payment.

Q--I last attended school under the GI Bill several years ago and I still have several months of entitlement before my time limit expires. When I quit school before, I had an over-payment with the Veterans Administration. Must I pay it back before I re-enroll?

A--No. You do not have to pay it back to re-enroll. However, if you do not make arrangements to pay it back, your benefits will be withheld until the over payment is recovered

Pennington Gap Resident Is 97 Years Young

Last Monday was the beginning of the 98 year of life for Fred Howard. He greeted the day just as he has greeted many others -- with a twinkle in his eye and a sharp memory of things past.

Gazing across West Morgan Avenue from his home, he remembered Pennington Gap as being "mostly woods" and the log house which stood across the road 90 years ago when his father, Dr. Henry Howard, moved his family from the Smith's Chapel area. The town of Pennington was mostly farm area then. The railroad named it Pennington, not Pennington Gap, after a local judge who lived nearby. Ninety years ago was also about the time that the railroad was built and the depot was busy loading timber from Lee County Mr. Howard said, "There was lots of fine timber - poplar, oak, and pine." It was many years before coal became the county's major export.

The railroad and timber business were the center of Mr. Howard's early days. He made his living by making and exporting staves (the bent wood panels used in making barrels). He's quick to note that his staves "were never used in whiskey barrels."

While Mr Howard barely missed going into the army during World War I even though he had two children, he was scheduled for the next call-up), he did travel throughout the county by rail. "I could buy a 10,000 mile book of tickets for $20. It cost two cents a mile back then," Mr Howard said.

On the subject of the county's economy, Mr Howard remembers when "a shave cost ten cents and a haircut cost a quarter ... now it costs three dollars." He also remembers getting the Cincinnati POST (a day after publication) and selling them for a penny. "But I only had ten or twelve customers," Mr. Howard said.

He also remembers his father, a doctor, making house calls on horseback and delivering babies for five dollars. "But he wasn't always paid in cash, especially by the farmers," said Mr. Howard.

His pastimes, when not making staves or riding the railroad, were hunting and fishing. "I loved to hunt. I've shot lots of quail and caught lots of fish," he said.

Since an operation in 1963, Mr. Howard's activities have been restricted. He once knew all the families in Lee County, now, he says, "I hardly know any of 'em." He lost his wife eight years ago and has one first cousin, Carlos Myers, in the area.

He also has two children, Ralph Howard and Ruby (Howard) Collins, a granddaughter, three great-grandchildren, and a great, great granddaughter. This makes five generations in the Howard family

During his 97 years, Mr. Fred Howard has watched this town grow from a farm area with a railroad to the business and residential area it is today with "paved roads, radio, television, and airplanes." He says, "in the last 40 50 years .... it's a sight."

World Traveler Works for Vets

Vince Trihey, who works as the only male part-time food service employee in the Boise, Idaho, Veterans Administration Medical Center, also puts in another half-day as a volunteer in the hospital's recreation department.

Trihey visits regularly with the patients and can match them story for story. He spent more than 30 years traveling and living in Iran, Iraq, Vietnam, Korea, French Morocco, Zaire and more than a dozen other countries.

An energetic 67 who walks more than seven miles a day, Trihey's volunteer work includes arranging musical shows, running the movie projector, and planning bingo games, card parties and other activities.

"VA medical centers throughout the country could sure use more volunteers like Vince Trihey," according to Boise hospital director James Goff.

Professor Awarded Fellowship

Walter Holden, Assistant Professor of English at Mountain Empire Community College, has been awarded a fellowship to the Virginia Community College System Institute in "The Teaching of Writing" to be held from July 27 to August 28 at George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia.

The Institute is the first of its type geared specifically to improve the teaching of writing in community colleges. Fellows to the Institute have been identified by their supervisors as excellent teachers capable of disseminating information learned in the Institute to their colleagues on their home campuses.

The Institute is part of the Northern Virginia Writing Project supported by George Mason University, National Endowment for the Humanities, the State Council of Higher Education and others.

Mr. Holden is the author of two writing workbooks, Language Patterns, and Writing Patterns, published by the Cambridge Book Company in 1979 and numerous articles and short stories. His most recent publication was his article "Why Don't They Like English?" in the March, 1981, issue of the English Journal, one of the leading professional journals in the field of English education.

LPH Conducts Blood Pressure Screening Program

One of the most serious health problems in the United States today is disease affecting the heart and blood vessels caused by high blood pressure. Often called the "silent killer," high blood pressure is a condition in which a person's blood pressure goes up too high and stays there. Blood pressure normally goes up and down, depending on the person's different activities. The problem occurs when the blood pressure stays too high all the time.

About one in four Americans has high blood pressure And more than half of these have high blood pressure that is very serious This disease is dangerous, because so often, it leads silently but directly to conditions that often kill or cripple: heart attack, stroke, and kidney disease

High blood pressure is especially dangerous because it has no clear signs A person can have it and not even know it It doesn't hurt, and it usually doesn't make a person feel sick or dizzy or nervous As a result, many people with high blood pressure can live for years without knowing they have it That's why it's so important for people to get their blood pressure checked regularly, and if it is high, to follow the treatment their doctors prescribe

Lonesome Pine Hospital will conduct a Blood Pressure Screening Clinic on Tuesday, August 4, 1981, at the Big Stone Gap Pool Nurses will be available from Noon until 5:00 p m checking individual's blood pressures following standards set by the American Heart Association. People with elevated blood pressure will be advised to seek follow up care from their family physician Literature on high blood pressure will also be available at the Clinic site

Because there is no cure for most high blood pressure, there's no such thing as a quick treatment that solves the problem once and for all For each person, it usually takes a few weeks or months for the doctor to work out the best way to control blood pressure Some ways are weight loss for the over weight, regular exercise, medicines, sodium restriction (sodium is a part of salt and is found in many foods), or a combination of these. Treatment may change as the years go by, but treatment of one kind or another to control high blood pressure usually lasts for a lifetime, and blood pressure must be checked regularly

High blood pressure is a serious chronic disease that can contribute to other fatal or debilitating medical problems. If detected, prompt treatment can substantially reduce the risk of such complications. The staff of Lonesome Pine Hospital considers such efforts to keep people well just as important as treating people when they are ill

ASCS Office Advises Federal Crop Insurance Policy Holders

In recent weeks strong winds and hail have hit some of the tobacco crops in Lee County ASCS Director Charles M. Ingram, reminds policyholders of Federal Crop Insurance through his office that their tobacco crop is protected against losses due to all natural causes

When damage strikes a producer's crop but the crop will be continued on to harvest it is unnecessary for an adjuster to visit the farm and perform an appraisal

The producer will need to visit the county office after his sales are completed and bring his sales bills If the crop brought under the dollar guarantee as determined by the producer's acreage report, an indemnity will be paid to bring the producer up to the guarantee level.

If at any time during the growing season the farmer is insure as to whether the crop is worth harvesting, he should notify the ASCS office immediately. An adjuster will be sent to the farm within one week to perform an appraisal. No tobacco should be destroyed until after it is appraised and released as unsuitable for harvesting by an adjuster

Ingram reminds policyholders that there is a 35 percent reduction in the dollar guarantee on unharvested tobacco. "It is the insurance corporation's position that the producer will incur less cost if the tobacco is not carried on to harvest," he added.

MECC Librarian On Seminar Committee

John M. Cotham, Professional Librarian at Mountain Empire Community College, has been appointed to the Planning Committee for the Loughborough International Seminar on Children's Literature which will be held on the University of Tennessee campus during the World's Fair in August, 1982

Mr Cotham was named to the committee by UT Professor Glenn B. Estes, noted scholar and critic of children's literature

"Mr. Estes invited me to serve on the Planning Committee because he is aware of my interest in children's literature, and I am proud that he feels that I have something to offer the Committee's effort," says Cotham

The Loughborough International Seminar on Children's Literature recognized as the premiere international seminar on children's literature, was begun in England in 1968 to provide a forum for an international dialogue about children's literature and children's book publishing by authors, critics, illustrators, librarians, and publishers. The seminar is held in a different country each year Attendance at the seminar is by invitation only. A few of the persons on this year's tentative schedule of speakers are Isaac Asimov, Maurice Sendak, David Macanby, David Rees, and Jamake Highwater

Cotham will travel to Knoxville for monthly committee meetings for the next year His specific responsibilities will be to coordinate the speakers' program introductions and pre post seminar travel.

Westmoreland Elects Hayden Vice President — Virginia Operations

Westmoreland Coal Company announced that Hershiel H. Hayden has been elected by the Board of Directors to the newly created position of Vice President-Virginia Operations

Hayden joined Westmoreland as General Manager of the Company's wholly owned Colorado based subsidiary, Colorado Westmoreland Inc. In 1978. He previously held positions with U.S. Steel Corporation's Western District from 1968 to 1978 ranging from Coal Section Foreman to Assistant General Superintendent

Prior to being elected to his present position, Hayden was Assistant Vice President Production of Westmoreland's Eastern Operations, headquartered in Big Stone Gap, a position he has held since 1980

The position to which Hayden has been elected is new to Westmoreland, and was created under its recently announced reorganization. Hayden will have full responsibility for Westmoreland's Virginia mines and reports to Alvey B. Rushton, the Senior Vice President Operations, headquartered at the Company's Corporate offices in Philadelphia.

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Mrs. Hugh (Loretta) Drake was the guest speaker at the Senior Center Monday. She gave some readings, and played a tape of recorded songs by her son Donald. Loretta is no stranger to the center and attends whenever possible. She has helped the senior citizens in many ways during the past several years. We feel that she is one of us and appreciate all that she has done to help. She always helps at lunch time. The doors are always open for her.

—Recent visitors of Mabel Skidmore were her children. She was happy to have her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Riddle, Southgate, Mich., sons, Mr. and Mrs. B.W. Skidmore, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Skidmore and Kristy, Huntington, W. Va., spend some of their vacation time with her.

—Sallie Woliver and nephew, W.J. Quinley, were in Lone Mountain, Tn., Sunday, to visit her brother-in-law, Carson Vannoy, her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Mitchell, and Ethel Campbell, a longtime friend.

—Inez Olinger is a patient in Holston Valley Memorial Hospital, Kingsport, where she underwent surgery Wednesday.

—Jimmie Napier, Johnson City, spent last week with his parents, June and Joe Napier.

—The mobile home of Buelah Ray and family was destroyed when struck by lightning during a thunderstorm Friday night. Almost everything was lost. She and her daughters, Judy and Karen, would appreciate any help given to them at this time.

—Mrs. Georgia Byington moved to Orangeburg, S.C. last week to make her home. Her daughter, Mrs. June Bloom, Springfield, Va., spent a few days with her to help in the moving. They drove to Orangeburg on Wednesday and will spend some time with another daughter, Jean and Ray Lassiter, and family.

—The new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Daugherty, son and daughter, are moving into the Byington home. We welcome them to Jonesville.

—Frank Oxford remains a patient in Lonesome Pine Community Hospital, Big Stone Gap.

—Queenie DeBusk is a patient in Indian Path Hospital, Kingsport, where she underwent surgery Monday.

—Some patients in Lee County Community Hospital that you may like to know about are: B. F. Daugherty, George Redmond, Cora Duncan, Cassie Estep, Sudie Garrison, Mae Shackleford, Emily Nelms, Bill Lambert and Buelah Harris.

—Glen Harris returned to his home in Springfield, Va., Saturday after spending a few days with his mother, Kathleen Harris. He was here due to the death of his father, Ray Harris.

—Jonesville First Baptist WMU Day Organization held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the church. These ladies took part in the program: Mary Speak, Nell Bush, Sybil Collins, Lizzie Minor, Loraine Russell, Ethel Chadwell, Ella Bailey, and Golden Sanders. A business meeting followed the program with Sybil Collins presiding.

—Ray Carl Minor arrived Sunday from Leola, Pa., to visit his mother, Lizzie Minor in Jonesville, and his sisters, Lois Cappiello, Dr. Cappielo and family, Morehead, Ky., and Carolyn Pope, Mr. Pope and family, Carlisle, Ky.

—A rally for the Great Camp Vision was held at the Jonesville First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon. It was sponsored by the Powell River Associational WMU. The welcome address and invocation was given by Betty E. Harless, associated W.M.U. Director. Kathryn Bullard, State WMU Executive Director and WMU Treasurer, and Emma Hutchins, administrative assistant, both from Richmond, showed slides and told about the Great Camp Vision, 423 acres of property in the George Washington National Forest, at Lowesville, near Lynchburg and Amherst, Va., which is the new State WMU camp. After a question and answer session, Bullard closed with prayer. Refreshments was served in the fellowship hall by Jonesville WMU. Music was provided by Michelle Jones, Robin Carson, and Teresa Hensley, singing with piano accompaniment.

In The Service

James G. Frazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly O. Frazier of Route 2, Jonesville, Va., has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of specialist four.

Frazier is a dental specialist with the Dental Clinic at Fort Detrick, Md.

Sheila Jo Witt

Sportswear Queen

Sheila Jo Witt, age 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Witt, of Pennington Gap, was chosen "Queen of Roses Sportswear Queen" at the Queen of Roses Beauty Pageant held at Appalachia Elementary School, Appalachia, Friday, July 24. She was also awarded the "Prettiest Outfit Award."

She was also chosen the "Queen of Roses Photogenic Queen."

Also chosen "Queen of Roses Second Runner-Up" in the 5 thru 7 age division of the beauty contest of the dress competition.

This pageant was judged on natural beauty, personality project, overall appearance and impression, modeling ability in a T-formation, and sportswear modeling in stage presentation.

Sheila's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Clarkston of Big Stone Gap and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cambell Witt of St. Charles.

Mumps Immunization Required

A change in the State School Immunization Law rquires that children entering school for the first time this fall must be immunized against mumps. This is in addition to the immunizations previously required for school enterers against measles, rubella, polio, diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus.

James B. Kenley, M.D., State Health Commisioner, said, "It is important for a child to be protected against mumps as well as the other vaccine-preventable diseases. Before a child can enter school he must have proof of immunization against these seven diseases."

The 1981 General Assembly approved an additional change in the law which now states that if a child does not complete the series of immunizations against polio, diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus within 60 days of the opening of school, "the pupil shall be excluded from school until the pupil furnishes a certificate from a licensed physician that the required immunizations have been completed."

Mumps vaccine is usually given as a combination immunization with measles and rubella vaccines. This vaccine and vaccines to protect against the other communicable diseases are available from private physicians or at no charge from local health departments.

We've developed a system more secure than Aunt Mary's top dresser drawer or Uncle George's buried tin can.

Years ago, people would keep valuable items in their homes, supposedly hidden securely.

Sugar bowls, kitchen cupboards and vases were favorite hiding places, as were shoe boxes, dresser drawers and the top shelf of a tall bookcase. The problem with these "secret places" was that they were non-resistant to fire and the first places any smart thief would look.

Today, most people find it's much safer to put Granddad's gold watch and Aunt Linda's diploma in a safety deposit box along with bonds, deeds, wills and other important documents and treasured possessions.

Rental fees are low, your valuables are completely safe and you'll enjoy added peace of mind in knowing that your irreplaceable items are safe and secure.

And one more thing. We will never forget where we hid your safety deposit box.

Billy plans to major in Business administration.

Sunday School Lesson

GOD DESIRES JUSTICE

God requires all who worship and serve Him to be just, honest and kind in their dealings with others.

/ Deuteronomy 16:18-20

God is impartial in the administration of justice. He requires His children to follow His example in this respect. He wants those who are elected to civil officers to be fair, impartial and just in the administration of affairs whether they are on the municipal, county, state or national level. All governmental officials should have such high and firm principles as to cause them to refrain from injustice, partiality, corruption and bribery. One fundamental principle in good government is the equality of all citizens before the law. The rich are not entitled to an unfair advantage over the poor when they are brought to trial in the courts of the land. There is a dire need today of more and better teaching in our homes, schools and churches on the importance of God's law of equality and of the necessity for justice. God is vitally concerned that minorities enjoy justice rather than be the victims of grave injustices as is frequently their lot in life.

Deuteronomy 24: 10-15

In the event that one should lend another a sum of money, and circumstances make it impossible for him to repay it as had been agreed upon, but offered him some tangible property as a pawn until he could pay it, the one making the loan was forbiddent to go into the house of the other and take out a pledge. If the one who had procured the loan delivered the pledge, it was permissible to accept it, but he was instructed to return it by sundown if it were needed by the borrower. Mercy and kindness must be shown to persons in need and in distress.

It is right that some should possess wealth and that others should work for them. Inasmuch as all do not have equal ability to handle wealth, those who finance honorable business enterprises are entitled to be recognized as the benefactors of those who are employed by them. Both employer and employee have their place in the plan of God. It is God's will that both shall be governed by the principle of considerateness. Neither has any right to exploit the other.

God's Word forbids an employer to oppress an employee. The fact that an employee is poor and needy never justifies an employer taking advantage of him. Each must deal justly with the other. Neither is permitted to take advantage of the other. What a pity that so much of modern industry has degenerated into a grim struggle between those who work and those for whom they labor, with each trying to squeeze out of the other as much as possible. Greed and godlessness are sinful whether they are in the employer or the employee.

Deuteronomy 24: 17-19

Through Moses God forbade the people to pervert the justice which was due to the less fortunate. He exhorted them to sympathize with and to show mercy and kindness to those in trouble, somewhat as He had done in His deliverance of them from slavery in Egypt. One way in which they could do this was by leaving in their fields, at the time when the grain was harvested, a portion for the widows, orphans and strangers. Another requirement of them was that, when the olive trees were stripped of the fruit that was ripe, the remaining olives which they had overlooked were to be left for the needy to gather and use. These expressions of mercy and kindness were very important, and those who wanted to please God were careful to perform them. Justice calls for a genuine concern for the well-being of others.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

Engagement Announced

Lisa Snodgrass and Jeff Whisman will be married in an open Church ceremony at 5 p.m. on August 8, at Clover Fork Baptist Church at Holmes Mill, Ky.

The bride elect is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Keith Snodgrass of Keokee, and the bridegroom to be is the son of Mrs. Shelby Whisman and the late Fred Whisman of Holmes Mill, Ky.

—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brock of Charlotte, N.C., Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Clark of Orange, S.C. arrived last Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McDaniel in Keokee and were guests there until Thursday.

Mrs. Brock is the former Ida Cooper and Mrs. Clark is the former Jean Cooper. They spent their younger years in Keokee. Mrs. McDaniel is their niece.

—Oscar and Juanita Brown of Apopka, Fla., arrived Wednesday morning to visit Mrs. Verda Thompson. She accompanied them to Big Stone Gap where they were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Thompson, Jr.

After visiting the Thompsons, Mr. and Mrs. Brown planned to go to Louisville, Ky., to attend the Akins family reunion.

—Visitors on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ordie Morris were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harvy Flanary of Imboden, Va., also visiting on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris and son, Kevin of Exeter, Va.

—R.P. Cooper, Jr., underwent surgery at the Norton Community Hospital in Norton, last Tuesday. He is reported to be improving at this time. We wish for him a speedy recovery and hope he will be well and fine again soon.

He has had many visitors while in the hospital.

—Verda Thompson and Bulah Bobrosky of Keokee, members of the Lonesome Pine Hospital Ladies Auxiliary attended the annual Awards Luncheon held at the hospital cafeteria recently.

—Louise and Keith Bybee have returned to their home in Memphis after enjoying a wonderful vacation trip. First they visited their son, Blake in Austin, Texas. Then they joined Keith's two sisters and their husbands, and his brother and wife and the family went on a cruise down Colorado River for a week. It was a trip to remember.

Louise is the former Louise Slemp of Seminary near Big Stone Gap. She is the daughter of Mrs. Abigail Slemp of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bybee, and aunt Abigail plan to return to this area to visit relatives the week of August 16, and attend the Homecoming Day when the Seminary United Methodist Church will celebrate its 130th anniversary.

The Seminary Church was formerly a school in the years of 1800 and both aunt Abigail's parents, Dorinda Kelly Clarkston and Francis Marion Clarkston attended school there.

The Seminary was one of the early schools in Lee County. At that time the community was known as Turkey Cove.

—Iva Clarkston and I, also our niece, Marilyn Gardner and son, Eddie of Dryden, accompanied us to Keavy, Ky., last Saturday where we visited our sister, Monette Wells.

Enroute we visited our brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Clarkston near Dryden. In the evening a niece, Mrs. Robert Quillen came with us to Keokee for short visit.

—The WMU of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church in Keokee held their monthly meeting last Tuesday.

—Mrs. Ordie Morris spent last Monday with her sister, Mrs. Clercie Breeding in Big Stone Gap. Mrs. Breeding's daughter, Mary Ann and children Joel and Linsey came and joined them and they enjoyed talking about old times of the yester-years.

—Dinner guests last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Thompson, Jr., in Big Stone Gap were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Snodgrass of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Audrey Baker of Big Stone Gap and Verda Thompson of Keokee.

Clark Family Reunion Slated

The Clark family fourth annual reunion will be held on Saturday, August 1st. Tables have been reserved at Bullitt Park in Big Stone Gap. A photographer will be available to take pictures.

Dinner will be served at the noon hour. There will be food, fun, friends, and relatives. Plan to attend and you'll be glad you were there for the event. There will be many descendants of Marion and Rosa Clark.

Hubert Clark and wife, Louise of Orlando, Fla., are among the descendants of the late Dillard and Lizzie Clark of Appalachia, who plan to attend.

—Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Clark, and son and daughter-in-law of Appalachia recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Clark in Orlando, Fla.

Youth Group Has Pizza Party

The Rose Hill Church of God children's church enjoyed a pizza party on Saturday, July 25.

The children's church is under the leadership of Margie Noe.

Those attending the party were: Tammy Sturgill; Michelle Garreffa; Stan and Steven Powers; Judy, Tina and Renee Fee; Jimmy Bryant; Melissa nd Lisa Carroll; Joel Trigg, Gary, Dusty, Lynn and Rocky Overton; George and Lewis Dixon; Teddy Overton and Karen Jarnagin.

Parents attending the party were Rev. and Mrs. Jack Trigg; Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Noe; Patricia Garreffa, Debbie Overton, Lillian Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Fee, Mr and Mrs Day Sturgill and Susie Bryant.

NOTICE

Woodway Water Authority

Notice is hereby given that effective September 1, 1981 water rates will be amended as follows:

Old rates were $7.00 per month for the first 2,000 gallon. New rates will be $7.00 per 2,500 gallons. $1.50 per 1,000 gallon there after.

The water system is in need of repair. This new rate will generate enough revenue to do some necessary repairs and also to pay some past due bills.

The new water board members have vowed to give the best water service possible, with the lowest rates possible.

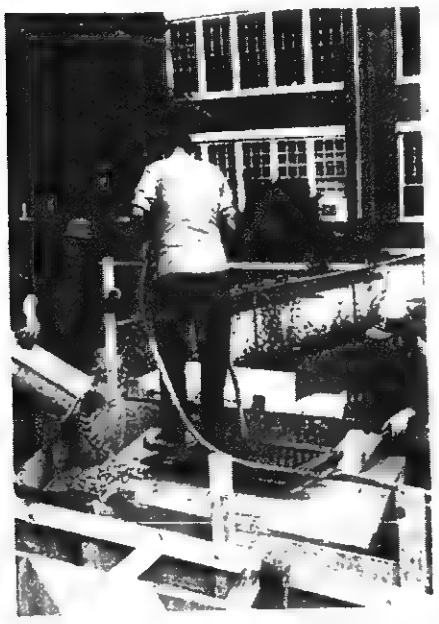
Vehicle Stickers Bought . . . Personal Property Taxes Paid . . . County Finances Good

More than $250,000 in delinquent personal property taxes has been collected by the newly required Lee County vehicle sticker.



The county board of supervisors adopted the ordinance in May which required window stickers for each vehicle owned by county residents, but first you must pay your personal property taxes (if they were not previously paid) for the past five years.

In May only fifty percent of the 1980 personal property taxes had been paid. This was a result of believing that such a tax was illegal and one could not be forced to pay .... also if you paid your taxes each year and remarked to a neighbor that you had been to Jonesville and paid your personal property taxes, he more than likely gave you a lecture on why you should not have paid this tax ... real estate taxes, yes - personal property tax, no.

So the lines got longer as the July 31 deadline got closer. All of us came up with money to pay our taxes and be able to drive our vehicles Saturday, August 1. It would have been easier on the pocketbook if we had paid each year. Our county is obligated to its people, the people to the county and without the revenue produced by taxes, the county can not supply the county needs.

Tax is an ugly word. We dislike it, yet without taxes how could our county give us protection, schools, Library, etc.

Decals for over 10,000 of the 12,000 registered county vehicles have been purchased.

"People are taking it very seriously," Commissioner of Revenue Silas Glass said. "The word's out that it will be enforced."

Total delinquent taxes collected by the measure are expected to rise well over $300,000 county administrator Odell Wilson said, as people continue to purchase the stickers after the deadline.

Enforcement of the ordinance is expected to begin late this week, county officials said.

"It's now been recognized that everyone must pull their load," Wilson said.

"This will keep us financially solvent until the fall (property) taxes come in," Wilson said. "We're out of the financial crunch now."

The county had existed under a "dark, dark financial picture" for the past three years, according to Wilson.

The two major factors involved, Wilson said, were a decrease each year in the percentage of property taxes collected, causing spending to rise above revenues collected, and the failure to have a sufficient tax levy to pay for construction on the new courthouse in 1979

With the passage of a bond referendum last year to pay for the courthouse, and the success of the vehicle sticker measure in collecting delinquent taxes, "we're in very good shape," Wilson said.

Storm Sewer

This house in the Big Hill community was destroyed last Thursday by fire. Mr. Herman Reese was the owner. The Pennington Gap Fire Department responded to the call.

Electrical Training And Retraining Class

The Virginia Division of Mines and Quarries will start a Electrical training and retraining class on Monday, August 10, 1981. This class will meet at the Big Stone Gap office of the Division of Mines and Quarries. Registration for classes will be at 9:00 A.M. on Monday, August 10, 1981.

The 16 hours of annual retraining required by MSHA to keep your Federal Card in good standing will be offered during this course.

If you have employees that wish this training, would you please see that they enroll and attend this class. Also, for any further questions about this class or any other mining class call 703-523-0335.

Cumberland Park Receives Grant

Jonesville Mayor Couk has been informed of a $40,000 grant to improve the access road to the Cumberland Bowl Park.

Del. Orby L. Cantrell made the announcement that the Commission of Outdoor Recreation had appropriated the funds.

County Special Election Scheduled For August 18

With the validity of a 2300 signature petition still in doubt, Lee County Polls are scheduled to open on August 18. A commission appointed by Circuit Court Judge Samuel Coleman has not requested that a later date be set as expected by many observers. The General Registrar office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on August 8 and August 15 for the purpose of accepting applications for absentee voting. This Special Election is expected to cost the county about $10,000.

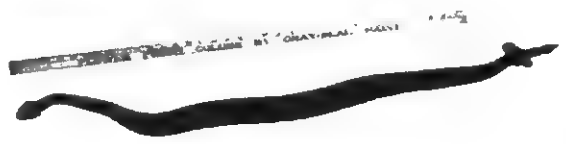
When voters of Lee County enter the polls to select what form of government they want, the present County Board Form or the proposed Traditional Board Form, they will be faced with one of the most important questions in determining the county's operation. While general elections determine the leaders of the county, this special election will decide what appointive powers the elected officials will control.

New Book Donated To Library

The Lee County Public Library has received an additional book to be used in research from Mrs. Mary Estes, entitled "Early Carters In Scott County, Va.," by Rita K. Sutton

Only 100 copies of this book was printed and many Carters and their families are listed that are now or have been Lee County residents.

Mrs. Estes is using the book as a tribute to Mrs. Ollie Mae Carpenter, a much admired person, a teacher, Lovelady DAR Regent, member First Christian Church, and the Shelburne family of Pennington Gap.



A 43 Inch Killer

Curtis Bledsoe of Stickleyville finished off this huge "Black Rattler". Cindy Baker of Pennington first tried to kill the snake with her car. Curtis came along and although the snake was very mad was able to finish him off. The snake "struck" at Curtis several times. The "rattler" measured 43 inches long and weighed 5 pounds and had 7 rattlers and a button.

MECC Scholarship Winners

Mountain Empire Community College is proud to announce recipients of the 1981 Presidential Scholarships. The scholarships were set aside for the valedictorians and salutatorians from each of the 17 high schools in Lee, Wise, and Scott Counties, the city of Norton, and Clintwood High School in Dickenson County.

The scholarship will cover all tuition charges for the 1981 academic year.

The recipients are:

Barbara Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bowman, salutatorian at Jonesville High School. Barbara will study Business Administration.

Tracy Raasic, valedictorian at Pennington High School, who will enroll in the Education curriculum. Tracy also received a scholarship from the Westmoreland Coal Company.

Melissa Cantrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David T. Cantrell, valedictorian at Pound High School. She will pursue a degree in Nursing.

Donna Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellis, salutatorian at Keokee High School. Accounting will be her major field of study.

Dennis Ireson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ireson, salutatorian at Appalachia High School. Dennis also received a Westmoreland Coal Company Scholarship. He plans to study Business Administration at MECC.

Debbie Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wright of Gate City, valedictorian at Rye Cove High School. Debbie will pursue General Studies.

Emergency Vehicle Driver Training

Both branches of the Lee County Rescue Squad, Pennington and Thomas Walker, participated in the Emergency Vehicle Operation Control Driving Course which was taught by Mr. Charles Hicks (pictured) and Mr. Bob Wilson. In addition to motor vehicle laws and procedures at traffic crashes, the course covered proper lane changing, backing, and braking techniques. Participants of the two-day event received certificates of completion which will be required for all drivers of emergency vehicles by 1983 in accordance with state regulations.

Transfer Student Registration

Transfer students who plan to enter Pennington High School for the 1981-82 school term should register for classes on August 6th and 7th. The Guidance Office of Pennington High School will be open each of these days from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. for this registration.

In-coming 8th grade students from St. Charles Elementary and Pennington Elementary preregistered last spring and need not register again.

Sheriff's Report

Sheriff R. V. Chadwell warns of a "scam" operation involving stolen weight tickets which indicate more tons of coal than actually delivered. Lee County homeowners, who are buying their winter coal, are urged to use discretion in buying coal from out-of-town dealers.

According to Lee County Sheriff's Department Investigator Charles Janeway, it was another "routine" week with no felony arrests and the usual number of misdemeanors.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Maude Oaks Lewis

Never a day goes by
That you are out of mind
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.
Keep her lovely Jesus in your loving care
Until we reach that shining shore
Then Master gives her back to us
To love her as before.

Sadly missed by

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Donald Gullett, who passed away August 9, 1977.

It was four long years ago today that God took our loved one away.

We often weep and wonder why the one we loved so had to die.

Then I hear the voice of Jesus say, weep not my child, look up and pray, because I too had to die one day

Jonesville Juniors Promote Federation Of Women's Clubs Awareness

The General Federation of Women's Clubs had its beginning on April 24, 1890, with the adoption of the Constitution. "Unity in Diversity," which had been engraved on the first membership pin in 1893, became the official motto by unanimous vote at the 1957 Convention.

This small banding together of existing clubs has grown into the largest organization of women volunteers in the world. The purpose of the General Federation is to bring into communication and to unite women's clubs for the purpose of mutual benefit and for the promotion of their common interest. This is achieved by: providing educational advantages for members, their children and their communities; transforming common concerns of public interest into projects and programs; stressing the importance of family unity, spiritual values, good health for all people, strong consumer awareness and programs for the elderly; promoting studies and participation in the arts and encouraging young talents through scholarships and awards programs; taking an active role of leadership for the preservation of our country's resources; and building and strengthening the American home, and through it, making realistic contributions toward world peace.

Membership in the General Federation offers countless opportunities for rewarding results. It provides friendships with women whose interests extend beyond local horizons; it stimulates civic consciousness; it trains for leadership; it is effective through united effort, in influencing law making; and it opens the way for constructive public service.

The Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs was organized May 16, 1907. Ten clubs with a membership of 683 women signed the constitution. Today the VFWC has grown to 401 clubs, 283 general, and 118 junior, with a total membership of 20,496. Through the banding of clubs across Virginia, juniors have successfully co-sponsored Camp Easter Seal - West and East, camps for crippled children. The organization has supported the Association for the Study of Childhood Cancer, and they are currently supporting research to develop a cure for the complications and the disease of juvenile diabetes. In addition to a public educational campaign about the disease, Virginia juniors have raised over $10,000 in donations for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

The VFWC is comprised of eight districts with Jonesville belonging to the Southwestern District. Service work at all levels - local, district, state, national and international - falls into six departments of work: Conservation; Education; the Arts; Home Life, International Affairs; and Public Affairs.

The Jonesville Junior Woman's Club, organized in July, 1970 and chartered in April, 1971, is a member of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Jonesville Juniors are involved in various community service projects: sponsoring a camper to Camp Easter Seal; serving as Lee County's Easter Seal Chapter; sponsoring a Read A-Thon; awarding an educational scholarship to a deserving senior; making monthly visits to the Green Hill Nursing Home for bingo parties; co-sponsoring Career Day for the primary children at Jonesville Elementary School; planting flowers in the town's flower boxes, sponsoring the "Little Miss Cumberland Bowl" pageant; working with the art show at the Lee County Fair; providing safety and consumer tips; working for cancer and juvenile diabetes, sponsoring arts and crafts workshops; making home baked goodies for the poll workers on Election Day; presenting informative monthly programs, and many other community service projects.

Virginia Miners Hosts Job Corps

After defeating the Appalachia Old Timers 7-2, in their first exhibition game, the Virginia Miners Club football team will play the Flatwoods Job Corps on August 8, at 8:00 p.m. in Bullitt Park, Big Stone Gap. Tickets for the game will be $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for high school students.

The Virginia Miners are playing four exhibition games this year in preparation for a gruelling season in the North Carolina Virginia Club Football League. The first regular season home game for the Miners will be the tough Marine Corps team from North Carolina on October 3. The Miners are itching for revenge against the Marines who defeated the Miners last year 14-7 at Camp Le Juene

Several last year standouts are back in the Miners ranks, including Bob Yeary from Jonesville, Shannon Collier, Appalachia, Larry Snodgrass, Kingsport, Dirk Maddux, Big Stone; Bill Rollins, Big Stone, Mike Kilgore, Wise, Robert Odle and Howard Pickett, Coeburn; Tommy Stacy, Rye Cove; Brad Cole, Big Stone; Steve Gardner, Wise; Ricky Hopkins and Allen Richardson from Norton and Ed Gardner of Wise.

New men with excellent high school and collegiate experience include David Carpenter, Pennington Gap, Monroe Brown, Tazewell, Tn.; Julius Williams, Middlesboro, Ky., Roy Wood, Big Stone, T.J Williams, Ervington and Kerry Anderson of Big Stone

The Virginia Miners invite all Southwest Virginians to come out and support the team against strong opposition from North Carolina. Future articles will appear in this paper concerning game schedules and reports of Virginia Miners successes. The team plans no losses, but if it happens, reports will be made also

The Virginia Miners are our men from our local schools. Help us help them prove Virginia football is better than North Carolina football

Birthday Greetings From The President

Carrie Edens of Keokee, celebrated her 80th birthday on Wednesday, July 22. She was really pleased, surprised and happy when she received a birthday greeting from President Ronald Reagan.

Carrie said, "Now I wonder how he knew about my birthday. I'm going to keep the card always."

She also received many gifts, and other greeting cards, and several telephone calls from her daughters and sons, and friends wishing her a "happy birthday!"

Her son, Jerry Edens arrived from Ironton, Ohio on Wednesday and Mrs. Edens went with him to Big Stone Gap, where he treated her to a birthday dinner. Both Jerry and his mother enjoyed the day together.

Mrs. Edens has been residing in Keokee many years and has a large number of friends in this area.

She was the former Carrie Brooks, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brooks. The Brooks family was living in Appalachia, when Carrie married Echel Edens, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Edens of Keokee.

Their wedding was a bit different from the present day weddings. The way it happened Echel hired the only taxi cab in Keokee owned by John M. Brown and went to Appalachia and brought Carrie back to Keokee where the marriage took place at the home of Tom Page the Justice of the Peace who performed the marriage ceremony on February 16, 1919.

They set up housekeeping near Keokee where all their children were born near the old Sam Edens homeplace. Their children are Beatrice, Frances, Hazel, Geneva, Echel, Jr., Sam, and Jerry, and Baby Bertha who died as an infant.

Echel worked in the coal mine at Calvin, Va., and he was also a Minister. The Edens family moved to Calvin in 1941, and later moved back to Keokee to a new house in 1954. Rev. Edens served as pastor of the Rawhide Missionary Baptist Church at Keokee, for several years. Rev. Echel Edens passed away November 28, 1974.

By this time all their sons and daughters were married and had families of their own living in other states, Ohio, Florida, Tennessee, and Texas.

Carrie Edens is very proud of her large family, and grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. She looks forward to them returning home to visit with her. Carrie is always remembered on all holidays, especially on her birthday and she enjoys their telephone calls each week

CCC Offers Corn For Sale

Farmers and other interested persons will be eligible to purchase corn from the Commodity Credit Corporation starting July 27.

Roy J. Myers, Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the CCC will offer corn for unrestricted use sale at market prices, but not less than the formula price which is 115 percent of the county loan rate for corn where stored plus 54 cents per bushel carrying charges.

"The minimum quantity that will be considered for acceptance is 1,000 bushels," Myers said.

According to Myers, offers will be received and sales will be made on a first come, first served basis.

Interested persons should contact the county ASCS office as soon as possible for further details.

Sunday School Lesson

THE BASIS OF COVENANT RENEWAL
Deuteronomy 29: 2-15

Aware that he was approaching the end of his earthly life, Moses wanted to prepare the Israelites for their entrance of the Promised Land, which they were eager to possess. In a huge mass meeting on the plains of Moab, Moses sought to impart to them the strength which they would need if they were to survive in their new home.

Moses challenged the Israelites to reflect on God's grace and goodness which He had extended to their ancestors so bountifully, even before many of them were born. Moses reminded them that God had liberated them from bondage in Egypt, had made a covenant with them at Sinai, had cared for them and sustained them for forty years while they sojourned in the wilderness, daily supplying them manna for food and a sufficient supply of water to meet their needs, and had brought them safely to the border of the Promised Land, after having given them military victories over their enemies. Not once had God broken a promise that He had made to them at Sinai or deserted them. What God had so mercifully and graciously done for the Israelites constituted a strong appeal to them to recognize their obligations to Him. Moses was convinced that God's past blessings upon the Israelites constituted a sufficient reason for their trust in Him and their obedience to Him. God's deliverance to them and provision for them called for their strongest efforts to please and honor Him in every way possible.

In making a covenant with the Israelites at Sinai, God voluntarily placed upon Himself certain obligations relative to those whom He called into the covenant relationship with Him. We may well think of that covenant as a matter of God's offer in love and of man's response in faith and obedience. God's offer was neither demanded nor earned, but an act of marvelous grace, love and mercy.

Of course, Moses knew full well that the people through their stubborness of will and determination to do as they pleased had broken their covenant with God. Their brazen disobedience was both unnecessary and inexcusable. Inasmuch as they had broken their covenant with God through disobedience, it was their obligation to return to God, to acknowledge their sinfulness, to request divine forgiveness, and then to renew their covenant with Him. Forsaking their sinful ways, demonstrating their loving allegiance to Him by their faithful and devoted service, and striving diligently to please Him in all things would assure them of God's richest blessings upon them throughout their future. Obedience to God is ever the price of blessing and true spiritual prosperity.

Without hesitation, and with great earnestness, Moses besought the Israelites to whom he was speaking on this memorable occasion to avail themselves of the glorious opportunity of renewing their covenant with God, of making a new, public and full commitment of themselves to God, and of being faithful in keeping their promises to God in the difficult, discouraging and dangerous situations in which they were sure to find themselves. Any and all of God's children who sincerely enter into a covenant with God will discover to their satisfaction and joy that God will always keep every promise that He has ever made to them. To the very limit of our abilities and opportunities, let us do everything possible to please and honor God, who has done so much for us, until we come to the end of life's way.

Rehabilitation Services

Disability beneficiaries who refuse vocational rehabilitation services without good cause may have their benefits withheld, R.L. Kelly, social security manager in Norton, said recently.

The provision applies to both Social Security disability insurance beneficiaries and supplemental security income disability recipients.

A person undergoing treatment for an impairment that has lasted or is expected to last at least 12 months may be considered disabled. On the other hand, the same person would not be considered disabled if he or she refused treatment without justification.

"While the law provides monthly cash payments for persons found to be disabled, it also seeks to have as many beneficiaries as possible rehabilitated to the point where they can return to work. A monthly payment is no substitute for gainful employment and independent living," Mr. Kelly said.

A trial work period is provided as an additional incentive for beneficiaries to attempt to return to work. The trial work period permits beneficiaries who are still disabled to make the effort to go back to work without jeopardizing their benefits. During a period of 9 months -- not necessarily consecutive -- any work they perform does not affect their rights to benefits as long as their impairment shows no improvement. In other words, any work and earnings during these 9 months are not considered in determining whether a beneficiary continues to be disabled.

"Of course, any medical evidence obtained during the period that suggests that the person has recovered from his or her impairment would be considered." Additional information about disability benefits and vocational rehabilitation services may be obtained from the Social Security office, located at 630 Park Avenue, Norton, Virginia. The telephone number is 679-2404.

Gas Well Site Prepared

Wise Oil and Gas Exploration, Inc., has completed preparation work on three well sites planned for gas/oil exploration drilling on the Jefferson National Forest.

The work consisted of constructing or improving road access, gate installation, stock piling top soil, sump pit construction, and grading each drill site. Seeding of the access roads and stock piled material was also done. Gravel will be applied immediately prior to drilling.

Actual drilling operations are planned on these three sites in late September or October.

The well sites are located at the Glades (Scott Co.), Osborne Ridge (Scott Co.), and near Jay Bird Branch (Wise Co.).

C.R. (Rufus) Sexton, of Coeburn, is the Jefferson National Forest on-the-ground project coordinator.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks For Caring

The response to the Ketron Baby Fund to purchase a monitor was so good that the monies needed were received and the Ketron's had their baby home in a few days following the announcement that a monitor was needed.

Barbara Ashburn, who received the money on behalf of the March of Dimes, expresses her thanks to everyone, and wishes to share the following two letters she received with checks, that came from the greatest distance away from Lee County - Maryland and Indiana.

Dear Friends.

I hope this helps to get the machine your child needs. I know if it were mine I would want him home also,

Lots of luck from the Ricketts family.

P.S. would send more but my husband is out of work, for now. Sorry.

July 21, 1981

When I saw the article in the paper about the baby that needed help it touched me deeply. I was born and raised in Lee County and there was a time in my life that I needed help and I know how it feels.

I am sending a check which I hope will help some and may it while being a help for this child, be in memory also of all the dear people that helped me in time of need.

Sincerely,
Lucille Wells

Letter To The Editor:

July 30, 1981
Mr. Donald Watson
Editor
Powell Valley News
Pennington Gap, Va. 24277

Dear Sir.

I would like to reply to H.A. Kinsler's remarks and comments in your paper July 21, 1981.

First, Mr. Kinsler must not keep himself very well informed as the Wheel Tax revenue cannot be used to help support the Fire Departments and Rescue Squads. This was brought to the board of supervisors attention a few weeks ago and the idea of using Wheel Tax money for this purpose was dropped by the supervisors.

Since the county has dropped the county supported Ambulance Service and terminated Mr. Kinslers position as head of the Ambulance Service along with his political clout, Lee County is now covered by the two Rescue Squad Units, one located in Pennington Gap and the other in Thomas Walker. Also a private Ambulance Service has been established to run convalescent calls. (Good Neighbor Ambulance Service).

In the past several months the emergency service between the Rescue Squads, Good Neighbor Ambulance Service, the Lee County Sheriff's Department, local police departments, hospitals and county wide Fire Departments now have one of the best working relationships that has ever been established so far in Lee County. Due to the fact that the people involved in these organizations are concerned for the care of the people of Lee County and have not let politics and political beliefs stand in the way.

Why should citizens outside the corporate limits of towns have to pay the Wheel Tax? Because the citizens inside the corporate limits have to pay. But more likely is the fact that this is one county, not incorporated towns, colonies, areas, or small communities. This is a county and all deserve the same treatment be it good or bad.

The Fire Departments all seven of them (yes, there are more fire departments than just the Pennington Gap Fire Department) and Rescue Squads will respond to a call anywhere they are needed in this county when a call comes in.

Yes, Mr. Kinsler the Fire Departments and Rescue Squads are lacking in equipment especially communications equipment and vehicles. For the amount of money that was spent on the county supported ambulance service over the few years it was in operation but is now dropped this money would have put in a county wide communications system, two new fire trucks in each of the seven fire departments and two or three new ambulances in squad buildings in at least three locations in the county and had money left over to operate on.

I'm sorry you have such a sore spot toward the Fire Department and Rescue Squad. Do you work at a regular job eight hours a day, attend classes on your own time at your expense to keep informed of up to date procedures in caring for the sick and injured, dropping what you are doing day or night to answer a call for help. Then in your spare time working on a fund raising project to raise money or out seeking donations to run a volunteer, non-profit Rescue Squad or Fire Department. The answer Sir, is No. You elect to sit back and criticize those who are trying.

These organizations are volunteer, non-profit and non-political and it makes no difference to us, Mr. Kinsler if the money comes from the Wheel Tax the county budget, from the people of Lee County who support us, or even from your own pocket. We will continue to look for funds to operate these organizations to serve the people of Lee County.

I think it would do you more good to go to the library, which the county helps to support, and read a good book.

Mr. Kinsler I cannot respond to your remarks of the Sheriff's Department as I am not familiar with their operations. But will let you know that the Sheriff's Department has played a big part in helping to establish a decent communications system between all the Rescue Squads, Fire Departments, and the People of Lee County.

Sir, I do not respond to your comments to create an argument but only to express the feeling of the Rescue Squad.

Sincerely
Don Scott

Letter To The Editor:

Pennington Gap, Va.
July 29, 1981
Mr. Donald R. Watson
Editor
Powell Valley News
Pennington Gap, Va.

Dear Mr. Watson:

This is in response to the letter that was published in the Powell Valley News dated July 21, 1981 concerning the wheel tax for Lee County and involving the Pennington Gap Volunteer Fire Department and Lee County Rescue Squad. This letter I am writing is entirely my own opinions and not the members of the Pennington Gap Volunteer Fire Department or members of the Lee County Rescue Squad (Pennington Unit) or members of any other departments in the county. First of all let me express my views on the letter about the Pennington Gap Fire Department.

There are eight fire departments in Lee County My first question is of all the other fire departments in Lee County (Why did you in your letter specifically pick out the Pennington Gap Fire Department) at least that is the way that I read it. Our department does try to do the very best it can as all of the other departments do.

I think that the Pennington Gap Volunteer Fire Department does a real good job in answering the fire calls that we receive, we are a volunteer fire department. All our members have jobs that they work at but whoever the members works for will let them answer the fire calls from their jobs. Our department members are out all during the night if there is a fire call, sure some places get destroyed by fire. Take for instance if we get a call maybe five or eight minutes after it is started and the alarm is sounded it takes our members roughly five to six minutes to get rolling since we are not stationed at the fire department 24 hours a day. This is just a rough figure as we don't time ourselves on how long it takes us to get there. I think as a whole we do a good job.

Now lets talk about the Lee County Rescue Squad - Pennington Unit. Also this is my own opinion and not other members of the Lee County Rescue Squad. The Lee County Rescue Squad is strictly a non-profit organization. We get our money from fund raising, which I am glad to be a part in trying to get different things in as well as the other members of the Squad. From the donations that the people give us. None of our members gets a dime for the some times long hours spent trying to help out the people in Lee County. I think we are fortunate to have a group of dedicated people to donate their own time for nothing. As you know when the board of supervisors started the Lee County Ambulance Service they were paid for their service and you, Mr. Kinsler, was working for them (the Lee County Ambulance Service) when the board of supervisors discontinued the Lee County Ambulance Service due to lack of funds to operate There was no ambulance service in Lee County to rely upon, so that is when the Lee County Rescue Squad got all the calls and it kept us quite busy because we were the only one in the county to provide the service until something could get worked out, then the Good Neighbor Ambulance Service was formed. At that time the Lee County Rescue Squad did answer quite a few convalescent calls. As a whole, I think our Lee County Rescue Squad works well with the Good Neighbor Ambulance Service and in return they work with us. Sure we get calls on convalescent cases but when they call us (the people that is doing the calling) they might say it is an emergency, so what are we to do except go on the call. We can't determine whether it is an emergency call or not over the phone. We can only rely on what the person tells us until we get to the scene, so therefore we can't say you should have called (the Ambulance Service) and not the Lee County Rescue Squad. If we were to try and determine whether it is an emergency over the phone, the time we spend doing that could mean life or death in those few minutes.

Now about the wheel tax first of all the Fire Department of Lee County and Rescue Squad didn't have a thing to do with the wheel tax. The decision to give the money to the Fire Departments and Rescue Squad was made by the board of supervisors. Again let me say this is my own opinion and not the opinion of any other fire department member or Rescue Squad member. This letter is not meant to make anyone have ill feelings toward anyone

Also Mr Kinsler, you said in your letter that the Rescue Squad would be unable to reach an ill or injured person before they were dead. Now Mr. Kinsler, define that statement that you made about the rescue squad. I don't know of any instance where we have been called upon and our response time has been so slow that the person had died. I think we the people of Lee County are very fortunate to have a group of dedicated people to serve on the Lee County Rescue Squad, Pennington Unit and Thomas Walker Unit and to remember their time and hard work to get any money out of this their self

I am proud to be a member of the Lee County Rescue Squad-Pennington Unit and Pennington Gap Volunteer Fire Department.

Yours truly,
C.D Oliver

Letter To Editor:

I am seeking help on tracing my family history. My great-great-grandfather, Jasper Stanley was born in Lee or Scott County, Va., on March 6, 1818 and died at Flatwoods, Ky., Greenup County, November 11, 1889. He married Nancy Kimberland and lived in Stickleyville, Va., until around 1850, when the family separated and he went to Flatwoods, Ky. Nancy raised the family in Lee County, Va. One of their children was Winfield Scott Stanley, who was my great grandfather.

Does anyone know who Jasper and Nancy's parents were?

Please contact me and all correspondence will be answered.

Veterans Administration

Q--I was honorably discharged from the Army after serving four years, part of which was in Vietnam. Can I use my entitlement for a home loan and go to school under the GI Bill at the same time?

A--There is no restriction on receiving both of the benefits at the same time.

Q--I have been receiving VA outpatient care for a service-connected disability. Will the outpatient treatment reports be sent to the rating board for re-evaluation of my disability?

A--Generally, the veteran or his representative must request that the outpatient treatment reports be reviewed by the rating board for possible re-evaluation of the disability.

Q--When are dividends paid on participating National Service Life Insurance policies?

A--Dividends are normally paid on the anniversary date of the insurance policy.

Q--What is the maximum amount I can borrow on a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?

A--There is no legal maximum. The VA will guarantee 60 percent of the loan or $27,500, whichever is less. The total amount of the loan is determined by the policy of your lending institution and by your ability to repay the loan.

Gauges Help Turn Raindrops Into Energy

Bruce Peters of TVA's Data Services Branch calibrates a new automated rain gauge with weights. The gauges save power customers money by providing up-to-the-minute rainfall information which can be used in the production of hydroelectricity.

Friday, June 5, 1981, 4 p.m.: the National Weather Service has issued a flash flood watch for part of Tennessee and predicts highly unstable weather over the weekend. Concern is mounting in TVA's Reservoir Operations Branch headquarters in Knoxville. It looks like rough weather is on its way.

Saturday, June 6, 1981. By 9 a.m. it is raining hard in Knoxville. Flash flood warnings are out for parts of east Tennessee. Early morning reports from TVA's network of 230 rain gauges scattered across the Valley indicate rain has been heavy but only in spots. Most of it has fallen in the Kentucky Lake area and upper middle Tennessee. Average rainfall in the two areas is two to three inches.

"We knew we had some heavy storms around," says Ken Hadaway, one of the engineers on duty June 6. "We needed to know where they were, how widespread, and how much rain was falling."

A year earlier Hadaway and the others would not have been able to get information this detailed in time to do them any good. It would have taken too long to call their observers in the field – if they could reach them at all.

On this June morning, however, it takes only 30 minutes to find out what they want to know. A computer flashes a telephone signal to a milk-can-shaped, automated rain gauge miles away that has been collecting rain in an old-fashioned galvanized bucket. The signal tells the sophisticated electronic "brain" of the rain guage to report the amount of rainfall since the last reading. Equipment in the gauge weighs the rainfall and translates it into millimeters. That information is transmitted to the computer and printed out both in millimeters and inches.

In less than a half-minute the reading is made and the information is humming back to Knoxville. Each guage can be called and read as often as necessary. Routinely, each is automatically summoned by the computer to give up its information four times a day.

On this day, readings from this gauge and 84 like it scattered around the Valley have saved power customers an estimated $50,000, because the information has allowed TVA to wring every last drop of hydroelectric power out of the storm.

"After looking over the readouts, we found that the heavy rain was localized around Kentucky Lake and in the Fort Loudoun drainage area around Knoxville, but not over the entire Valley," Hadaway says.

"With this information at hand, we decided to shut off Cherokee Lake discharge into Fort Loudoun Lake and allow Fort Loudoun to fill up above planned levels. Douglas Lake discharge had already been shut off. Then we went to capacity turbine flow, or maximum generation of electricity, at four mainstream dams downstream from Knoxville through Chattanooga – Fort Loudoun, Watts Bar, Chickamauga, and Nickajack.

The additional knowledge told us we could put the increased flows through the turbines to produce electricity rather than unnecessarily releasing it over the spillways of the dams."

Ever since TVA impounded its first lake at Norris, it has been using rainfall information as an important tool in managing its reservoirs. Up until present times, however, the agency has been relying primarily on "observers" – TVA employees and private citizens – to tell where it is raining and how much. At one time there were about 160 observers. Now, with the automated gauges coming into use, the number has declined to about 60.

Rain gauges come in all sizes and shapes. Some are simple "stovepipe" gauges into which a calibrated stick is dipped to measure the amount of rainfall. Others – about 30 in all – are more sophisticated radio gauges that telemeter their information to area TVA offices via radio waves. The observers call TVA area offices each morning; then Reservoir Operations people in Knoxville call the area offices for the results. However, this procedure is slow and time-consuming.

"We needed our information a lot faster and more often," says Burt Courtney, the Reservoir Operations man coordinating the new system called the "Automatic Data Acquisition System."

"Usually we get readings only once a day from the observers and the radio gauges. A lot of observers work, and it is difficult or impossible for them to report to us more than once a day. We were getting to the point where we were not able to get the updated reports necessary to run the system most effectively."

The storm that moved through on June 6 is a good example of the type situation where accurate information was needed fast, according to Courtney. "We had to make a decision rather quickly on how we were going to change our operations," he says. "We don't have much storage capacity for large flows into the system at Fort Loudoun, Watts Bar, or Chickamauga – or any of the main river reservoirs.

"Unless you have a good handle on the situation, you might go ahead and spill water and later realize you could have let the lakes rise a little and have generated more hydropower.

"The computer and its network give us tremendous flexibility in operating the reservoir system for both flood control and power generation. Water is very valuable as hydropower. We are already realizing significant savings."

Courtney says $1.2 million was originally appropriated for up to 190 automated rain gauges and 60 stream gauges, which measure stream flow. This was in 1977. Inflation, however, has taken its toll. The number of rain gauges was reduced to 125 to stay within budget. All should be in place and operating by September 30. Only six stream gauges will be a part of the system by then.

Don Warren of Data Services Branch designed the new system, using existing technology and a few new twists he came up with himself. He says each gauge costs about $4,000. Data Services put together the electronics that run the gauges, then installs them. Most are located on TVA property, so they have a ready source of power and are protected. Backup batteries are provided in case of power failure.

"We have been working on a project of automated rain gauges since 1974," Warren says. "We started design of the system we are using in November 1977. During the summer of 1978 we put 25 gauges out to see if they were going to do the job. They did, and we have been installing them ever since.

Warren says the system is reliable and should have little downtime.

"It's really quite simple," he says. "When the computer dials the number of a rain guage, a telephone at the site rings. A sound sensing device answers on the second ring, and the rain gauge powers up,' sends its information, then powers back down into a 'sleep' mode waiting for the next call. The whole thing takes about 20 minutes.

People will probably go on measuring rainfall as they always have if for no other reason than curiosity. But the offical readings will more and more come from those funny looking "milk cans" rather than from "stovepipes."

Relatively Good Year Seen For Virginia Agriculture

S. Mason Carbaugh, Commissioner of the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, today released the Department's preliminary forecast for the 1981 Virginia farm situation.

Gross farm income is expected to reach approximately $1.9 billion which will be the highest on record. This is primarily due to a combination of large production increases in most major commodities, a continuing favorable commodity price level, and a turn to promising weather conditions. When the farmers' increased costs of production for 1981 are taken into consideration, net farm income is expected to be in the neighborhood of $200 to $250 million, which is two to three times as much as that obtained in the drought depressed year of 1980. This estimate is based on most recent official crop and livestock information, a continuation of expected relatively strong commodity prices, and favorable weather for the remainder of this year.

Major income increases for 1981 are seen for most crops. All of the drought stricken crops in 1980 are projected to show major increases in farm crop cash receipts for 1981 when compared to 1980, i.e., soybeans up $60 million, peanuts up $49 million, tobacco up $45 million, corn up $24 million. With the exception of tobacco and peanuts, slightly lower prices for 1981 are seen for all major crops. However, significant increases in production for these major crops will more than compensate for slightly lower prices this year, resulting in cash receipt increases. Even though projected crop prices for 1981 are expected to be slightly below those obtained in 1980 for many of our major crops, crop price levels are expected to continue to reflect moderate strength throughout the remainder of the year.

Higher average prices for the year are anticipated for all categories of livestock, livestock products and poultry. These higher prices will more than offset any reduced levels of production expected for hogs, turkeys and eggs. Basically, livestock in Virginia was only indirectly affected by the severe drought in 1980, with high feed costs being an important factor in sharply reducing the net income of livestock producers. Major cash receipt increases in 1981 are seen for: broilers up $35 million, milk up $19 million, cattle and calves up $9 million. Even though hog prices for the first six months were at very unfavorable levels, prices are expected to increase for the remainder of the year due to reduced production and cash receipts for hogs in Virginia are expected to be in the neighborhood of $2 to $2.5 million over that obtained in 1980.

Even though farm income is expected to reach a record level in 1981, the farmers' overall production expenses, fueled by inflation, are also expected to reach a record level of between $1.65 billion to $1.70 billion. This estimate reflects an overall reduction in farm supplies purchased in the 1981 season but also includes an overall price increase of 11 percent for all production items.

The estimated net farm income for 1981 will be close to that obtained in 1979, but is still well below that obtained in 1973 and 1978--which were record years for Virginia agriculture.

Virginia farmers continue to experience a real cost/price squeeze situation and an erosion of their farm income purchasing power due to inflation. For example, in order for this year's estimated net farm income to have the equivalent purchasing power of net income in 1973, Virginia farmers would have to generate a net income of approximately $680 million in 1981.

Collier Reunion

Mrs. M.H. Collier held a reunion at her home in Woodway, July 25.

Out of town guests attending were S.C. Collier and family and H.F. Collier and family from Cleveland, Ohio; Cassie King from Kansas City, Kansas.

There were about 60 family members including children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and great great grandchildren.

Topping Tobacco

Clarence Laws of Dot is shown here topping one of the finest crops of tobacco he can remember. Some of the plants measure over eight feet and have extremely large leaves. If all Lee County tobacco proves to be as fine as this crop it should be an especially good year for tobacco growers.

(Nancy Fenn)

Fenn, Wood United

Sunrise Presbyterian Church in Sullivan's Island, S.C. was the setting of the double ring ceremony uniting Nancy Ann Fenn and Stephen Harry Wood on August 1.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. Jimmy Fenn of Charleston, S.C. and Nancy S. Fenn of Sullivan's Island.

The parents of the groom are Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Wood of Estill, S.C.

Ron Hunter, Higher Ground Covenant Church performed the ceremony.

"Common Ground," a contemporary christian group presented the music. Mrs. Gloria Tuten was the pianist.

Maid of Honor was Beth Fenn, sister of the bride. Her other attendants were Carol Tisdale; Susan Reger, sister of the groom; Shirley Wood, sister-in-law of the groom; and Robin Grooms.

Dr. Norman Everett Wood father of the groom served as best man. Other groomsmen were Norman Wood, Jr. and David Wood, brothers of the groom; Gene Lawton; Redd N. Tuten and Daniel Fenn, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of College of Charleston.

The groom attended Clemson University and College of Charleston.

After a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Estill, S.C.

Family Notes

By Betty Jean Moore

Virginia Tech Extension Service agents provide continuing education — programs, information, services — for everyone. Miss Moore is with the Lee County office at 346-1512.

Before you forgive a stranger for jostling you in the crowd, check for your wallet. Pickpockets can be at work any time and any place. Protect yourself: Never count your money in public and avoid carrying unnecessary cash or credit cards. Women should tuck purses securely under the arm with purse flaps turned inward. Purses should be in your lap when sitting – not on the floor. Men should keep wallets in an inside pocket, rather than the back pocket. Don't leave valuables unattended, even in a familiar place. Remember, too, that no incident is too small to be reported, the thief is hoping you'll forget.

Jonesville Juniors Meet

The Jonesville Junior Woman's Club met on Monday, July 20 at the home of Mrs. Bill Turley for a covered dish picnic. Each member of the club brought their family. After an enjoyable meal games were played and members and their families had a chance to socialize. A good time was had by all who attended.

MECC Announces New Legal Assistance Program

Mountain Empire Community College will offer a new program leading to a legal assistant certificate beginning fall quarter.

There is a need as expressed by lawyers in the MECC service area to prepare individuals for careers as legal assistants. Lawyers from Scott, Wise, Lee, and Dickenson counties have supported the program designed to prepare individuals to perform as legal assistants under the supervision of an attorney. The program will also allow legal secretaries to upgrade to the para-professional position of legal assistants.

Students are required to meet the general admission requirements of the college and to complete an interview. Students will also be required to take a writing sample prior to placement. Students whose writing samples indicate deficiencies will be required to successfully complete English classes to upgrade their skills.

Financial aid is available to needy students in the form of scholarships, grants, and work-study positions.

The forty-six credits required for graduation can be obtained in two years of evening work. All courses in the program are offered in the evenings on a part-time basis to allow the working students to participate.

The first two courses in the program will begin fall quarter. "Overview of the Legal Process" and "Law Office Management" will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:00 to 9:40 p.m. beginning September 27, 1981.

For more information, contact the MECC Office of Continuing Education, 523-2400, ext. 204.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Mrs. Kevin Strevel and Mrs. Larry Thomas of Strawberry Plains, Tn., have been in Keokee this week with their mother, Mrs. James E. (Louise) McDaniel during her time of bereavement.

Those from out of town at the McDaniel home on Friday were Mrs. Earl King and Mrs. Claude Williams of Big Stone Gap, and Mrs. Irene Jones of Lafollette, Tn.

Mr. Keith Strevel and son, Chris and daughter, Janet of Strawberry Plains, Tn., were also there.

—Mr. Peter Davis who has been residing in Keokee for several years recently went to Akron, Ohio to make his home with his nephew. We hope uncle Pete will be happy in his new home.

—Verda Thompson, Pauline Barker, Nancy Ellis and son, and daughter, Cindy attended the annual W.A. Ward Family Reunion held at the Pennington Gap ball park on Sunday, July 26. There was a large family gathering and all enjoyed the event.

—Audrey Baker of Big Stone Gap, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Snodgrass of Dayton, Ohio visited Verda Thompson last Thursday. Also recently visiting were Bo and Robin Tackett and daughter, Elizabeth of Cox's Creek, Keokee.

Visitors From California

Summer time has brought many visitors back to Keokee and the Southwest Mountain area to see relatives and old friends

Friday afternoon, I heard a motorcycle and stepped to the door to look out and saw it turn off the highway to come in this direction. Not thinking it was , anyone I knew, I continued my work.

Suddenly the poodle dog began to bark as if someone was coming. A few minutes later standing at the door was a lovely lady and handsome man dressed in red and black. They were smiling. It was none other than Billy Clark and his wife, Nancy from Woodland, Ca.

The years had passed and it had been a long time since my sister, Iva Clarkston and I had seen Billy Clark. He was formerly from Keokee, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Otis Clark. Their family had also resided at Exeter, Va , Billy said, "I walked to Keokee High School in 1947 when J.C Wolfe was the principal

Then in 1949, he enlisted in the U.S. Army and served in the 2nd Infantry Division in Panama and Korea, for fourteen years

The former Nancy Wilson was a native of Arizona but she spent her early years in California. That is where she and Billy Clark met and were married after he came out of the Army They made their home in the farming community of Woodland, Ca.

Nancy has been teaching school for thirteen years. They have a daughter, Kathy age thirteen, and a son, Bobby who is ten years old. The Clarks have been coming back to Keokee to visit every three years. Today they also visited the old homeplace of Billy's grandfather at New Town, Kansas.

—A new church building is under construction at Keokee. According to reports it will be the Church of God. The building is being built on the site where the old coke ovens were many years ago near the Cooper Shopping Center. Rev. Billy McDonnell is the present pastor of the Keokee Church.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hobbs of Dayton, Ohio recently spent a week visiting with relatives in this area. They visited Mrs. Hobbs mother, Mrs. Mae Lawson, also Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maness and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lawson and their families all at Sigma, Keokee. Then they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Garrett and daughter, Barbara in Keokee.

Before returning to Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs visited Clayton's aunt, Mrs. Laura Hobbs at the Green Hill Nursing Home in Dryden.

Clayton Hobbs and wife enjoyed their visit back to the mountains of Virginia and everyone was pleased to have them visit at this time.

—Eugene Artrip, our cousin called us from Sea Brook, Md., one evening last week. He said, he would enter a hospital on August 13, where he would undergo surgery.

Eugene spent his younger years in Keokee and Big Stone Gap where he attended school. He is the son of Mrs. Minnie Artrip of Big Stone Gap and the late Charles Artrip.

—Sincere sympathy is extended to Herbert and Mary Ellen Stipe of Big Stone Gap in loss of their infant son, Herbert Edward (Todd) Stipe who died last Wednesday at Holston Valley Community Hospital in Kingsport, Tn. Thoughts are with them in the loss of their loved one.

—Vacation Bible School was held at the Rawhide Missionary Baptist Church at Keokee, the past week with a large attendance. On Friday night a program was presented and their crafts and handiwork displayed.

Rev. Ray Woody of Jonesville, is pastor of the Church

—Louie Ray Trigg and wife, and their three sons, Tom, Don, and Mike of Kansas City, Mo., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Trigg of Kettering, Ohio arrived at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barker, Sr., at Keokee last Tuesday and were overnight guests.

Other recent visitors at the Barker home were their three sons and daughters-in-law, and families which included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barker of Dayton, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Barker and granddaughter, Amy Barker of Newark, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barker, Jr., of Troy, Ohio, Fred Barker and wife, and son, Gary of Dayton, Ohio, David Barker of Columbus, Ohio and his friend, Susan, Michael and Connie Payne and two children, Carrie and Joshua from Ohio, also one of their neighbors and her daughter.

Joining the group were Mrs. Barker's sister, Goldie Bentley, also Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis of Big Stone Gap, and Randy Hamm of Appalachia.

Everyone enjoyed a cook out while there. It was a delightful family gathering.

—James Short and wife, Gloria and their daughter, Jana, and sons, Danny and Dean have returned to their home in Hawsville, Ky., after spending a week visiting with relatives in Keokee. While here they were guests at the home of James' sister, Mildred D. Dinsmore and Devonna, and also visited his sister, Chloie Ledington and daughter, Angela, also visited his sisters and brothers in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Kelly and families

They went to Big Stone Gap one night and attended the outdoor drama "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Also drove down to Pennington Gap one day to see the "Stone Face Rock", which is located on the mountainside near there. Everyone had a delightful time while they were visiting in Keokee.

—A bridal shower was given in honor of Lisa Snodgrass, fiancee of Jeff Whisman on Thursday, July 30, at 7:00 p.m. at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church.

The hostesses were Devonna Dinsmore, Rebecca Morris, Imelda Joyce, and Mary Morris.

Games and contests were the diversion of the hour. Refreshments were enjoyed by all.

—We are pleased to note that R.P. Cooper, Jr., has returned home from the Community Hospital in Norton, where he has been a patient. He is reported to be improving at this time.

—Mrs. Robert Quillen and children, Craig, Brad, and Stacey of Gate City, Mrs. M.J. Clarkston, Marilyn Gardner and children, Tammy and Eddie of Dryden, recently enjoyed a trip to Blowing Rock, N.C., where they had a delightful time on a train ride of the Tweetsie Railroad. They also visited places of interest in Tweetsie Junction.

—Patsy and Harold Stevens of Detroit, Mich., have returned home after spending a week visiting with Patsy's mother, Mrs. Mary Partin and other relatives in this area.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lohman of Kettering, Ohio announce the birth of a daughter on June 30. The tiny little girl weighed 4 lbs. at birth, and she was named Jennifer Marie. She is reported to be doing fine and gaining weight, at the present time she weighs 6 lbs.

The mother was the former Kay Anne Ramey who spent her younger years in Dryden.

"Congratulations to Kay Anne and Dick on the birth of their lovely daughter."

The maternal grandparents are Mrs. Patsy Ramey of Dayton, Ohio and the late Roy Ramey. They also formerly resided in Dryden.

—Mrs. Richard Parker of Dayton, Ohio and Mrs. Jerry Partin of Keokee and their children left Thursday morning for Dayton, Ohio where they will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Adams.

Lee County Special Education Students

On May 29 and 30th five students from Pennington High School along with nineteen other Special Education students from Lee County participated in the Virginia State Special Olympics Competition at Petersburg. The events took place on the track and field of Virginia State University. The participants competed in the softball throw, standing broad jump, 50 meters dash, and the Jr. and Sr. mile run. Jackie Tabor, David Mencer, Tim Osborne, John Tritt, and Terry Blondell, represented Pennington High School in these events. These students won collectively three first place ribbons, 2 second place ribbons, and one 3rd place ribbon.

There were approximately 600 students participating in the Special Olympics events from all over the state of Virginia.

Mrs. Dorothy McNiel Special Olympics coach and her students from Pennington High would like to take this opportunity to thank these people for making it possible for us to attend the Virginia State Special Olympics: J&K Market, Cas Walker's, Parsons West End Texaco, Long John Silvers, Herndon Insurance Agency, Ed's Grocery and the Jonesville Jr. Woman's Club. We wish also to thank all of the other people and organizations who have donated their time and money to make it possible for Special children in Lee County to participate in the Special Olympics. Lee County special students wish also to say a big "thank you" to the Powell Valley News for allowing us to say "thank you" to our sponsors.

Carter Hall July Activities

From a cookout to a birthday party, Carter Hall residents were involved in varied activities during July.

Residents feasted on hamburgers, hot dogs, baked potatoes, slaw, watermelon, cantalopes and cookies during the recent cookout. , Several volunteers from St. Charles Baptist Church helped transport residents and food to the backyard where Mr. Daugherty, the Administrator, was kept busy grilling hamburgers.

For the July birthday party, Red Kirk entertained the residents as he sang and played some of their favorite songs. Also present at the party was Squeaky the Clown, Marvin James. Squeaky delighted the residents by making balloon animals and then fashioning a hat from the balloons

Mr. James moved from Pennsylvania to Oceonita last year and says that he is now a permanent resident of Lee County. His daughter, Donna Herron, lives in the area.

As a Shriner, Mr. James has participated in parades to help raise funds for crippled children. He is retired and he and his wife Florence are "Pink Ladies" at Lee County Community Hospital.

Carter Hall staff and residents appreciate all the volunteers who come to brighten our days.

Those conducting church services this month were William Cody, A.T. Hurley, Monty Mullins, members of the Apostolic Church of Appalachia and members of the Beacon Light Baptist Church.

Wilma Goins played the piano and sang for the residents one morning. A yard sale was conducted to help raise funds for the resident's Christmas Fund. Ethel Ward spent the day under the tent selling items.

A special "thank you" to Liza Thomas for sharing her time leading out in crafts several days last month.

A film on stroke rehabilitation was shown to the residents by Penny Johnson, Field Consultant for the American Heart Association.

Employee of the Month of July was Connie McFarland a Nursing Assistant from Big Stone Gap. Our June Employee of the Month was Brenda Cleusman, a Nursing Assistant from Pennington Gap.

Carol Cox, Activity Director models a balloon hat designed by Squeaky.

Hill Reunion

The family of the late Cecil Hill and Florene (Hill) Hudson met in Jubilee Park, Van Wert, Ohio. Following a picnic lunch the day was spent playing games and visiting.

Those attending were: Mr and Mrs. Glen Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill and Sherry; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill, Julie and Craig; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hill, Cathy, Keith and Brian; Mr. and Mrs David Hill, Davy, Greg and Angela; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bell, Stuart and Becky, all of Van Wert.

Also Mrs. Jerry Hill, Deb., Karen and Rick and two guests, Ronnie Miller and Jackie Reed, of Waynesfield, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs Paul Fauble (Gladys Hill) Ohio City, Ohio

They are former residents of Rose Hill.

Presidents James Madison and Zachery Taylor were second cousins. Their great-grandfather in common was James Taylor.

Jonesville Juniors Attend Workshop

On Saturday, July 18, Debbie Harris, Angie Turley, and Pam Hines, members of the Jonesville Junior Woman's Club, attended a workshop held at the Sinking Springs Presbyterian Church in Abingdon, Va.

A coffee hour was held at 9:30 with the Bristol Woman's Clubs being the hostesses. Following this were workshops for the different officers of the clubs and also in areas such as creative arts, home life, international and public affairs, and education.

At noon a delicious lunch was prepared and served by the Bristol Senior Woman's Club. After lunch the ladies attended the play "Arms and the Man" by Bernard Shaw at the Barter Theater.

U.S. Farm Productivity Increases

The American farmer's knack of squeezing the most out of agricultural resources has quadrupled the annual rate of productivity growth in the centuries since the United States became a nation.

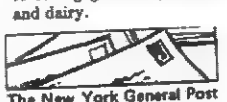
The annual productivity growth rate -- a measure of the rate of change in the farm sector's total output relative to its level of production inputs - rose from 0.4 percent a year after the American Revolution to about 1.6 percent in the 1970's.

According to USDA's Economics and Statistic Service, productivity growth has accelerated through the four major epochs of U.S. Agricultural technology. In the "hand power" period of 1775-1870 productivity grew at an average annual rate of 0.4 percent. It grew 0.5 percent per year in the 1870-1920 "horsepower" epoch. During the 1925-1945 "mechanical power" era, it gained 1.2 percent per year. The "science power" era of 1945-1980 saw gains of 1.6 percent per year.

However, despite solid overall growth productivity gains vary from commodity to commodity and from region to region.

Beef productivity, for example fared poorly during the 1970's as feed prices sharply increased and the calving rate declined.

But overall livestock and poultry productivity climbed 1.1 percent a year, due to strong gains in poultry and dairy.



The New York General Post Office handles about 20 million pieces of mail a day.

Growing Child

Learning By Touching

One of the earliest ways of learning is through the sense of touch.

Growing Child, a monthly child development newsletter, reports that long after a baby has gained control of her eyes -- at about four months -- and has begun to learn through them, she will continue to learn by holding, touching, handling, and mouthing objects.

The world is full of many things which have different "feels." One of a child's earliest ways of learning about what is "out there" is through touching and being touched.

The idea that some things are the "same" and some are "different" is one of the most basic of all early learnings. One way to help a child learn more about the "same and different" is to give her many opportunities to feel about those interesting "feels" in the world out there.

The active, even fussy, baby never lacks for stimulation of lifting and handling. However, the placid, or "good" baby may be deprived of stimulation because she never makes demands on her parents.

All babies, active or placid, can benefit from gentle stimulation. Before her bath, place your baby on her stomach and gently stroke and rub her back, arms, and legs with your hand. Pat her gently all over or tap her with your fingertips. Sometimes rub her gently with some thing soft and velvety. A piece of soft corduroy is excellent.

After bath, don't just pat her dry Rub her arms, legs, stomach and back with a soft towel Kiss her head, hands, feet. Play with her toes as you talk to her. Pat her feet together. Make bubbling noise against the skin in the hollow of her neck

A ticklish baby is often hypersensitive to touch because she has not had enough stimulation of her sense of touch. If your baby is ticklish, begin by using her own hands to rub and pat her body. As she learns to trust her own touch, you can gradually begin using your own hand.

Remember, too, that a very light touch is more "tickly" than a firmer touch. A gentle but firm touch with the whole palm of your hand is less apt to "tickle" than a feather like stroking with the tips of your fingers.

Be careful to proceed cautiously with a ticklish baby. Watch her face and be sensitive to her responses, and you will be able to develop normal sensation.

You can get more information on this subject and on the physical and social development of children up to six years old by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. When writing, include child's birthdate

Career Hotline Answers Job Questions

Since the Virginia career information hotline began operation last November the phone has been ringing steadily. Over 1,600 state residents have called the toll free hotline at Virginia Tech with questions about occupational requirements educational opportunities and financial aid, licensing requirements, and employment forecasts

The hotline number can be called from anywhere within the state at no charge to the caller Professional counselors and graduate students from Tech's counselor education program answer the hotline from 8 a.m noon and 1 5 p.m., Monday through Friday The hotline number is 1 800 542 5870

The callers and questions are diverse Most callers are between the ages of 19 and 45, and either in school considering a career or currently working and investigating a career change

Typical questions asked include "What is the average salary for bookkeepers in Virginia?", "Which community colleges offer auto mechanics training?" 'How do I become a fashion illustrator' What can I do with a foreign language major?"

The hotline frequently acts as a response and referral service helping callers obtain information "Finding people jobs is not our function, however," said Carl McDaniels, Tech College of Education professor who directs the hotline

The hotline is one component of a comprehensive career information delivery system being developed for the state by Tech faculty through a grant from the Virginia Occupational Information Coordinating Committee

Bassmasters Tournament

Sonny Johnson, member of the Lonesome Pine Bassmasters, competed along with famous names such as Forest Wood, Roland Martin, Rick Clum, and Tom Mann in the B.A.S.S. Champs Invitational Tournament on Cherokee Lake July 22, 23, and 24. In the three days of fishing in hot humid weather the 158 fishermen brought in 237 fish which weighed a total of 576 pounds. Sonny finished the third day with 10 lb. 14 oz. which put him 12th place.

Why Have Your Chimney Cleaned?

The National Fire Protection Agency recommends inspection and cleaning every year, even if your wood or coal burning stove is used for supplemental heat. For full time stove users its a must. Avoid the fall rush and have your chimney cleaned professionally.

Ye Old Chimney Sweep, hopes you have a safe burning season.

Lee County Fair To Feature Local Beauty And Talent

The Midway to the Lee County Fair will open at 5 p.m. Monday, August 31 and the program of events will start with the annual Beauty Pageant at 6 p.m. when the Little Princess Contest begins for girls two through four years of age. Girls from five through eight years of age will participate in the Princess Contest which begins at 6:30 p.m. The Junior Miss Contest, open to girls nine through 13, will start at 7:00 p.m. At 8:00 p.m. the Queen Contest will begin for single girls 14 years of age and older.

The beauty contests are sponsored by the GFWC Pennington Gap Woman's Club and will present prizes according to the following categories: First-place prizes of $25 will be awarded to the 1981 Lee County Fair Little Princess, Princess, and Junior Miss. Second-place prizes of $10 will be awarded to each second-place winner in the above categories. Third-place winners will receive $5. In the 1981 Lee County Fair Queen Contest, a $50 first-place prize, a $25 second-place prize, and a $10 third-place prize will be given.

The Beauty Contest is open to all girls who are residents of Lee County. Those girls wishing to enter this year's contest are urged to call Kathy Sizemore at 383-4536, Cuma Hays at 546-1679, or Nancy Woliver at 546-2638. Sponsors may enter their contestants by calling any of the above numbers and giving your name and the contestant's name and category.

Wilma Lou

On Tuesday, September 1, the Exhibit Buildings will open at 10 a.m. to receive exhibits, all school children will be admitted free until six p.m., and the Midway opens at 4 p.m.

At 7 p.m., three nights of entertainment will begin with the talented Wilma Lou, a well-known local singer whose career is on an upward swing. Wilma Lou has performed in previous Fairs and this year she will be backed-up by the Leadfoot band consisting of Petey Roberts, Chuck Garrett, Tony Lawson, Clark Bailey, Pete Lawson and Harold Davis.

Wilma Lou started singing at the early age of five and organized her first band when she was only 14. Since then she has performed with several bands until she started on her own last summer. She is now represented by a Nashville booking agent, Tony Searles, who is presently arranging for her to appear on two TV shows and at one of Nashville's

Library Recovers Hours, Employees

The Trustee Board of the Lonesome Pine Regional Library System voted to reopen the Lee County Library in Pennington on Sundays and Mondays and also voted to reinstate part time employee, Gloria Dye.

The vote was taken during the board's regular meeting held last Thursday afternoon in Wise. On the preceding Wednesday, the Lee County Board of Supervisors abstained from asking a $22,500 quarterly appropriation and assigned County Administrator Odell Wilson to approach the Trustee Board on the county's behalf and question the necessity of the cutbacks of an employee and 13 hours of service.

Originally, Lee County had been requested to make a quarterly appropriation of $30,135 to the County Supervisors Award, Appropriate, And Appoint

The Lee County Board of Supervisors awarded a contract, appointed six men, appropriated $3,600 and closed out the central stores fund during their meeting last Wednesday.

The Estes Brothers Construction Company was awarded a contract for the construction of a new pit. The contract calls for a 11,000 cubic yard pit to be dug at the Jonesville sanitary landfill. The $16,500 project is scheduled to be finished by September 7 with a $50 a day penalty if the job over runs the deadline.

The board appointed Clayton Edds, a resident of Ewing, to the Lee County Industrial Development Authority. Edds will fill the unexpired term of Ike Bacon.

The Western Lee County's Rescue Squad received an appropriation of $3,600 for the purchase of a piece of equipment called the "Jaws of Life". This metal cutting device is used to quickly free trapped victims from automobile wrecks. A matching grant is expected to be obtained from the Virginia Department of Highway

Twin Brothers Celebrate 80th Birthday

Twin brothers, natives of Lee County, Claude C. Williams of Jonesville and Clyde N. Williams of Big Stone Gap, celebrated their 80th birthday with a dinner and reception given by their children at the Lazy Susan Restaurant at Jonesville, Saturday evening.

These prominent twins were born at Miller's Chapel in Lee County, August 2, 1901 with Clyde arriving approximately 40 minutes earlier than Claude. Both resided in Jonesville for about 17 years, then moved to Wise County.

Claude married in 1926 and returned to Jonesville where he presently resides, but Clyde is a resident of Big Stone Gap. Claude operated a service station at Jonesville after several years as an oil company employee. Clyde

MS Campaign Planned For County

It was announced today by Dr. Denver J. Davis, Southwest Multiple Sclerosis Society Chairman, that Richard Hayes will head up the Pennington Gap and Dryden, Mrs. Faye Elliott the St. Charles and Mrs. Amelia Rogers the Keokee Hope Chest appeal to raise funds for the fight against MS (Multiple Sclerosis).

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, founded in 1946, is the only major national voluntary health agency in the country that is devoted to seeking the cause, prevention and cure of multiple sclerosis. We are not affiliated with the United Way.

Multiple Sclerosis is a neurological disease affecting the brain and spinal cord. It is not contagious nor is it a mental disease. After it is first diagnosed, usually between the ages of 15 and 50, MS can mean long years of increasing disability for many young adults.

Technically, the disease attacks the myelin sheath ing of the central nervous system, destroying it in patches. The myelin sheath acts much like the insulation around telephone wires, and when it is destroyed, the flow of nerve impulses to and from the brain is interrupted or distorted. The resultant symptoms from this destruction of myelin can be: paralysis, double vision, bladder or bowel problems, loss of balance, loss of coordination, and speech or hearing difficulties, among others. There are more than 500,000 people in America with MS.

They will be looking would like to help ... call Richard Hayes at 546 3032, Mrs Faye Elliott at 383 4685 or Mrs. Amelia Rogers at 565 2037.

Farmers And Miners Bank To Offer Student Loans

Farmers and Miners Bank announces that they have entered into an agreement with the State Education Assistance Authority to offer Student Loans to Lee County residents. Recognizing a need for such loans to further education in its area, the bank will make funds available for education under the Virginia Education Loan Association Plan.

The Educational Loan Plan has recently undergone changes as a part of the new Reagan Budget. Funds are being made available by Farmers and Miners Bank to worthy students and applicants for the funds. While there has been minor changes in interest rates and repayment terms, the loan offers assistance wherever assistance is needed

In offering these loans, Farmers and Miners Bank recognizes that education is everyone's responsibility and will live up to that responsibility to Lee County residents.

his 23 years of service. He is presently the pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Pearisburg, Va Austin served the Mountain View United Methodist Church in Kingsport as pastor from 1966 72

Austin has held several ministerial board positions since 1972 and was recently re elected to the Board of Directors of the Holston Homes for the Aged which he served from 1973 to 1979 He is also a member of the committee on Church Extension and Parish Development

The first Camp Meeting was held on the present site in 1810, according to a brief history by James W Orr

The people camped on the grounds and for several years worshipped under a rudely constructed brush arbor. This temporary shelter kept off the sun, but not the rain so in 1924, a permanent shed was built in the center of the grounds, seated with split log benches and covered with old fashioned clap boards

The large posts, plates and rafters were hewn out of logs The old shed still stands as a lasting monument to the memory of its builders, Henry Woodward, David Orr, Robert W. Wynn and Joseph Hasku

As Orr expresses so aptly, "Great has been the work done there for the spreading of the Gospel and upbuilding of Christ's Kingdom on earth. Long live the old Jonesville Camp Ground and Camp Meetings property near Skaggs Hill. The crash occurred Sunday afternoon at about 6:15 p.m.

Osborn is not sure of what FAA regulations are regarding releasing information about the crash. Therefore, details are not available. He does say that it was more of a rough landing than a crash.

Osborn received a cut to his right cheek from the helmet buckle and the console instrument case and a bruised back. He estimated the damage to the plane at about $200.

The aircraft has been taken back to the airfield. He plans to repair it there and fly again. Osborn says, "Get it back in the air again, that's where it does the best."

The Osborns are trying to locate a photographer who took pictures immediately following the accident. The photographs may help in the FAA investigation. Anyone knowing the name or how to contact the photographer is requested to call 546 1802.

A feature story of the experimental aircraft, and its pilot was reported in the July 29 issue of the Powell Valley News.

Lee County Farm Tour

By Fred Copenhaver, Soil Conservation Service

The Annual Lee County Farm Tour was sponsored by the Blackwater Ruritan Club, Super Grow of Virginia and Daniel Boone Soil and Water Conservation District on July 18. Other agencies assisting with the tour were Lee County Extension Service, Virginia Division of Forestry, ASCS, FmHA, TVA and SCS.

Tour began in the Ruritan Hall with representatives of the various agencies explaining assistance available through their program to land users.

Annual "Green Pasture" award was given by Carl David Osborne, District Chairman, to Burleson and Paul Orr of Jonesville. Glenn Graham, former District Conservationist, of the Jonesville field office received an award for his leadership and dedication while working in Lee County.

A delicious meal was prepared and served by the ladies of Blackwater Community.

Immediately following the meal the group toured the community seeing growing crops of corn, tobacco, soybeans and wheat with the benefits of open ditches and tile drainage visible throughout the cropping area. A new high tensil fencing demonstration was presented to show an improved method of controlling livestocks for better pasture and hayland management.

One of the Tour highlights was seeing an equipment demonstration consisting of chisel plow, grain dryer and combine as well as, display of a rock picking machine.

After a watermelon feast everyone came away from the event with a better knowledge of equipment, crops and that conservation does pay dividends.

Low Yield Assistance Available On Grain Crops

Clay Jones, Member of the Lee County ASCS Committee recently announced that all farmers who have accurate acreage reports on file on their corn crops yield.

Farmers who sustain losses of 40% or greater below their ASCS established yield will be eligible for disaster benefits, Jones noted.

Producers who have not reported their acreage will be eligible for program benefits if they pay the cost of having an ASCS representative measure their corn.

Jones stated that any disaster corn which a producer plans to harvest for silage should be appraised by the county office prior to harvest.

He also added that all farmers should notify the ASCS office promptly when a disaster condition affects their crop. An ACS affects their crop. An ASCS representative will visit the farm to verify the crop damage. If the producer does not play on taking the crop to harvest, it will be appraised. Otherwise, the production will be measured after harvest.

The final date for filing claims will be 15 days after the crop is harvested.

Cookin' Corner

Tomatoes and corn are garden fresh this time of the year, perhaps you can try these recipes. We think they are good. If you wish to share a recipe send it to: Powell Valley News, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277.

Spaghetti Sauce

3 tbls. oil
1 tbls. garlic (chopped)
1 6 oz. can tomato paste
1 tsp. sweet basil
1 small bay leaf
1 tsp. sugar
1 cup onions (chopped)
4 cups fresh tomatoes (blended)
1 tbls. oregano
1½ tsp. salt
freshly ground pepper

Saute onion and garlic till transparent. Blend tomatoes and put through a food mill to take out seeds. Stir in rest of ingredients, bring to a boil and simmer for 1 hour. Put in jars and seal — Can be frozen but should be cooled first.

Corn Casserole

2 to 3 cups corn
6 eggs
3 cups milk
½ cup chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
10 oz. grated cheese

Beat eggs with milk. Stir in corn, ½ cup finely chopped onion, salt and 6 oz. of grated cheese. Pour into greased casserole dish, top with 4 oz. grated cheese and bake uncovered in 350° oven until it sets. (about 1½ hours).

Crop Production Reports

Tobacco

Although cigarette out put during 1980 was record large, manufacturers shifted to more imported tobacco, pulling use of domestic tobacco down 2 percent. The weather - reduced drops of the past two seasons have brought tobacco exports down 8 per cent. Total disappearance may about match the 1980 crop, with the carryover equaling last year's 3.3 billion pounds. During the first 10 months of the marketing year, tobacco imports were up 7 percent from a year earlier.

Corn

An increase in corn production will account for most of this years gain in feed grain output. The estimated 1981 U.S. corn acreage is 84.7 million acres, up 1 percent from last year

West fields in the Eastern Corn Belt delayed corn planting and resulted in some acreage being switched to soybeans Nevertheless, corn production is expected to rebound to around 7.5 billion bushels from 6 6 billion last year as growing conditions now favor higher acreage yields than in 1980

Farm prices for corn are expected to average $2 85 to $3 45 a bushel at harvesttime, compared with last season's $3 15

Americans consume more than four pounds of potato chips, per person, each year.

FOCUS ON HEALTH

Can you blow out the candles on the birthday cake with one breath? If your answer is no, then beware of heart -- as well as lung -- problems. This advice comes from the American Lung Association, oldest voluntary health agency in the U.S.

The good news is that lung tests can forecast heart problems One common lung test is for Forced Vital Capacity (FVC) -- the amount of air forcibly exhaled after maximum inhalation. If you fail, or get a low FVC, then heart problems may also be in your future.

This new warning is based on a 20-year study of more than 5,000 people in Framingham, MA. Persons who had the lowest scores while puffing into a spirometer (a machine used in lung tests) had the highest cardiovascular death rates. This was true even when there was no other sign of heart or lung disability, according to Dr. William B. Kannel of Boston University, overseer of the survey.

*For nonsmoking men with no pulmonary disease or history of heart failure but with very low FVCs the death rate from cardiovascular disease was 22 per 10,000. This compared to only 3.4 per 10,000 for men with high FVCs.

*Mortality statistics for women were lower, but the same ratio held true.

*Congestive heart failure was closely associated with low FVC. The relationship was "striking at all ages and for both sexes," said Dr. Kannel. He explained: "Even after adjustment for cigarettes and for all the other risk factors, this was the case." Men with low FVCs had 8.2 incidents of cardiac failure per 1,000, while those with better tests had just under 2 per 1,000.

Low FVC is "unequivocally the most powerful predictor" of potential heart problems in women and is rivaled only by high blood pressure in men, said Dr. Kannel. Finally, the data underlined that lung tests are a good way to spot patients without symptoms -- but with an above average risk of heart and lung disease.

REFERENDUM VOTE NO

1. WHAT IS THE REFERENDUM ABOUT?
Changing your form of Lee County Government.

2. WHAT HARMFUL CHANGES WILL OCCUR?
The Courts, "Specifically the Circuit Court Judge" from Scott County will take away the public's power of election.

3. HOW CAN THE JUDGE TAKE AWAY OUR RIGHTS TO VOTE?
To change the form of government will do away with the people's right to vote for a Supervisor-at-large and allow the Circuit Court Judge to appoint a Tie Breaker in his place.

4. DOES NOT THIS CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT ELECT THE JUDGE?
NO, the Judge is appointed for life by the State Legislature in Richmond.

5. HOW DOES THE CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT HURT OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM AND EDUCATION?
The people of Lee County will no longer have any input through the elected supervisors as to who serves on the Lee County School Board. The Circuit Court Judge, a resident of Scott County will choose three (3) people at his pleasure to serve on a School Trustee Board. These three appointed people will in turn choose who they want to serve on the Lee County School Board to make decisions affecting our children. The citizens of Lee County have NO VOICE at all.

6. WILL THE CHANGED FORM OF GOVERNMENT LOWER TAXES?
NO, the executive branch of your county government may also fall into the hands of the Judge through his clerk, the Circuit Court Clerk. Taxes would probably rise as a result of no management over the County's business.

Many citizens of Lee County can remember the "dark ages" of our county during the 1950's and 1960's when "cut throat" politics "black satchel voting" and "vote buying" existed under that Traditional Form of Government. It was a time when the Judge and his political henchmen ruled Lee County forcing the citizens into submission in order to have employment. Remember the motto of Virginia "Sic Semper Tyrannis" meaning "Thus Always to Tyrants."

VOTE NO when the question of changing your form of government comes before you.

Paid For By Lee County Republican Party, Rose Huff, Treasurer.

The additional funds will be temporarily taken from the interest gained from a special fund set aside for the maintenance and replacement of the Bookmobile. The Bookmobile is no longer in use in Lee County.

"I'm extremely pleased," said County Administrator, Odell Wilson regarding the vote of the Trustee Board. "I think everybody is satisfied now, especially the people of Lee County. I think they (the Trustee Board) did the right thing. I'm especially pleased to have the library open on Sundays and Mondays."

Dye said, "I'm very pleased to be back at work and I wish to thank all the people who helped me -- especially Odell Wilson and all the Lee County Supervisors." Dye was informed of the Trustee Board's action on Thursday afternoon and resumed working on Friday, having been unemployed for two weeks. "Everybody here (in the Pennington Library) is happy to be open on Sundays and Mondays again."

The library has resumed operating from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Mondays.

regional library system. However, the Board of Supervisors decided the county's budget would permit only an appropriation equal to last year's -- $90,000 per year.

The Trustee Board reacted to the smaller appropriation by initiating the cutbacks saying their budget for the four-county system could not sustain everyday service and the part-time employment of Dye.

On Thursday, after two hours of negotiating and reviewing the Pennington Library's budget, Wilson and the library system's bookkeeper, Faye Slemp, were able to see that the county needed only an additional $1,344 quarterly to reinstate Ms. Dye and resume services on a seven days-per-week schedule.

scribers who had gone for eight days with intermittent water services, and resigned amid cheers from the approximately 100 patrons in attendance.

The directors of the Authority who resigned were Bill Bishop, Mark Edens, Hershall Woodard, Jim Hopkins, and R.B. Pennington.

The new directors of the Authority are John Haynes and Hasque Slagle, appointed to four year terms, Mac Gilbert, a three year term, Ray McConnell, a two year term, and W.F. Cox, Sr., a one year term.

According to Haynes, the system still doesn't have a full tank and urges the users to conserve water where possible and to be alert for any leaks or possible leaks. Anyone knowing of a leak in the line should contact any of the directors or contact Lawson and Litton Construction in Woodway.

"If they (the users) will help us, we ought to have a good supply of water in ten to 12 days," Haynes said. "For the next two weeks, we'll be searching for possible leaks which means some areas will be without water for short periods of time while we test each section for breaks and leaks." The search for leaks and testing of lines will be conducted from 6 till 8:30 p.m. for approximately two weeks.

"I believe in two weeks, we'll be back to 100% operation," said Haynes.

The Lee County Board of Supervisors rescinded the appointments of the former members of the Authority during their meeting on Wednesday and appointed the new members.

Fair

well known theaters.

Due to the many favorable comments about Wilma Lou's singing, the Lee County Fair management has asked her to return again. If you want to be able to say you saw her "at the Lee County fair when she was just gettin' started", be sure to attend on Tuesday night and watch a local girl who is on her way up the ladder of stardom.

On Wednesday, also at 7 p.m., the Lee County Fair will present Gospel Singing.

Then, on Thursday at 7 p.m., the Home Folks will entertain, followed by the popular Bobby Ray and the Okay's.

Be sure to check page 11 for dates and times of your favorite events, such as: horse shows, pet shows, livestock show, exhibits, tractor driving, etc., etc., etc.

Fair catalogues may be picked up at Lee County Extension Office in Jonesville, The Powell Valley News or Old Dominion Power Company office in Pennington Gap.

Join the fun at Lee County Fair on Monday evening for a look at Lee County's Loveliest Ladies and on Tuesday thru Thursday evenings to hear some of Lee County's best singing.

Robert F. Sper of the MAM unit from Akins, S.C., says, "We don't know how much is down there, that's the $64 question." Since reaching their goal, their well has not produced enough oil to measure. However, Sper and the contractors, Dana Moore and Joe Edds, are certain that they're going to find the same quality of oil that was found on the Ray and Ewing Bledsoe property which is located on an adjacent ridge.

Sper says they plan to start pumping soon. When he does start pumping, the amount of oil underneath may be gauged. Until then let's hope Mr. Sper's $64 question turns up a $64,000 answer.

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Rev. Billy Gillespie, pastor of the Powell River Methodist Circuit, was the guest minister at the Senior Center Monday. He read and talked about the 23rd Psalm, and sang a solo, "How Great Thou Art."

—The Jonesville Lions Club held their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Center. Dinner was prepared and served by senior citizens. A business session followed.

—Jonesville First Baptist WMU Day Organization met at the church Tuesday for their Prayer Group meeting with the subject for study entitled, "Serving In Isolated Places."

—Mary Fitts celebrated her birthday last Sunday at the home of Marie Lyttle. Others helping her enjoy the day were Sallie Wolfver, Paul Carter, Ruby Roberts, Ransom Fitts, Margaret Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cody and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cody, daughter and grandson Robert.

Sallie Wolfver received a beautiful arrangement of cut flowers from a little 10 year old friend, Heather Johnston of Boca Raton, Florida.

Keith and Craig Anderson have returned to their home in Boca Raton, Fla., after spending part of the summer with their grandparents, Lynn and Dewey Johnston.

-Mrs. Ethyle Stewart is a patient in Indian Path Hospital, Kingsport.

-Edward C. (Bud) and Donna Bolin, daughters, Carol and Penny, San Bernardino, Calif. left their home August 1 and drove across country, arriving in Pennington Gap August 3 for a visit with their grandmother Lillie Carroll. Bud is the son of Mr. Arnold Bolin Barstow, Calif., and the late Edith Carroll Bolin. The Bolins lived in Oceonita until they left in 1952 to make their home in California.

Bud, Donna, Carol and Penny Bolin, Lillie Carroll, and Gaynelle Baumgardner spent Tuesday driving through the country and looking at places where their ancestors had lived and died. They visited in Robbins Chapel with Lela and Coy Robbins, and the cemetery where the Robbins, Carrolls, and most other relatives are buried, including the gravesite of Bud's mother, Edith Bolin. Bud's grandfather, the late John B. Carroll, was a member of Robbins Chapel Methodist Church from boyhood until the time of his death in 1980. His parents were Mary Ellen Robbins and James Gass away Carroll, deceased.

Leaving Robbins Chapel, the drive was on to Hoover's Hill, Cox Creek, and Keokee, with different places of birthday, schools, courting days, old remembrances, being pointed out and talked about. This was interesting to the Bolin family who had never visited these places. A visit was made in Big Stone Gap before returning to Woodway with a stop at Lee Memorial Gardens. Then through Poor Valley, Oceonita, Sugar Run, and Jonesville, to the home of Gaynelle and Carl Baumgardner for refreshments and a rest period. Dinner at a local restaurant and back to Pennington. The Bolin's left later for Washington, D.C., where they spent two days. They were in Wisconsin by Saturday to attend a concert in which Donna's two nephews were performing, the sons of her twin sister, Doris. This week they are visiting Donna's mother and other relatives in Illinois, with stops in a few more states on their way back to California. Donna is a school teacher and Bud is a supervisor for the Santa Fe Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

Charleen and Jim Carroll Johnson City, Lorene Terry and Gaynelle Baumgardner were Saturday visitors of their mother Lillie Carroll. Sunday visitors of Mrs. Carroll were Ed and Faye Carroll, Knoxville, Lorene Terry Carl and Gaynelle Baumgardner and Ida Carroll.

—Some patients in Lee County Hospital that you may want to know about are: Frank Halsey, Etta Farmer, Jessica Snodgrass, Rebecca Harris, Clarence Garrett, Cassie Estep, Cora Duncan, Moran Gibson, Laura Edwards, Mary Harber, Truman Bledsoe, Agnes Daugherty and Mable Carter.

—Glen Harris of Springfield, Va., spent last weekend with his mother, Mrs. Kathleen Harris.

—Charleen and Jim Carroll, Johnston City, visited with her brother, Tyler and Sue Mullins and Brian, Saturday.

—Gaynelle and Carl Baumgardner and Lillie Carroll made trips to Big Stone Gap and Kingsport last week.

—Mrs. Emmitt (Bertha) Hines sustained a broken arm from a fall at her home.

—The Jonesville Woman's Club met Thursday night at the home of Adella Davidson, with Judy Davidson presiding at the meeting. Refreshments of home made ice cream, cake, and ice tea was served following the meeting.

—Lydia Chapman, Ollie Hawkins, Lucille Terry, Inis and Elmer Ingle were Thursday visitors at the Senior Center.

—Mrs. Loretta Drake spent last week in Marion, Va., visiting her mother, Mrs. Virginia Hash.

Warner Urges Government Retain Coal Conversion For Federal Facilities

Virginia Sen. John W. Warner is among 18 members of the Senate Coal Caucus urging the Reagan Administration to continue a program promoting conversion of oil- and gas-burning federal facilities to American coal.

"The use of domestic coal at federal facilities would help relieve our nation's excessive dependence on foreign oil, and would provide a much lower cost source of fuel to the government which will translate into long-term savings," the senators said in a July 31 letter to President Reagan.

The senators expressed concern that a presidential executive order, establishing the conversion program and currently under review by the Administration, may be scrapped because of "purely short-term budget considerations."

The Defense Department, the senators said, has identified 12 facilities at which conversion of oil-fired heating plants to coal would save the government $2 billion and would divert 8 million barrels of oil a year to other uses.

The $1.5-billion costs of conversion would be recovered through lower fuel costs within five years.

Sow Perennials Now For Blooms Next Spring

Good planning is very important to good gardening. And, now is the time to start planning for the spring flower garden, said Virginia Tech Extension specialist in home horticulture Diane Relf

"Midsummer is an ideal time to sow the seeds of many perennial plants," she said. "A few short rows in a coldframe or at the edge of the vegetable garden will provide the start for the seeds to become spring's bouquets

Select the type of flower. Some popular types are hardy carnations, Dianthus barbatus, and sweet William, perennial baby's breath, columbine, shasta daisy, and the rudbeckia or coneflower

Select the location. A site which receives some shade from the hot afternoon sun is preferred

Sow the seeds thinly in shallow furrows, and cover lightly with sand, vermiculite or shredded sphagnum moss, said the faculty member in Tech's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

The seeds of most perennials will germinate in one or two weeks and emerge easily through the sand or moss

Water carefully with a fine sprinkling nozzle. Repeat as needed to ensure rapid germination and growth

"When seedlings have developed their second set of leaves, they should be thinned and the extra plants set about six inches apart," said the specialist.

"Side dress with 5 10 5 or 10 10 10 fertilizer and keep the soil moist during the late summer to promote the growth of sturdy plants."

The perennial plants will be ready for moving to flower beds and borders this fall at about the time of the first frost. Transplant them with a good ball of soil around the roots.

We're looking forward to serving you with all of your

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Burton

25th Wedding Anniversary

TVA Rate Increase Recommended

TVA Manager of Power Hugh G. Parris told the TVA Board recently that an increase in power system revenues would be required in the next fiscal year to offset increased costs due principally to inflation.

Parris recommended to the Board that TVA increase wholesale electric rates by 9.3 percent, effective October 2. This translates to an 8.6 percent increase in retail electric rates paid by residential customers, he said.

The Manager of Power said that total revenue at current effective rates would bring in $4.099 billion during fiscal 1982, but operating expenses would use up $3.009 billion, leaving about $1 billion in operating income available to cover interest charges. However, interest charges on borrowings to finance power system construction are expected to total $1.4 billion next year.

The proposed rate increase would increase revenues by $380 million and permit the power system to operate in sound financial condition in 1982, Parris said. Under normal operating conditions, no further rate increase is expected during the fiscal year which ends September 30, 1982.

In addition to rising interest costs, Parris told the Board that operating expenses are expected to increase by more than $400 million in fiscal 1982 compared to the current year, principally due to inflation. He said the biggest increases were in fuel and purchased power costs up $160 million, and costs for labor and materials, up $166 million.

Power sales in 1982 are expected to be up about 4 percent to 120 billion kilowatthours but still slightly below the 121.9 billion sold by TVA in 1977, Parris said. The forecast also showed TVA expects a 25 percent increase in nuclear generation and anticipates a return to normal rainfall and hydro generation. Hydro generation for fiscal 1981 is expected to end the year about 25 percent below normal because of the worst Tennessee Valley drought in 90 years.

The Board took the recommendation under advisement until its September 2 meeting when it is expected to decide the matter.

If approved, the increase would raise a consumer's bill for 1,000 kilowatthours from $42.05 to $45.67 on and after October 2, under the most commonly used electric rate schedule.

Audia Wins Fourth Fight By TKO

Barry Audia, the son of John and Geraldine Audia of Pennington Gap, won his fourth professional boxing bout last Saturday night in Knoxville. Audia is unbeaten since turning professional.

The win came early in the third round when Audia maneuvered his opponent, Ed Harris of Gastonia, N.C., into the ropes and then connected with a right and a combination which knocked Harris through the ropes and out of the ring. Harris reentered the ring on the count of nine, but the fight referee decided Harris couldn't continue and gave the bout to Audia on a technical knockout

J.P. Kirk, of Stone Creek, attended the fight in Bill Meyer Stadium. J.P. said, "I think Barry was quicker. When he gets them in the ropes, he just goes wild." J.P. believes that Barry would have knocked Harris out if the referee had allowed the fight to continue.

"Barry is just a real strong boy. He's powerful in his upper body and arms. If he could get a couple of fights now when he's in such good shape, he could go somewhere," J.P. said.

Audia is managed by Ace Miller of Knoxville who also manages a former heavyweight champion, "Big John" Tate. Both Audia and Tate fight on the same card.

Dear Sir:

This letter is in answer to a letter printed in the Powell Valley News last week complaining about the Volunteer Fire Departments and Rescue Squads.

Volunteer means no pay! Volunteers do a service because it is needed and there is no one else to do it. An injured person cannot wait 45 minutes for emergency help; he needs it NOW!

I am a member of the Thomas Walker Unit of the Lee County Rescue Squad. We started a Rescue Squad in the lower end of Lee County because we couldn't wait for help to get here from Pennington Gap or Jonesville.

Being a volunteer isn't just racing to the scene of the emergency. You have to know what to do when you get there. Members of the Fire Departments and Rescue Squad are constantly in training. We spend hours of our own time learning to better handle emergency situations. Most of us have jobs and all of us have families, but instead of going home and relaxing after work we spend a lot of time in training and working on our equipment. Right now 45 Rescue Squad members and two Fire Department members are spending every Monday and Wednesday night for three months in an Emergency Medical Technician class. Ten members of the Rescue Squad spent all weekend in a special class to improve their driving abilities of emergency vehicles. We would rather have been with our families, but we felt these classes were needed.

How many people do you know who will jump out of bed at 2:00 a.m. and rush to help a stranger" How many of those people are trained and know what to do? How many of those people will send you a bill for services rendered after it is all over? If you want the answer to these questions just join your local Fire Department or Rescue Squad and find out. Know what you are talking about before you start complaining.

Sincerely,
Sally A. Crumley

REPENTANCE AND RESTORATION
Deuteronomy 30: 1-10

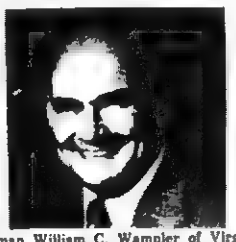
The history of the Israelites is a disappointing record of good intentions, commendable resolutions, repeated failures, and numerous tragedies. Due to their unwise decisions, they were subjected to strong temptations to enter into the practice of idolatry, immorality and injustice, and unfortunately they yielded, bringing upon themselves the consequent disasters which are the accompaniments of indulgence in such things. As is ever the case, when people plunge into sin, their woeful disobedience deprives them of numerous and wonderful blessings which faithful obedience to God would have afforded them. Had they reflected upon their past good fortunes, and then their sad misfortunes which were caused by their willful disobedience to God, they would have realized that they alone were responsible for their undesirable and unpleasant circumstances.

Today's lesson is a reminder that God's people who rebel against and refuse to comply with His will, and try to live in a manner that is pleasing to themselves, should expect to suffer the inevitable consequences of their wrongdoing, and they should know that their punishment is justly deserved. Any people who experience the privilege and joy of receiving God's marvelous blessings -- physical, material, mental, social and spiritual -- over an extended period of time, and then carelessly or intentionally forget the Giver, should not be surprised at the unpleasant consequences of their misbehavior.

It is encouraging to note that God did not write off the Israelites as a hopeless lot because of their unjustifiable treatment of Him. Even though they had sinned grievously against Him, their sins had destroyed God's love for them. Through Moses, His faithful servant, God revealed to the wayward Israelites that in the heart of the heavenly Father was a tremendous store of grace, mercy and love ready to be imparted to or bestowed upon them on the condition that they truly repent of their sins, return unto Him Whom they had forsaken, and experience restoration to the proper relationship with Him. God informed them that through genuine repentance on their part, rich blessings of various sorts would be theirs again, that He would lovingly and graciously forgive their sins, and that henceforth He would enable them to live in accordance with the precious divine will, if they actually had a desire to do so.

It is encouraging to know that through genuine repentance for sin there is the possibility of all restoration to intimate fellowship with God. For this fact we must be truly thankful. However, it must be added that it is of paramount importance that God's children comply daily with His precious will, thereby avoiding the necessity for restoration. Since faithful obedience to God's commandments is always beneficial, let us strive diligently to obey them to the fullest extent possible, through the divine enablement, as long as we shall sojourn on this earth.

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington



Congressman William C. Wampler of Virginia, ranking Republican on the House Agriculture Committee, left today on a 12-day farm export promotion tour of six European countries. Upon departure Wampler stated that he welcomed the opportunity to initiate a dialogue which will expand U.S agricultural trade markets.

Wampler and Committee Chairman E. de la Garza (D-Tex.) are heading the delegation of Congressmen who will visit Denmark, Hungary, Romania, Turkey, Greece, and Spain. The trip is a combined effort of the Agriculture Committee and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to increase farm support possibilities and improve the economic position of the U.S farmer.

In a letter to Congressman Wampler, the Secretary of Agriculture said, "I encourage you on my behalf to pursue every opportunity to discuss current agricultural trade issues with these countries." The Secretary also said that he will "look forward to a briefing upon your return."

"America's farm exports, expected to reach an all time high of 46 billion dollars this year, are one of the best inflation fighters our country has and it is essential that we do all we can to maintain a high level of business with our foreign customers," Wampler said

"While in Europe we will be assessing marketing potentials and problems with foreign agricultural officials and organizations as well as our own American embassy representatives. The oversight of our agricultural trade with other nations is a continuing responsibility of the Congress which we do not take lightly A high level of farm exports is essential to the strength of the U.S economy. Our farm trade surpluses this year and last will be enough to pay for one out of every three barrels of oil that we import certainly a most significant contribution," said Wampler

The tour will focus on several NATO and East European Communist Block countries.

Administrative Appointments At Southeast Community College

Dr. Larry Stanley, Director at Southeast Community College, has announced three administrative appointments for the 1981 82 year. Mrs Lillian Faye Simpson, an assistant professor, has been named Chairman of the Division of English, Humanities, Social Sciences and Related Technologies. Ms. Simpson has been a faculty member at the college since 1976

Mrs. Pat Morris Scopa has been named Chairman of the Division of Physical Sciences and Related Technologies. Mrs. Scopa, an associate professor, served as acting division chairman for the 1980 81 year

Ms. Bonnie Thomas has been named Chairman of the Division of Biological Sciences and Related Technologies. Ms. Thomas, an associate professor, was acting chairman during the 1980 81 year. Ms. Thomas also serves as coordinator of the college's Associate Degree Nursing program.

All of the appointments are for a three year period from 1981 through 1984.

Amendment To Public Law 96-402

The Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP) has been amended to extend annuity entitlement to certain surviving spouses effective December 1, 1980. A surviving spouse enters an entitlement status on that date if the soldier:

a. Died before September 21, 1972 while serving on active duty.

b. Had served on active duty for not less than 20 years; and

c. Was entitled to retired pay at time of death or would have been entitled except that the soldier had not applied for it.

If you know a person who meets the above criteria they should write the Retired Pay Operations, US Army Finance & Accounting Center, Indianapolis, IN 46249 and include the soldier's name, Army Service Number, Social Security Number, date of birth, and date of death. If available in their personal records, they should also include a copy of the Army Report of Death, a copy of the Armed Forces of the United States Report of Transfer or Discharge or any other documentation relating to the soldier's last tour of active duty.

LEE COUNTY TAXPAYERS

Can the POOREST County in Virginia find happiness with the RICHEST form of Government in the State?

A vast majority of the counties in Virginia do not choose our form of Government, believing that the simplier, traditional County Government can best serve the people at a significant savings of TAX DOLLARS.

During the time we have experimented with this sophisticated style of Government, we have seen the budget requirements go up and up while services have gone down and down.

The Board of Supervisors discontinued the Ambulance Service, claiming the savings to the County would be in excess of $150,000. Did your Real Estate assessment go down? The State of Virginia took over 100% funding for the Sheriff's Office as well as other constitutional offices which saved the county a considerable expense, did your Real Estate Taxes go down? The Board of Supervisors enacted a WHEEL TAX which they claim produced $300,000 dollars of Revenue. Are you paying less in Real Estate Taxes as a result? Where have all these savings gone.

The rest of the County Government has gone up and up. More than $100,000 is budgeted for the County Administrators Office alone. An appropriation of $50,000 was funded for a County Attorney and staff, a newly created position.

Do you believe that Lee County can afford this form of Government when many of our richer neighbors feel that they cannot? Has the School System improved under this form of Government or deteriorated? Do you believe that closing schools and transferring the children to older, more dangerous buildings is progress?

How can savings be effected by changing the form of Government? — By eliminating the expensive Administrative Structure which has constantly grown during the time we have indulged ourselves with this RICH form of Government.

If you feel that Lee County would be best served by changing our form of Government back to the traditional form, it is important that you go to the polls on Tuesday, August 18, 1981 and vote YES.

For an opportunity to discuss this important election with others or to clear up any questions that you may have, you are invited to a FREE Watermelon Picnic at the Cumberland Bowl Park in Jonesville, Saturday, August 15, 1981. Watermelon and entertainment will be provided from 2:00 to 6:00 P.M.

Vote YES August 18

For an opportunity to save hundreds of thousands of taxpayers dollars — Vote YES.

Special Services At CVC

At some time during college years, a student may experience academic difficulty or personal and social problems. When this happens the student may not know how to get help, but Clinch Valley College's Special Services personnel are prepared to offer appropriate assistance.

The Special Services Program began at Clinch Valley in the fall of 1973. Funded through the Department of Education, it serves the needs of eligible students who require special help to make a satisfactory adjustment to the demands of college life. The aim of the Special Services Program is to assist each student to achieve academically, acquire additional basic skills, improve the grade point average, and pursue higher education or gain meaningful employment after graduation.

The Project Director, Julia Heise, supervises and administers activities, and develops and implements program goals and objectives. Special Services Counselor Ann Morris provides counseling in academic, personal and career areas; supervises the Tutorial and Peer Counseling services; and plans cultural activities

Students who are eligible for the project are offered five services. The Tutorial Program provides free individualized or group instruction to students who experience academic difficulty with particular courses. The Special Services Counselor is available for private counseling and the Peer Counseling Program affords individuals an opportunity to talk with fellow students about problems encountered throughout the semester The third service is enrichment activities with group trips scheduled to Barter Theatre, Freedom Hall, Olde West Dinner Theatre, and other places of interest and cultural importance. In addition, free tickets to cultural events on or near the Clinch Valley College campus are provided to Special Services Project students. A fourth service, Supplemental Instructional Offerings, provides special classes for students who are interested in an educational topic not ordinarily available through the College's general curriculum. Such workshops may include instruction in study skills, test anxiety, or careers. The final service is that of referral. The Special Services Office provides a comprehensive listing of special organizations, agencies, and services available throughout Virginia and in parts of Tennessee. If office personnel cannot help an individual student, they will refer the student to an agency which can provide assistance.

Special Services is an important and invaluable addition to the other services available at Clinch Valley College. Helping students is the main concern

Blackwater Farm Tour

By: Harold Jorrell
Virginia Division of Forestry

As the crowd gathered and introductions were made, one could sense the community spirit and pride A spirit that has taken a small rural community, rich in history and has secluded it from the fast pace of times. Nestled between Powell and Clinch Mountain and ridges too numerous to mention lies a community by the name of Blackwater Rich bottom lands growing in corn, wheat, soybeans and tobacco are visible as one passes by. Bottomlands surrounded by steep rocky ridges suggest a sharp contrast. Were the ridge lands mismanaged by our forefathers or was it just the sheer steepness of the land that has caused these hillsides to erode? A process that has left poor, shallow, rocky soils on the slopes but deep, rich fertile land in the bottoms. Lush green crops grow in good seasons but most residents are also very aware of what heavy spring rains can do. How often have they seen these beautiful green fields of corn submerged by the uncontrolable fury of water as it races from down the hillsides to one of the hearby streams that meanders through these normally peaceful bottoms.

Sponsored by the Blackwater Ruritans, July 18 was the day of the Blackwater Farm Tour. It was a day in which the people could meet the numerous county, state and federal agencies - a day in which one could ask questions and have various programs explained. But more important it was a day in which the various agencies could tour farms and see just how their recommendations were being put to use.

Equipment was demonstrated and costs discussed. Different types of loans were discussed that could assist farmers in paying for equipment that may be more modern and effective.

With well over fifty people attending, the day would have to be called a success. Special thanks should go to the ladies who prepared the noon meal. It takes good people to make a good community. The feeling of being welcome was well expressed. It is good to see people that are not afraid to dream dreams and have the courage and devotion that are necessary to turn these dreams into reality.

Wheat Exports At Record High

Wheat exports between January and Marth totaled 400 million bushels -- an all time high for that period, according to a report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Early season projections that 1980/81 wheat exports could reach a record 1.5 billion bushels appears to be firming up. USDA officials say this means that wheat trade has increased each year since 1976/77, with the last two seasons reaching record size.

The wheat marketing year is winding down with record highs for production, supply, total disappearance and exports. Based on May 1 conditions, winter wheat production is forecast to be the first 2-billion bushel crop in history. This record crop mainly reflects growers planting the largest area ever to winter wheat 63.9 million acres.

Increased precipitation in the last few months has brightened prospects for the total 1981 wheat crop. Because of the record seeded area of 87 million acres, total 1981 production could reach 2.7 billion bushels, up nearly 15 percent from last year's 2.4 billion.

Wheat stocks going into the 1981/82 crop year total 954 million bushels. As a result, the total wheat supply could be another record high, topping 3 billion bushels for the third time in the last four years. According to the report, the Commodity Credit Corporation now owns 192 million bushels of wheat. Of this, 147 million bushels are earmarked for the Food Security Reserve. Since January, farmers have placed over 130 million bushels of wheat in the grain reserve, bringing the total to about 360 million in early May

The season's farm price for wheat will average around $4.00 per bushel, compared with $3.78 a year ago. As the new harvest develops, the leading question concerns the level of farm prices. The ending of the grain embaro could encourage producers to hold wheat in anticipation of USSR purchases. If this marketing strategy develops, it could be another price strength ening factor

Head Start Council Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Lee County Head Start Policy Council was held on August 4, at the head start office in Jonesville

The meeting was called to order by chairperson, Frances Ricketts First on the agenda was the acceptance of more children registrations for the coming year, which will begin on August 24. Due to the vacancy of the Pennington II teacher, the promotion of Louise Hartley was approved because of seniority

Names which were selected by the personnel committee for the aides positions at Woodway, Dryden, and Thomas Walker were presented to the council and approved The school board will now have the final decision on August 11

A luncheon followed the meeting for all council members. Next council meeting will be September

County E.H.C. Council Report

By: B. B. Brooks

"Forward Together" was the theme of Virginia Extension Homemakers Club Conference that was held July 20-23, at the Donaldson Brown Center for Continuing Education, VPI & SU, Blacksburg, Virginia.

The opening session with V.E.H.C. President Sally Paxton presiding began with a Flag Processional, and Pledge to the Flag led by Ruby Williamson, Citizenship and Community Outreach Chairman.

N.E. Regional Director, Margaret Robins introduced the V.E.H.C. Board to the delegates.

Dorothy Jones, Housing Energy and Environment Educational Chairman, inspired the assembly by singing "Trees" in honor E.H.C. tree planting project.

Dr. W.E. Lauery, VPI&SU President welcomed V.E.H.C. to the University. Dr. Lavery commented on the valuable work being done by EHC. He told of the various projects being helped by EHC especially the University Library

Mr. Oscar Williams, Associate Director of Volunteer Development, was Keynote speaker. His topic was "Homemakers Together: Lets do it Better." Mr. Williams said, "The eighties belongs to the ladies," he said that women would have an ever increasing role in every phase of public life, especially in politics and top administrative positions.

The evening began with a banquet in the commonwealth dining room, banquet speaker was Dr. George W. Litton. At 8:30 p.m. everyone assembled in the auditorium for a sing a long led by Anita Cooper, Arlington E.H.C. Council President, with Barbra Hansen at the piano. The group sang many old favorites such as Smiles, Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet, When You Wore a Tulip, My Wild Irish Rose, Amazing Grace, God Bless America and many more

Wednesday was filled with Seminars, those offered were "Legal Status of Homemakers" taught by Marilyn Bubyoff, Attorney at Law. "Landscaping" by J.C. Garrett "Color My Banking Green" held by Richard Flitz, Vice President, Bank of Christiansburg

"What every woman should know about self protection" by Marice Turner, regional director, Raft, Inc. "Women in Virginia History" by Judith E. Epley, Associate Editor, Virginia Tech Magazine, and "A Sure Cure For What Ails You" held by John J. Beasley, Extension Leader, 4 H.

In late afternoon a slide program "Carry Me Throughout Virginia" showing the beauty and grandeur of Virginia was presented in the auditorium. This was followed by Mrs. Nova Whan from Lisburn, Northern Ireland, who gave a delightful slide program and commentary on Ireland Mrs. Whan is a member of the Womens Institute, of Ireland, a club similar to EHC. Mrs Whan, extended an invitation to EHC members to visit her lovely homeland

A lovely cultural arts exhibit, composed of the work of EHC members from across the State was on display throughout the conference. The beautiful art objects were many and varied, from paintings to needlework. "The Christmas in July" display was made up of thousands of handmade Christmas Tree Ornaments. The ornaments were sold to help with the expenses of N.E H.C. Conference, that will be held in Virginia in 1986

Wednesday evening was Awards Night, the delegates assembled in the auditorium where clubs and individual members received recognition for their work in E.H.C. Lee County was honored in the State Reading Program.

Thursdays session began with singing "America The Beautiful" and devotions using the 23 Psalm.

Minutes were read and approved. Treasurers report given and approved. The budget for 1982 was given and approved.

Voting delegates elected Elmadine Dooley at VEHC Secretary.

The By laws Revision Committee Chairman, Anita Cooper, presented the by-laws revision and proposed standing rules, after much discussion and rephrasing, the delegates voted to adopt the Rules and By laws.

Mrs. Dutch Morgan, past VEHC president installation of new VEHC officers, was the highlight of the day. Mrs. Morgan used different kinds of butterflies to represent the duties of each officer.

Janet Cassell, incoming VEHC President from Wythe County gave the response, dedicating herself to serve and advance EHC

The conference adjourned with the singing of "Onward Ever Onward" and repeating the Homemakers Creed

Attending the conference from Lee County were Nettie M. Hopkins, Bess B. Brooks, and Betty J. Moore.

Jonesville Homemakers Club

The Jonesville Homemakers Club met July 13 at the Jonesville Methodist Church

The meeting was called to order by the President, Pauline Lyle, the Homemakers Creed was repeated

Ten members present answered roll call by naming their favorite patriotic song

Betty J. Moore gave an interesting talk on a tour to the Middlesboro Tannery and restoring leather.

The club extends an invitation to anyone who wishes to join the club to meet with us August 10, at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Mary Lou Carter will lead the program on, Pine Cone Crafts.

Pioneer and Flatwoods EHC

Pioneer and Flatwoods EHC met July 9, at the Civitan Park in Ewing for a combined program and picnic. After a bountiful meal and fellowship, Rozetta Crumley presided over a short business session.

Betty J. Moore presented a program on caring for and restoring leather.

The group then proceeded to a tour of the Middlesboro Tannery, where they were shown the process of making leather from the rawhides to the finished product. Tour members were given pieces of leather by Tannery officials

Susan Lewis and Fred Herndon were guests of the club.

When Peach Melba was created in honor of the opera star, Dame Nellie Melba, the flavorful dessert was made of peaches, ice cream, and raspberry (melba) sauce. Today's variation is just as delicious and easily prepared with the convenience of a non-dairy whipped topping. Begin with 4 to 6 very ripe halved, pitted, peeled fresh peaches, sweetened. Place peach halves, cut side up, in individual serving dishes. Top with generous spoonsful of thawed frozen whipped topping. Mix 3 tablespoons raspberry preserves with ½ teaspoon water and spoon over the topping. This recipe makes 4 to 6 servings

SSI Payments Available

There are probably many people living in the Norton area who may be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments who do not think so because they believe the small income they have makes them ineligible, R.L. Kelly, social security manager in Norton, said recently.

People can be eligible for SSI even though they receive a small social security check or some other small pension or annuity, Mr. Kelly said.

SSI payments can be made to people 65 or older, or blind, or disabled who do not have much income and do not own much personel or other property.

Starting last month the maximum Federal SSI payment is $264.70 for an individual and $397 for an eligible couple. The amount actually payable may be less if the person has other income, Mr. Kelly said. This is because after the first $20 of unearned income a month, the remainder reduces the SSI payment dollar for dollar.

A person can also have earnings from work and still get some SSI payment. The first $65 in a month does not count at all and only half the amount above $65 counts.

There is a limit on the amount of property a person can own, but not all property counts. A home a person lives in does not count, nor do personal effects, household goods, or a car in most cases.

People who know of someone who may be eligible for SSI should encourage him or her to contact the Norton social security office for more information. The office is located at 630 Park Avenue and the telephone number is 679-2404.

Pennington Gap Fire Department Receives Grant

By: Harold Jerrell
Virginia Division of Forestry

Walter Quinley, chief of the Pennington Gap Fire Department displays an alternator that has recently been purchased by the department. At a cost of over $1200.00, assistance was made available through Title IV funds. Federal funds that are administrated by the Virginia Division of Forestry provide assistance to many rural fire departments in the state of Virginia. The grants are on a matching basis meaning 50% of the money must also be paid by these fire departments. Lee County received $4150.00 this year with Pennington Gap receiving a $400.00 grant.

It's easy to sit back and think that since our departments are occasionally obtaining grants such as Title IV, everything is just fine. In reality, that would be far from the truth. It takes a great deal of equipment to operate a fire department besides the trucks that carry water. It takes a great deal of training in the safety and effective use of this equipment. And most of all since most departments are operated by volunteers, it takes a dedicated group of people. People that are not afraid to get their hands dirty, to breathe smoke, drag hoses and then to have to clean up all equipment before returning home. These are the people who get out of bed at all hours of the night and maybe risk their lives to protect that of another.

Just as the departments are operated by volunteers, the financial part is much the same way. With no steady source of income, these departments must rely on donations to stay in existence. Gas for the vehicles and electricity for buildings alone is quite expensive.

It's easy to sit back and think that I have never needed them so why should I donate anything . but as the days pass and the siren sounds, somebody somewhere probably never needed them until today either. Think about it and then go see how you can be of assistance to your fire department.

New Virginia State ASC Committee Announced

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has appointed J. Richard Andrews, Sr., of Wakefield, as Chairman of the Virginia Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. Named as committee members were J. Carlton Clore of Culpeper; Fred M. Bennington of Elk Creek; William G. Edwards of Dinwiddie; and Herman P. Woody of Rocky Mount. The Committee administers federal farm programs in Virginia.

Andrews, 45, has been farming for 25 years and presently has 1400 acres in Southampton, Surry, and Sussex Counties on which he produces peanuts, corn, and soybeans. He is past Treasurer of the Virginia Peanut Growers Association and has been a Vice Chairman of the National Affairs Committee of the Virginia Agribusiness Council. He has served 15 years on ASC County and Community Committees, including time as a county ASC Chairman.

Clore, 66 has been farming for 40 years and currently raises registered Angus cattle, corn, small grains, and hay. Most of his land is in Culpeper County. He is a member of the Farm Bureau and is a past Director and President of Culpeper Agricultural Enterprises

Bennington, 67, has a dairy and beef operation on 315 acres in Grayson County. He was a customer service representative for over 40 years with the Appalachian Power Company; a member of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Agribusiness Council; and was Vice-Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of the Southwest Virginia Agricultural Association.

Edward, 67, had 325 acres in Dinwiddie County on which he produces tobacco; peanuts, soybeans, and corn. He taught Vocational Agriculture in Dinwiddie County for 32 years and now serves as a research consultant for the Virginia State University in Petersburg.

Woody, 51, has been farming for 25 years and presently operates a total of 1,350 acres of which 600 are rented. He produces grain and fluecured tobacco. He has served as a member of the Flue Cured Advisory Committee and is a former State ASC Committee.

Mystery "Deathtrap" Opens At Barter Theatre

Mystery buffs who thrive on fantastic plot twists and surprise endings will love Ira Levin's comedy mystery thriller, Deathtrap, opening at the Barter Theatre in Abingdon on August 5 for a three week run.

Deathtrap, the smash hit play currently in its fourth year on Broadway, is an ingeniously clever and brilliantly constructed mystery thriller in the classic style that combines both chills and laughter in a perfect combination keeping audiences on the edge of their seats until the final startling moments.

Deathtrap concerns a famous writer of mystery plays who has lately experienced a series of failures and a shortage of funds. In order to improve his finances, he devises a fiendishly clever plan. To say any more about the plot would be to say too much. As the play progresses, the audience will be laughing and gasping at both the comedy lines and the intricate plot contortions, twists and turns, as the story moves along to its surprise conclusion.

Deathtrap will delight Barter audiences from Wednesday, August 5 through Sunday, August 23 with eight performances weekly, including three matinees. Evening performances are Tuesday and Thursday at 8:00 P.M., Friday and Saturday at 8:30 P.M., and Sunday at 7:00 P.M. with matinees on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at 2:00 P.M.

Across the street from the Theatre, the Barter Playhouse is presenting the dynamic musical cabaret, Two By Five, featuring thirty one exciting musical numbers.

Fuel Solution For Older Cars

With the diminishing supply of premium leaded gasoline due to lagging demand, owners of older pre-catalytic converter cars are asking the Automotive Information Council (AIC) whether either regular leaded or premium unleaded gasoline can be used satisfactorily.

The answer is no, but they can try blending regular leaded gasoline and premium unleaded gasoline in a 50/50 mixture. For example, if the gas tank is nearly empty, half a tank of regular leaded gasoline could be added to half a tank of premium unleaded.

This will give a slightly higher octane level than regular leaded gasoline and should cure the knocking and pinging problem.

Car owners of pre-catalytic converter cars should avoid using unleaded premium gasoline alone. Exhaust valve seats of all older cars requiring leaded gas are not hardened and may wear if there isn't lead in the fuel. Lead deposits act as a lubricant which reduces valve wear.

Since the mid-1970's car manufacturers have hardened the valves on cars that burned unleaded gasoline, so valve wear is not a problem in a car designed to run on unleaded fuel.

AIC also notes that burning leaded gasoline in a car designed to burn unleaded will damage the catalytic converter, void the car's warranty and cause expensive repair bills.

Lee County Fair Schedules More Local Talent

The management of the Lee County Fair has scheduled more local talent to appear during Fair Week, August 31-September 5. Sandy and Jerry Carter, who were born and raised in Lee County, are scheduled to appear in concert on Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. In addition to the Carters, the Christianaires, from Pennington Gap, the Messengers from Middlesboro, and the Heaven Aires from Big Stone Gap will present a full program of Gospel Singing.

On the Midway the James H. Drew Exposition will open at 5 p.m. Wednesday with the Livestock Show scheduled to begin at 5:30. In the morning hours, the exhibit buildings will be closed when judging begins at 10 a.m. The Tractor Driving Contest, open to FFA, FHA, and 4-H members, will begin at 1 p.m.

Jerry and Sandy Carter began singing in various trios and quartets nearly eleven years ago. In 1979, they began singing as a husband-wife duo and have recorded two albums and are waiting for the release of their third album sometime this month. Last February, they became members of the Volunteer Gospel Music Association in Knoxville, and have held the number five position of the Top Ten Most Requested Songs for WKXV Radio during the summer months.

The Christianaires Quartet held their first practice session on July 11, 1971. Since then, their inspirational singing has taken them to Ohio, Michigan, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Indiana, and throughout Virginia. The quartet consists of Doyle Ramey, singing lead and playing piano, Larry Bishop, singing first tenor, Jack Evans, singing baritone, and James Hensley, playing rhythm guitar. Each member contributes his free time to traveling and singing for the inspiration of all. Their recording experience started with Maggard Studios in Big Stone Gap, and they have just released their sixth recording at Lasting Sound Studios in Kingsport.

The Messengers will be making their first appearance at the Lee County Fair on Wednesday night. They have performed in Ohio, Tennessee, and Virginia and appeared at the TVA and I Fair in Knoxville last year. Their first album, recorded for Queen City Records in Cincinnati, will be followed this month with a new album scheduled to be recorded in Kingsport at Tri-State Recording. The group's members are Paul Spangler, Sue and Ed Morgan, Charles Mason and Mike Paul.

The Heaven Aires have been singing together for less than two years. The members are Rev. Gene Swinney, Verna Dorton, Ronnie and Norma Calhoune and Bob and Janice Wines.

With four gospel groups singing on Wednesday night, anyone who likes gospel music will be sure to get their money's worth. All the groups invite everyone to come to the Lee County Fair for a full night of Gospel Music.

Referendum Approved

Tuesdays complete election returns were not available at press time.

The referendum to change the present Board form of government to the traditional form of government was approved by Lee County voters.

The next issue of the News will carry complete returns, precinct by precinct.

CVC Lee County Schedule

The Clinch Valley College schedule of off-campus classes for the 1981 fall semester includes four courses to be offered in Lee County. One will be at Jonesville Elementary School and three at Pennington High School.

Registration for Psyc 472, Child Growth and Development, will be at Jonesville Elementary School at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 1. The first meeting of the class is 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. on Monday, September 14.

Registration for two of the courses offered at Pennington High School is 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 1. They are Music 345, Music for Elementary Teachers (4 semester hours credit), which will meet on Thursday evenings at a time to be announced later; and Educ 366, Techniques of Teaching Reading, which meets first from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. on Tuesday, September 8. The Reading course instructors are Virginia Lawson and Jean Lively.

The third course to be offered at Pennington is Educ 302c, Worship in Education: Instructional Procedures in Headstart, which registered earlier in the month.

Further information is available through the Office of Continuing Education, Clinch Valley College, 328-2431, extension 260.

Switzerland Bound!

Hershel and Irene Cheek of Woodway will be leaving next month for a week in Switzerland. The expense paid trip was the grand prize in a Bristol radio (WXBQ) contest. The contest was sponsored by the radio station and the Tennessee Motor Lodge, a division of Ingeniosa AG which will house the Cheeks at the Panorama Apartmenthouse in Davos, Switzerland. Davos, a well-known resort located in the Alps, offers a full range of activities including skiing, mountain climbing, and fishing.

The fishing possibilities are which Hershel is looking forward to most. An avid angler, Hershel has made several trips to fishing areas in Alaska. The idea of going to Europe to fish had never crossed his mind until now.

When his neighbor, Mrs. Mary Ann Mullins, won the prize but was unable to take the "Dream Vacation" in September, she had the prize transferred to Hershel and Irene

According to Mullins, the contest was easy, "after hearing the voices and the clubs." The voices were Ronnie McDowell, Christy Lane and Joe Stampley.

Hershel, a regular listener to the station, also recognized the voices, but did not enter the contest. When he heard who did win the contest and then heard that Mullins could not take the trip, he offered to take her place. Rather than see the trip go to someone else, Mrs. Mullins transferred the prize to the Cheeks.

The next step for Hershel, who is a coal washer plant manager, was to get his company's okay for the time-off needed to take the trip. His employer, Energy Resources Limited, gladly agreed.

Between now and September, Hershel and Irene

tember 7, 1946 to June 30, 1981, by Dennis Austin, Virginia Game Warden of Abingdon.

Also, Sgt. R.W. Marshall, a Game Warden of Wise, presented Rasnic with a valuable watch on behalf of his co workers and friends. Then Marshall presented Mrs. Rasnic a lovely arrangement of flowers.

Many co-workers and retired friends were present and many spoke words of praise for Rasnic's career of 35 years as a Game Warden. They began on a humorous note in the form of a "roast", then all had nothing but praise for their retiring friend, E. Tyler Rasnic.

When it came time for Rasnic to make some remarks, he said, "I started in Lee County as a Game Warden after I was discharged from the Navy. It has been a pleasure to work with Game Wardens and other law enforcement officers from the area and State. I have enjoyed my work and wish to express my appreciation for the support of many people."

Special guests included, Captain Earnest Yeatler who conducted the program, Mrs. Yeatler, both of Abingdon, Major Gerald Simmons of Richmond, Assistant Chief of Law Enforcement along with many other law enforcement officers of the area and State.

E. Tyler Rasnic was born in the Wallens Creek section of Lee County, February 13, 1921. he is married to the former Patricia Horton of Lee County and they have three sons and four grandchildren.

These are, Steve and wife Melanie and foster son Chris of Denver, Colorado, Ben of Denver and Joe and wife Vivian and children, Melanie, Sarah and Mason of Richmond, Va.

James W. Heironimus of Covington, Va., in Alleghany County, is the new Game Warden for Lee County. Heironimus requests the cooperation of all concerned as a replacement for Tyler Rasnic.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Kelli (Baby Pie) Collier who went to be with Jesus August 21, 1980.

Little Angels

When God calls little children
to dwell with him above,
We mortals sometimes question
the wisdom of His love.
For no heartache compares with the death of one small child
Who does so much to make our world seem so wonderful and mild.
Perhaps God tires of calling
the aged to His fold,
So He picks a rosebud before it can grow old.
God knows how much we need them,
and so He takes but few
To make the land of Heaven
more beautiful to view.
Believing this is difficult still somehow we must try,
The saddest word mankind knows
will always be "Good bye."
So when a little child departs,
we who are left behind
Must realize God loves children,
Angels are hard to find.
Sadly missed by mother, father, sisters and brother

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Edgar Bartley wishes to thank the personnel of Lee County Community Hospital for all of their kindnesses during his illness And also give special thanks to the entire community of Wallen s Creek for all the calls, visits and gifts of food and most especially the prayers of everyone

THANKS TO EVERYONE

I would like to express my thanks to each and every person who have sent me cards, letters, and flowers during my stay in Indian Path Hospital, and since I have been convalescing at home, and the people who have been to see me and brought food.

Also, I am very thankful for the wonderful treatment and care I received at the hospital.

I especially appreciate the nice nurses, and Dr. Pearson, the surgeron who performed the surgery

Everyone has been so kind and thoughtful. I can not express just how much it has meant.

I am so looking forward to getting back to the Senior Citizens site, and all my friends

MECC Offers University - Parallel Courses

Because of the high visibility of Mountain Empire Community College graduates in the area's occupational / technical jobs, many people do not realize that quality university parallel education at reasonable cost is also available at MECC. Programs of study are offered that lead to four-year degrees in business administration, education, engineering, liberal arts, science, and general studies. Additional programs may be tailored to the needs of particular students.

The arts and sciences faculty is composed of highly competent scholars whose primary interest is teaching and maintaining currency in their academic disciplines. Carolyn Reynolds, Title III Project Director and Instructor in English, continued work toward her Ed.S. at the Kellogg Institute for Training and Certification of Developmental Educators at Appalachian State University this summer Walter Holden, Assistant Professor of English, received a fellowship to George Mason University's summer institute in "The Teaching of Writing". Bill Harris, Associate Professor of Physics, continued work toward his doctorate at Virginia Polytechnical Institute & State University.

Students completing two-year transfer programs must then decide where to complete the last two years of their bachelor's degree. Among those senior colleges chosen by MECC graduates are VPI, Radford University, Clinch Valley College, East Tennessee Sate University, University of Tennessee, Lincoln Memorial University, Carson Newman College, Emory and Henry College, Appalachian State University and Virginia Commonwealth University.

Travel distance, tuition expense, availability of programs and reputation of the school all play a role in the decision. When all factors are weighed, it is apparent to many MECC graduates that Clinch Valley College in Wise, Virginia, is the best choice.

Mr. Don McCollum, Director of Student Services at MECC, states, "A good majority of MECC graduates are choosing CVC as their transfer institution because of the ease of transferring coursework completed at MECC. This ease of transferability is due to the close working relationship enjoyed by the administrative staff of the two colleges, and the successful record of past MECC alumni who have gone on to CVC."

Registration for fall classes at MECC is scheduled for Monday, September 21 through Wednesday, September 23. Classes begin Monday, September 28. Spring high school graduates are encouraged to inquire about MECC's programs of study.

For further information on university parallel courses, please call Benjamin Wheless, Chairman, Division of Arts and Sciences, MECC, 523-2400.

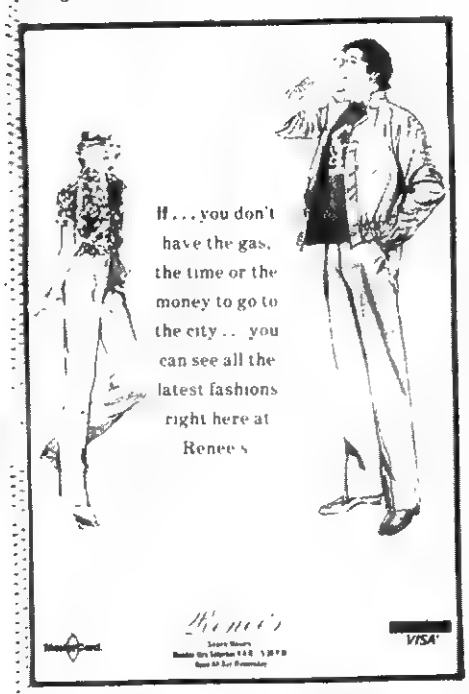
Game Commission Will Meet

The Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries will meet in Richmond on Friday, August 28, 1981 to set the 1981-82 waterfowl seasons and to consider proposals for changes to the fishing regulations, commencing in 1982. Changes to the fishing regulations will be again considered and either accepted or rejected when the Commission meets in October.

The August 28th meeting will be held in the Game Commission Conference Room at 4010 West Broad St. in Richmond. The meeting will commence at 9:30 a.m. This is an open meeting and the public is invited to attend. Individuals interested in the subjects to be discussed and who cannot attend the meeting may present their comments in writing, addressing them to the Executive Director, Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, P.O. Box 11104, Richmond, Va. 23230.



Matlock District 4-H Winner

Four Virginia 4-H'ers were named district winners at the 31st annual 4-H Electric Congress being held at the John Marshall Hotel.

They are: David M. Hutcheson, Culpeper County, James L. Matlock, Lee County, Tina M. Moler, Frederick County, and Judi Wilson, Poquoson.

They were recognized at the Congress' opening banquet, Monday, August 17. The conference, attended by 150 4-H delegates from across Virginia, closed Wednesday with a luncheon.

Matlock, a 16-year old junior at Jonesville High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Matlock. He gave demonstrations at district and state competitions and exhibited at the local energy fair. He also works with computers.

President of Lee County 4-H council, he also was a delegate to the state 4-H nominating assembly. A veteran of three years in the electric energy program, he also earned a medal in leadership. He plans to study electrical engineering in college.

Each winner received a watch to commemorate the award. The 1981 4-H Electric Congress is sponsored by 19 Virginia electric power suppliers and Westinghouse Electric Corp., in cooperation with Virginia Cooperative Extension Service.

Miners Hosts Asheville Chiefs

The Virginia Miners will play the Asheville Chiefs at Bullitt Park in Big Stone Gap on Saturday, August 22. Kickoff time is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. Tickets for adults are $3.00 and student $2.00. This is the final exhibition game at home for the Miners.

Regular season games in the North Carolina - Virginia Club Football League begin on September 12 for the Miners. They begin the season against the Yadkinsville Rams there and then travel on to Hickory and Charlotte, N.C. before returning home against the Marine Corps on October 3 at Bullitt Park.

The Virginia Miners defeated the Flatwoods Job Corps on August 8 at Bullitt Park 13-0. David Carpenter, Pennington Gap caught a long pass from Dirt Maddux, Big Stone Gap, to set up the two yard plunge by Willie Holbrook, Whitesburg, Ky. Monroe Brown, Tazewell, Tn., added to the scoring by booting two field goals of 28 and 35 yards. Defensive play, now known as a trademark of the Miners kept the Job Corps Hornets from scoring. The Virginia Miners are ready now for the best semi-pro team that North Carolina can offer.

Rose Hill Homemakers Club News

—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith have returned from Sullivan's Island, S. C., where they attended the marriage of their granddaughter, Nancy Ann Fenn to Mr. Stephen H. Wood of Estill, S.C.

While there the Smiths drove with their granddaughter to Estill for a visit with the groom and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Everett Wood.

Also accompanying the Smiths to Sullivan's Island was their daughter, Margaret (Mrs. Sam Berry) who, after their return, spent the night in Rose Hill before returning to her home in Afton, Va.

While in Sullivan's Island, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Berry attended a Bridal Shower in Mt. Pleasant given for the bride-elect by two of her bridesmaids, Carole Tisdale, and Robin Grooms.

On Sunday, all the Fenn family with their guests participated in the Sunday School and Worship Services at their home church in Mt. Pleasant.

—House guest of Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Nolan last weekend was Mrs. Nolan's daughter, Sherrill (Mrs. Elwyn Franklin) of Dayton, Ohio. She also visited the Oscar W. Smiths while here.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McMasters of Martinsville, Va., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M.B. Jennings, former residents of Rose Hill, spent several days vacationing in the Southwest Area.

At Big Stone Gap they visited the June Tolliver House and other historic spots of the area, and attended also the drama, Trail of the Lonesome Pine. Later they greeted friends in Pennington Gap.

In the Tri-State area, after visiting Mrs. Jenning's sister, Louvenia Perkins at Ruby's Rest Home in Middlesboro, they toured the Pinnacle and the Lincoln Museum at Harrogate.

While still in Lee County they called on Mrs. Jenning's relatives, the Carter Cawoods at Jonesville, and the Oscar W. Smiths. They were also overnight and dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Smith in Rose Hill.

On their return to Martinsville they enjoyed the scenic beauties of Powell Mountain and in Abingdon, Va., attended the Barter Theatre

Before arriving home, word was received of the death of William Booker Underwood, of Victoria, Va., father of the Jennings' daughter-in-law, Mrs. James (Doris) Jennings.

—Recent house guests of Mrs. Walter Smith were her daughter and granddaughter (Mrs. Dave Williams and Dottie Williams) of Tampa, Fla. Before coming to Rose Hill, Mrs. Williams and Dottie had visited in Swayzee, Ind., with Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Smith before accompanying them to Rose Hill to visit their mother.

While here they were joined by other family members, Mr. and Mrs. Lewie Smith of Kingsport, Tn., and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith and sons, Keith and Jeremy of Ewing.

On another day, the Larry Smiths drove the Florida guests and Mrs. Smith on a tour of Hensley Settlement.

When it was time for granddaughter Dottie to return to her work in Tampa, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Williams were accompanied by cousins, Roger Wadell and his mother, Gladys Wadell of Pennington Gap, to the airport in Maryville for Dottie's flight home.

On the way they stopped in Friendsville, Tn., to visit Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Virginia Clarkston, and awaited the arrival by plane of Mrs. Smith's other granddaughter, Debbie Williams, who also came from Tampa for a week's visit.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Smith and her Florida guests and grandson, Keith, toured the Pinnacle and made other visits in the area.

—The Senior Citizens of Morley Memorial Church, Ewing, attended the morning service of Western Lee County Crusade where they sang two songs and enjoyed the service very much.

Bill Porter was the minister and attendance was very good. Irma Snodgrass, who was examining prospective members for Senior Citizen membership, enjoyed their visit with local Senior Citizens.

Lucy Embry Wilson, former demonstration agent of Lee County, died July 26. Her home was in Rural Retreat.

—Mr. and Mrs. Grant Seale attended the conferring of a PhD Degree upon their son, Douglas Seale at Gainsville, Fla., August 8.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alan Burns from Decatur, Ill., visited with Jeff, Lisa and A.J. Harber recently.

—Don Grabeel and family enjoyed vacationing in Myrtle Beach recently.

—Jeff, Lisa and A.J. Harber spent the weekend in the Smokies.

—Mrs. Walker Layne and two sons, Steven and B.K. of Big Stone Gap were weekend guests of Lila Maness. They visited Kim Davis at the St. Mary's Hospital in Knoxville on Saturday. Friends will be happy to hear that Kim is improving nicely.

—Irene, Rodney and Wanda Lee were in Middlesboro Saturday.

—The WOC of the Presbyterian Church of Rose Hill met with Maude Bales on Tuesday.

—The scripture lesson was from Isiah 64:6-9. Mrs. Emmette, the president, called attention to verse six; "All our righteousness are as filthy rags. The hymn "How Firm a Foundation," was sung, after which a prayer circle was closed by Mrs. Bales.

The topic "I will be with you," was given by Maude Bales. Fear not Israel my servant chosen. Isaiah 41:8-11. "Precious in my eyes." Isiah 43:1-7 by Emma Campbell. "How Firm a Foundation" by Florence Bayless.

"Reflection from a third world perspective" was given by Mrs. Emmette.

Poem, "It's Free" was then given by Mrs. Emmett. The meeting was closed with the Mispah, after which Mrs. Bales very graciously served delicious refreshments to the members present.

—Ruthie Rowlette is recuperating in the Morristown Hospital.

—The Boy Scouts enjoyed a meeting and outing at the Civitan Park Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Verlan Hensley and son, Andy visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emmette Sunday.

—George Scott, Ocie McMellan's son and friend, Sherri Collie of Florence, Ky., visited Mrs. McMellan Saturday and Sunday, after visiting Boonesville Park.

—Nancy Jeffrey was at the Senior Citizens meeting at Morley Memorial interviewing persons for substitute van driving, to bring the Senior Citizens to their luncheon meetings.

—Ethel Ely, the Senior Citizens Sight manager is leaving for a vacation with her sister, Ruby Phipps in Indiana.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis of Tazewell visited Mr. and Mrs. Van Grabeel recently.

—Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Cook of Louisville, Ky., were guests of the Van Grabeels. Mrs. Cook will be remembered as Mary Louise Grabeel.

—Jewell E. Peters of Gas City, Ind., and her daughter, Mrs. Ben F. King and husband, Ben King, with their daughter, Sandra were also visiting in the Grabeel home. Sandra's home is in Connorsville, Ind.

WORD of GOD

That We May Be Able Ministers:

And such trust have we through Christ to Godward.

Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

Flanary-Dotson Exchange Vows

Lora Ann Flanary and Arnold Darrell Dotson were united in Holy Matrimony Sunday, July 5, at 4 p.m. at Sarepta Baptist Church, Blackwater, with the bride's pastor, Rev. Randall Burton officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn T. Flanary, Blackwater. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dotson, Clintwood, Virginia.

Church decorations consisted of baskets of large, yellow, daisy mums; yellow and white gladiolus, pink carnations with floral greenery on each side of a three-tiered white candelabra, decorated with white ribbons and yellow daisies, filled with yellow candles

A program of wedding music was presented by Janet Clouse, pianist which included "Still", "The Lord's Prayer", "If", among others. Also presented in song were, "You Needed Me", "Longer", and "Annie's Song", by Lynnette Johnson and Mary Chris Robinette.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of sheer polyester organza and taffeta. The empire, sleeveless gown, accented with delicate Chantilly lace trim and appliqued neckline featured a flounced skirt which formed the chapel-length train. Attached to the Juliet cap was a fingertip veil of nylon netting edged in Chantilly lace. Adding the final touch was the bridal bouquet, a beautiful silk arrangement of yellow and white daisies and carnations interspersed with floral greenery and pink baby's breath.

Lynnette Johnson served her sister as Matron of Honor. She wore an off shoulder, floor length gown of yellow, crepe backed satin polyester accented with white lace and ribbon. Her flowers were silk, yellow daisies with pink streamers tied in love knots

Bridesmaids were Becky Scott, Mary Chris Robinette and Benita Trapp, special friends of the bride. Their dresses were identical to the one worn by the Matron of Honor, and all were especially made by Mrs. Ralph Robinette. Their flowers were silk carnations tipped in yellow to match their gowns.

Danny Mooney served as best man. Ushers were Royce Baker, Randy Mullins and Michael Johnson.

A reception was given by the bride's parents at the church following the ceremony.

After the bride and bridegroom traditionally cut the first piece of cake, Mrs. Ralph Robinette and Grace Russell attended the bride's table

Ms. Carol Sadler kept the bride's book.

The bride is a graduate of Lincoln Memorial University and has taught fourth grade in Lee County Public Schools the past two years.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Clintwood High School and is employed with Clinchfield Coal Company in Clintwood, Virginia.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C. the couple are at home in Clintwood, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Darrell Dotson
(Lora Ann Flanary)

When you want to ripen tomatoes, where do you put them? If your answer is "on the window sill," you are going along with a very common myth.

A sunny, warm window sill is not the place to ripen tomatoes. A window sill as a general rule is too hot.

Tomatoes may yellow instead of turning red if the temperature is above 75 degrees. So, should you tuck them away in the refrigerator? No, the refrigerator isn't the place either. There, unripened tomatoes turn pale, watery and soft.

The best place to ripen tomatoes is in a light place away from heat. Spread the tomatoes on heavy paper and keep them from touching each other. They should be refrigerated once they ripen to keep them from losing their food value. You'll find the indoor ripened tomatoes are fine for fresh use or sauces. But use the vine-ripened ones to make high-quality canned tomatoes or juices.

Virginia Cooperative Extension Service programs, activities, and employment opportunities are available to all people regardless of race, color, religion, sex, age, National origin, handicap, or political affiliation

New Program Offered By CVC

Business Data Processing is Clinch Valley College's newest program, and its first students will enroll this fall. The concentration was developed in response to persons who expressed interest in a career in data processing.

Under the Business and Public Administration major at Clinch Valley, students select from among ten established concentrations, and the new one in Business Data Processing joins others in economics, accounting, management and certain specific areas of management, business education, public administration and political science. In addition to completing general education and departmental course requirements, each student who takes a Business and Public Administration major concentrates on courses in the chosen area

Those who elect the new Business Data Processing concentration will take courses in management, courses in computer science, data processing, accounting, management, marketing, finance, and professional writing. The program is particularly appropriate for persons who want careers in data processing in the banking industry, coal mining enterprises, local, state or federal governmental agencies, or in the teaching of data processing in public schools.

Students also have another new choice within the Business Education Concentration at Clinch Valley College. In addition to the existing options under which students could select General Office Procedure or Stenography areas, they may now choose the new Bookkeeping and Data Processing track. It will prepare students for certification to teach bookkeeping and data processing

Registration for the fall semester at Clinch Valley is Thursday and Friday, August 20 and 21, in the Administration Building. Further information on Business Data Processing is available through Peter Yun, Chairman, Division of Professional and Social Sciences at CVC.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

As a parent of three children, two of whom will attend Jonesville Elementary School this school term, I am tired of the run around I have been getting from both the Lee County Board of Supervisors and the Board of Education concerning the upgrading of the schools and the curriculum in all of the County's schools. Also, as a member of the HELP group, it has become doubly frustrating as I am receiving the same political rhetoric in duplicate. The Board of Education's position is that they have a school building program proposal in front of the Board of Supervisors, and that this Board has failed to act on the proposal, or even instruct the Board of Education to update the proposal to reflect 1981 costs. The Board of Supervisors say that the school proposal was brought before a previous Board, and that they are uncertain as to whether a new proposal from the Board of Education is needed, or if they can act on the previously submitted proposal. In the meantime, neither Board does one thing to resolve the issue, the elementary school children are being housed in substandard buildings, subjects vital to the preparation of students to enter today's society are not being offered, and teachers are being asked to teach under highly adverse conditions.

Having been involved in this issue for the past six months, the main response I receive from the people when asked about the current impass is that 'it has always been that way, and with the politics in Lee County, there is nothing we can do to change it'. In response to this, I recognize that all change is not good, but if we are to progress and society is to progress, some change is necessary. It is also through the citizens that progress will be made. However, no progress will be made until our elected and appointed officials quit playing the little game currently being played in Lee County.

I urge all Lee Countians to call their elected member of the Board of Supervisors and their appointed member of the Board of Education, as well as their local school principal and express their views on the educational system in the County. Time is short, and the impass must be resolved now.

RE. School Board meetings in Lee County

Sir

Who is to speak for the Lee County school children?

Not the teachers. They are employed at the schools during the meetings.

Not the parents, those who have tried are told "it will be taken under consideration," and nothing is accomplished.

Formal requests for evening meetings have been submitted by both parents and teachers, but the school board has chosen to meet at their own discretion.

The school board was appointed to serve the citizens of Lee County in the operations of the school system. Obviously they do not wish to have citizens with intrinsic interest involved.

Sincerely
Tina Fowler

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter to the people of Lee County to plead with them to become aware of the problems that face us. Lee County is in a financial bind and more and more Federal Aid is being discontinued. It is time we realize that we as a county must take care of ourselves and stop depending on someone else to do it for us.

Do you realize that every month seven people meet at 10:00 o'clock in the morning to make decisions that affect each and every one of us, while we are hard at work earning a living? These seven people make up the governing body of Lee County known as the Board of Supervisors. Would you like to attend these meetings and become aware of just how much power these seven people have? It is logical that you would like to attend and see how each decision they make will affect you, but it is impossible if you are employed. ISN'T IT? Your employer probably would not be sympathetic enough to your civic involvement to allow you to miss a day of work each month to attend these meetings.

Why do you suppose the Board of Supervisors, who are elected to serve us the citizens, choose to meet at such an INCONVENIENT TIME? I think the answer is obvious. The fewer people able to attend, the less opposition can be expected from the public.

Each member of the Board of Supervisors is paid $250.00 per month, the Chairman of the Board Mr. C.B. Waddell is paid $300.00 per month. They are paid whether or not they attend the meetings. Are you satisfied with the fact that YOUR TAX MONEY pays your representative this amount to meet at HIS CONVENIENCE? I certainly am not! It is a disgrace to us as citizens if we allow this to continue.

We have somehow gotten our views of government distorted through the years. Our country was founded on DEMOCRACY. Government officials were elected to do the WILL OF THE PEOPLE, and not to DICTATE THEIR OWN WILL. We as citizens have allowed this to happen; our own APATHY is costing us our freedoms.

Not only does the Board of Supervisors have such undemocratic meeting hours, but so does our Lee County School Board. They meet at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon the second Tuesday of each month. It has repeatedly been requested that they meet in the evening hours at a more convenient time for the people they serve, BUT THEY REFUSE.

I take that as a personal insult and I feel that every civic-minded citizen of Lee County should. Maybe that is the problem. Could there not be enough civic minded people in Lee County to demand some changes? Is that why we are constantly intimidated by these two governing bodies?

Each school board member is paid $130.00 per month regardless of whether he or she attends the meeting. Some members of the board hold jobs that make it hard for them to attend each meeting, therefore, they are often absent. It seems to me that they would be glad to change their meeting time to the evening hours so that they could better serve the people of their district. Evidently, serving the people is not their first priority. I feel these people are not being paid hard earned tax money to meet at THEIR CONVENIENCE.

I was told by an individual closely connected to the school board that they probably will not change their meeting time to the evening hours until the Board of Supervisors change theirs. As a tax paying citizen, I feel it is time to apply the pressure to both BOARDS to show them that they are OUR SERVANTS. We need to make them play the game by OUR RULES, not us by theirs. Our government was not founded to operate that way. I BEG the people of Lee County to become aware of how much influence we can have over our lives if we stop accepting government decisions on blind faith. Please attend a school board meeting and see for yourself how it is conducted. Decisions are made in executive session, which the public is not allowed to attend. They will not discuss or even comment on an issue in open session with the public, and it sounds as if they rehearse in executive session who will make and second motions. Anything presented by the school board members is very brief and in careful uninformative wording so as to keep the attending public in the dark.

We desperately need some schools for our children. We need them not only because of the age of some existing structures, but because there is gross over-crowding in some schools, hindering the learning environment. However, the first block will not be laid unless we as citizens and parents start storming both the Board of Supervisors and the Lee County School Board meetings to make our demands known.

The School Board cannot build new schools without money, and the money of Lee County is controlled by the Board of Supervisors. The Board of Supervisors allots only what they want the School Board to have, and the amount is merely a political battle between a Democratically controlled School Board and a Republican controlled Board of Supervisors. Let's make it known that we are not interested in their childish political power plays, only the quality of education for our children. Speaking of money, what will the money collected by the new wheel tax be used for? Why can't we demand that a certain percentage of it be earmarked for the construction of new schools? That is food for thought.

The decisions made today by these two boards will affect us tomorrow and our children the next day. Please become aware of what is happening. Become involved and take charge of your own life again. Don't sit back and be dictated to any longer. Let us unite and make the changes this county needs. Call or write your School Board and Board of Supervisors representative to make your feelings known. If they continue to refuse to meet at a convenient hour for the working public, we should jam their phones and fill their mail boxes with suggestions, complaints, and a kind word if it is in order. Let's let them know that the people of Lee County have been reincarnated into concerned, civic minded citizens WHO EXPECT POSITIVE ACTION on our behalf.

Following is a list of Board Representatives and the districts that they represent; PLEASE CONTACT THEM.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Ernestine W. Wright, Member

The word "balk" comes from the Anglo-Saxon ... a wooden beam, referring to the huge timbers that were used to bar doors, thus balking an enemy's onslaught.

Q – I've heard a lot recently about something called Agent Orange. What is it?

A – Agent Orange, so named because it was shipped to Vietnam in orange striped barrels, was a chemical defoliant used to uncover enemy hiding places and to destroy Viet Cong food crops. It was made up of two chemicals, 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T which have been used widely throughout the world since the 1940s by farmers, foresters and homeowners to kill unwanted vegetation.

Q – Are World War I veterans eligible for Veterans Administration outpatient medical care?

A – Yes. All veterans of World War I are eligible for VA outpatient care for any medical condition.

in a recent issue of the American Review of Respiratory Disease, an ALA publication. Trained nurse interviews administered questionnaires covering such information as respiratory history, alcohol consumption, smoking habits and education. The nurses also administered lung tests to the study participants.

*Only 5.7 percent of the women were heavy drinkers, compared with 20.1 percent of the men.

*In the men, alcohol consumption increased consistently with smoking, whereas in women, increased consumption was noted only in present heavy smokers.

*Among those who had never smoked, moderate-to-heavy drinkers had more cough and significantly more acute respiratory illnesses than none-to-light drinkers.

*A combination of heavy drinking and heavy smoking generally led to a higher prevalence of respiratory symptoms than heavy smoking alone -- at least in men.

Smoking is a far more important contributor to respiratory symptoms than alcohol consumption, but the latter is a significant risk factor, as well.

For more information contact Mrs. Willie Rodgers, R.N., Public Health Nurse, Lee County Health Dept., Jonesville, Va., or call 346-2011.

Alcohol can worsen most respiratory symptoms, according to the American Lung Association. Therefore, if you have a cough or a sore throat, forego the screwdriver and opt for straight orange juice.

Even when a person has no respiratory symptoms, alcohol consumption can have its poor effects -- and we don't mean hangovers. Alcohol users are more prone to infections, often smoke heavily and inhale more frequently.

Approximately 3,800 persons in Tucson took part in the study reported

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Jack Kelly, pastor of Pennington First Christian Church, was Monday's guest minister at the Senior Center. Reading from several scripture passages in the Bible, he gave a talk on "Temptations." His wife Jo accompanied him to the center. They enjoyed the lunch, fellowship, and activities, especially the quilting. Golden Gilley played the piano for the group singing.

—Minnie Morrison and Ella Mae Marlowe were visitors at the center Monday and will be attending regularly.

—Irene Salsbury of Erie, Pa., is a house guest of Florence and Marvin James, spending several weeks with them. She visited the center Monday.

—Maggie and Dick Davis of Erie, Pa., spent a week with the Marvin James recently.

—Scott and Peters were guest speakers and told about the work the Rescue Squad is doing in the Pennington area and in Rose Hill. They work on a voluntary basis and appreciate all donations.

—During the business session officers were nominated and elected. The members voted to keep the same AARP officers for another year. A get-well card was sent to Moran Gibson, a patient in Lee County Hospital.

—Carl Baumgardner visited his sister and brother-in-law, Fern and Elva Mullins, Big Stone Gap, Thursday.

—Bennie and Marvin Russell and son Michael of Augusta, Ga., returned home Sunday after spending a week with Bennie's mother, Jerushia Burchett. They visited relatives and friends in Lee County. All the family got together Thursday night for a barbecue at the home of Linda and Lynn Fee's and Chris. Those enjoying the feast at Linda's were Mrs. Burchett, Bennie, Marvin, and Michael, Georgia and Don Roy, children Jeffrey, Karen and Sheryle (twins) and Buddy Burchett.

—Buddy and Jerushia Burchett motored to Corbin, Ky., Sunday for a visit with Buddy's children, Garry, Larry, and Linda Burchett.

—Mrs. Betty E. King and Gaynelle Baumgardner went to Richmond, Va., Thursday and attended an NRTA-AARP Virginia Joint State Legislative Committee meeting that was held on Friday. Mrs. Baumgardner is a member of the Committee and Mrs. King is president of the Lee County AARP Chapter. All ten area members and chairman and secretary were present making a 100% attendance. Notice Of Intention To Abandon A Section Of Public Road

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to Section 33.1 159 of the Code of Virginia of 1950, as amended, a petition has been filed with the Lee County Board of Supervisors (hereinafter referred to as Board) requesting that the Board enter an order on its minutes abandoning as a public road that section of road located in the Marcum Development Subdivision in the Rose Hill Magisterial District of Lee County, Virginia, near Ewing, Virginia, and fronted by Lots 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 of aforesaid Subdivision. It is the intention of the Lee County Board of Supervisors to enter an order on its minutes on Wednesday, October 7, 1981, abandoning the aforesaid section of road as a public road, provided that after a public hearing to convene in the Lee County Courthouse at 10:00 a.m. on Wednesday, October 7, 1981, the Lee County Board of Supervisors is satisfied that no public necessity exists for the continuance of aforesaid section of road as a public road.

The aforesaid October 7 hearing shall be open to the public, and at said public hearing all interested citizens of Lee County shall have an opportunity to be heard concerning whether or not the Lee County Board of Supervisors should enter an order on its minutes abandoning the aforesaid section of road in Marcum Development Subdivision as a public road.

By Order Of
The Lee County
Board Of Supervisors

NOTICE OF BIDDERS

Town Of Jonesville, Owner

Separate sealed bids for installation of water lines, a reservoir and alteration of a spring treatment plant will be received by the Town of Jonesville at City Hall, Jonesville, Virginia, until 1:00 p.m., EDST, September 8, 1981, and then at said office publicly opened and read aloud.

The work will consist of the following items:

Contract A - 900 feet of 10" pipe, 6,000 feet of 8" pipe, 7,000 feet of 6" pipe, ductile iron fittings, valves, road crossings, spring plant alteration, tank foundation and related items.

Contract B - Furnish and erect one 300,000 gallon steel reservoir.

The Information for Bidders, Form of Bid, Form of Contract, Plans, Specifications and Form of Bid Bond, Performance Bond, and other contract documents may be examined by the following:

1. At City Hall, Jonesville, Virginia.
2. Flynt Engineering Company, 2125 University Ave., Knoxville, Tenn. 37921.
3. F.W. Dodge Corporation, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Copies may be obtained at the office of FLYNT ENGINEERING COMPANY located at 2125 University Avenue, Knoxville, Tennessee 37921, upon payment of $50.00 per set.

Any bona fide bidder submitting a bid, upon returning such Contract Documents not filed with his bid within fifteen (15) days after opening of bids, and provided the Contract Documents are in good condition, will be refunded the full amount of the deposit for one set of Contract Documents. However, if any bona fide bidder obtains more than one set of Contract Documents, he may return the extra set of sets of the Contract Documents and will be refunded one-half of the amount of his deposit for each such extra set of Contract Documents, provided each set is returned in good condition and within (15) days after date of bid opening. Others not submitting a bona fide bid who have obtained contract documents will be refunded one-half of their deposits upon return of the Contract Documents as stated above. The deposit of the successful bidder will not be returned.

Subcontractors, material suppliers, and other interested parties may obtain portions of the Contract Documents at actual reproduction cost and no refund will be allowed for these portions of the Contract Documents.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a deposit and not less than ten (10) percent of the amount of the gross sum named in the Bid. The deposit shall consist of a certified check, cashiers check, or bid bond payable to the Owner. Within ten (10) days after the formal opening of bids, checks or bid bonds will be returned except those deposited by the three lowest formal bidders, which with the exception of the bid security of the successful bidder, will be returned within three (3) days after the execution of the contract between the successful bidder and the Owner. The bid security of the successful bidder will be returned to him without interest when the Contract has been approved and executed.

All bidders must be licensed contractors as required by the Commonwealth of Virginia. The contractors license number and the date of license, shall appear on the envelope containing the bid, otherwise, the bid will not be opened.

Any contract or contracts awarded under this Invitation for Bids are expected to be funded by the Farmers Home Administration. Neither the United States nor any of its departments, agencies, or employees is or will be a party to this invitation for bids or any resulting contract.

Bidders must comply with the President's Executive Order Nos. 11246 and 11375, which prohibit discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex, or national origin.

Bidders must comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964, Davis-Bacon Act, and the Anti-Kickback Act.

Bidders must certify that they do not, and will not, maintain or provide for their employees any facilities that are segregated on a basis of race, color, creed or national origin.

Any bidder must give notice in writing of his claim of right to withdraw his bid within two (2) business days after the conclusion of the Bid Opening Procedure. If a Bid is withdrawn, the next higher bidder shall be deemed to be the Low Bidder, unless the next higher bidder is the same as the withdrawing bidder. No bid may be withdrawn unless said withdrawal is permitted by law.

The Town of Jonesville reserves the right to waive any informalities in or to reject any or all bids and to accept the bid deemed most favorable to the interest of the Town.

Sunday School Lesson

CHOICE AND ITS CONSEQUENCES
Deuteronomy 30: 11-20

Moses was one of the greatest leaders in the history of the world. Regarding life as an entrustment, this stalwart giant, man of vision, and person of creative ingenuity, made an indelible impression upon the people of his day, and transmitted multitudinous blessings to generations unborn. His personality looms larger as the centuries move away from him.

At the age of 120, and approaching the end of his long and useful career, Moses made his last appeal to the Israelites with reference to their conduct upon their entrance into the Promised Land. Moses set before them certain alternatives: life and death, good and evil, blessing and cursing. Be challenged all to choose life. He told them that if they would conform to God's will for their lives that blessings untold would follow in the wake of their obedience. He also told them that if they chose to ignore God and His will for them that consequences unspeakably grievous would follow, Moses admonished the people to put God's will first in their lives, to live close to Him, to obey His commandments, to follow His leadership, and to refuse to worship any other god. He reminded them that life is invested with dignity and solemnity, and that man is king and woman is queen in the realm of choice.

One certainly admires Moses for his faithfulness to the people, in showing them the way of disobedience, as well as the definite and inevitable consequences of walking in each of those ways. For them he painted a beautiful picture of the blessings that God would bestow upon all of those who would be faithful in their obedience to Him. Then by way of contrast, Moses also protrayed the inevitable results of turning away from God and disobeying His commandments. The pathway of obedience to God is always the safest and best one that anybody can pursue.

Last words of men and women are often the most revealing, impressive and memorable of their utterances. This was true of Moses as his majestic farewell address which is recorded in Deuteronomy reveals. We recall that, after preaching in various parts of the world and presenting the gospel of Christ to myriads of people, Dwight L. Moody in his last days was unable to lie down because of a heart ailment. He was propped upon his pillow and waiting for the summons. Presently it came, and he said to his loved ones at his bedside: "Earth is receding, heaven is opening, God is calling me, and I must go."

In view of the challenge of Moses: "Choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live," surely none of us should have any difficulty in deciding whether Christ or Satan shall be the master of his life, and whether heaven or hell shall be his abiding-place throughout eternity.

Farmers Encouraged To Sow Winter Cover Crops

Roy J. Myers, Chairman of the Lee County ASC Committee, reminds farmers that they may sign-up to receive cost-share assistance to sow winter cover crops through August 31. "The County Committee cost-shares 50 percent of the cost of the seed," said Myers. "Farmers may sow either rye, barley, oats, wheat, or small grain mixtures at the rate of at least two bushels per acre," he added.

Pasturing consistent with good management is permitted, but none of the growth may be harvested for hay or seed.

This is an excellent conservation practice to perform behind tobacco and corn crops," noted the county committeeman. "Many of our Lee County farmers routinely sow cover crops and I encourage them to apply for cost share assistance. The practice will be inelgibile to be cost-shared if the farmer performs it before his application is approved by the County Committee," Myers added.

Reactions Divided About Special Referendum

Predictably, the reactions of Lee County officials fell along party lines to the special referendum held last Tuesday where the Traditional Form of government was chosen over the present Board Form by a 54 to 46 ratio with only 42% of the eligible voters casting their ballot.

Attorney Tom Rasnic, who filed the original petition to have an election to change the form of government, made the following comments about the special election:

"I'm pleased that the people that did come out to vote chose the traditional form because our county is not financially large enough or complicated where we need a $200,000 County Administrator Office. I believe our elected constitutional officers should be competent to handle their own office expenses. I also believe that the difficulties we've had with our school system indicates that the traditional form is the best system because we won't have the School Board constantly fighting the Board of Supervisors, since the School Board will be appointed by an impartial committee. (Circuit Court Judge) Sam Coleman will appoint men of intelligence, integrity, and character - regardless of political affiliation."

Ronnie Montgomery, Chairman of the Republican Party of Lee County, made the following statement about the election:

"I firmly believe that the government closest to the people is the best government. When you take

Rose Hill Man Killed In Auto Accident

Jesse Elmer Long, 44, of Rose Hill, was killed instantly around 3 a.m. Sunday when his pickup truck overturned on U.S. 58 about 3½ miles west of Rose Hill.

According to a Virginia State Police Spokesman, Long was killed when his truck ran off the left side of the highway, ran up an embankment, and then rolled back onto the highway where the truck flipped over.

He was a lifelong resident of Lee County and worked as a building contractor.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Polly Ann Long, of Rose Hill; two brothers, the Rev. Jim Long, of Rose Hill and Bruce Long, of Scottsboro, Ala.; three half sisters, Mrs. Edna Pauley, Mrs.

Suit Filed Against Lee County Department Of Social Services

A discrimination suit has been filed in the Federal District Court for the Western Division by Sandra Janeway of Jonesville.

In the suit naming both the Social Services Department and the Merit System Administration, Janeway charges political or personal discrimination has been used to prevent her name from appearing on the eligibility list used by the Social Services Department in determining prospective employees.

This list is published by the Merit System Administration which administers various tests to applicants seeking employment by the Social Services Department, Health Department, and Highway Department. Janeway took the tests covering clerk and clerk typist skills in mid February of this year. Since then five lists have been published and Janeway's name has not appeared on any one of the lists.

An applicant's name must be on the list before the Social Services Department can hire the person. While the Department is not required to hire the first person named on the list, the Department can

Sheriff's Report

Tex Rivers, 20, of Dryden was arrested and charged last Thursday with the alledged July 22 burglary of the State Highway Garage in Pennington Gap. Approximately $900 worth of equipment was taken, but recovered the next morning. According to the arresting officer, Inspector M. O. Radcliff, bond has been set at $5000 property or $2500 cash in the Rivers case.

Slemp Foundation Makes Donation To Lee County Community Hospital

Members of the Board of Directors of Lee County Community Hospital and Hospital Administration received a check from Campbell Edmonds, a Trustee of the Slemp Foundation. The check for $91,780 was presented to the hospital at a special meeting of the Board of Directors on August 24.

The money is designated to be used for needed equipment at the hospital. The Board expressed it's deep appreciation to the Slemp Foundation for the donation. The equipment to be purchased is primarily for use in surgery, central sterile supply, anesthesia, the Emergency Room and other critical areas.

Edmonds explained to the Board the origins of the Slemp Foundation and how it is dedicated to helping residents of Lee and Wise Counties. He explained that this year, in addition to the Foundation's donations to health care facilities, ninety-five students are provided grants of $1600 each to attend colleges.

Tobacco Festival Date Set

The Pennington C Of C Board Of Directors met on Tuesday, August 17 in the community room at the Farmers and Miners Bank. The tobacco festival will be held on Saturday, October 24. Bob Mullins and Jack Keith will serve as co-chairman of the festival this year.

Deputies Seize Marijuana

Deputies Clarence Wallen and Keith Marcum of the Lee County Sheriff's Department seized 165 marijuana plants, each about nine foot high, in the Elys Creek area last Monday afternoon. They were assisted by A.B.C. agents Emmitt Salley and W.C. Burke.

According to Marcum, the marijuana was located in a wooded area, far from the main road. (A 4-wheel drive vehicle was used to collect the plants.) Marcum also stated that the estimated value of the plants was five to $10,000 and the material would be shredded and burned or buried.

Sheriff R.V. Chadwell stated, "We've had the information on this for some time, but we waited in an effort to catch them in the act of harvesting their crop." The crime is still under official investigation as of press time.

No Age Limit In 5-Mile Run

Young and old alike are eligible to compete in the first annual "Run For Your Life" 5-Mile Road Run scheduled for September 5. The event is sponsored by Detachment I of the 1031st Engineer Company, Virginia National Guard, who will present trophies to the top three finishers in the Men's and Women's Categories.

The starting gun will sound at 9 a.m. at the Elk Knob School and runners will follow a five mile course which parallels the Powell River and ends on the Fairgrounds at Leeman Field. Participants are urged to contact the Detachment at Kentucky

Cumberland Bowl Park Awarded $50,000 Grant

The Highway and Transportation Commission granted $50,000 for adequate access to Cumberland Bowl Park in Jonesville. The proposed access road will consist of the reconstruction of 0.5-of a-mile of an existing one-way loop off Secondary Route 649.

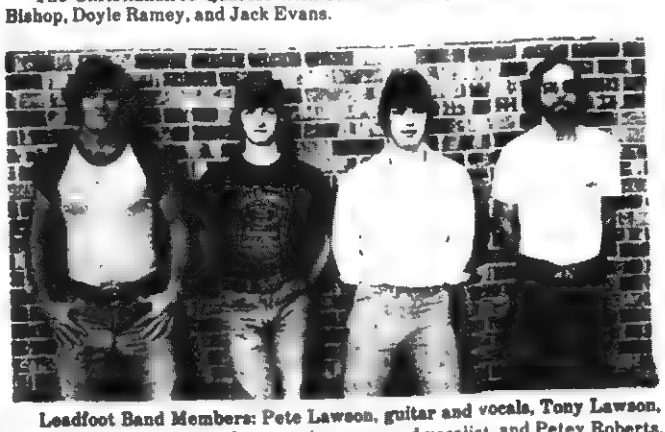
The park is owned and operated by the town of Jonesville and its facilities include picnic pavilions, a lighted softball field and other recreational facilities for use by the public.

The award was made contingent upon the necessary rights-of-way and adjustment of utilities being provided at no cost to the state.

Music Highlights Fair Schedule

With Wilma Lou and Leadfoot playing Country Music on Tuesday night and Gospel Singing with the Christianaires and the Carters on Wednesday night, the management of the Lee County Fair has rounded out a week of entertainment by scheduling Blue Grass music for Thursday night beginning at 7 p.m.

The Christianaires Quartet with James Hensley, Dwight Bishop, Larry Bishop, Doyle Ramey, and Jack Evans.



Leadfoot Band Members: Pete Lawson, guitar and vocals, Tony Lawson, guitar and vocals, Chuck Garrett, drummer and vocalist, and Petey Roberts, guitar and vocals, will appear Tuesday night with Wilma Lou at the Lee County Fair.

Featured entertainers on Thursday night will be the Home Folks, a band that effectively combines the old-time mountain sound with more recently developed blue grass music. Bobby Ray and the Okays are also scheduled to perform.

The Home Folks feature some of the best instrumentalists in the East Tennessee-Southwest Virginia area. Bill Keys on banjo consistently takes prizes at the Annual Old-Time Fiddlers Contest at Galax and in 1979 won first prize at the event. Paul Davis, on lead guitar, is known for his driving runs and solid backup work. Joe Good, Scott County's finest bluegrass fiddler, adds some wonderful backup fiddling. Tom Bledsoe, on rhythm guitar, does the vocals for the band. The Home Folks have recorded an album titled "Last Chance" on the June Apple Label. This versatile band can play old-time hoedowns, blue grass classics, and gospel music. According to Tom Bledsoe, "The band is looking forward to playing at the Lee County Fair and I think we have a program that many people will enjoy."

Monday, August 31, Is Senior Citizen's Day

Lee County . . . . . It's Yours And Mine

Next Monday will begin the Lee County Fair, a week of long hours and hard work for those who plan and carry out those plans, so we, the residents of Lee County can enjoy this annual event the week before Labor Day each year.

On the midway you forget yourself and become so involved with the music and calls from the game booths "step right up" like it's magic, that makes hours seem like minutes. Yes, the midway puts the finishing touch to the Lee County Fair.

The beauty contests are open to all ages, mother, enter your child, she's as pretty as the girl down the road that has already entered, if there aren't enough sponsors, sponsor your own child. There will be only one winner in each age group, but regardless you are shaping her future now, you can't wait until tomorrow or next week, she could be a winner, never rule out that possibility.

Remember, our own Lee County singers and bands, they need us to attend the fair and when they walk out on the stage be there, give them a big hand and they will sing and play their hearts out. Our Lee County singers are dedicated individuals we meet and work with daily, they are your neighbors or the neighbors of a friend. Support our Lee County talent and extend a big welcome to the groups that are our guests.

The exhibits of art, handwork, cooking, canning, flowers, along with vegetables, etc., will all be on display only if you take them to the fair to be displayed, if you don't the exhibit building will not be an attraction. We can't all win blue ribbons, but the satisfaction of sharing with others should be upper most in our thoughts.

Our Lee County artists are good, but not nationally known, seamstresses and others who do arts and crafts love their work, enjoy the many hours they spend to complete an item. They are Lee County people and Lee Countians, must support Lee Countians, if we don't . . . . who will?

Horse shows, pulling contests, something for us all, go, participate and become a part of the Lee County fair. The young and the not so young Lee Countians now has an opportunity to enjoy this annual event, why not give a little of your beauty, time or talent, just remember when you attend you are helping Lee County, it's yours and mine.

Wilma Lou will perform with the very popular local band called "Leadfoot". Despite their youth, these talented men have a solid background in entertaining through frequent appearances at local clubs. Chuck Garrett, former leader and keyboard player of the Midnight Raiders Band, is now the drummer and vocalist for Leadfoot. Petey Roberts, playing lead and bass guitar, also is a vocalist who has appeared with several local rock bands. Tony Lawson, guitarist and vocalist, began his career at the age of 12. Pete Lawson, also a guitarist and vocalist, began at the age of 16. This local rock and country band, along with Wilma Lou, invites everyone to come on Tuesday, September 1st, at 7 p.m. and enjoy the show.

This year's Fair is shaping up to be a true local event featuring Lee County's most talented individuals. In addition to Wilma Lou, Leadfoot, the Christianaires Quartet, the Carters, and Bobby Ray and the Okays, the annual Lee County Fair Beauty Contest will present the county's most beautiful residents. Also the recently expanded exhibition areas will house the county's best art, photography, floriculture, foods, canned goods, crafts, farm crops, needlework, and clothing construction.

Please don't be just a watcher at the fair participate! Get your copy of the Fair Catalog at the Lee County Extension Office in Jonesville, the Powell Valley News or Old Dominion Power Company Office in Pennington Gap. There is still time to choose your favorite category and enter your specialty for a blue ribbon prize. See you at the Fair!

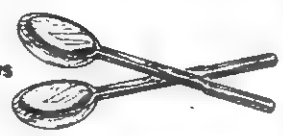
Powell Valley News



Cookin' Corner

Do you have difficulty making the pie crust you like? The lady who shared this one with us declares it never fails — let's try it — Maybe you would like to share a recipe with our readers, if so send to: Powell Valley News, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Virginia 24277.

Old Fashioned Apple Pie

¾ to 1 cup sugar
2 t. flour
½ to 1 tsp. cinnamon
1/8 tsp. ground nutmeg
¼ tsp. salt
6 to 7 cups sliced apples
Pastry 9" pie
2 tblsp. butter

Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt in bowl. Add apples,, mix lightly. Heap in pastry lined pie pan. Dot with butter. Adjust top crust and flute edges; cut vents.

Bake in 425° oven 50 to 60 minutes or until crust is browned and apples are tender. Cool on rack.

Never Fail Pie Crust

4 cups flour
1 ½ cups lard
1 tsp baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 tblsp. sugar
½ cup water
1 tblsp. vinegar
1 egg

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into bowl. Cut lard into flour mixture. Mix together water, vinegar and egg. Mix that with flour and lard mixture. This recipe can be rolled out two or three times to use scraps and will remain flaky. Makes 4 crusts. Can be frozen for later use

Prepare For 1981 Taxes Now

By Glen H. Mitchell
Extension Specialist,
Consumer Education
Virginia Tech's College of Home Economics

Many persons wait until April 15 to concern themselves with income taxes. It should be a year-round program and the hot days of summer are as good a time as any to consider how to reduce the income tax burden.

Congress has enacted major tax changes. Apparently, there are tax cuts in all brackets but particularly notice the changes for dual-earner households.

Here are some features to look at that may change the tax burden.

Some citizens find that they are giving Uncle Sam an interest-free loan by having too much money withheld. Approximately 65 million Americans got tax refunds last year. Information is available from employers and from the Internal Revenue Service on how to adjust withholding to match probably taxes

It may be possible for some individuals to invest in Treasury bills or certificates of deposit that come due in 1982 when the tax rate probably will be less than in 1981.

Setting up a Clifford Trust or 10-year trust is another possibility. Property, including stocks and bonds, can be placed in the name of a younger person who is in a lower income bracket.

Review investments. If any money has been lost in an investment, it may be better to take the loss in the current year while income taxes are higher, as its value as a deduction is more.

Some persons double their payments of certain interest, charitable gifts, and medical bills within one year and the next year take a standard deduction.

Check over the cost of credit cards. It may be higher than it was. Perhaps using fewer credit cards will reduce interest payments.

Dividends income and interest income exclusions are being jumped from $100 and $200 and up to $400 on a joint income tax return. This exclusion is scheduled to last only through 1982, but many report Congress likely will extend and strengthen it.

Energy prices are predicted to surge again in 1982. So taking advantage of the energy credit program will make a difference on taxes. Individuals can subtract 15 percent of the first $2,000 spent on insulation items directly from their income tax. This includes storm windows on houses built before April 20, 1977. A credit of 40 percent is available on the first $10,000 spent on solar, wind or geothermal equipment.

Consider recycling by giving used but good books to a local library.

Donate good but no longer used clothes to a favorite charity. Obtain receipts and claim this as a gift. Both the receiver and the donor can gain.

Talk with a lawyer, accountant or others about the many changes now being made in federal tax laws and the financial institutions of this country.

Virginia Tech Cooperative Extension agents in all localities have information on many of these topics, such as estate planning, which can change an individual's tax burden.

Animal Processing Yield Valuable By-Products

According to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), there's more to a steer than steak. Actually an average 1,000 pound market steer yields only about 440 pounds of beef. Most of what's left - around 40 percent of the animal's live weight - becomes by-products.

Although beef makes up around 5 percent of the total U.S diet, Americans really eat even more disguised in chewing gum, marshmallows, some margarines, and gelatin capsules. And many more items are manufactured from cattle by-products sporting equipment, bone china, cosmetics, and photographic film are just a few.

In reality of course, the carcass of a 1,000 pound market steer is divided into only four quarters - two front and two hind - which weigh about 600 pounds and include the fat and bones that will be trimmed at the retail counter But almost all of the remaining 400 pounds - the "fifth quarter" - becomes by-products which have a potential market value.

According to USDA, by-products make a significant contribution - just over 10 percent to the packer's profit margin. By products benefit both cattlemen and consumers by helping increase the value of fed cattle without further increasing retail beef prices.

In dollar value hides amount for about half of all byproduct sales Last year's average of $44.50 per 100 pounds of hide was about $27 per animal (a normal hide weighs around 60 pounds).

Tallows and greases are probably second to hides in terms of cash value for byproducts. And the slaughter process provides a lot an average 60 pound per animal - of both the edible and inedible varities.

On the list of cash values for byproducts, variety meats - sold directly from slaughterhouse to supermarket come in third. The most popular, liver, generally meets the biggest return in the market place But the list of variety meats is long hearts, stomachs, tripe, spleen, livers, kidneys, brains, tongues, and sweetbreads are a few.

Market Trends

The Tolliver clan invites you and yours to visit them on The Trail of the Lonesome Pine.

Only six more regular performances remain for the 1981 edition of The Trail of the Lonesome Pine outdoor drama.

The drama is presented each Thursday, Friday and Saturday night at 8:30 and will run through Labor Day Weekend. The play is presented at the June Tolliver Playhouse in Big Stone Gap.

Many drama patrons find the latter summer performances much more enjoyable because the mountain air is just a bit more temperate. A light jacket or sweater may even come in handy.

A dedicated crew of volunteers produces and presents the play each year and it has survived nearly two decades. Some of the children who once acted as extras in the "Homecoming" scene now carry lead parts. Many have grown up with the drama.

The outdoor drama in Big Stone Gap is unique to the area and blends mountain heritage and fantasy to make for a more enjoyable story punctuated with lively and sometimes lovely traditional and original mountain music.

Admission to the drama is only $4.00 for adults and $3.50 for senior citizens. Admission is $2.00 for children.

A trip to the outdoor drama would be a great way to close out the summer of 1981.

Veterans Administration

Q -- When I apply for Veterans Administration benefits, what must I bring with me?

A -- Recently discharged veterans must present carbon copy number four of their discharge certificate. This assures prompt processing of benefit applications.

Q -- My husband is a 100 percent disabled veteran, but his disability is not service connected. Are we entitled to armed forces commissary and exchange privileges?

A -- No. Only 100 percent service connected disabled veterans and their survivors are eligible for these privileges.

Q -- I've just been released from the service. Will the government help me get a job?

A -- Assistance is available in finding employment in private industry, in federal service and in local government. Contact your local or state employment service, the U.S. Office of Personnel Management or the nearest Veterans Administration office.

Q -- I was in Vietnam and believe I came in contact with Agent Orange. Will the Veteran Administration examine me for possible exposure?

A -- Yes. All Vietnam veterans can receive a physical examination at the nearest VA medical center.

Q -- I have lost my birth certificate. Can I still apply for Veterans Administration benefits?

A -- You can still apply. VA will accept a certified statement in instances where documents needed to establish eligibility for benefits are lost.

Learning About Electricity

OSM Schedules Public Hearing In Wise On Virginia's Revised State Regulatory Plan

The Interior Department's Office of Surface Mining is holding a public hearing next month on Virginia's revised State Plan to achieve primacy in the regulation of surface coal mining operations.

The hearing will be held on Thursday, September 3, 1981, in Wise, Virginia, at Clinch Valley College and will run from 5:30 p.m. and continuing until everyone at the session who wishes to comment has had an opportunity to be heard.

Virginia received partial approval last October 22 on its State Plan with revisions needed mainly on its sections dealing with a two acre exemption from the requirements of the State regulatory program, OSM Region I Director B. Boggs pointed out.

However, an injunction issued last December by Virginia Circuit Judge Glyn Phillips of Clintwood at the request of the Virginia coal operators has blocked the State from resubmitting its revised plan for the last eight months. Judge Phillips dissolved part of the injunction last month, enabling Virginia to resubmit.

Written comments on the adequacy of the Virginia State Plan also will be received until September 4, 1981. The comments, hearing record and the recommendation of the Regional Director will be forwarded to Secretary of Interior James Watt, who is expected to make the decision this fall.

If approved, Virginia will take over primacy in the regulation of the surface effects of coal mining with OSM assuming a monitoring role, Boggs said.

In addition, Virginia's Abandoned Mine Land Reclamation Program would be considered for approval.

The State would be able to start collecting more than $10 million in AML funds now being held in escrow, once its reclamation program gets the green light.

The Virginia Department of Conservation and Economic Development's Division of Mined Reclamation (DMLR) headed by Danny R. Brown, is in charge of the state's coal mining activities. Copies of the revised Virginia State Plan are available for public inspection at OSM's Lebanon and Richlands offices, and DMLR's offices in Big Stone Gap and Richmond; county libraries in the coal fields, as well as OSM's Region I headquarters in Charleston, WV. Written comments must be received by 4 p.m., on September 4, 1981, at the OSM Region I headquarters, 603 Morris Street, Charleston, WV, 25301.

Parsons Celebrate 57th Anniversary

Most, but not all, of those attending Parsons Reunion.

Parsons Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Parsons of Dryden held their annual family reunion August 2 at the Bullitt Park in Big Stone Gap. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons also celebrated their 57 Wedding Anniversary. Those in attendance were their 16 children, 48 grandchildren and 38 great grandchildren. Also attending were Rev. John Zion, his family, and other members from the Deep Springs Baptist Church.

Mrs. Gibson Presents Program To MMW

Mrs. James Gibson combined two programs "Growing Older" and "Inclusiveness" in her presentation to the United Methodist Women of Morgan Memorial Church on August 6.

The purpose of the program was to help us see life as a whole and to see that each age level has opportunities, problems and joys and that age can give increased understanding, increased appreciation of the simple things of life, and a sense of fulfillment.

The program on "Inclusiveness" was presented in the form of a skit which confronted United Methodist Women with their tendencies to be exclusive communities and to suggest how members can help their organization to become an inclusive community. Those who participated in this skit were Mrs. Robert Charles Smith, Mrs. John Seale, Mrs. Van Grabeel, Mrs. John Hounshell, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Emmett.

Appropriate scriptures for the program were read by Mrs. James Wright and Mrs. James Gibson. Hymns used during the service were "Give of Your Best to the Master" and "Help Somebody Today."

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Charles Emmett and the closing prayer by Mrs. John Hounshell, Jr., was given as members formed a circle to include everyone hand-in-hand

During the business session which was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Hounshell, Jr., members were reminded of the annual meeting of the United Methodist Women to be held in Knoxville, Tn., September 11 and 12.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

Wedding

Kathy Bush of Keokee and Will Short of Aurora, Ill., were married at 3:00 p.m., Saturday, August 15, at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church in Keokee, with Rev. James Rogers officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bush, Jr., of Keokee, and the bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Short of Aurora, Illinois.

—Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly H. Cox last week were their daughter, Margaret and her husband, Otto Gessner of Philadelphia, Pa. During the weekend they accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Cox on a fishing trip to Norris Lake, there they joined another daughter and son-in-law, Wayne and Rex Hounshell of Dayton, Ohio at their boat house at Larry's Boat Dock.

—Elder and Mrs. Roy Flanary, and Mildred D. Dinsmore attended church services at Blue Springs Primitive Baptist Church in Powell Valley recently.

—Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Barker and family of Richmond, have been visiting A.L.'s mother, Mrs. Elmer (Virginia) Barker and other relatives the past week

—Dink Shackelford was a visitor in Jonesville last Monday

—Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Violet Thompson Morris, 81, who died last Friday in the Life Care Center at Morristown, Tn.

She was a native of Keokee and spent her younger years here where she and her husband, the late Roy Morris reared their family of three sons and eight daughters.

She will be remembered by many friends in this area.

—Mr. and Mrs. Vilder Bush of Dayton, Ohio arrived at the home of Mrs. Bush's mother, Mrs. Echel Edens in Keokee on Thursday and spent the weekend.

Other visitors last Sunday were Mrs. Edens' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Echel Edens, Jr., of Bristol.

—Mrs. Earl C. Russell of Fall Branch, Tn., Mrs. Marion J. Clarkston of Dryden, Iva Clarkston and I went to Keavy, Ky., last Thursday to visit our sister, Monette Wells and also attended a birthday dinner given in honor of Monette Wells, her son, Rev. Larry A. Wells and Larry's daughter, Shelia, also uncle Bill Wells as all celebrated August birthdays.

Also present were Larry's wife, Ettis Wells and their son, Glen Wells of Montgomery, Ala., and Bill Wells' wife, Minnie Wells of Keavy, Ky., and Nona Roark of Keavy. Everyone enjoyed the family gathering.

—Irene Jones of Lafollette, Tn., spent a few days last week with Mrs. James (Louise) McDaniel. They attended the wedding of Kathy Bush and Will Short at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church in Keokee.

Louise and Irene also visited relatives in Kentucky one day last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward King arrived Friday from Loveland, Ohio to spend the weekend with Mrs. King's sister, Mrs. Lelia Barker. They attended the Primitive Baptist Association held at Clintwood during the weekend.

—Elder Roy Flanary and Vilder Bush attended the Baptist Association at Clintwood on Friday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gene Baker and son, David of Louisiana were overnight guests last Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Palmer. While in Keokee they also visited Mrs. Hassie Palmer and son, Jerry.

Ray Palmer is Gene's uncle.

The Baker family also visited in Big Stone Gap at the Southwest Museum one day which was quite interesting especially to Gene as his father, the late Ed Baker who was an electrician helped to install some of the first electric wiring there many years ago. He missed seeing the old school buildings where he attended school so long ago, as they had been torn down.

While on their vacation, Mr. and Mrs. Baker and David also went to Florida and spent several days, they came by the Smokey Mountains for a short while. They are visiting many places of interest before returning Louisana.

—Rev. and Mrs. Robert Short of Aurora, Ill., were in Keokee with their family and all attended the wedding of their son, Will Short and Kathy Bush at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church on Saturday, August 15.

—Mrs. Earl C. Russell and Opal Mays of Fall Branch, Tn., attended the outdoor drama "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," in Big Stone Gap recently.

—Visitors last week a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawerence E. Barker, Sr., were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawerence Barker, Jr., and children, Allan, Karen, and Brittany from Newport News, Va. The family enjoyed a happy time together and they have now returned home.

—Mrs. Lawerence Snodgrass, and son, Wayne Snodgrass, also Mrs. Ordie Morris and Mrs. Clarence Morris went to Morristown, Tn., on Saturday night to be with the family of Violet Thompson Morris at the Westside Chapel Funeral Home Chapel during their hour of bereavement.

—Louise and Keith Bybee of Memphis, Tn., arrived at the home of Iva Clarkston and I on Saturday afternoon and were dinner guests. We were pleased to have them visit with us at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bybee were Saturday overnight guests of Anna Cawood at Seminary and they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shook in Big Stone Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. Bybee were here during the weekend of August 16 and attended the 130th celebration on the anniversary of the Seminary United Methodist Church on Sunday, August 16.

—Iva Clarkston of Keokee and Carl Reese of Appalachia, were among those attending the 130th anniversary celebration at the Seminary United Methodist Church.

—Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Qusenberry returned home last Sunday after spending a few days in Indianapolis, Ind., visiting Mrs. Qusenberry's sisters, Edith Gibson and Inez Howard and their families.

Katharine Hepburn has been nominated for 11 Academy Awards, more than any other actor or actress.

Rose Hill Homemakers Club News

—On Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Homemakers met at the home of Willie Beatty. Marilyn S. Davis, president greeted members and visitors and devotions were given by Ocie McMellan. The pledge to the U.S. Flag and the Homemaker's Creed were led by Mrs. Davis. The secretary, Mollie Grabeel read the minutes of the past two meetings, since the last meeting was a picnic. These were approved and Dorothy Chance, treasurer gave the financial report; stating that our donations to the Heart and Cancer Funds had been sent in and payments made on additional christmas lights for our town's street.

Verna Grabeel, program leader introduced Betty Jean Moore who gave a very enlightening discussion on "Time and Energy Savers."

She brought some interesting and useful facts to our attention: Electricity is the most used heating fuel and very expensive; oil and coal also used in our area; wood, if it can be obtained and prepared on our own land is cheapest means of heating. She stressed keeping refrigerator coils clean by occasional vacuuming; checking door gaskets and keeping the freezer full to the point of using empty cardboard boxes to prevent warm air from entering while door is open. Use a candle, lighted, to search for drafts around windows and doors and draw shades and drapes to help keep out cold air. It is better to use one high wattage bulb than two or three small bulbs; better light and less expensive. It is wise to turn off the electricity to an "instant on" TV set because it uses electricity when connected whether turned on or off. Water heaters should be turned to lower heat and insulated to conserve energy.

The second load in a dryer uses less electricity than the first so it is wise to dry clothes as near together as possible on the same day rather than waiting several days.

Our president, Marilyn S. Davis, thanked Miss Moore and in response to many requests gave us the highlights of the trip to Alaska she and her husband, Willard Davis, took during July.

Mrs. Beatty and Dorothy Chance then served delicious refreshments assisted by granddaughters, Mary Edds and Rosanna Edds Copeland; to those mentioned above and Selma Shackleford, Mary Fugate, Pauline Harris, Florence Bayless, Viola Emmett, Maud Bales, Henrietta Smith and Alvona Seale.

Bridal Shower

A shower was given at the Ancel Rowlett home Saturday evening at 7 o'clock for Debra Riley, fiance of Bill Rowlett by Ginger Rummel, Esley Rowlett and Vivian Seale, assisted by Jewell C. Glass.

After introductions and advice given by the guests many beautiful and useful gifts were opened.

Refreshments were served to: Mollie Grabeel, Pearl Bales, Nini Hubble, Billie Hubble, Ruth Sulfridge, Dee Gulley, Billie Lou Smith, Gladys Campbell, Mary K. Stickley, Henrietta Smith, Josephine Rowlette, Verna Grabeel, Betty Riley, Tracy Sulfridge, Bashie Kincaid, Betty Rowlett, Ora Rowlett, Mae Davis, Reba Graham, Sharon Rowlette, Fern Thomas, Angela Harrell, Vivian Seale and Alvona Seale.

—Mrs. Pearl Bales, Annie Garrett and Lola Lee were in Kingsport, Saturday.

—Nannie Smith's brother, Paul Hornsby died last week and his funeral services were held at the Church of God on Thursday afternoon.

Those from out of town attending the services were: Thelma Hornsby from North Carolina, Wiley Hornsby of Ohio and Zela Jerrels from Maryland.

—We are sorry to hear of Mr Herbert Hoover Turner's death. Services are to be at the family church, Engles Chapel.

—Mrs. Esther Harber Painter of Knoxville, Tenn., visited with her brother, Carl Harber and wife Hazel and daughter Denise on Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harber and Denise visited his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bronson in Kingsport on Sunday. Mrs. Bronson will be remembered as Kathleen Harber of Rose Hill.

—Mary Stickley and Bashie Kincaid had Sunday dinner with Mary R. Fugate of Tazewell, Tenn.

—Last weekend Bashie Kincaid and Mary Stickley spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Humble in Blacksburg, Va. and Dr. and Mrs. Joe Smiddy in Wise.

—David Emmett and wife Dianne, assisted by children Chucky and Davey were hosts to a birthday dinner, honoring his aunt, Henrietta Cole of Middlesboro. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emmett, David's parents also enjoyed the festivities.

—Bertha Rowlette was visiting with Ruthie Rowlette in Morristown

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Campbell were in Middlesboro Wednesday.

—The Pioneer Homemakers Club of Ewing and Rose Hill with sponsor, Betty Jean Moore had a picnic at the Sugar Run picnic grounds in Colmar, Ky., with about twenty members enjoying the "outing."

—Dinner guests of the F.L. Grabeels of Rose Hill on Thursday were: Mrs. Reba Graham, Jonesville, Cathy and Chuck Graham, Orlando, Fla.; Don and Peggy Grabeel, Rose Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bailey and Heather, Bennett, N.C. Mr. Bailey is attending Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary at Wake Forest, N.C. working on his master of Divinity in Religious Education. He is presently minister of music, youth and education of Fall Creek Baptist Church in Bennett, N.C.

Young people from our area leaving to resume and begin college work at Clinch Valley College in Wise, Virginia are Richard Grabeel, I.W. Bacon, Bruce Gibson and Shannon Gibson.

—Henrietta Smith, Viola Emmette and Alvona A. Seale enjoyed the Seminary United Methodist Church Homecoming Sunday afternoon, August 16.

Prepared Childbirth Classes

A program of classes on prepared childbirth for expectant couples will be sponsored by Lonesome Pine Hospital beginning Thursday, September 3. The program will consist of a series of six weekly, two-hour classes beginning at 7:30 p.m. Vanessa Jessee, R.N. and Nita Witt, R.N., Obstetrics Nurses, will conduct the program. The classes will be held in the Conference Room on the first floor at Lonesome Pine Hospital in Big Stone Gap.

The program is designed to prepare the prospective parents for the labor and delivery process. Expectant parents will learn relaxation and breathing techniques for labor as well as information about pregnancy and preparation for care of the newborn baby. Both the mother and her husband or other coach are encouraged to participate and learn the techniques that can make labor and delivery a positive, understandable experience.

There will be a $3.00 charge to cover the cost of a book used in the class. Couples should pre-register by telephone by calling the Nursing Office, Lonesome Pine Hospital, telephone 523-3111, extension 225.

not hire anyone whose name has not appeared.

According to Graham Ludwig, Jr., Janeway's attorney, his client was informed in mid March that she had scored an average of 88.02 on three tests. A minimum score of 37.5 on each test is required.

According to the Director of Social Services, Lucy McNeil, the Merit System Administration is a separate organization from the Social Services Departments. When applying, a person must file an application at the Virginia Employment Office in Norton, take the tests also in Norton, and then the tests are forwarded to Richmond where they are graded and the lists compiled by the Merit Administration. The Social Services Department receives only a list of those who passed the tests, but no individual scores are reported. A duplicate of the application is forwarded to the Lee County office.

McNeil stated, "there is no personal feeling on my part I've never met her that I know of. My main concern is if they (applicants) are qualified to do the job. For myself, it is not personal nor political."

According to Ludwig, "If she is placed on the list, then the suit becomes moot. There are other points that could still be in controversy such as: reason why, conspiracy, damages, however, all she (Janeway) wants is to be considered along with the other applicants."

Ludwig also pointed out that the Federal Court has several different methods of operation than the State Court and the suit "will be pending for quite some time, unless it becomes moot."

appointee powers away from the Board of Supervisors and put them (appointments) in the hands of a circuit court judge, then they (the voters) have lost."

When asked what he believed caused the voters to adopt the Traditional Form of government, Montgomery responded:

"The accumulation of events, county stickers, reevaluation of property, etc., took away from the real issue. The people that voted Yes didn't know the affect it would have. With a fourteen million dollar budget, there should be a county manager."

Montgomery further pointed out the financial situation the Board of Supervisors faced when they took office in January 1980. Since then, Montgomery says, "Considering financial problems, making people pay their taxes, vehicle stickers, bond issue ... we've done quite well to put the county back on solid financial ground -- we've done quite well."

As of Tuesday after noon, the County Administrator's office reports that the cost of last week's special election has totaled $7,089.60. This figure includes an estimate for $1,000 for telephones and actual costs of: $4,895.60 for election officials (including transportation for the chief officer); $1,169.00 for setting up the voting machines; and a rental fee of $25.00 for one building. It is anticipated that this figure will increase as more bills arrive at the County Administrator's Office.

Wedding Date Set For Miss Rasnic - Mr. Tritt

Miss Tracey Rasnic and Mr. Euel Tritt will exchange vows in an open wedding on Saturday, September 5, 1981 at the Friendship Baptist Church, west of Jonesville on alternate highway 58. Formal invitations will not be sent for the seven-thirty o'clock ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Pennington High School class of 1981 and will attend Mountain Empire Community College this fall, majoring in education. She plans to transfer in April to be near her husband wherever he is stationed.

The groom is a graduate of Jonesville High School, has joined the Marines and will be leaving in early October to report for duty.

The first woman dentist in the United States was Lucy Hobbs Taylor, who opened her practice in Cincinnati in 1861. By 1900, nearly 1,000 women had followed her example.

Medicare For Those With Kidney Disease

People with permanent kidney failure who need maintenance dialysis treatment or a kidney transplant may be eligible for Medicare health insurance protection, R.L. Kelly, social security manager in Norton, said recently.

To be eligible for Medicare under this provision of the law, a person must have worked long enough in a job under social security or the railroad retirement system to be insured, or be the wife, husband, or dependent child of such a worker.

In general, Medicare protection starts on the first day of the third month after the person's course of maintenance dialysis treatments begin. It can be earlier if the person is training to self-dialyze or enters a hospital for a kidney transplant.

Once Medicare protection begins, it will last until 12 months after the month dialysis is no longer required or 36 months following the month of a kidney transplant. If a transplant fails during or after the 36 month period, Medicare can be reinstated.

Medicare has 2 parts--hospital insurance and medical insurance. Hospital insurance covers medically necessary inpatient hospital care and, under certain conditions, medically necessary post-hospital inpatient care in a skilled nursing facility and home health care. Medical insurance is voluntary, but most of the services and supplies needed by people with permanent kidney failure are covered only by medical insurance. There is a monthly premium for medical insurance, $11 for the period ending June 1982.

Medical insurance covers physician's services outpatient hospital services, outpatient physical therapy, outpatient dialysis treatments, durable medical equipment for use in the home, and other medical services and supplies.

More information about Medicare for people with permanent kidney failure can be obtained at the Norton Social Security office, located at 630 Park Avenue. The telephone number is 679-2404.

Want to interest your husband in refunding?

By Jane Fuller

A friend once told me that "husbands and refunding don't mix"

Baloney! I know many women whose husbands bring home refund forms and all kinds of box tops and labels Some of these men have built their wives shelves for their refunding materials or even remodeled entire rooms for them

If you are bothered by your husband's lack of interest in your refunding, here is my A-B-C approach that will soon have him participating with keen interest.

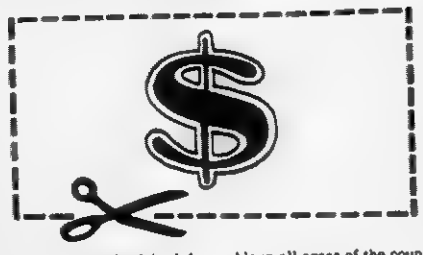
Step A Send for a gift offer that he can use Western hats, cameras and chef's aprons are just a few of the recent offers that may delight him Then again, they may not If so, go on to the next step

Step B Frankly, most offers are not male oriented — he might be embarrassed to wear an apron If your husband is difficult to please, this step should do the trick. It is called "bribery"

You must first identify the special something that he looks at longingly in the store window That fishing rod or those fancy hubcaps may put a dent in your refund savings, but the sacrifice will be worth it to get those shelves built

Step C Unfortunately, there are those situations in which simple bribery is not enough You may be fighting prejudices instilled in him as a child His mother may have told him only "dumbbells" send away for refund offers

Then you may have to make the supreme sacrifice



Bring out your bank book for the account in which you have been squirreling away all your refund savings. Hand it to him and force yourself to smile as you ask, "Well, dear, what should we do with all this money?"

After giving all of this some thought, you may decide that the price of cooperation is too high and select Step D In that case, you can go to the public library and take out a book on easy home projects — the one that shows how to build shelves with just cement blocks and a few boards, no hammer and nails necessary

Here is a refund form to write for First Aid Kit Offer, P.O Box 14813, Baltimore, Md 21268 Send for the form required by this $1 25 offer from Johnson and Johnson by Oct 1, 1981

Here is this week's list of refund offers Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below Remember, some offers are not available in all areas of the country

Today's refund offers are worth $12 25

NOTICE OF BIDDERS

Town Of Jonesville, Owner

Separate sealed bids for installation of water lines, a reservoir and alteration of a spring treatment plant will be received by the Town of Jonesville at City Hall, Jonesville, Virginia, until 1:00 p.m., EDST, September 3, 1981, and then at said office publicly opened and read aloud.

The work will consist of the following items:

Contract A - 900 feet of 10" pipe, 6,000 feet of 8" pipe, 7,000 feet of 6" pipe, ductile iron fittings, valves, road crossings, spring plant alteration, tank foundation and related items.

Contract B - Furnish and erect one 300,000 gallon steel reservoir.

The information for Bidders, Form of Bid, Form of Contract, Plans, Specifications and Form of Bid Bond, Performance Bond, and other contract documents may be examined by the following:

1. At City Hall, Jonesville, Virginia.
2. Flynt Engineering Company, 2125 University Ave., Knoxville, Tenn. 37921.
3. F.W. Dodge Corporation, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Copies may be obtained at the office of FLYNT ENGINEERING COMPANY located at 2125 University Avenue, Knoxville, Tennessee 37921, upon payment of $50.00 per set.

Any bona fide bidder submitting a bid, upon returning such Contract Documents not filed with his bid within fifteen (15) days after opening of bids, and provided the Contract Documents are in good condition, will be refunded the full amount of the deposit for one set of Contract Documents. However, if any bona fide bidder obtains more than one set of Contract Documents, he may return the extra set of sets of the Contract Documents and will be refunded one-half of the amount of his deposit for each such extra set of Contract Documents, provided each set is returned in good condition and within (15) days after date of bid opening. Others not submitting a bona fide bid who have obtained contract documents will be refunded one-half of their deposits upon return of the Contract Documents as stated above. The deposit of the successful bidder will not be returned

Subcontractors, material suppliers, and other interested parties may obtain portions of the Contract Documents at actual reproduction cost and no refund will be allowed for these portions of the Contract Documents

Each proposal must be accompanied by a deposit and not less than ten (10) percent of the amount of the gross sum named in the Bid The deposit shall consist of a certified check, cashiers check, or bid bond payable to the Owner Within ten (10) days after the formal opening of bids checks or bid bonds will be returned except those deposited by the three lowest formal bidders, which with the exception of the bid security of the successful bidder, will be returned within three (3) days after the execution of the contract between the successful bidder and the Owner The bid security of the successful bidder will be returned to him without interest when the Contract has been approved and executed

All bidders must be licensed contractors as required by the Commonwealth of Virginia. The contractors license number and the date of license, shall appear on the envelope containing the bid, otherwise, the bid will not be opened

Any contract or contracts awarded under this Invitation for Bids are expected to be funded by the Farmers Home Administration. Neither the United States nor any of its departments, agencies, or employees is or will be a party to this invitation for bids or any resulting contract.

Bidders must comply with the President's Executive Order Nos. 11246 and 11375, which prohibit discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex, or national origin.

Bidders must comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964, Davis-Bacon Act, and the Anti-Kickback Act.

Bidders must certify that they do not, and will not, maintain or provide for their employees any facilities that are segregated on a basis of race, color, creed or national origin.

Any bidder must give notice in writing of his claim of right to withdraw his bid within two (2) business days after the conclusion of the Bid Opening Procedure. If a Bid is withdrawn, the next higher bidder shall be deemed to be the Low Bidder, unless the next higher bidder is the same as the withdrawing bidder. No bid may be withdrawn unless said withdrawal is permitted by law.

The Town of Jonesville reserves the right to waive any informalities in or to reject any or all bids and to accept the bid deemed most favorable to the interest of the Town.

Football Season Kicks-Off Friday

Bobcats Rebuilding

When the Pennington Bobcats kick off their season on Friday night at Appalachia against the Bulldogs, they'll be sporting a new head coach and a new system of offensive plays.

Bucky Meade, an assistant for seven years at Pound High School, was a member of the 1972 Carson-Newman team which played in the NAIA Championship Game with Dale Sheely as Head Coach

Since taking the helm of the Bobcats, Coach Meade has spent the summer practice sessions developing and refining a new system of offense. He has spent a lot of time teaching the basic fundamentals. Bobcat fans and opponents will see many new faces on the squad, since losing 15 seniors from last year's squad. Coach Meade will be depending upon several key players and all the younger players who have given 110% in practice

Some of those key players are: Todd Kirk, Offensive Tackle and Defensive Linebacker; Gary Collier, Tailback and Free Safety; and Jeff Moore, Fullback and Defensive End.

After facing a champion ship caliber team at Appa lachia this Friday night, Coach Meade's Bobcats will be looking to gain more experience for the next season. This is definitely a rebuilding sea son for the Bobcats and Coach Meade's main goal is "to get Pennington's Foot ball Program back up to the status it once was."

Bulldogs Eager

The Jonesville Bulldogs will kick off their 1981 season at Haysi on Friday night. Head Coach Neil Johnson will also begin his fourth year of guiding the Bulldogs, after serving five years as an assistant at Princeton, W. Va., and playing college football in Athens, W. Va. for Concord College

The Bulldogs have spent their summer practice ses sions reshaping their of fense, as well as condition ing. With two experienced running backs and a versa tile quarterback, Coach Johnson has switched from a Slot I formation to the Wishbone formation. Those running backs are Seniors, Mike Crumley, Halfback and Defensive Back, and Bill Lambert, Fullback and Linebacker, with two more experienced Seniors playing Tackle Steve Kinder and Gregg Carroll. All four Seniors are Co-captains of the team.

Coach Johnson believes the Bulldogs can win the Cumberland District Championship if his seven returning starters on offense and defense can give Twin Springs a good game. "Coach James of the Titans will have an advantage because he's got more experience returning than Jonesville or Pennington," says Johnson.

After their opener against Haysi, the Bull dogs will play the Appa lachia Bulldogs at Jonesville on September 4. Besides being a real dog fight, it will be a fine opportunity for the Jonesville team to demonstrate their new offensive punch against a championship caliber team.

Buying Large Cuts Of Meat Saves Money

Shoppers fumbling through the stacks of meat looking for a more economical buy might find it by buying large cuts of meat.

A new U.S. Department of Agriculture fact sheet, "How to Save Money with Large Cuts of Meat," tells how to get the most for each meat-buying dollar

"The brochure explains why buying large cuts of meat is more economical than buying smaller quantities," Virginia Tech Extension food science specialists said.

The fact sheet lists several different cuts to choose from whole round tip, whole bottom round, whole top round, strip loin, ribeye roll and top sirloin butt. It also gives helpful hints on cutting, cooking, storing and preparing the meat.

"Cutting is much easier when the meat is so cold that ice crystals are begin ning to form," said the specialists. "Large cuts, such as chuck blade roasts, chuck steaks and round steak will save food dollars and don't need much storage space."

According to the fact sheet, tender meat main tains its quality better when cooked with dry heat roasted, broiled or fried.

Keokee School News

August 20 was a beautiful day for Keokee to start off the new school year. The students really enjoyed their first day back to school visiting with their friends and making new ones

The remaining faculty from last year and the students would like to welcome the new teachers: Cindy Stallard, Science; Jim Tabor, 5th grade; Carol Benson, Journalism and Special Education, Lynn Edwards, 3rd grade; and Janet Clouse, Music. We would also like to welcome the new students.

In the first assembly of the year, Mr. Matlock, our principal, informed us of the new policies for the coming year of 1981-82. He also brought to our attention the improvements made during the summer. A fence was placed around the ball field and the school; also, many of the rooms were painted. The school campus had been freshly mowed by Mr. Barker, our custodian.

We want to let the girls basketball team know that we are behind them all the way, and want to wish them good luck. They will play Dryden in the Jonesville classics at Jonesville. The Lady Mountaineers this year are Becky Adkins, Cathy Rutherford, Rena Phillips, Beverly Collins, Felicia White, and Lora Woodard.

Good luck to all the students and teachers for this forthcoming year. Just a little reminder: Wrong things are like weeds. They come up on their own. Right things you have to plant so be a good gardener this school year.

Mountain Empire Community College Begins Tenth Year Of Operation

Mountain Empire Community College, a member of the Virginia Community College System, is a two-year institution established to provide equal educational opportunities for residents of the city of Norton, and the counties of Lee, Wise, Scott, and the western portion of Dickenson. The state-supported college, which offers both university-parallel and occupational-technical education, begins its tenth consecutive year of operation this fall.

If one word is used to describe the mission of Mountain Empire Community College, that word is "service". Dr. Victor B. Ficker, President of MECC, states, "We are deeply committed to meeting the educational needs of our service area. We are student oriented and constantly seek input from current students as well as former students concerning their experience with the college. We want to share with the public what many of our students are saying about Mountain Empire Community College."

Ada Vandeventer, a resident of Lee County and a 1976 graduate of MECC, is one of the many students who has decided to continue her education at Clinch Valley College in Wise, Virginia. "Ive found that my study at MECC has prepared me very well for the upper division course work at Clinch Valley. I feel right at home at Clinch Valley College since many of the students are former classmates at MECC."

Another MECC graduate who recently graduated from CVC magna cum laude is Miss Devonna Dinsmore of Keokee, Virginia. She says, "My two years at Mountain Empire helped me grow and mature mentally. Had it not been for MECC, I could not have done so well."

Dr. Emmet Loe, Dean of the College at Clinch Valley College, has found that students transferring from MECC are "very well prepared". "We have an excellent relationship with Mountain Empire. Our transfer agreement with MECC has worked very well for all concerned. We are very interested in working with any MECC students wanting to further their educations."

Some students at Mountain Empire Community College choose to transfer to other senior institutions throughout the state. One such student is Pam Arwood, a resident of Gate City. After graduation from MECC, Pam is continuing her education at Radford University. Pam says of MECC, "Everyone was so helpful and very concerned about the students. My transition to Radford was much smoother as a result of my study at MECC."

Many of the students at Mountain Empire Community College participate in one of the many occupational technical programs that the college offers. Programs offered include mining technology, electrical/electronics engineering technology, drafting and design technology, climate control, secretarial science, business management, respiratory therapy, and nursing. These programs, with the exception of the health fields, are available day or evening, full-time or part-time.

Claude Cox, a section repairman for Paramount Mining Company, is a 1980 graduate of the mining program at MECC. Cox found that his lack of experience in the mining industry was a deterrent in finding employment. "I had always wanted to work in the mines because I cam from a mining family. My father and uncle have many years of mining experience. The mining program at MECC has given me the information I need to be a safe and productive miner. I could not have received this position at Paramount without the preparation I received at Mountain Empire Community College."

Virginia Iron Coal and Coke, Inc., in Coeburn, Virginia employs two Mountain Empire Community College graduates as draft persons. Both Mary Ellen Turner and Kathy Coomer have been employed by VIC since their graduation. They both chose to enter MECC because of its close proximity to their homes and the reasonable tuition rate ($10.75 per credit hour). Turner states, "I feel I was prepared very well to enter the labor market. I am very interested in drafting and feel that I can learn even more through my association with VIC."

A current student in the Climate Control technology program is Gerald Shuler, a resident of Jonesville, Virginia. Shuler, who attends the college on a part-time basis, is presently employed by the General Services Administration as a Maintenance Supervisor. "The climate control program at MECC is a good program with an excellent teacher. The potential in this area for people trained in air conditioning and refrigeration is just unbelievable. I would recommend the program to anyone."

One of the largest programs at Mountain Empire is the Business Management program. Barney Gilley, Jr., a native of Big Stone Gap, graduated from the program in June, 1980. He presently operates his own jewelry store in Pennington Gap, Virginia. "The program has helped me better understand how business operates in a dynamic environment. I am better able to operate the store since I have completed the program at the college. I plan to enroll in some more advanced advertising courses in the near future."

Bob McGuire, Administrator at Heritage Hall, is very impressed with the college's nursing program. "My wife is a recent graduate of the nursing program at the college and I occasionally will participate in continuing education courses to broaden my knowledge base. MECC is an excellent college."

On many occasions, students enroll in classes for their own personal satisfaction. Such is the case of Linda Ford, a resident of Big Stone Gap. Ford states, "I had not been involved in school for nearly seventeen years and felt very uneasy about taking classes with traditional 18 and 19 year old students. However, I must say that the student body at MECC alleviated those fears very quickly. I was made to feel very comfortable and have learned a great deal."

Fall Quarter at MECC begins September 28. In addition to the day and evening programs offered on the Mountain Empire campus, a variety of classes are being offered at off-campus locations throughout Scott, Lee, Wise and Dickenson counties. Various forms of financial aid are available to qualifying students. Students desiring financial aid for the coming quarter should make application immediately in order to receive benefits for fall quarter.

Tuition for a full time student at MECC is only $128.00 per quarter. Part time students pay only $10.75 per credit.

Mountain Empire Community College, fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, continues to strive to meet the needs of all the citizenry throughout its service area. Whether you plan to transfer to a senior institution, participate in an occupational-technical program, or simply take Continuing Education classes for your own personal interest, Mountain Empire wants to be your Community College.

The Director of Nursing at Heritage Hall Health Care, Inc., in Big Stone Gap is a graduate of MECC's nursing program. Ms. Otha Turnbough feels that Mountain Empire Community College is responsible for her success in life. At the age of 38, Turnbough talked with an employment counselor in the Southwest Virginia area. She was advised to enter the field of nursing and was referred to the Wise County Vocational Technical School. She soon became a licensed Practical Nurse but yearned for more. When MECC came to Southwest Virginia, she enrolled and completed her study in 1977. "I worked part-time at Lonesome Pine Hospital and went to college full time. MECC was a God-send for me. It has truly changed my whole life."

Title I Pre-School Workshop Held

On Friday, August 14, the Lee County Title I Program held its pre-school parent, teacher, and aide workshop. These sessions were conducted to discuss the 1981-82 Title I project.

Title I is a part of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, passed by Congress in 1965. It gives financial help to school systems for the development of educational programs for children who need extra assistance in reading and math. To receive the funds, Lee County must submit an application showing how it will spend the money and must agree to follow specific state and federal regulations.

All schools in Lee County are eligible for Title I services. Students are referred for special Title I classes in reading and/or math by their teachers or guidance counselors. Every student in Title I is tested in reading and math at the beginning of the school year and again at the end of the school year. This information provides the teachers with an accurate diagnosis of the students' needs. It also serves as the basis for the long range individualized plans which the Title I teachers and aides jointly prepare for each Title I child. The results of our testing programs in the past few years have shown great gains in both reading and math.

Winterization Program Brings ¼ Million To S.W. Va.

The Virginia Counties of Lee, Scott and Wise have acquired a total of over a quarter million dollars through the Virginia Winterization Program so far this fiscal year (since October, 1980). Of that figure nearly $150,000 has been used for the purchasing of materials that have been used on the 253 homes that have been worked on. The remaining $100,000 is used to run the program: including vehicles, tools, gas, maintenance, rent, salaries, office supplies, etc.

The program, run by Scott County Rural Areas Development Association, Wise County Housing Coalition, and Tri-County Housing (Lee Co.) is the fourth largest in Virginia. They have weatherized 1156 homes in the three counties in the past five years. The Virginia Association of Community Action Agencies (VACAA) runs the state program and has a total of thirty agencies participating in it. Funding originates from the U.S. Department of Energy and comes through the State Department of Welfare.

Elderly and handicapped are among those most helped by the program. All clients must be of low income, providing proof of income and home ownership.

Besides insulating attics and installing storm windows, steps are taken to stop any major leaks. This includes sealing doors with weatherstrip and sweeps, insulating still plates, filling holes and cracks with caulking, replacing broken glass, reglazing windows, and adding new doors or windows when needed. Attics are vented to prevent moisture problems and electric water heaters are wrapped with insulation. Minor repairs of roofs and ceilings to assure the insulation is kept dry and in place is also allowed.

Money to operate the winterization program after 1981 has been included in the block grants that will be provided to each state. However, it will be up to the state whether or not they want to put any money into the program.

At this time applications are being taken in any of the three counties. This is due to a backlog of over 300 applications already on file which would keep the program operating well into next year. Names, addresses and phone numbers are being taken and will be served in order when they are needed.

ASCS Reminds Foreigners To Report U.S. Farmland Interests

The Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978 requires all foreign owners of U.S. Agricultural land to report their holdings, acquisitions, dispositions, leases (over ten years) and land use changes to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Max Graham, Vice Chairman of the Lee County ASC Committee, reminds foreigners that land owned before February 2, 1979 should have been reported by August 1, 1979. "Persons who have acquired or disposed of farmland since that time are required to report these transactions within 90 days," he said. Those who fail to report or who are late in reporting face possible fines. At the end of 1980, USDA has assessed 1,950 penalties for late filings, amounting to about $350,000, according to Graham

Agricultural land is defined as any tract of more than one acre now in agricultural, forestry or timber production. "This includes land in agricultural use when purchased as well as land later converted to agricultural use," Graham said. He explained that interest means any right, title, or legal share of ownership in farmland, such as partnership, trusts, estates, or share in a corporation that owns farmland. A farm operator, real estate dealer, bank attorney, holding company or other institution can file an report on behalf of foreign clients.

Nationally foreign investors reported owning about 7.8 million acres or 0.6 percent of U.S. Agricultural land at the end of 1980 USDA officials say the total acreage of foreign owned agricultural land is too small to measure the impact on agriculture at the national level. The actual increase during 1980 was about 414,000 acres out of a total area of about 1 25 billion acres.

In Virginia, land holdings by foreign investors for the same period totaled 59,132 acres; land acquisitions, 47,457 acres; and land dispositions, 1,663 acres.

"Talley's Folly" Next At Barter

One of the most honored and successful plays of the last decade, Talley's Folly, opens on Wednesday, August 26 at the Barter Theatre in Abingdon for a three-week run.

After careful consideration, Talley's Folly was the production chosen by Barter's Producing Director Rex Partington to fill the "To be announced" slot in the 1981 season schedule.

Talley's Folly is the winner of the 1980 Pulitzer Prize and the 1980 New York Drama Critic's Circle Award as best play.

Talley's Folly will charm Barter audiences from August 26 through September 13 with eight performances weekly including three matinees Evening performances are Tuesday and Thursday at 8:00 p.m., Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday at 7:00 p.m., with matinees on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at 2 00 p.m.

Selective Service Registration Continues For 18 Year Olds

Young men who reach their eighteenth birthday are required by law to register with selective service at any U.S. Post Office

Registration is a simple process. Within 30 days of his birthday, a man fills out a registration form which asks only for name, address, phone number, social security number, and date of birth.

The purpose of registration is to have available on a computer the names of men born in 1960 and later years, who could be contacted quickly if there ever were a national emergency and Congress were to declare an induction.

Peacetime registration will save the United States at least four weeks time in mobilizing its manpower in an emergency. This is especially important with today's all volunteer force. There are only two million men in the armed services today, but we would need many more men quickly should an emergency arise for example, in World War II we had 10 to 16 million men bearing arms depending upon the stage of the conflict.

Registration and revitalization of the selective service do not signal a return to a draft. They are simply emergency preparedness measures. President Reagan is firmly committed to making the all volunteer force a success, supporting incentives to recruit and retain volunteers

To date, nearly six million men have registered. Failure to register is a felony, punishable by a maximum penalty of a $10,000 fine and/or five years in prison.

Client Assistance Project For The Visually Handicapped

The Client Assistance Project (CAP) for the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation (BVR) of the Virginia Department for the Visually Handicapped (VDVH) has been in operation for four months and is actively engaged in acting as an ombudsman/advocate for the blind population of Virginia. The main thrust of the Project is to inform visually handicapped individuals of the services available through vocational rehabilitation and to let them know their rights

The BVR serves some 3,000 blind and visually handicapped Virginians a year, although it is estimated that the legally blind population Statewide is 15,000. Services of the Bureau are geared to place clients in competitive employment. The complexities of policies and procedures relating to the operation of State vocational rehabilitation programs have had a tendency to place those the system is designed to serve in a position of not understanding the "red tape" of rights and obligations. The Client Assistance Project has, therefore, a threefold mission: (1) give the blind individual more information on services available through the BVR, (2) help the individual work through any problems that may be keeping him/her from getting the most out of the rehabilitation program, and (3) help the individual understand his/her legal rights to these services.

Vocational rehabilitation services are designed to return the disabled person to productive acitivity in the work force and it is essential that the services the individual receives from the BVR be the most appropriate available. It is, therefore, essential that the blind individual understand the purpose of his/her rehabilitation plan, as well as his/her rights regarding the services being provided.

The CAP serves the entire State of Virginia. The six district offices for the VDVH are located in Alexandria, Bristol, Norfolk, Richmond, Roanoke and Waynesboro. The Project Director for the Client Assistance Project, Samuel T. Wright, has his office at the Virginia Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Richmond. Clients, ex clients, prospective clients of the VDVH are urged to call Mr. Wright collect at (804) 264 3150 should they feel that they are in need of client assistance services.

The Library of Congress contains about 300 miles of shelf space and about 40 acres of floor space.

Cross Appointed Executive Director

Richard H. Cross, Jr., was appointed as Executive Director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries during a meeting of the ten member organization held at their Richmond, headquarters Cross, who had been serving as Acting Director since the resignation of James F. McInteer, Jr., in May 1981, is a career wildlife specialist and has served with the Game Commission for nearly 40 years. During that period he served for 21 years as Chief of the Commission's Game Division and for two years, immediately prior to assuming the duty as Acting Director, as James F McInteer's assistant

Cross' appointment as Executive Director became effective immediately.

Among other items of business addressed by the Commission during the meeting was a problem with raccoons in the Commonwealth and the agreement in principal to discuss a proposal by the Va. Wildlife Federation pertaining to back bay

Growing Child

Young children develop physically at an amazing rate Every moment helps teach strength and coordination

Growing Child, a monthly child development newsletter, reports that there are many things a parent can do to aid an infant's physical development

*Let the baby move Don't restrict him with tight clothing or tightly tucked in bed coverings Give him some time every day without any clothes at all possibly just before bathtime

*Let the baby stay on his stomach much of the time This position will encourage him, at about four months, to lift his head and chest and push up on elbows and straight arms

*Change baby's position Simply turning the crib or the child around will make him move his head to find the light source or the direction his food and care comes from

*Feed the baby on alternate sides hold him first on the right and then on the left

*Dance with your baby Dancing with an infant or young child is more than just fun It is comforting and reassuring to the child, and helps speed his motor development A smooth, rhythmic motion of a waltz or ballad helps an infant develop position sense and balance These are skills he will need to know before he can sit, stand, or walk Hold him gently but firmly and sway from side to side, back and forth, round and round Your movements will be stimulating the sense organs deep in his inner ear

*Rock him. As you rock in a rocking chair, the easy back and forth motion stimulates the balance and position sensors deep in the inner ears This will make learning to balance on his own two feet easier later on

You can get more information on this subject and on the physical and social development of children up to six years old by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P O Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902 Include child's birthdate when writing

Certification Results Noted

Final certificaton results in Lee County showed that approximately 2,000 corn acres planted for harvest this fall are eligible for program benefits.

"By being in compliance with provisions of the 1981 Wheat and Feed Grain Program, these program participants are eligible for disaster and deficiency payment," said Roy J. Myers, Lee County ASC Committee Chairperson.

Myers also reminds farmers of the ASCS loan program and the farmer-owned reserve program which are designed to strengthen grain prices.

"Price support loans enable farmers to obtain cash and hold their crops off the market to benefit from price increases that often come later in the season after harvest," Myers said.

The reserve program is designed to remove wheat from the market for three years, or until prices reach stated levels. It offers grain producers short and long term benefits to counter the price depressing effects of surplus stocks.

Myers also noted that approximately 425 Lee County farmers are certified and eligible for 1981 program benefits.

Sunday School Lesson

GOD IS FAITHFUL
Deuteronomy 32: 1-9

Knowing that the work of Moses was almost finished, and that ere long He would be calling him from the earthly scene, God called and commissioned His servant to write a song of farewell, the influence of which would live long after his decease.

Believing that what he was about to record, under divine inspiration, would be of sufficient importance to command the attention and the interest of thoughtful people everywhere, Moses invited those in the heavens and on the earth to listen carefully to the words that he was about to write. As soon as he finished his final song and blessed Israel, Moses answered God's call to ascend Mount Nebo, and there he died.

Describing the words of his song falling upon the ears of his listeners as the gentle rains and dew falling upon the earth, Moses was hopeful that the people would have open minds and hearts to receive what he was about to say to them. Fully committed to the doing of God's will to the last days of his life, Moses was delighted to convey to the people as many of the great truths about God and His expressed will as he could, firmly believing that any truth they might hear about Him was worthy of their careful consideration.

Moses began by announcing his purpose was to proclaim God's name and to praise Him for His greatness. Through his giving priority to the praise of God, Moses sought to center the minds of the Israelites on the greatness and the goodness of God. Because God had dealt so wonderfully with them in so many ways, they were obligated to express their gratitude to Him for His mercies through their praises of His matchless name. We, Christians, owe our loving and gracious God more praises than we have ever given Him.

In his ascription of praise unto God for His greatness, Moses spoke of Him as "the Rock," meaning that He is stable and unchangeable. God is strong and secure enough to take care of His own, regardless of the trials which may beset them. Throughout history the evidences of God's faithfulness to His children have been numerous, and as varied as their needs. His faithfulness to them constitutes a clarion call for faithfulness to Him on the part of His children.

Time and again the Israelites had rebelled against God and walked in the pathway of disobedience to Him, but God neither deserted nor destroyed them. When they lived in accordance with the will of God they were blessed greatly, but when they indulged in and practiced impurity, ingratitude and idolatry they deprived themselves of many blessings and brought punishment upon themselves. Strict and faithful obedience to God's teachings is a mark of wisdom in the life of any child of God. Let us live in such a manner as to demonstrate faithfulness to our Lord and righteousness in our dealings and relationships with others.

FOCUS ON HEALTH

A new vaccine is on the way for the tongue twisting lung disease coccidioidomycosis. The name of this disease, which generally affects the lungs, is often shortened to cocci. According to the American Lung Association a permit to test the new vaccine has been granted by the Food and Drug Administration. Approximately 3,000 unpaid volunteers will be innoculated and the test will take about three years. Hope looms over the Southwest horizon. Southwest, because the disease is endemic in parts of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Cocci is a fungus disease - caused by a tiny form of plant life, somewhat like yeast or mildew. The tiny seeds, called spores, are found in dust and are inhaled into the lungs and inflammation results. Little patches of pneumonia can develop around the spores. At such a stage, flu like symptoms can develop. Cocci can also spread throughout the body, and death can result.

The vaccine's developer, Hillel Benjamin Levine, Ph.D., a research bacteriologist in the Naval Biosciences Laboratory at Oakland, CA, says the vaccine is the first to have potential against a fungus affecting humans.

Dr. Levine, with others, has been working on the vaccine for 25 years. He first tried it on mice and monkeys, then himself, then other volunteers. Researchers predict that in three years we may have an answer to this dust borne lung disease, a particular bane to tourists who become ill after a visit to the Southwest and their doctors back home have no clues as to cause.

Veterans Administration

Q -- I'm planning to buy a home under the Veterans Administration's GI home loan guaranty program. Will the VA guarantee that the home I buy is free of any defects?

A -- No. VA cannot guarantee a home to be defect-free, nor can the agency compel a builder to remedy construction defects or otherwise force a builder to fulfill a contract.

Q -- I am a veteran with a service connected disability recently re-rated for the same injury because of a change in my condition. Am I again eligible to apply for service-disabled RH insurance?

A -- No. However, if during the re-rating, a new condition was rated as service connected, you would have one year to apply for RH insurance based on that new rating.

Letter To The Editor —

Letter to the editor

August 14, 1981
Dear Sir:

As a resident of Lee County and a parent of two children, one who attends Jonesville Elementary School, I am concerned with the physical conditions of the Jonesville and Pennington Elementary Schools and with the curriculum offered in all the county schools especially the high schools. The apathy displayed by the citizens of the county about the school system is of greater concern. Unless a music program or a sports program is involved citizens take a hands off attitude exclaiming that nothing can be done.

Being one of the largest employers in the county affords the School board a significant amount of power over the people of the county. Almost every family has a member or members employed by the school system. Consequently, too many people are too reluctant to voice any dissatisfaction with the system for fear of reprisal. Unfortunately, their fears are probably justified.

Our children are being deprived of curriculum offerings they desperately need to prepare them adequately for the future. Perhaps the education they are now receiving is adequate for Lee County; but, how many of these children will be staying in Lee County to live and work? Even conditions in Lee County are changing and more changes will have to occur for survival in the future. It just isn't true that rural schools have to be limited in their curriculum offerings and plant conditions. They are usually limited by choice, lack of leadership, apathy, and lack of awareness.

The physical plants at Jonesville and Pennington Elementary are a disgrace to the county. Principals do a good job with what they are given with which to work but a magic wand isn't included in their supplies. Surely, parents and citizens cannot be proud of these school buildings! The conditions existing are depressing and degrading for both teachers and students. It is most difficult to be a conscientious teacher or student receptive to learning when they are constantly faced with a barrage of adverse conditions such as plaster falling from the ceilings, severly limited lunchtime, moving two or three times a day from building to building in inclimate weather, fear the roof might cave in to mention only a few.

The Board of Supervisors and the School Board of Lee County are elected and appointed to represent and serve the people of the county. It is a tremendous waste of potential creative and productive energy for the two boards to expend their energies blaming each other for lack of accomplishments instead of channeling that energy into the betterment of the county.

The two boards hold their meetings during regular working hours even though they have received requests after request from individuals as well as groups for their meetings to be held at night. They give reason after reason and excuse after excuse for holding their meetings during the day. If night meetings were held more interested people would attend and the wishes of citizens would not be as easily ignored.

Unless the people of the county become more involved and less apathetic, conditions will remain the same. As a county, we lose many potentially outstanding citizens due to our school system. People from other regions think Jonesville Elementary is an old condemned building. "You mean that's where your child goes to school!" they exclaim in disbelief.

Surely there are a few brave individuals willing to call representatives, attend board meetings, and voice opinions. It certainly was easy when they were outraged about the question of taxes. Are not lives as important! Parents and interested citizens involvement are vital before our school situation improves. It's your child's, grandchild's, niece's, or nephew's future that is being determined. It is your help that is needed!

Hospital Receives Drapes

Friday was a happy occasion for the employees of Lee County Community Hospital. The members of the Lee Hospital Auxiliary held a bake sale with lots of goodies. During this time Mrs. Pat Maggard, President of the Auxiliary, presented drapes to Mrs. Ely for the rooms on Desk 2 and 5. This will greatly improve the look of the hospital and the members were very happy to do this service. Other members taking part were Ernestine Rasnic, Sandy Montgomery, Lucile Orr, Alma Myers, Hazel Cress, Margaret Shanks, Dimples Hartley, Jean Skidmore, Bee Carroll. Many thanks to all of the Auxiliary members for their help and to the Hospital employees for their support.

MECC Offers New Miner Technology

A new miner training program is being offered by Mountain Empire Community College for anyone now employed or planning to be employed in underground mines, surface mines, or rock quarries who has not previously received the mandatory training.

This training will be offered beginning August 31, 1981 through September 3, 1981, at Mountain Empire Community College in Room #B114A at 8:00 a.m.

Upon completion, each student will receive a certificate of training that is required for new miners and approved by M.S.H.A.

For more information regarding this class, call the mining department at MECC, phone 523-2400, ext. 210 or 211.

Fair Week 1981 Almost History

The annual Lee County Fair got underway at six o'clock Monday evening with numerous rides along the midway, the beauty contest at the stadium, and many other events.

Several awards were presented as tokens of appreciation to those individuals who have given their time and energy during previous fairs.

The Beauty Contest, with nearly 200 Lee County girls entered, in the four age categories, began at six o'clock with the following results:

The little Princess beauty contest got underway with a large number of little beauties. Amanda Jane Huff of Woodway was declared the winner, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Huff, and sponsored by Gilbert's Welding Supply. First runnerup was sponsored by Pennington Auto Sales and daughter of Wayne and Alice Hounshell, Caroline Hounshell, of Dryden; second runnerup was Misty Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Eberle of Dryden and sponsored by Norton Floral Co.

The second beauty contest, the princess, age group five through eight with Deane Denise Shuler chose the winner, the daughter of Teresa Shuler of St. Charles and sponsored by Ewing Farm Supply; the first runnerup Jennifer Yeary was sponsored by West Town Supermarket

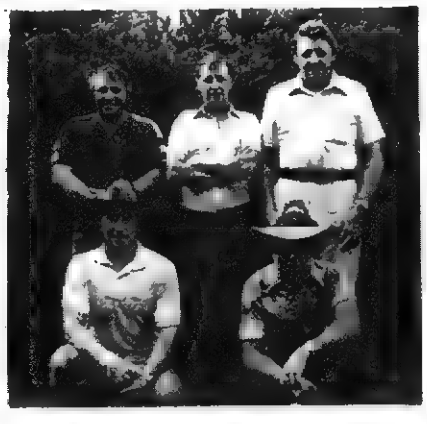
Handmade Crafts At The Lee County Fair

A booth of handmade crafts by members of the Handicaps Unlimited includes stuffed toys, crochet and macrame items, pot holders, single flower vases, an antique quilt (donated), and many other items.

The items are for sale. The proceeds will go toward funding the Handicaps Unlimited organization which includes "The Junction" near Duffield.

Thursday Night At The Lee County Fair



Bobby Ray and the Okays

In July of this year, Bobby Ray formed his band by picking the "best from the rest" from the local bands. Singing lead vocal and playing rhythm guitar, Bobby Ray is backed by C.W. Wardell on lead guitar, Rick Cox on drums, Jim Clark on bass guitar, Mike Welch on lead and rhythm guitar and the group is managed by Bill Campbell. After a six-year absence, Bobby Ray has returned to Lee County with an entertaining program of the best country songs from the past twenty years as well as today's top ten. Don't miss this popular group at the Lee County Fair on Thursday night when the program begins at 7:00 p.m.

C Of C Meeting

The Pennington Gap Chamber of Commerce will meet on Tuesday, September 9 at Loretta's Cafe beginning six o'clock.

Further plans for the Lee County Tobacco Festival scheduled for Saturday, October 24 will be discussed. Committees have been appointed for the parade. Bob Mullins and Jack Keith are co-chairmen.

On Friday, October 23 the beauty contest will be held at Pennington High School, call Mrs. Cuma Hays 546-1679 for more information. The Woman's Club will work with the Chamber of Commerce concerning floats for the parade. More details will be announced as plans are made, in the meantime if you desire any information contact Cuma or Leonard Hays or president of the Chamber of Commerce, Dillard Graham.

929 Lee Countians Affected By Budget Cuts

As of July 1981, the Lee County Department of Social Services has $55,724 less in the budget than last year a 22% reduction. This monetary reduction is a result of the federal government cutting the budget of Title XX, a Social Services Act begun in 1975 which funds the Department's direct services and services purchased by the Department.

According to Ms. Lucy McNeil, Director of the Social Services Department, the affect of this cut will be less services for fewer Lee Countians. McNeil said, "As it stands now, we will be providing services for an estimated 929 fewer people in Lee County in all areas of services. A reduction from 4,084 to 3,155 individuals in a year."

McNeil also pointed out that, "there could be further reductions in October." The period from now until October is "Open to Public Comment". Lee Countians are encouraged to attend public meetings, write their state legislators, or visit the Social Services Department and express their views on the cutback of services.

"The cutbacks" said McNeil, "are as severe as people have been led to believe and eligibility requirements are not more severe than people believe. State agencies, if they get block grants, will possibly be taking over some services."

McNeil also said, "I think it is important for people to understand this. We can't be all things to all people all the time. Some of our services are limited by these cuts in funds. The same thing has happened with some school systems."

Some of those programs and services that have been cut are: Drug and Alcohol Abuse counseling programs, a cut in the activities fund of the Day Activity Center, located in Dryden, for the physically and mentally handicapped, and the extension in Big Stone Gap which operates a greenhouse.

A $3,000 Smile

Ned Hartsock is welcomed to Pennington High School by Omer Elkins, Principal. Ned, with the help of his new electric wheelchair, can now maneuver his way about his new high school and take his place alongside other students. The $3,000 necessary to purchase the electric wheelchair was raised by numerous cake walks at St. Charles, Dryden and Pennington schools as well as the generosity of area friends and businesses. Ned, is a victim of cerebral palsy, a disease which left him unable to walk. Once again the "good people" of Lee County have answered the call for help.

Sheriff's Report

"A stroke of luck", according to Inspector Charles Janeway, enabled the Sheriff's Department to arrest two men for larceny of two churches in the western Lee County area.

A neighbor reported the breaking and entering of the Butcher's Gap Baptist Church late Sunday night. Officers Ronald Jarnigan responded to the call and recovered approximately $2,000 worth of musical and public address components hidden in a nearby wooden area.

A call was made for assistance in searching for the suspects. Several hours later, Sheriff R.V. Chadwell, in an unmarked police car, spotted the suspect hitchhiking along Highway 58 near Jay and Anns Market. Turning off his police radio and hiding the microphone, Sheriff Chadwell came to a stop and the suspect, Eddie Ayers, 20, of Ewing, entered the car.

Ayers remains in the Lee County Jail where he is charged with allegedly breaking and entering and grand larceny.

During the search for Ayers, Inspector Charles Janeway was driving to the house of Ayers' aunt when he passed the Elydale Primitive Baptist Church and spotted someone removing two propane tanks from the side of the building.

The suspect, James E. Pritchert, 40, of Speedwell, Tn., entered his own car and sped away. Following a three-mile chase, Pritchert was captured and charged with wreckless driving, failure to obey a stop sign, and grand larceny.

Pritchert remains in the Lee County Jail with Ayers. It is believed that neither suspect was aware of the other's activities.

Cantrell - Quillen Seek Re-Election

Veteran legislators, Orby L. Cantrell of Wise County and Ford C. Quillen of Scott County, announced that they would be candidates for the Democratic nomination for the House of Delegates at the convention to be held at Powell Valley High School at 1:00 p.m., on Saturday, September 5.

Cantrell, a business man from Pound, Virginia, and Quillen, an attorney living in Gate City, are both lifelong residents of Southwest Virginia.

Cantrell, the senior member of the Virginia Legislature, has completed thirty years of service in the Legislature, and is presently Chairman of the Committee on Roads, Vice Chairman of Appropriations and the Committee on Mining and Mineral Resources, and was last year appointed to the prestigious Committee of Rules.

Quillen, with 12 years service in the General Assembly, is Chairman of the Agriculture Committee, ranking member of the Courts of Justice, Privileges and Elections, and Mines and Mineral Resources, and is a permanent member of JLARC and the Housing Study Commission.

Cantrell and Quillen, while representing the 1st Legislative District, composed of Dickenson, Wise, Lee, and Scott Counties, and the City of Norton, have taken the lead in

Renee's Robbed

Last Tuesday, August 25, four women and two children entered Bob Mullins' "Renee's Fashions" on Morgan Avenue in Pennington Gap and took $16,000 worth of ruby and diamond rings.

As of Monday, August 31, three of the four women have been arrested and charged in the incident. A fourth suspect is still being sought by authorities. Arrested were: Charlene Maxwell, 24, of Middlesboro; Debbie Ann Shelby, 24, also of Middlesboro; and Rhonda Jean Nelson, 18, of Pineville. Maxwell has also

Two Wounded At Country Hearth Lounge

Two men were wounded and a third beaten following a quarrel which began between a brother and a sister.

George Jones, 51, owner of the Country Hearth Restaurant and Lounge in Jonesville, is listed in stable condition in the intensive care unit of the Lee County Community Hospital.

According to Inspector Charles Janeway of the Sheriff's Department, Jones and Darrell Devault, 33, of Jonesville were shot during a quarrel in the parking lot as the lounge was closing for the night. Jones was shot once with a single .38 caliber bullet piercing his left hand and entering his lower back. Devault was shot once in the left arm. He was treated and released Sunday morning from the hospital.

George Grubbs, 32, of Cawood, Ky., has been charged with two counts of malicious wounding for allegedly shooting the two men. He is also in the hospital with multiple cuts and bruises to the head.

It is believed that Grubbs intervened in a quarrel between two women who had begun their argument inside the restaurant but moved into the parking lot when the restaurant closed. The initial argument began between Bill Muncy and Glenda Stacy of St. Charles - a brother and sister. In the parking lot, Muncy's friend, Janie Wilson, and Stacy began fighting.

Jones was attempting to break up the fight when Grubbs returned from his

Suit Filed To Negate Special Election

Citing the Voting Rights Act of 1964, 1965, and 1978, Sam Massengill and Odell Wilson have petitioned the Circuit Court of Lee County to declare the special election held last August 18 as invalid and to order a new election.

Acting on the counsel of attorneys Leslie W. Bailey, Jr.; H. Ronnie Montgomery (both of Jonesville) and the law firm of Earls, Wolfe, and Farmer (of Norton). Wilson and Massengill maintain that the Voting Rights Act requires that the U.S. Attorney General approve any changes in election procedures or methods. "These apply to even minor changes" according to the suit filed last Friday. The suit states that "No preclearance from the U.S. Attorney General was sought or obtained by the Lee County officials."

The suit requests the Court to make ten declarations including: invalidating the August 18 special election, ordering a new election after the Voting Rights Act requirements are met and a new petition is filed, the term of the Supervisor-at-large remain for a full four years; preventing the certification of the election by the Electoral Board; and declaring all appointed School and Welfare Board members, including the supervisor, can fulfill their full terms. The suit also requests that a hearing be set on September 21 for the two plaintiffs to argue their Petition.

been charged with shoplifting by authorities in the city of Norton. Shelby and Nelson were also charged with grand larceny of "The Country Scene" in Jonesville where two leather coats valued at $486.00 were taken on August 24.

Bond was set at $10,000 property or $20,000 cash for Maxwell and $5,000 property or $10,000 cash for Nelson and Shelby. The three women have been bonded by a bondsman and will face arraignment on September 9 in General District Court, according to Investigator M.O. Radcliff of the Lee County Sheriff's Department. The rings have not been recovered and the incident remains under investigation.

offering legislation allowing local coal severance taxes for both education and roads and led the fight in defeating a statewide coal severance tax in 1976 and 1977. Cantrell has been a leader in offering legislation secondary highway funds. Quillen introduced the legislation allowing the State to enforce the federal surface mining laws instead of the federal government.

Quillen and C[illegible] both agreed that the coming session of the General Assembly will be one of the most challenging in recent years because of the State's loss of over 400 million dollars in federal money during the next biennium and the block grant funding which will cause locality to fight locality to try to get their fair share of the State's money, and the requirement by the federal courts for the Legislature to enact a new reapportionment plan which most likely will require the division of counties.

truck with the gun. The two men were shot during the fracas and Grubbs was beaten about the head with a stick. Grubbs was allegedly beaten by Bob Jones, the son of the victim. However, investigators have not determined whether Grubbs was struck in the head prior to the shooting.

A mandatory investigation of the incident is required by the Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. Sheriff R.V. Chadwell, Inspector Charles Janeway, Deputies Donnie Combs and Steve Wallen of the Lee County Sheriff's Department and Trooper Bob Hurley of the Virginia State Police answered the call.

Budget Cuts

Littrell, the Services Supervisor, the department has four levels of services. They are: First Primary protective services for children, the aged and disabled adults, Second foster care/adoption programs for children, home based combination/homemarker programs; Third Day Care and Developmental programs for both children and adults including at home instruction; and Fourth counseling in family planning, drug/alcohol abuse; nutrition, housing, recreation, and transportation services, and education, and training funds. The fourth level services are most often purchased from other government agencies.

The third and fourth levels of services are being selectively cut to fit the smaller budget, however, according to Littrell, "We understand that the state has been looking for ways to pick up services we've had to drop."

The overall trend of less federal government services is being felt on a nation wide basis. While many believe that the state governments will attempt to maintain essential programs for the welfare of the public, if they receive the necessary funds in the form of block grants, some people foresee the necessity of seeking funds from local clubs and organizations as was done in the past. While many clubs presently have pet projects, such as the Lions Clubs raising funds for the blind, in the future local organizations may be requested to expand their philanthropy projects to include more Lee County people.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Addie L. Woodward who passed away one year ago August 23, 1980.

Mother

I count as Golden Hours,
Those quite times when you,
Have talked, and smiled, and understood,
As only Mothers do.
And could I give them, one by one,
To you, you would possess
A chain of Golden Memories,
A crown of happiness'

Charles W. McCracken

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son and brother, Charles William (Yogi) McCracken who would have been 20 years old the second day of September. God had a purpose in taking you home honey, which we do not understand why. But our love is always with you. We miss you more than words can say

Sadly missed by
Evelyn, Don, Pat and Bug

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Billy (Pwetzel) Parsons.

Though time has passed by quickly
The days have seemed like years
We've thought of you and loved you
And cried a million tears.

People say that time will help
To heal our broken hearts
But the hurt is just as deep now
As it was from the start.

The minutes seem like hours
Each one a useless dream
We only live today to face
The hurt that tomorrow brings

We won't forget you Billy
Although we're far apart
You'll always have a place of love
Right here inside our hearts.

Dad, Mom, Brothers and Sisters

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Hobert Martin would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all who showed their kindness in the death of our loved one.

A very special thanks to Rev. Eddie Sturgill and Rev. Lester Smith and the Christianaires for their most comforting words and inspiration. Thanks to the pallbearers and the people who sent flowers, cards and food. Also to the Sturgill Funeral Home Staff and all who assisted in any way. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered

The Family

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of A.H. (Cracker) Poteet who would have celebrated his 84th birthday Friday, September 4th.

Daddy, God called you February 8, 1973
to join His Heavenly Band.
I miss you so very much, your strong,
rough, yet so gentle hand.
You were so tall, over most you stood,
Yet to all you were kind and good.
Your boisterous voice, yet so kind
Made me proud, Daddy, you were mine.

Your daughter,
Eva

This year Thomas Walker has started a football program. The team is coached by Gary Wolfe and assisted by Ernie Whitaker and Daryl Hines. The Pioneers will open their JV season on Monday, September 7 at Rye Cove.

Pennington Loses Season Opener To Appalachia 18 - 6

The Pennington Bobcats traveled to Appalachia last Friday night, to face Tom Turners always strong Bulldogs in the seasons football opener for both schools

Bucks Meades Bobcats won the coin toss and elected to receive to start the game After gaining only some eight yards on the first three downs Pennington was forced to punt Nat Lewis, a speedster took the punt on the Appalachia forty yard line After cutting to the short side of the field, Lewis ran the sidelines into the end zone untouched for the first score of the game The attempt for the extra point failed

On the Bulldogs next possession of the game, they were not too successful against the Bobcat defense as they gained some ten to twelve yards in four plays, then electing to pass Danny Mabe, the Bulldog quarterback failed in his first pass intended for Lewis, but came right back with the same play, only to hit his second touchdown of the game. Again the extra point failed

Appalachia iced the game with almost six minutes left in the game when Danny Mabe took a punt and raced some 50 yards for a touchdown, making the score 18 0, in favor of last years state runner up

The Bobcats avoided the shutout in the last minute of the game when Chris Bowen crossed the goal line from one yard out In the possession which the Bobcats scored, the big play was a forty yard pass play to Mike Barlow. Although the Bobcats avoided the shutout, it must be noted that their lone score came against the Bulldogs second team It must also be noted that Pennington lost to a fine and always tough football team, and was predicted to be beat worse, but a great effort by a bunch of Bobcats on defense stopped it from being a rout

Bulldog coach Tom Turner had words of praise for Todd Kirk, who was the main cause in the Bobcats limiting the Bulldogs to some 130 yards on the ground.

The Bulldogs will be playing some more Bulldogs Friday night, at Jonesville, while Pennington will play host to the Norton Black Raiders Game time will be 8:00 p.m so go out and support both area teams

Haysi Tigers Defeat Jonesville 27 - 7

The Jonesville Bulldogs lost their season opener last Friday night, Lake Rye Cove and Pennington the Bulldogs lost on the road

It was the season opener for Haysi which has been picked to win their district

After fumbling a 27 0 end after three quarters behind Joey and Bobby O Quinn's running Neil Johnsons troops came up with a fourth quarter score on a 65 yard run by Tim Baker to avoid being held scoreless Andy Rosenbaum kicked the extra point

Joey O Quinn scored three of the Tigers touchdowns on runs of two, thirty three and sixty yards while Bobby O Quinn scored on a 43 yard jaunt

Neil Johnson will be hoping for a better Bulldog defense this Thursday night as his team which gave up 321 yards on the ground to Haysi, takes on powerful Appalachia

Of the 321 yards gained on the ground by Haysi, 196 of it was by Bobby and Joey O Quinn

Joey Chadwell, the Bulldog quarterback completed 4 of 12 passes attempted for 43 yards but was intercepted three times Haysi didn't attempt a pass during the game

Both teams lost a fumble Jonesville was guilty of five penalties for 15 yards, while Haysi was hit with seven for 45 yards

Veterans Administration

Q -- My father was a veteran whose grave marker has been damaged by the weather over the years. Is it possible to have it replaced?

A Yes. Replacements for damaged markers may be requested by writing Monument Service Department of Memorial Affairs (42) 810 Vermont Ave N W, Washington D C 20420 The cost of the replacement is to be paid by the applicant

Q. -- I am entitled to hospital treatment at Veterans Administration hospitals because I am 100 percent disabled from service connected causes. Is there any similar medical care available for my family?

A Your family may be entitled to the VA s Civilian Health and Medical Program (CHAMPVA). This is a medical benefits plan through which the VA helps to pay for medical care obtained from civilian sources by certain dependents of veterans with permanent and total service connected disabilities. The surviving spouse and children of veterans who died as a result of a service connected disability, or of veterans permanently and totally disabled from service connected disabilities at the time of death are also eligible

Q -- If I don't have a checking account and cash is unsafe to mail, how can I pay on my Veterans Administration education loan without going to the VA personally?

A Go to your bank or nearest post office and purchase a cashier's check or money order. To ensure proper credit, include your claim number or social security number on your remittance

Now it's September, Christmas can't be far away, cakes, pies, cookies, candies, everybody has a favorite — why not share yours with our readers now, so plans can be made for Thanksgiving and Christmas goodies. Mail to: Powell Valley News, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Virginia 24277.

Lazy Day Salad

1 large can crushed pineapple (not drained)
1 large can fruit cocktail (drained)
2 small cans mandarin oranges (drained)
1 pkg. Vanilla instant pudding mix (dry, from package)
½ cup pecans
½ cup flaked coconut
1 9 oz. container Cool Whip

Mix pineapple, fruit cocktail, oranges, pudding mix and Cool Whip together well. Add Cool Whip. Pour into deep dish, sprinkle with nuts and coconut. Yield: 8 to 10 Servings.

Honey Oatmeal Cake

1 cup oats
1 stick of butter
1¼ cup boiling water
1½ cup honey
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1¾ cup sifted whole wheat flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
⅝ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Place oats, butter and boiling water in large bowl and let set for 20 minutes. Add honey, vanilla and eggs. Add remaining ingredients and pour into a greased and floured cake pan. Bake 30 to 40 minutes at 350 degrees.

This cake is excellent plain or iced with the following frosting.

FROSTING

6 tablespoons melted butter
⅔ cup brown sugar
¼ cup evaporated milk
½ cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coconut

Mix the above ingredients and heat to boiling. Spread on cake while hot and place in oven (350 degrees) 3 minutes or until bubbly.

Jonesville Women's Club News

The Jonesville Junior Women's Club held their August 17 meeting at the home of Kris Terry. Sam-mie Mullins was co-hostess.

Joel Guthrie, a school psychologist for Lee County, presented a program on the advantages of psychological testing on the school systems; especially in relation to the "gifted child" and the "cultually deprived" child.

Plans for the club's annual membership brunch were also formulated at this meeting.

The club also held its annual guest membership brunch last Saturday, August 29 at the home of Ernestine Wright. Andrea Bull and Debbie Harris served as hostesses.

This year's theme was a "Hawaiian Luau" Members wore flowers in their hair and dressed in keeping with the theme.

Ten members were present to welcome to the luncheon Kelly Hart, Jo-ann Wilson, Wandaleen Adams, and Sharon Bailey.

Flowers and literature about the club were presented to each guest by the club's president, Debbie Harris.

Keokee School News

Everything seems to be moving along smoothly at Keokee School now that the first week of new school year jitters is over.

The Lady Mountaineers played their first game of the new season at Jonesville High School last Tuesday against the Lady Crusaders of Dryden. The Mountaineers were defeated 63 to 22, but the game was an exciting one.

Cathy Rutherford was the leading scorer with nine points. Beverly Collins was next with seven points. Becky Adkins scored four points, and Sherry Pennington had two. Felicia White, Becky Wade, Lora Woodard and Rena Phillips did not score, but they played a terrific game.

The cheerleaders, who added lots of pep and spirit, are Debbie Davis, Mitzi Trammell, Michelle Wilder, Donna Adkins and Terina Wilder

Last Thursday the Lady Mountaineers once again played in the Jonesville Classics, but this time they were up against the Lady Bobcats.

The Mountaineers did not pull out a win against the Bobcats, but played a fine game with a score of 64 to 36. Rena Phillips was our leading scorer with 13 points. Beverly Collins was the follower with nine. Felicia White played an exciting game with six points. Becky Adkins, who played terrific defense had five. Cathy Rutherford, who brought the ball down the floor with ease, had two. Lora Woodard, with lots of rebounds, had one point.

Here is a test to find whether your mission on earth is finished: If you're alive, it isn't.

Pennington High School News

"School bells are ringing" is an appropriate saying for this time of year. Pennington High School would like to take this opportunity to thank the Principal, Omer Elkins, for the changes at PHS.

Some of these changes include putting color in the school by painting the lockers, changing the Gold Room of the Field House into a health room to accomodate the students in the health classes. Also, a ramp has been built to accomodate the handicapped.

We, at PHS would like to extend a hearty welcome to our new teachers, Jean Slemp, James Meade, Donna Clark and all sub freshmen and new students. We hope this will be a great year for all students, teachers and faculty members.

Sunday School Lesson

IN THE BEGINNING

The divine revelation begins with the sublime statement "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." That declaration makes it clear that the Creator preceded His creation. The fact is stated, but nothing is added for the gratification of the curious.

Genesis 1: 1-3, 6, 14-15, 20

The Hebrew word "bara", which is translated "created" is used in connection with God only. The word "create" means "to bring into existence that which had no previous existence," or "to make something out of nothing." To "create" is "to bring into being without the use of preexisting material," which is something that God alone can do, but to "make" is "to form something out of materials already existing," and that man can do. The curious may wonder, the philosophers may speculate, and the scientists may investigate, but Genesis 1:1 serves as an intelligent and satisfactory explanation of the origin of things. How long the interval was between what was described in verse one and verse two cannot be determined. It is characteristic of the Bible to pass over in silence long periods of time, as those who study it well know.

At the proper time God said: "Let there be light: and there was light." God caused an alternation of darkness and light, calling them night and day. When God saw that the light corresponded perfectly to His design and will, He took great pleasure in it, just as He is delighted today when He sees His creatures conforming to His will for their lives.

God also created the firmament or the space between the waters beneath it and the clouds above it. The earth was intended as the place of habitation for man, whom He intended to create.

Genesis 1: 26-31

The Trinity consulted, agreed and decided to create man. God made man in His own image, meaning a likeness of personality, so there is a great dignity attached to him. Just as God knows, feels and wills, so man, made in His image, knows, feels and wills. God gave man the responsibility of controlling the animals and other living creatures.

When God surveyed all that He had made in those first six days, He saw that His works were complete, exceedingly good, and very excellent. Therefore, God was highly pleased with His creation.

Genesis 2: 1-3

After God had finished His creation, observed it all with great satisfaction and delight, He rested from His work on the seventh day. His resting was not due to fatigue or exhaustion, but to the fact that He had completed the work which He had begun, and He wanted to set apart the seventh day as a special one. From the perspective of God it was important to work on six days and then to rest on the seventh day. Later God made known the fact that it was very important that those who labor for six days should not rest alone on the seventh, but also worship Him. Oh, the blessings that come to God's children who spend six days in laboring for the glory of God and the benefit of others, and then faithfully worship Him on the remaining day! Let us make the most of that special day for rest and worship.

OPTOMETRIST

Q. What are some of the most common vision problems in children?

A. Nearsightedness, farsightedness and astigmatism are among the most common vision problems of children.

Nearsighted youngsters cannot see things clearly at far distances. Farsighted children may have problems seeing clearly up close. Those with astigmatism have a distorted view of everything.

Many children also have vision performance problems. These can masquerade as other problems and are not easy for parents to spot.

But doctors of optometry are skilled in uncovering them with tests that are part of a child's thorough vision examination. They can prescribe glasses and/or vision therapy to correct the problem.

Some symptoms parents might spot are an inability to pay attention in class; failure to learn to read; or an inability to concentrate on near tasks for any length of time.

This information is brought to our readers in the interest of better vision from the office of Rob D. Sawyer, O.D., Doctor of Optometry, Regency Professional Building, Big Stone Gap, Va. Phone 523-2424.

Park To Hold Stir Off

How long has it been since you attended an old fashioned sorghum stir off? You have another chance this year.

Jim and Red, the mules at Hensley Settlement, are getting ready to run through their paces this coming Labor Day Weekend, September 5 and 6. Chester Thomas and Doug Murphy, Farmer-Demonstrators at the Settlement, will hook the mules up to the cane mill and walk them around in circles. Don Thacker will feed stalks of green sorghum cane through the rollers, squeezing out bucket after bucket of sweet cane juice in the process. James Miracle, Park Technician, will haul the juice to a large pan situated over a big furnace, skimming impurities from the boiling juice as it slowly thickens and turns into molasses. The workers will pour hot molasses from the evaporator pan into five gallon containers. Then they will grab a small piece of sorghum cane and scrape warm molasses from the bottom of the pan and into their mouths.

For a fascinating Labor Day Weekend, turn back the clock with us and watch it all happen at Hensley Settlement between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. both days. You can walk to the Settlement on Chadwell Gap Trail, a four mile hike, or drive a 4-wheel drive vehicle up the Brownies Creek Road. Call the visitor center at Cumberland Gap National Historical Park, (606) 248 2817 for further details.

Data Processing Options Added At MECC

In an effort to continue to meet the needs of businesses in the Mountain Empire service area, Mountain Empire Community College has recently expanded its offerings in Business Careers and Management.

The Data Processing Option in the Business Careers certificate programs is designed to prepare students for entry level clerical jobs as data entry clerks or computer operators. The AAS degree in Management with the Data Processing Option is designed for students seeking employment in a managerial position as data entry clerks or computer operators.

These new options have been implemented as a result of business surveys which indicate that area businesses need employees with technical skills in these areas

The new Data Processing Options will begin fall quarter, September 28, 1981, here at the College Class schedules will be published in mid September

For further information, contact the Division of Business Technology at MECC, 523 2400, ext 281

Outdoor Drama Ends Soon

The last regular week end of the 1981 edition of The Trail of the Lonesome Pine outdoor drama at Big Stone Gap (Va.) will be September 3 4 5

The drama was originally set to close August 29, but popular demand to keep it open during the Labor Day weekend proved to be so great that the all volunteer cast and crew complied

The drama makes a perfect end of summer outing for the family and affords local citizens the opportunity to see the production once more in 1981

Set at the beautiful old June Tolliver House on Clinton Ave. in Big Stone Gap, the curtain will come down on the 18th consecutive season of the beloved outdoor drama making it the longest continous running production of its kind in the Commonwealth

Some type of surprise is always in the offing during the final night of the drama when the cast really "lets its hair down" for the last show

Music fills the drama stage often during the play and a group of home spun fiddle and banjo players will delight the crowd at several times during the evening

Big Stone Gap is a short drive from almost anywhere in the tri state area and the evening will be one long remembered

Admission to the drama is $4 00 for adults, $2 00 for children and $3 50 for senior citizens. Curtain time is 8.30 p.m., but come early for a little down home pickin' and grinnin.

Highway Contracts Approved

Twenty-three contracts totaling $10.4 million for highway construction, repair and maintenance improvement projects have been approved for award by the State Highway and Transportation Commission on the basis of low bids received in July.

In Lee County the contracts include: Secondary 606 and 628 - Construction of three two-lane bridges - 30, 34, and 39 feet in length - and replacement of a bridge with a box culvert over Reed Creek near Purcell. About 0.4-of-a-mile of Secondary 606 at the intersection with Secondary 628 will be rebuilt. The bridges are being built as part of the special rehabilitation program to repair or strengthen inadequate bridges on coal-hauling roads in Southwest Virginia. Fort Chiswell Construction Corporation, Max Meadows, $305,069.

Hobbs, de la Cour Wed

Linda Kay Hobbs and Gunnee Richard Dornonville de la Cour were married Saturday, August 1 at Brownstown Baptist Church, Brownstown, Ind.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Earl T. Hobbs, Jr., of Brownstown, formerly of Lee County. Her mother is the former Maurice Pendleton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bedford W. Pendleton of the Sugar Run community and her father is the son of the late Rebecca Middleton Hobbs and Earl T. Hobbs, both of Hagan.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars U. Dornonville de la Cour of Lexington, Ky.

Officiating were Rev. Douglas Nuss of Brownstown and Rev. Billy Darrell Marcum, Brandenburg, Ky., uncle of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of lustrous white silk fuisle satin designed by Priscilla of Boston, re embroidered French Alencon lace covered the bodice and trimmed the open V'd neckline. The long tapered sleeves were of English net and Alencon lace with ivy covered bottoms accenting the wrist and the back of the dress. The princess skirt fell into a full chapel train and the entire hemline was edged with scalloped lace border.

Her veil was a chapel length mantilla of imported silk illusion bordered with scalloped re embroidered Alencon and Schiffli lace appliques and was attached to a lace over laid bonnet type headpiece. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and pearl ear rings, a gift from the groom. In her shoe was a six pence obtained while she studied in England. She carried a bouquet of orchids, gardenias, roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Rebecca Baker of Jeffersonville, Ind., was maid of honor. Mrs. Mack Nichols of Little Rock, Arkansas was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Thornberry of Indianapolis, Mrs. Michael L. Thrayer of Zionsville, Ind., and Mrs. Dean Wilkinson and Beverly Poynter both of Louisville. They wore dresses of kelly green chiffon and carried orange enchantment lilies and baby's breath.

Best man was Lars la Cour, father of the groom. Groomsmen were Niels la Cour, brother of the groom and Joseph E. Hodgson, all of Lexington, Daniel Rosenberg of Midway, Ky., and Timothy Hodgson and David Eldridge both of Mt. Sterling, Ky.

The mother of the bride wore a long apricot dress with embroidered white lace. The mother of the groom wore a long seafoam green dress and both wore white orchid corsages.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Pines Evergreen room in Seymour, Ind.

Following a cruise to Grand Cayman Island, Jamaica, and Cozumel, Mexico, the newly weds will be at home on Tartan Farm, Lexington, Ky.

The groom attended the University of Kentucky and is manager of Tartan Farms of Kentucky, thoroughbred horse farm.

The bride is a graduate of Hanover College, the University of Louisville and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. She is employed by Scott County Schools, Georgetown, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard de la Cour

Karen Adams

Engagement Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Payton F. Adams of Lexington, Kentucky wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Lisa to Warren David Harless, son of Mrs. Betty A. Harless and the late Warren Y. Harless, of Jonesville, Va. The wedding will take place at the First United Methodist Church in Lexington, Ky. on November 28th.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward Woodard

25th Wedding Anniversary

On August 18, 1981 Rev. and Mrs. Edward Woodard celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. The surprise party was given in their honor by their three children, Jeaneen, Susie and John, also Chris Roberts and Vickie Woodard.

The couple received many lovely gifts. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Gary Huff and children, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Napier, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley (Pib) Gilbert and Natasha, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Garrett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sanders and family, Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Woodard, Mike and Vicki, Pete Woodard, Mrs. Chris Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallen, Mrs. Jeaneen Cole and children, Mr. John Woodard, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huff, Mrs. Jewell Kirk and Mrs. Christine Kirk.

Cake and Ice Cream followed. Everyone had a wonderful time — especially the guests of Honor.

Quillen, Minton Exchange Wedding Vows

Pamela Jane Quillen and David Timothy Minton were united in marriage on July 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the Dryden Missionary Baptist Church. The Rev. Cecil Evans and Rev. Arnold King officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Quillen of Dryden. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Minton of Pennington Gap.

A program of wedding music was presented by Gwen Hodsdon, pianist and vocalist, and Michael Gregg, vocalist.

The bride, escorted to the alter by her father and given in marriage by her parents, chose for her wedding a formal, floor length gown of white organza. Her fitted bodice of chantilly lace featured a Queen Anne neckline outlined with a dainty lace ruffle trimmed with seed pearls. Long, full lace sleeves were gathered into tight cuffs at the wrists and finished with a lace ruffle. Her full, A-line skirt was fashioned with four rows of lace ruffles creating an apron effect and was finished at the back waistline with a satin bow and streamers. A full chapel train bordered with lace ruffles extended from her skirt.

The bride wore a white derby hat trimmed with lace and seed pearls. A poof of illusion and streamers extended from the back of the hat. She carried a lace trimmed white parasol.

Janet Quillen, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Craft, sister of the bride, Sheila Chaney, cousin of the bride, Kathy Ruley and Jill Evans, both cousins of the groom. The attendants were dressed in lavender, eyelet lace, floor length skirts with matching camisole tops. They carried white lace fans decorated with lavender silk flowers.

Brenda Clem, sister of the bride, kept the bride's book. Laurie Williams and Elizabeth Williams, sisters, served as flower girls.

Curtis Minton, father of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Terry Minton, brother of the groom, Bobby Quillen, brother of the bride, Mark Edens and Jeff Evans, both cousins of the groom.

Jimmy Evans, cousin of the groom, and Jason Eyneart, cousin of the bride, were ring bearers.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the dining room at The Village Inn Restaurant in Dryden. Serving were Betty Sue Quillen, Mrs. R.C. Elkins, Pauline Chaney and Pearl McDaries.

The bride is a graduate of Dryden High School and is presently employed by Southwest Virginia Community Health Services, Inc.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Pennington Gap High School and is presently employed at Eastover Mining Company. The couple is residing in Pennington Gap.

Dryden Wins Jonesville Classic

Dryden Tops Jonesville For Title 52 - 49

Last Saturday evening, the Powell Valley classic tournament finals were held. The game was the closest game between either two teams that played each other during last week.

Jimmy Peters' lassies trailed by one point at the first quarter stop, and by two heading into the final quarter. In the last quarter, Dryden outscored the Bulldogs 16 11, to win the game 52 49.

Dryden by winning, has the only spotless record in the district overall. They stand at 3 0, while Jonesville falls to 2 1.

During the game, the lead exchanged hands several times. Both teams high scorers would have been strong choices for most valuable tournament player, had there been a team picked.

Joyce Swain led the winning charge with 21 points. She was the only Dryden player to score in double digits. Vickie Kirk and Cheryl Reasor close with nine and eight points respectively.

The Bulldogs were led by Dee Dee Brooks again. She tossed in 21 markers. She has now scored 71 points in three games. Cindy Terry was next with 13 points.

This tournament should have told all the fans one thing, and that is that its probably going to be a season in which either of three teams can win the regular season. Dryden, Jonesville and Thomas Walker should be battling it out all season, as all three are capable of winning it all. All three teams are well coached.

Both Dryden and Jonesville have a couple of Lonesome Pine District teams on their schedule, so it looks like their toughest competition might come from that area.

Good luck to both teams, and the rest of the district.

Score By Quarters:
Dryden 10 14 12 16-52
Jonesville 11 14 13 11-49

Individual Scoring:
Dryden [52] Swain 21, Kirk 9, Reasor 8, Quillen 5, Long 4, Robinette 4, Woods 1.
Jonesville [49] Brooks 21, Terry 13, Sutton 6, Richmond 4, Poteet 2, Anderson 2, Willis 1.

All - Tournament Team

The Jonesville Classic All-tournament team members are: Missy Brooks from Thomas Walker High School, Candy Terry and Dee Dee Brooks from Jonesville High School and Robin Woods and Joyce Swain from Dryden High School.

Thomas Walker Runs By Rye Cove 72 - 34

Thomas Walker ran by the Rye Cove Eagles with ease last Saturday evening by a 72-34 score. The Pioneers were no doubt, one of the favorites to win the tournament, but that was shattered earlier in the week when they were defeated by Dryden.

Rosanna Wilder and Teresa Middleton led a host of Pioneers in scoring with 14 points each. Salley Bailey tossed in 11 points, while eight other teammates scored at least two.

Thomas Walker still playing without starter Kim Davis, was just too fast all over the court for the Eagles.

Rye Cove, winless on the year was led by Kim Tipton, who had a brilliant performance despite the loss. She led all scorers with 19 points.

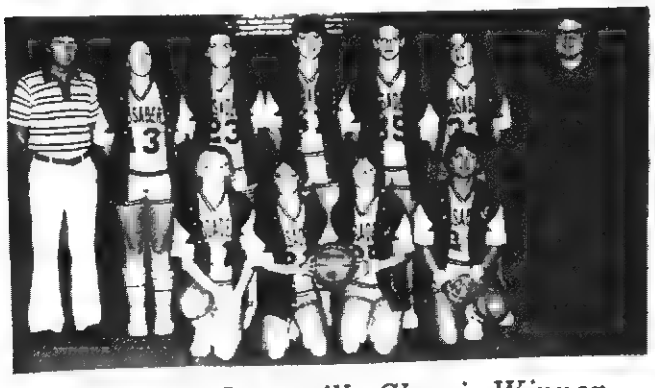
The win leaves Thomas Walker with a 2-1 won-loss record.

During each evening at the tournament it should be stated that area fans packed the gym fairly well each night, but all the teams need this kind of support all through the season to help improve themselves.

Score By Quarters:
Rye Cove 9 8 3 14-34
T. Walker 12 14 23 23-72

Individual Scoring:
Rye Cove [34] Tipton 19, Osborne 7, Johnston 4, Hutchins 3, Wolfenbarger 1.

T. Walker [62] Wilder 14, Middleton 14, Bailey 11, Richmond 6, Brooks 6, C. Davis 5, Montgomery 4, Pat Hensley 4, Pam Hensley 4, Warf 2, D. Davis 2.



Dryden - Jonesville Classic Winner

Jonesville Behind Brooks Tops Flatwoods

In the third and final game of the evening last Tuesday, saw the host Jonesville Bulldogs claw their way past the Flatwoods Eagles by the score of 36 26.

Although it was a fairly low scoring contest, with Flatwoods coming out on the short end of the score, they did manage to hold the Bulldogs to just 36 points with 21 of them coming in the first half. One of the Flatwoods reasons for not scoring more has to be their inability to get the ball inside more to their two big players, Karen Glass and Sherry Barber. The Bulldog defense held both to a combined total of 11 points, with Barber netting nine of them.

While the Eagles were having a hard time of scoring points, they were also having a harder time of stopping the scoring punch of Dee Dee Brooks. She finished the game with 23 points on nine field goals and 5 of 11 free throws. She also had numerous rebounds and played good defense, as did the entire team.

Neither team shot exceptionally well as Jonesville hit at a 28% clip from the field, hitting 14 of 49 shots. They were true on 8 of 19 free throws for 44.8%. Flatwoods found the range on only 8 of 38 from the field for 21.2%, and 10 of 22 free throws for 45%.

Jonesville opened their season last night at Pound, and will open their home schedule this coming Tuesday against Twin Springs. A fairly well packed house has been on hand for the tournament games at Jonesville so lets all of us, if we're sports fans, support these district teams throughout the entire season, by going out and supporting not only your team but your entire school.

Score By Quarters:
Flatwoods 4 5 6 11-26
Jonesville 10 11 7 8-36

Individual Scoring:
Flatwoods [26] Barber 9, Lee 6, McNie 4, Scott 2, S. Graham 2, Glass 2, B. Graham 1.
Jonesville [36] Brooks 23, Jerrell 5, Willis 4, Richmond 3, Sutton 1.

Dryden Upsets T. W. Pioneers 48-44

In the second round of the Powell Valley Classic, held at Jonesville last week, the Dryden Crusaders pulled off a big upset. They defeated the Pioneers from Thomas Walker by the score of 48-44.

Dryden led by only a single point at the first rest stop, and maintained the lead by the same margin at halftime, despite the lead exchanging hands on numerous occasions.

After the Pioneers sent the game to the final quarter tied up, Dryden took the win with a 15-12 fourth stanza.

Leading the winning charge was Robin Woods with 17 points. Cheryl Reasor was also in double figures with 10 markers.

The Pioneers with probably the fastest breaking team in the district couldn't get their shots to fall in the final period. Area fans can rest assured that both teams will better themselves by the time the regular season starts.

Missy Brooks, a little play making guard, led the Pioneers in defeat.

Score By Quarters:
Dryden 12 12 9 15-48
T. Walker 11 12 10 12-44

Individual Scoring:
Dryden [48] Woods 17, Reasor 10, Kirk 9, Robinette 6, Swain 4, Quillen 2.
T. Walker [44] Brooks 15, Bailey 8, Middleton 6, Davis 6, Warf 5, Hensley 4.

Flatwoods Eagles Dump Pennington 41 - 30

In the final round of the tournament held at Jonesville last Saturday the Flatwoods Eagles dumped the Pennington Bobcats by the tune of 41 30. The win gave Flatwoods fifth place in the tournament with a won-loss record of 1 2. Pennington with the loss settled for sixth place.

Sandra Ely played a good game despite the loss, as she led all scorers with 16 points. No other Bobcat scored more than four points. The Bobcats put up a lot of shots, but with a Eagle defense putting two players on the ball handler at most times the shots just wouldn't fall.

Sherry Barber led the winners with 13 points while teammate Brenda Graham adding 10 points and Karen Glass 7.

Bobby Hines, the Eagles head coach must be pleased to have one of the overall tallest teams in the district, especially when it seems to look like the Eagles have a lot of potential, to better themselves.

Both of these teams will meet again this coming Tuesday, only not on a neutral floor. It will be held in the Bobcat den.

Score By Quarters
Pennington 4 7 8 11-30
Flatwoods 8 7 12 14-41

Individual Scoring
Pennington [30] Ely 16, Byington 4, Lundy 4, James 3, Gilliam 2, Roberts 1.
Flatwoods [41] Barber 13, B. Graham 10, Glass 7, McNie 4, S. Graham 4, Cope 3.

Jonesville Bulldogs Dump Rye Cove 60 - 32

On Thursday evening of last week the Jonesville Bulldogs played their second game of the tournament held at Jonesville and for the second time Joe Robinsons team was led by Dee Dee Brooks.

With a sixteen point lead at the half, the rout was on as the Bulldogs burned the nets for 24 points in the final quarter while holding the Eagles to nine tallies. Rye Cove did manage to take the third quarter by a 13 10 margin, but the point spread was just too big to catch up.

Joe Robinson must be feeling pretty good, knowing that he has a fine player in Dee Dee Brooks, who scored 27 points in the game. She has now scored 50 in two games. Cindy Terry also tossed in ten points in the win, while Kim Tipton scored 15 for the Eagles. No other Rye Cove player scored more than four points.

Even though the season is still very young, all district teams will probably improve, but all teams should beware if Jonesville can get some scoring from a couple of more ladies to back the scoring punch of Brooks.

Score By Quarters:
Rye Cove 6 4 13 9-32
Jonesville 15 11 10 24-60

Individual Scoring:
Rye Cove [32] Tipton 15, Osbourne 4, Johnson 4, Hobbs 3, Hutchins 2, Kiser 2, Shepherd 2.
Jonesville [60] Brooks 27, Terry 10, Willis 7, Jerrell 6, Poteet 6, Anderson 2, Sutton 2.

T. W. Pioneers Trounce Pennington 71 - 33

On Tuesday evening of last week, the lady Pioneers and Bobcats, kicked off the Powell Valley Classic tournament at Jonesville. Thomas Walker under the coaching of Sonny Brooks, trounced the Bobcats by the score of 71-33.

The Pioneers who never trailed in the game held a 17-7 first quarter lead. The margin of difference grew as the Pioneers stretched the lead to twenty-two points at halftime. The loss probably could have been worse, as Sonny Brooks played his entire team with the exception of Kim Davis who is out with an injury. She is a starter, and will be one of the lady Pioneers that coach Brooks will be counting on to help carry Thomas Walker through the season.

Twelve Pioneers got into the game and all scored at least two points, with Missy Brooks leading the way with 12 points. She hit five field goals and 2 of 3 from the free throw line. Debbie Davis was the only other Pioneer in double figures, with 10 points.

Sandra Ely led Pennington with seven points while Lisa Gilliam tallied six points.

The Pioneers who were just too fast for the Bobcats, up and down the court, shot 41% from the field hitting 25 of 60 shots. They were 21 of 37 from the free throw circle for 56%. Pennington made only 15 of 57 shots from the field for 26%. The Bobcats made only three free throws in the game, but only shot eight attempts for 37.4%.

There was a total of thirty nine fouls called in the game, with 28 going against the Bobcats. The Pioneers will open their regular season schedule this coming Tuesday, September 8th at Thomas Walker against Keokee.

The Bobcats opened their regular season last night in Big Stone Gap against the Powell Valley Vikings. All the Bobcat fans can see their team in action tomorrow night as they host Wise, and meet their first district test when they host Flatwoods on September 8th.

Score By Quarters:
Pennington 7 8 8 10-33
T. Walker 17 20 14 20-71

Individual Scoring:
Pennington [33] Ely 7, Gilliam 6, Byington 4, Woodard 4, Lundy 4, Roberts 4, Moon 2, James 2.
T. Walker [71] Brooks 12, D. Davis 10, Middleton 8, Pat Hensley 7, Richmond 7, Pam Hensley 6, E. Davis 5, Montgomery 5, Warf 4, Bailey 3, C. Davis 2, Wilder 2.

Dryden Crusaders Cruise By Keokee

In the second game of the evening last Tuesday at Jonesville High School, the Dryden Crusaders got their first win of the season by whipping Keokee 65 22.

Dryden took a 10 0 first quarter lead behind Joyce Swain's three points. Keokee put up seven shots from the field in the first quarter but failed to find the basket. With 5:12 remaining in the second stanza, the Mountaineers Cathy Rutherford hit the front end of a one and one free throw situation for Keokee's first point. She later scored their only field goal of the first half later in the quarter. Keokee as a team was 1 of 18 from the field in the first half, and 10 of 9 from the charity stripe.

The Mountaineers with only nine players on their team got in foul trouble and was never in the game, as they lost three players via the foul route. Felicia White, a starter, fouled out at the 1.06 mark of the third quarter without scoring. Only four Keokee players managed to score with Rutherford tossing in nine points. Beverly Collins was next with seven points but showed some bright spots in the second half of the game with some good defensive moves and steals. The Mountaineers shot 23% from the field, hitting on 10 of 43 shots. They managed only 2 of 12 free throws for 16.8%.

Dryden placed seven girls in the scoring column with Cheryl Reasor canning 13 points, and Dawn Long chipping in with 12 points.

The Crusaders hit 24 of 64 shots for 37%, and 17 of 36 free throws for 46%. Dryden will be in the race for the district crown this year. They have not been picked to win the regular season, but are capable of surprising a lot of teams. Beware of those Crusaders this year, especially if they stay healthy and don't get injured.

Score By Quarters:
Keokee 0 3 11 8-22
Dryden 10 19 18 18-65

Individual Scoring:
Keokee [22] Rutherford 9, Collins 7, Adkins 4, Pennington 2.
Dryden [65] Reasor 13, Long 12, Quillen 9, Woods 9, Robinette 8, Swain 8, Kirk 3, Gibson 3.

Pennington Bobcats Bomb Keokee 64 - 36

The Pennington Bobcats got their first win of the season on Thursday of last week in the Powell Valley Classic held at Jonesville. They defeated the Mountaineers by the score of 64 36. The loss for Keokee, makes the second straight loss by big margins. Keokee is under a new coach this year. She is Kathleen Litton.

She got a little more scoring punch out of her team against the Bobcats than she did in the Mountaineers first game, but the defense just hasn't shown up in either game.

Pennington which never trailed in the game led by sixteen points at the first rest stop, and stretched it to nineteen at halftime. After Keokee behind Rena Phillips and Beverly Collins, outpointed the Bobcats 17 13 in the third quarter, Pennington really iced it with a 20 7 advantage in the last stanza.

The Bobcats placed three in double figures with Tammy Moon leading the way with 14 points. She was followed by Lisa Gilliam and Sandra Ely with 13 and 10 points respectively.

Phillips led Keokee with 13 points with Beverly Collins next with nine tallies. Keokee will be on the road Tuesday, September 8, for their first district game, and it won't be an easy one, as they face Thomas Walker. On the same evening, the Bobcats will be playing also, but they will host the Flatwoods Eagles.

Score By Quarters:
Keokee 3 9 17 7-36
Pennington 19 12 13 20-64

Individual Scoring:
Keokee [36] Phillips 13, Collins 9, White 6, Adkins 5, Rutherford 2, Woodard 1.

Pennington [64] Moon 14, Gilliam 13, Ely 10, Roberts 8, James 7, Lundy 6, Byington 4, Byrd 2.

Lee County Fair Special Awards

Alexandria Lawyer Suspended From Practice For Five Years

An Alexandria lawyer received a five-year suspension of his Virginia law license from a panel of three Circuit Court judges after it found him guilty of failing to provide security for a loan made to him by a client and for failing to repay much of the debt to his client.

Henry B. Crockett, 59, of 201 N. Washington Street, was suspended from the practice of law in the state effective July 20, 1981. In its unanimous ruling entered on August 21, the panel determined that Crockett borrowed $30,000 from a client in late 1975 and provided the client with an unsecured promissory note on the indebtedness. When the client requested security for the loan, Crockett assured her that his assets were sufficient to repay the debt, but neither explained to her the benefit of obtaining security nor attempted to provide security for the loan.

Crockett subsequently filed a bankruptcy petition in April 1980 and among his debts was $20,927.56 he owed to his client from the original $30,000 loan. Such conduct by Crockett violates a rule of the Virginia Code of Professional Responsibility, which is the set of Virginia Supreme Court canons governing the conduct of lawyers in the state.

The 8th District Committee of the Virginia State Bar brought the charges against Crockett. The State Bar has a district committee, which investigates complaints against lawyers, in each of the state's 10 congressional districts.

When a district committee certifies charges against a lawyer, the lawyer can elect to have the case heard before either the Virginia State Bar Disciplinary Board or a panel or three Circuit Court judges.

The Virginia State Bar is the administrative arm of the Supreme Court of Virginia responsible for regulating the practice of law in the state.

JUNE FULLER

THE COUPON CLIPPER

Find out limits of multiple coupon offers

By June Fuller

"It was a real mess down at the market," reported my friend Joan "People were so disappointed that they just left carts full of groceries in the middle of the aisles and at the checkout counters '

I had seen the advertisement in the newspaper for "Triple Coupons — One Day Only"' Unfortunately, many shoppers had stopped reading right there, grabbed their coupons and headed for the store

They didn't see the explanation below the headline that limited the offer to only one triple coupon per shopper I did — and didn't think that it was worth my time to make a special trip to that store

Double coupons and triple coupons are wonderful ways to save money, but these offers usually have limitations on the number or value of coupons than can be used

To avoid being disappointed, coupon clippers should look for these restrictions whenever double or triple coupons are advertised

If the limitations do not appear in the ad or are not clear, call the supermarket manager for details Be sure to inquire if you are wondering how these rules will apply to certain coupons in your collection

This is especially good advice when the store offering double or triple coupons is 50 miles away

Once you know the restrictions and have decided that the trip will be worthwhile, don't waste a minute Pack up all your coupons and make a beeline for the store Those who delay often find the shelves bare of their favorite items

FOCUS ON HEALTH

Medical mysteries can prove more perplexing than author Agatha Christie at her best..

A case in point is legionnaries' disease which, since 1976, has been a medical who done it

In that year, Philadelphia's celebration of the nation's bicentennial was shattered as 34 visiting American Legionnaires died of mysterious causes.

After months of laboratory investigation, scientific sleuths from the federal government's Centers for Disease Control found that bacteria were responsible for the disease now called legionellosis. Attacking the lungs, the bacteria cause flu like symptoms and, in some cases, death

Now, according to the American Lung Association, a lot more is known about this scientific baffler. For instance, although difficult, diagnosis now can be done. The drug, erythromycin, has been found effective against legionnaires' disease But the case is not closed the hunt is now on for a vaccine, an antidote for the bacteria which seem to thrive in water. They have been isolated from cooling towers, ponds, reservoirs and from clear, as well as stagnant, water

Researchers have also discovered the disease is far more widespread than first suspected. It has struck in virtually every state, and affects approximately 125,000 persons every year. It existed long before the festive legionnaries gathered in Philadelphia; it just had not been recognized.

Who done it? The cause is: bacteria. Treatment? Now available. A vaccine in the future - maybe! For more information contact Mrs. Willie Rodgers, R.N., Public Health Nurse, Lee County Health Department, Jonesville, Virginia, or call 346 2011.

For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this newspaper.

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent – and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the promise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1210.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

TAX FREE INTEREST

COMPARE THE ADVANTAGE OF TAX-FREE SAVINGS

If your family income is:	your tax-bracket probably is:	the interest rate you'd have to receive to net 12% after federal income tax:
$50,000 or more	50%	24%
$35,000	40%	20%
$25,000	30%	17.15%
$20,000 or less	25%	16%

Figures above are approximate and based on 1981 tax tables

Congress has just passed the President's Tax Bill. It allows us to offer you TAX-FREE INTEREST ON YOUR SAVINGS.

Farmers and Miners TAX-FREE SAVINGS CERTIFICATE permits an individual to exclude up to $1,000 of interest income ($2,000 in the case of individuals filing a joint tax return) from one-year certificates issued by qualifying financial institutions after September 30, 1981, and before January 1, 1983. While the certificate issuance period is only 15 months, the interest exclusion is effectively available to taxpayers for over two years. This is due to the fact that interest earned on a certificate issued on December 31, 1982, will not be taxable until December 1983.

The interest rates on the certificates must equal a rate at the date of issue that will permit the yield to equal 70 percent of the yield on 52 week Treasury bills. Thus, if the most recent issue of 52-week Treasury bills were discounted to yield 17.15 percent, the yield on a qualifying certificate would be 12 percent tax-free. Once established, the yield on the certificate will remain unchanged during its entire one-year term.

Unlike some other investment plans, our TAX-FREE SAVINGS CERTIFICATE is insured by the FDIC. Each depositor is protected up to $100,000.00.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

We say good-bye, to the month of August as September appears on the scene. The first Monday in September is Labor Day, and this year it falls on Monday, September 7, Labor Day is generally observed all over the Nation as a "Labor's Holiday." It is then that the great army of workers rich and poor alike all over the country put aside their tasks for a day of rest and pleasure.

Labor Day was made a holiday in the District of Columbia by Congress in 1894. Labor Day is a legal public holiday in the District of Columbia and requires the closing of all Federal offices on that day in the United States.
